

W. L. DOUGLAS SHOES

THE BEST $3.50 FOR MEN

W. L. Douglas makes and sells more men's $3.50 shoes than any other manufacturer in the world.

$10,000 REWARD to anyone who can disprove this statement.

W. L. Douglas $3.50 shoes have by their excellent style, easy fitting and superior wearing qualities, achieved the largest sale of any $3.50 shoe in the world. They are just as good as those that cost you $5 to $7—the only difference is the price. If I could take you into my factory at Brockton, Mass., the largest in the world under one roof making men's fine shoes, and show you the infinite care with which every pair of Douglas shoes is made, you would realize why W. L. Douglas $3.50 shoes are the best shoes produced anywhere.

If I could show you the difference between the shoes made in my factory and those of other makes, you would understand why Douglas $3.50 shoes cost more to make, why they hold their shape, fit better, wear longer, and are of greater intrinsic value than any other $3.50 shoe on the market to-day.

BEST FOR STYLE, COMFORT AND WEAR.
 "Having worn all kinds of shoes, have decided that your $3.50 shoes are absolutely the best for style, comfort and wear that I have ever worn. It gives me great pleasure to recommend them to my friends."
 J. J. HALLORAN, Plumber, 241 D, 125th St.

Boys wear W. L. Douglas $2.00 and $1.75 shoes because they fit better, hold their shape, and are longer wearing than any other make.

CAUTION.—None genuine without W. L. Douglas name and price stamped on bottom. Take no substitute. Sold in W. L. Douglas exclusive shoe stores in the principal cities, and by the best shoe dealers everywhere.

GRANGERS AND FAKERS MEET.

HUGE CROWD AT ANNUAL PICNIC AT VERONA LAKE.

Everett Colby Supplies the Political Feature by Kidding all the Babies—Large Sized Plan for Passaic Lake—Jersey Farmers Come in Red Touring Cars.

MONTECLAIR, Aug. 17.—"This is a record breaker and no mistake. Just look at them coming. I never saw the likes of it," said Amos Harrison, the chairman of the Grangers' picnic which was held at Verona Lake Park at Verona to-day.

"Yes, they have been streaming in here like that since early morning," remarked Arthur Webb, the secretary of the committee. "I no more than got my breakfast when some of the wagons, carrying whole families from Hanover Neck, Swinfield, Two Bridges and places thirty miles back in Morris county came rattling down the turnpike."

Another member of the committee who did not wish to be outdone in posting the visitor explained that the picnic was the twenty-fifth annual occasion of the kind and that it embraced all the hives in the Patrons of Husbandry in Morris, Essex and Union counties.

"Since the State Fair at Waverly has been abolished they all gravitate toward this here place every year," said he, "and there is no finer place for a picnic than this."

"Did you notice a sort of floral salibout at the entrance to the party of some one in?" asked the secretary. "Well, right on the sail, big as life, are three letters, 'V. L. P.', and some people say they stand for 'Verona Lake Park, but I tell you they mean a 'Very Lively Picnic.'"

This joke was the signal for a general outburst of laughter from the surrounding group of bystanders. It was rudely interrupted by "Here ye are, the whole Damm family, and the Damm dog, five cents." This from one of the many fakers who sold souvenir cards, celluloid bouquets and varicolored walking canes.

"Seems to me from what I hear my old man say at times there are families just like that up our way," remarked a farmer's wife when she had recovered from her first shock of what sounded to her like profanity.

Vehicles of every sort drew up and hitched to the trees at the north end of the grounds, big trucking wagons from Morris county, carriages from Union and old Caldwell rockaways that must have been handed down from generation to generation; and the passengers that they carried matched the outfits in most cases. Farmers with long whiskers and their wives with shirt waists to match stood out in picturesque contrast among the visitors from Newark, Orange and Paterson, who came for the fun of the thing and to take advantage of the perfect weather for a day's outing.

One prosperous party of farmers from State House Plains came in two big red automobiles and attracted as much attention as two young couples who drove down from Pine Brook in rubber tired runabouts.

In a tent at the extreme end of the lake address were to be delivered by a number of distinguished farmers. But only one put in an appearance. Frank C. S. Shaw of the New York State Grange told a large audience what the farmers' order was and what it stood for. F. J. Reynolds of Morristown advocated a growth of public sentiment in favor of flooding the Passaic Valley and constructing a big dam to convert it into an immense lake. Prof. John B. Smith, the State entomologist from New Brunswick, was down for an address in which he expected to give the farmers new pointers for getting rid of mosquitoes, but he didn't show up until too late.

"Just as well that that Prof. Bugsmith didn't speak," said an old Caldwell farmer. "Skeeters are here, and I tell you they're here to stay."

"Yes, and about that big lake story in the Passaic Valley, chimed in his companion. "I have twenty acres, but just in the big piece, you know, and I'll be damned if I wouldn't sell the whole twenty acres for $20, and be glad to get rid of it at that."

"Fakers' Row" did a rushing business all afternoon. Groups of visitors stood around the tent of the glib fortune teller. Right adjoining others threw balls for the coin's head. On the ground near by was a gambling game called "seven over or under," where young men and boys put nickels on a white cloth marked off in squares for even money and odd money. The young man who presided was not molested by any one. Big Bill Bogan, the constable from Cedar Grove, who is a terror to roughs, took a sly glance at the game, but went on.

"If people want that sort of a thing, why let them have it," said one of the commissionaires.

The biggest crowd was gathered around a moon game. Here the fiker had a wheel of fortune surrounded with twenty mops or scrubbing brushes. Twenty visitors paid a dime apiece and he gave the wheel a turn. The winner could have the brush or a dollar as he preferred. "I'll take the dollar," he said. After that the wheel revolved again and again, but there was no winner for a "red" time. The man who had won the dollar had disappeared.

"Three strikes for a quarter," was an invitation sung out by a barker at the next stand. Watches, revolvers and gold plated jewelry attracted many investors.

Merry-go-rounds, miniature railway trains and side shows of all kinds furnished amusement for the farmers' sons and daughters, and many rows of out on the lake or took a sail in steam launches. Everybody was in the best of humor and the police had nothing to do but stand around and talk about the "crooks" from New York when they could detect as soon as they set eyes on them.

Toward evening the farmers began to pack up and start for home, but the trolley cars brought more visitors from the neighboring cities to take their places.

A grangers' picnic would not be complete without some political feature. To-day this was furnished by a political cartoonist, Everett Colby of Orange, who came to work his boom for State Senator. Mr. Colby had many admirers among the farmers and he returned the many compliments paid him by shaking hands with them and their wives and kissing the children.

"WETS" LIKELY TO WIN.
 Even the Drys in Asbury Park Are Afraid of Having It Too Dry If They Vote That Way.

ASBURY PARK, Aug. 17.—Whether Asbury Park shall take its liquor over marble covered counters or by the panel door system will be decided at the informal election to-morrow. A tour through the hotel district this afternoon disclosed a good many wet votes that will appear early at the polls.

A little sounding in the business district developed a similar tendency. The floating population, however, is all at sea, while the ministers are rushing into print with such alarming vigor as to threaten the exclusion of graphic drowning rescues from the newspaper columns for lack of space.

Founder Bradley has taken to the woods. The inventor of the mille limit law is now supposed to be on his way to Europe and will not participate in the case.

In W. C. T. U. circles the excitement is intense. Over in the Grove this morning Evangelist Yatman, who is celebrating a silver anniversary, raising his hand, said with a warning gesture, "Wine is a mocker; strong drink is raging and whoever is deceived thereby is not wise. Asbury Park take notice."

The expression was wildly applauded. Mayor Tenbroeck especially listened to close the illegal rathskellers if the town goes dry to-morrow. The Mayor says if public sentiment is shown to be strongly against liquor in Asbury Park he won't allow the hotel people to put it on their tables. His threat has had a sobering effect on the dry contingent, which does not seem to have the same light, but just a little wet. Indications point to a close vote and a large one with a balance in favor of the "Wets" if the women taxpayers hide in the background.

WON'T HANG TAPELEY TO-DAY.

CHANCERY TANGLED UP, SO GOV. STOKES REPRIVES HIM.

Evert Jansen Wendell Supplies Cash—C. J. Peshall Plans a Stay of Execution on Technicalities—The Chancellor Away and the Court Out of Business.

Edward F. Tapeley, the Jersey City negro who shot and killed his common-law wife on May 7, will not be hanged in the Hudson county jail this morning. Gov. Edward C. Stokes of New Jersey granted a reprieve until Sept. 18 late yesterday afternoon, on application of Lawyers Marcus Higginbotham and Charles J. Peshall of counsel for the condemned man.

A similar application was also made to the Governor by Lawyer Patrick J. Dooley, counsel for Nicola Murdica, the Jersey City Italian who is under sentence to be hanged on Friday, Aug. 25, for killing his wife with an ax. The Governor told Mr. Dooley that he could grant a reprieve next Wednesday in case Chancellor Magie had not returned to New Jersey by that time so that an application can be made to him for a writ of error.

The Governor's action was due to the absence from the State of the Chancellor and the inability of the lawyers by reason of his absence to follow the rule of the Court of Errors and Appeals in applying for writs that will act as a stay of execution. A stay of execution in capital cases may be brought about by a writ of error removing the case to the Court of Errors for review or by a refusal of the Chancellor to grant such a writ. Rule 27, laid down by the Court, says:

"There shall be first filed with the clerk of this court a certificate signed by the Chancellor to the effect that he has refused to order a writ of error for the review of such judgment."

This rule, lawyers say, was promulgated in the face of the statutes, which declare that a writ of error is a writ of right in all cases.

When Chancellor Magie left the State on his vacation he deputized Vice-Chancellor Bergen as acting Chancellor until Aug. 16. He directed that Vice-Chancellor Stevenson should succeed Vice-Chancellor Bergen after that date.

Lawyers Higginbotham and Peshall, who are associated with Charles C. Kelly as counsel for Tapeley, went to Somerville yesterday to make their application for a writ of Vice-Chancellor Bergen. The Vice-Chancellor told them that he had no authority to act, because he had ceased to be acting Chancellor on the preceding day. He said he would not grant the writ, because he doubted the authority of the Chancellor, a constitutional officer, to delegate certain powers to a Vice-Chancellor, a statutory officer. He also said he didn't think Vice-Chancellor Stevenson would grant a writ in the case of a condemned murderer.

The Jersey City lawyers then took a flying trip to Trenton and tried to get on in the office of the Secretary of State, as clerk of the Court of Errors and Appeals, a document showing that they had followed the rule laid down and couldn't get a mandate for the issuance of the writ or a certificate of refusal. The acting Secretary of State, in the absence of Col. S. D. Dickinson, who is abroad, refused to issue any notice of stay because there were no papers from the Chancellor.

The State lawyers hastened to the Governor's office and told their story. Attorney-General Robert McCarter was called in and the matter was threshed out. Gov. Stokes quickly reached his conclusion and signed a reprieve.

Lawyer Higginbotham called up Under Sheriff John J. Heavey of Hudson county

750 POLICEMEN AT FUNERAL,

WITH WHOLE 12TH REGIMENT, ONE COMPANY UNDER ARMS.

Some 20,000 Persons Saw the Body in the Army Yesterday, and Fifteen Were Sent From Every Police Station House—Funeral March to Begin at 9:30.

Some 20,000 persons viewed the body of Harris Lindsey in the Twelfth Regiment Armory yesterday. The body was dressed in the uniform of a captain, with the deputy police commissioner's shield worn on the breast. Flowers were sent by the Police Headquarters squad, the traffic squad, Second Deputy Commissioner Farrell of Brooklyn, and from every precinct station house in the city, as well as by the officers of the Twelfth Regiment.

Funeral services will be held at 11 o'clock this morning at the Brick Presbyterian Church, Thirty-seventh street and Fifth avenue. The body will then be taken directly to the Grand Central Station, where it will be sent on the 12:30 o'clock train to Manchester, Vt., to be buried beside the body of Mr. Lindsey's betrothed, who was killed with him in an automobile accident on Monday.

Commissioner McAduff will be here to attend the funeral. The police guard at the service will consist of 20 captains, 40 sergeants, 40 roustabouts and 600 patrolmen. They will be divided into twenty companies, and will escort the body from the Twelfth Regiment armory to the church, and from the church to the railroad station. In addition there will be fifty mounted policemen of the traffic squad, in command of three sergeants and three roustabouts.

The police will assemble at the Twelfth Regiment armory, Sixty-second street and Columbus avenue, at 8:30 o'clock. The funeral procession will leave the armory at 9:30 o'clock, arriving at the church at about 10:45.

Besides the police escort, the entire Twelfth Regiment will turn out, but only Company A, Mr. Lindsey's company, will bear arms.

There were no police trials yesterday, although there were forty cases on the calendar. When First Deputy Commissioner McAduff took the trial commissioner's seat, recently occupied by Mr. Lindsey, Second Deputy Commissioner Farrell of Brooklyn suggested an adjournment. In complying Commissioner McAduff said:

"I will not dwell on the character of Mr. Lindsey, but I want to say this, that the last person he spoke to in this building was myself, and his last official act was one of mercy. The case was that where an officer was charged with a very serious offense and he made his recommendation and asked me to look it over before deciding it. He said to me, 'This man has a good record, and if he is given another chance may be better.' I have thought it over, and have not decided it, and never will. Of course, it was a horrible death, but let us hope and look to that friend of mercy, like he was in his last act, and trust that he will be as merciful as he was. The trials will stand adjourned until a week from to-day."

COLUMBIA '03 MAN A THIEF.

Young Roth Admits Robbing the House of His Father's Friend.

Louis Roth, 22 years old, who was at Columbia University in the class of '03, son of Marcus Roth, a wholesale poultry dealer of 42 West 114th street, was arraigned before Magistrate Baker in the Harlem court yesterday on the charge of robbing the apartments of Adolph Cypress, a real estate dealer, who lives in the same house.

The two families are on friendly terms, and when Mr. Cypress took his family to the country he gave the keys of his apartments to Roth's servant girl and asked her to look the place over now and then. Young Roth, whose mother is in Paris, learned from the servant that the keys had been left with her, got them and helped himself to $500 worth of property, which he pawned to raise money to play the races.

Mr. Cypress came home on Wednesday and found his place had been robbed, and he learned from some of the tenants that young Roth had been seen leaving the house with two large bundles of clothes.

Young Roth, who admits the theft, was paroled in the custody of his counsel for examination to-morrow.

MAHANOY CITY, Pa., Aug. 17.—As a result of a longstanding family feud among Pennsylvania Dutch farmers, the Gerhard and Craygala clans met on a tract of timber land where they had a dispute over the opening of a new road and fell to breaking young saplings, with which they clubbed one another for about half an hour. About fifteen men and women were engaged in the battle, and blood flowed freely, every one of the combatants being injured. Frank Craygala is in a critical condition. The battle did not end until the two clans were exhausted.

SEVERN'S SUPPLIES AGROUND.

Schooner Emma Jane With Them Aboard in Hard and Fast Near Greenport.

GREENPORT, Aug. 17.—The two masted schooner Emma Jane, hauling from this port, went ashore on Hay Beach, near here, late yesterday. She is loaded with provisions and lost for the Government training ship Severn lying in Gardiner's Bay. The Severn is said to be out of provisions. The schooner went ashore at high tide and it is almost impossible for her to be floated over two or three days, if at all. Nearly all of the provisions on board the schooner are perishable, and unless removed soon they will be of no value. Much difficulty is expected to be experienced in saving them. The loss on the provisions will be considerable. A hard easterly storm has been raging here for several days.

ROBBED BY LONE HIGHWAYMAN.

California Stage Coach Held Up—Mail and Express Box Taken.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 17.—The outgoing stage from San Mateo to Halfmoon Bay was robbed by a lone highwayman, armed with a rifle, this morning about three miles out of San Mateo. The scene of the robbery was a dark, lonely cañon near Spring Valley Dam. The robber took the mail bags and the express box and was about to go through the passengers, when an approaching team scared him off. It is not known how much was in the express box, but it is likely it is considerable money, as this stage route is the only express route between here and the coast-side of the country.
