UNCLE SAM HAS LOTS OF CASH.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—The count of cash in the United States Treasury which takes place every time a new Treasurer enters upon the duties of his office, was completed to-day. The count shows that the amount, aggregating a good deal more than a billion dollars, was correct to a cent, according to the figures rendered by Ellis H. Roberts on July 1, when he handed over the Treasury to Charles H. Treat. The grand total of cash, bonds and securities is $1,259,598,278.58-3. This is an enormous gain over the fund reported at the time Ellis H. Roberts became Treasurer in 1897. The United States in the last seven years has added only $706,925,439.17-2.
