made it all right; but you have kind of taken the turn out of the warmth of your reception. However, we will get down to business in a moment.

Now there comes a time when the history of every people, whether it be of a nation or State or smaller community, when we have got to put down moral imperatives to see how far we have gone. That is the history we have come to in this community. We have surely come to a time when we had better put down where we are at.

The words "Citizens' Union" are not new. They have been used for a long time. The words "Citizens' Union" are not new. They have been used for a long time. The words "Citizens' Union" are not new. They have been used for a long time.

Now, let us see. Let us go back for a moment. Four years ago, a group of men in New York City, a group of men in New York City, a group of men in New York City, a group of men in New York City.

And for four long years we have been out and for four long years we have been out and for four long years we have been out and for four long years we have been out.

And for four long years we have been out and for four long years we have been out and for four long years we have been out and for four long years we have been out.

Mr. Jerome's rival, when Mr. W. R. Corwin, the treasurer of the Jerome nominator committee, called the meeting to order.

Some of the people in the boxes and on the platform were former Justice William L. Cohen, William H. Bliss, L. J. DeLoach, James N. Sullivan, Mayor Schoenfeld, Cyrus H. Stibitzer, and Gold Young.

Who was it that, fleeing from a political prison in his own country, was sent back to Europe by his adopted country, America, as ambassador to one of the old aristocratic courts?

That is one of the intensely interesting events in the Autobiography of Carl Schurz which begins in the November McClure's.

Supposed Reference to Morse Diverse Case and Description of Hummel as a "Crock."

The candidates chosen by the Tammany county and borough conventions were formally notified yesterday of their nominations.

Mr. Fulton Cutting said that if the Citizens' Union had nothing more to its credit than that it had forced the nomination of Mr. Jerome for District Attorney, he would have long ago left justified its existence.

Every effort was made to keep the proceedings within two hours and send the audience home before it was wearied with much listening.

YOU, MR. BUSINESS MAN. NEED PHYSICAL TUNING UP.

I am putting me solidly on their feet every day—building up their nerves—their vigor—making them twenty again, with the power and brain and nerve to look and act it. I can bring back the health you desire, and all the vital powers of health, if you will give me three hours of your time, at your own convenience, every week.
