

REFORMS IN PUBLIC PRINTING.

RESULT OF THE KEEP COMMISSION'S INVESTIGATION.

The President Directs the Cutting Down of Annual Reports, the Exclusion of Unnecessary Matter and the Printing of Reports Shall Not Be Printed at All.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—President Roosevelt has directed that certain economic reforms in the conduct of the Government Printing Office, proposed by the keep commission in a report just made public, be put into effect.

The President also directs that the following general principles shall hereafter govern the form of the annual reports of the various bureaus and officers of the departments.

First—Annual reports shall be confined to concise accounts of work done and expenditures incurred during the period covered, with recommendations relating to the future, including plans for work to be undertaken.

Second—Contributions to knowledge in the form of scientific treatises shall not be included in annual reports.

Third—Illustrations in annual reports shall be excluded, except on maps and diagrams indispensable to the understanding of the text, but views of monuments or important structures begun or erected, or views showing conditions in outlying possessions of the United States and relating to work done or recommended.

Fourth—Inserted material written or compiled by persons not connected with the reporting office and biographical and eulogistic matters relating to the past or present personnel of the office shall be excluded.

Fifth—Reports of officers who do not report directly to the head of an executive department shall not be printed in the annual report of a department, but where necessary shall be printed in the report of the officials to whom such officers do report.

Sixth—Tables shall be inserted only when verbal summaries and statements of totals are inadequate and complete texts of laws and court decisions should be included in cases of great importance, be excluded.

Seventh—Detailed descriptions and lists of methods, processes, purchases, bids, receipts, installations, repairs, specifications and personnel of the office shall be included, except when required by their unusual importance or by statute.

Among the administrative changes in the Government Printing Office recommended by the commission are the following:

The installation of a cost keeping system in the Government Printing Office and the employment of a system of efficiency records of the work of employees, and the selection of the most efficient employees for the adjustment of compensations paid at the Government Printing Office.

The commission also makes a number of recommendations for changes in the law relating to the printing office and to public printing generally. These recommendations cannot be put into effect without action by Congress.

The commission also makes a number of recommendations for changes in the law relating to the printing office and to public printing generally. These recommendations cannot be put into effect without action by Congress.

The commission also makes a number of recommendations for changes in the law relating to the printing office and to public printing generally. These recommendations cannot be put into effect without action by Congress.

The commission also makes a number of recommendations for changes in the law relating to the printing office and to public printing generally. These recommendations cannot be put into effect without action by Congress.

The commission also makes a number of recommendations for changes in the law relating to the printing office and to public printing generally. These recommendations cannot be put into effect without action by Congress.

The commission also makes a number of recommendations for changes in the law relating to the printing office and to public printing generally. These recommendations cannot be put into effect without action by Congress.

The commission also makes a number of recommendations for changes in the law relating to the printing office and to public printing generally. These recommendations cannot be put into effect without action by Congress.

TO LOOSEN HAINES'S GRIP.

BULLETIN FROM THE REFORM PARTY SUGGESTS PROGRAMME.

If Annual Meeting Can Be Adjourned Again the Board of Managers Can Be So Reconstituted That It Will Be Able to Remove the President and Open the Books.

The movement to loosen President J. P. Haines's hold on the machinery of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals and rebuild the financial end of the society on a semi-public plan takes another step this morning.

The "Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals Reform Association" is mailing a bulletin to-day to all the members of the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals whose addresses it can learn.

The pamphlet outlines a scheme to be used in removing President Haines or forcing his resignation. It advises the members to meet at the adjourned annual meeting of the society, which has a session next Thursday, after an interval of two weeks, is still further adjourned.

Then the reformers will have time to reorganize the board of managers in time to remove Mr. Haines this year. If the meeting is closed since due at the Thursday session the whole struggle must go over to next year.

It is pointed out by some of the people interested in the new regime that unless something is done quickly there may be an attempt to cut off the revenues of the society that come through dog licenses.

"The society gets most of its support from this public grant from the State," a reformer said last night. "The State of New York branch, composed of five counties and amounts to several hundred thousand dollars. There is a powerful politician already planning to cut off this revenue on the ground that there never has been any proper accounting for the public funds received in this way."

The pamphlet issued to-day shows that while the president is elected for life subject to removal by the board of managers and that the board is composed of five counties and amounts to several hundred thousand dollars. There is a powerful politician already planning to cut off this revenue on the ground that there never has been any proper accounting for the public funds received in this way.

The board consists of five members, one from each of the five counties, and is elected for a term of two years. The president is elected for life, subject to removal by the board of managers.

The board of managers is composed of five members, one from each of the five counties, and is elected for a term of two years. The president is elected for life, subject to removal by the board of managers.

The board of managers is composed of five members, one from each of the five counties, and is elected for a term of two years. The president is elected for life, subject to removal by the board of managers.

The board of managers is composed of five members, one from each of the five counties, and is elected for a term of two years. The president is elected for life, subject to removal by the board of managers.

The board of managers is composed of five members, one from each of the five counties, and is elected for a term of two years. The president is elected for life, subject to removal by the board of managers.

The board of managers is composed of five members, one from each of the five counties, and is elected for a term of two years. The president is elected for life, subject to removal by the board of managers.

The board of managers is composed of five members, one from each of the five counties, and is elected for a term of two years. The president is elected for life, subject to removal by the board of managers.

The board of managers is composed of five members, one from each of the five counties, and is elected for a term of two years. The president is elected for life, subject to removal by the board of managers.

The board of managers is composed of five members, one from each of the five counties, and is elected for a term of two years. The president is elected for life, subject to removal by the board of managers.

THIEVES HAD ROPE LADDER

DOWN FROM THE ROOF INTO MR. WHITE'S HOUSE.

When Mr. White Got There With a Gun They Went Up Again, Over the Roofs, Down a Rope Into Wm. Leary's Rooms and Off to the Street With a Dog Pursuing.

Alfred L. White of the Washington Water Power Company was with his family on the third floor of his home, at 53 East Fifty-fourth street, at 6:30 o'clock on Saturday evening when he heard footsteps in the butler's room overhead.

Knowing that the butler was downstairs in the dining room Mr. White concluded that he had a chance to catch a thief or two.

He went downstairs softly and got the butler, and the two, arming themselves with revolvers, went to the room on the fourth floor. The door was locked.

"Well, we've got this fellow dead to rights," said Mr. White to the butler. They cocked their revolvers, and putting their shoulders to the door, forced it in. A man's feet were disappearing upward outside of the window.

The burglar hunters hustled up to the roof through the scuttle and saw two men scramble over the roofs to the east and disappear into the fourth floor of an apartment house on the corner of Park avenue.

Here the crooks entered the apartment of William Leary, who was secretary of the Police Department under Mayor Low and who is now an examiner in the State Insurance Department. Mrs. Leary, who was in a room adjoining the one the burglars entered, used a pet dog barking vigorously and went into the room.

She came face to face with the crooks, who pushed her aside and made a dash for the door. The crooks had the stairs at a great rate with the dog snapping at their trousers. The entire apartment house was aroused, and most of the residents entered the room. The burglars were also supplied with a rope ladder which they had used to get into the White residence by lowering themselves from the roof.

Both the rope ladder and the heavy rope used at the apartment house were left behind. The police had not got any trace of the burglars up to a late hour last night. Mrs. Leary was able to give a very good description of the pair. She says they were both smooth shaven and well dressed. There have been a number of burglaries in the neighborhood. Just across the street from Mr. White's home is the residence of Jose Aymar, which was so thoroughly robbed recently.

WOMAN TAKES TO BRIGLARY. One of a Pair Who Carried Off the O'Donnell's Wedding Presents.

Inspector McClusky's detectives are looking for the man and woman burglars who got into the home of George O'Donnell at 208 Leffland street early Sunday morning and took away all O'Donnell's wedding presents and his jewelry and cash, worth altogether about $3,000, and incidentally quered a reception that was to have been held there last night.

O'Donnell is a buyer employed by Berg Bros., dealers in hats, at 605 Broadway. A few months ago he married Florence McNamee. They returned from their honeymoon a week ago and went to live in the house that O'Donnell had fitted up. When O'Donnell went downtown on Saturday morning he told his bride that he would not be home until late, and arrangements were made for his eight-year-old brother, Bernard, to look after the house.

O'Donnell got up yesterday morning to get the breakfast ready she missed all the silverware from its place on the sideboard. Nearly two hundred pieces, including the house O'Donnell had bought, were gone. He immediately awoke O'Donnell, and the first thing he did was to look for his jewelry. It was gone, together with $75 in money that he had in a wallet.

Thieves had got in by boring through the sash of a window until they could get a bent wire through and spring the lock. Detectives were called in and the burglar picked up a slice of cheese that was left on the dining room table, and found in it what he says is the impression of a woman's hand on the cover of a table that was under the window through which the thieves entered the sleuths found the marks of both a man's and a woman's shoes.

THE END OF SMOKES. Ambulance Driver Ruined His Record in Killing Bellevue's Dog.

John Russell, one of the Bellevue ambulance drivers, has been known as the safest and luckiest because he never ran over anything that had life. He lost his record last night when he failed to dodge Smokes, a black water spaniel that has made his home in the Bellevue gatehouse for a year.

Smokes presented himself to Frank Nugent, the gatekeeper, the night of the blizzard a year ago. He was immediately adopted on account of the pathetic tale he barked out about the temperature of the streets as a home. He became the pet of the nurses, who never failed to stroke his head when they passed through the gate.

THIEVES HAD ROPE LADDER

DOWN FROM THE ROOF INTO MR. WHITE'S HOUSE.

When Mr. White Got There With a Gun They Went Up Again, Over the Roofs, Down a Rope Into Wm. Leary's Rooms and Off to the Street With a Dog Pursuing.

Alfred L. White of the Washington Water Power Company was with his family on the third floor of his home, at 53 East Fifty-fourth street, at 6:30 o'clock on Saturday evening when he heard footsteps in the butler's room overhead.

Knowing that the butler was downstairs in the dining room Mr. White concluded that he had a chance to catch a thief or two.

He went downstairs softly and got the butler, and the two, arming themselves with revolvers, went to the room on the fourth floor. The door was locked.

"Well, we've got this fellow dead to rights," said Mr. White to the butler. They cocked their revolvers, and putting their shoulders to the door, forced it in. A man's feet were disappearing upward outside of the window.

The burglar hunters hustled up to the roof through the scuttle and saw two men scramble over the roofs to the east and disappear into the fourth floor of an apartment house on the corner of Park avenue.

Here the crooks entered the apartment of William Leary, who was secretary of the Police Department under Mayor Low and who is now an examiner in the State Insurance Department. Mrs. Leary, who was in a room adjoining the one the burglars entered, used a pet dog barking vigorously and went into the room.

She came face to face with the crooks, who pushed her aside and made a dash for the door. The crooks had the stairs at a great rate with the dog snapping at their trousers. The entire apartment house was aroused, and most of the residents entered the room. The burglars were also supplied with a rope ladder which they had used to get into the White residence by lowering themselves from the roof.

Both the rope ladder and the heavy rope used at the apartment house were left behind. The police had not got any trace of the burglars up to a late hour last night. Mrs. Leary was able to give a very good description of the pair. She says they were both smooth shaven and well dressed. There have been a number of burglaries in the neighborhood. Just across the street from Mr. White's home is the residence of Jose Aymar, which was so thoroughly robbed recently.

WOMAN TAKES TO BRIGLARY. One of a Pair Who Carried Off the O'Donnell's Wedding Presents.

Inspector McClusky's detectives are looking for the man and woman burglars who got into the home of George O'Donnell at 208 Leffland street early Sunday morning and took away all O'Donnell's wedding presents and his jewelry and cash, worth altogether about $3,000, and incidentally quered a reception that was to have been held there last night.

O'Donnell is a buyer employed by Berg Bros., dealers in hats, at 605 Broadway. A few months ago he married Florence McNamee. They returned from their honeymoon a week ago and went to live in the house that O'Donnell had fitted up. When O'Donnell went downtown on Saturday morning he told his bride that he would not be home until late, and arrangements were made for his eight-year-old brother, Bernard, to look after the house.

O'Donnell got up yesterday morning to get the breakfast ready she missed all the silverware from its place on the sideboard. Nearly two hundred pieces, including the house O'Donnell had bought, were gone. He immediately awoke O'Donnell, and the first thing he did was to look for his jewelry. It was gone, together with $75 in money that he had in a wallet.

Thieves had got in by boring through the sash of a window until they could get a bent wire through and spring the lock. Detectives were called in and the burglar picked up a slice of cheese that was left on the dining room table, and found in it what he says is the impression of a woman's hand on the cover of a table that was under the window through which the thieves entered the sleuths found the marks of both a man's and a woman's shoes.

THE END OF SMOKES. Ambulance Driver Ruined His Record in Killing Bellevue's Dog.

John Russell, one of the Bellevue ambulance drivers, has been known as the safest and luckiest because he never ran over anything that had life. He lost his record last night when he failed to dodge Smokes, a black water spaniel that has made his home in the Bellevue gatehouse for a year.

Smokes presented himself to Frank Nugent, the gatekeeper, the night of the blizzard a year ago. He was immediately adopted on account of the pathetic tale he barked out about the temperature of the streets as a home. He became the pet of the nurses, who never failed to stroke his head when they passed through the gate.

THIEVES HAD ROPE LADDER

DOWN FROM THE ROOF INTO MR. WHITE'S HOUSE.

When Mr. White Got There With a Gun They Went Up Again, Over the Roofs, Down a Rope Into Wm. Leary's Rooms and Off to the Street With a Dog Pursuing.

Alfred L. White of the Washington Water Power Company was with his family on the third floor of his home, at 53 East Fifty-fourth street, at 6:30 o'clock on Saturday evening when he heard footsteps in the butler's room overhead.

Knowing that the butler was downstairs in the dining room Mr. White concluded that he had a chance to catch a thief or two.

He went downstairs softly and got the butler, and the two, arming themselves with revolvers, went to the room on the fourth floor. The door was locked.

"Well, we've got this fellow dead to rights," said Mr. White to the butler. They cocked their revolvers, and putting their shoulders to the door, forced it in. A man's feet were disappearing upward outside of the window.

The burglar hunters hustled up to the roof through the scuttle and saw two men scramble over the roofs to the east and disappear into the fourth floor of an apartment house on the corner of Park avenue.

Here the crooks entered the apartment of William Leary, who was secretary of the Police Department under Mayor Low and who is now an examiner in the State Insurance Department. Mrs. Leary, who was in a room adjoining the one the burglars entered, used a pet dog barking vigorously and went into the room.

She came face to face with the crooks, who pushed her aside and made a dash for the door. The crooks had the stairs at a great rate with the dog snapping at their trousers. The entire apartment house was aroused, and most of the residents entered the room. The burglars were also supplied with a rope ladder which they had used to get into the White residence by lowering themselves from the roof.

Both the rope ladder and the heavy rope used at the apartment house were left behind. The police had not got any trace of the burglars up to a late hour last night. Mrs. Leary was able to give a very good description of the pair. She says they were both smooth shaven and well dressed. There have been a number of burglaries in the neighborhood. Just across the street from Mr. White's home is the residence of Jose Aymar, which was so thoroughly robbed recently.

WOMAN TAKES TO BRIGLARY. One of a Pair Who Carried Off the O'Donnell's Wedding Presents.

Inspector McClusky's detectives are looking for the man and woman burglars who got into the home of George O'Donnell at 208 Leffland street early Sunday morning and took away all O'Donnell's wedding presents and his jewelry and cash, worth altogether about $3,000, and incidentally quered a reception that was to have been held there last night.

O'Donnell is a buyer employed by Berg Bros., dealers in hats, at 605 Broadway. A few months ago he married Florence McNamee. They returned from their honeymoon a week ago and went to live in the house that O'Donnell had fitted up. When O'Donnell went downtown on Saturday morning he told his bride that he would not be home until late, and arrangements were made for his eight-year-old brother, Bernard, to look after the house.

O'Donnell got up yesterday morning to get the breakfast ready she missed all the silverware from its place on the sideboard. Nearly two hundred pieces, including the house O'Donnell had bought, were gone. He immediately awoke O'Donnell, and the first thing he did was to look for his jewelry. It was gone, together with $75 in money that he had in a wallet.

Thieves had got in by boring through the sash of a window until they could get a bent wire through and spring the lock. Detectives were called in and the burglar picked up a slice of cheese that was left on the dining room table, and found in it what he says is the impression of a woman's hand on the cover of a table that was under the window through which the thieves entered the sleuths found the marks of both a man's and a woman's shoes.

THE END OF SMOKES. Ambulance Driver Ruined His Record in Killing Bellevue's Dog.

John Russell, one of the Bellevue ambulance drivers, has been known as the safest and luckiest because he never ran over anything that had life. He lost his record last night when he failed to dodge Smokes, a black water spaniel that has made his home in the Bellevue gatehouse for a year.

Smokes presented himself to Frank Nugent, the gatekeeper, the night of the blizzard a year ago. He was immediately adopted on account of the pathetic tale he barked out about the temperature of the streets as a home. He became the pet of the nurses, who never failed to stroke his head when they passed through the gate.

THIEVES HAD ROPE LADDER

DOWN FROM THE ROOF INTO MR. WHITE'S HOUSE.

When Mr. White Got There With a Gun They Went Up Again, Over the Roofs, Down a Rope Into Wm. Leary's Rooms and Off to the Street With a Dog Pursuing.

Alfred L. White of the Washington Water Power Company was with his family on the third floor of his home, at 53 East Fifty-fourth street, at 6:30 o'clock on Saturday evening when he heard footsteps in the butler's room overhead.

Knowing that the butler was downstairs in the dining room Mr. White concluded that he had a chance to catch a thief or two.

He went downstairs softly and got the butler, and the two, arming themselves with revolvers, went to the room on the fourth floor. The door was locked.

"Well, we've got this fellow dead to rights," said Mr. White to the butler. They cocked their revolvers, and putting their shoulders to the door, forced it in. A man's feet were disappearing upward outside of the window.

The burglar hunters hustled up to the roof through the scuttle and saw two men scramble over the roofs to the east and disappear into the fourth floor of an apartment house on the corner of Park avenue.

Here the crooks entered the apartment of William Leary, who was secretary of the Police Department under Mayor Low and who is now an examiner in the State Insurance Department. Mrs. Leary, who was in a room adjoining the one the burglars entered, used a pet dog barking vigorously and went into the room.

She came face to face with the crooks, who pushed her aside and made a dash for the door. The crooks had the stairs at a great rate with the dog snapping at their trousers. The entire apartment house was aroused, and most of the residents entered the room. The burglars were also supplied with a rope ladder which they had used to get into the White residence by lowering themselves from the roof.

Both the rope ladder and the heavy rope used at the apartment house were left behind. The police had not got any trace of the burglars up to a late hour last night. Mrs. Leary was able to give a very good description of the pair. She says they were both smooth shaven and well dressed. There have been a number of burglaries in the neighborhood. Just across the street from Mr. White's home is the residence of Jose Aymar, which was so thoroughly robbed recently.

WOMAN TAKES TO BRIGLARY. One of a Pair Who Carried Off the O'Donnell's Wedding Presents.

Inspector McClusky's detectives are looking for the man and woman burglars who got into the home of George O'Donnell at 208 Leffland street early Sunday morning and took away all O'Donnell's wedding presents and his jewelry and cash, worth altogether about $3,000, and incidentally quered a reception that was to have been held there last night.

O'Donnell is a buyer employed by Berg Bros., dealers in hats, at 605 Broadway. A few months ago he married Florence McNamee. They returned from their honeymoon a week ago and went to live in the house that O'Donnell had fitted up. When O'Donnell went downtown on Saturday morning he told his bride that he would not be home until late, and arrangements were made for his eight-year-old brother, Bernard, to look after the house.

O'Donnell got up yesterday morning to get the breakfast ready she missed all the silverware from its place on the sideboard. Nearly two hundred pieces, including the house O'Donnell had bought, were gone. He immediately awoke O'Donnell, and the first thing he did was to look for his jewelry. It was gone, together with $75 in money that he had in a wallet.

Thieves had got in by boring through the sash of a window until they could get a bent wire through and spring the lock. Detectives were called in and the burglar picked up a slice of cheese that was left on the dining room table, and found in it what he says is the impression of a woman's hand on the cover of a table that was under the window through which the thieves entered the sleuths found the marks of both a man's and a woman's shoes.

THE END OF SMOKES. Ambulance Driver Ruined His Record in Killing Bellevue's Dog.

John Russell, one of the Bellevue ambulance drivers, has been known as the safest and luckiest because he never ran over anything that had life. He lost his record last night when he failed to dodge Smokes, a black water spaniel that has made his home in the Bellevue gatehouse for a year.

Smokes presented himself to Frank Nugent, the gatekeeper, the night of the blizzard a year ago. He was immediately adopted on account of the pathetic tale he barked out about the temperature of the streets as a home. He became the pet of the nurses, who never failed to stroke his head when they passed through the gate.

"Y AND E" FILING FACTS

29---As a Distinct Bargain in Filing Equipment, this "Y and E" Vertical Tray with Hinged Covers establishes a New Record.

The Tray is of golden quartered oak or ex-choice mahogany, as you prefer—fitted with sliding compressor—a beautiful piece of cabinet work. It holds 3,000 letters or papers and its price is ONLY $6.50.

Q JUST PHONE US to send you one on approval—or anyhow to mail you complete Vertical Price List.

YAWMAN & ERBE MFG. CO., 'Phone: 3034 Franklin. 360 BROADWAY.

ART SALES AND EXHIBITIONS. CHINESE This Afternoon at 2:30 American Art Galleries

Madison Square South, New York. ON FREE VIEW 9 a. m. until 6 p. m.

The Beautiful and Fascinating ART COLLECTION Formed by the late Heber R. Bishop Order of Sale THIS (MONDAY) AFTERNOON AT THE American Art Galleries promptly at 2:30 o'clock. SUPERB JAPANESE LAQUERS AND INROS. Nos. 1112 to 1408. THIS (MONDAY) EVENING, promptly at 8 o'clock. ANTIQUE JAPANESE AND CHINESE KAREMONOS AND PANELS. Nos. 2725 to 2870.

TO-MORROW (TUESDAY) AFTERNOON promptly at 2:30 o'clock. BOWLS, ANTIQUE SUPERB JAPANESE LAQUERS AND INROS. Nos. 1409 to 1604. TO-MORROW (TUESDAY) EVENING, promptly at 8 o'clock. ANTIQUE JAPANESE AND CHINESE BOOKS AND EUROPEAN ETCHINGS AND ENGRAVINGS. Nos. 2880 to 3007.

WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON, Jan. 24th, promptly at 2:30 o'clock. VERY FINE ANTIQUE CHINESE AND JAPANESE BRONZES. Nos. 1605 to 1935. THURSDAY AFTERNOON, JAN. 25TH, promptly at 2:30 o'clock. REMARKABLE ANTIQUE CHINESE AND JAPANESE BRONZES AND ARTICLES OF WORK, ANTIQUE CLOISONNE ENAMELS AND CHAMPLEVE. Nos. 1936 to 2185.

FRIDAY AFTERNOON, JAN. 26TH, promptly at 2:30 o'clock. ANTIQUE JAPANESE AND EUROPEAN ARMS AND ARMOR. Nos. 2186 to 2490. SATURDAY AFTERNOON, JAN. 27TH, promptly at 2:30 o'clock. Concluding session. SUMPTUOUS ANTIQUE CHINESE AND JAPANESE COSTUMES AND PALACE HANGINGS, ANTIQUE CHINESE CARPETS, ART FURNITURE AND MISCELLANEOUS OBJECTS. Nos. 2492 to 2724.

The sale will be conducted by THOMAS E. KIRBY, of the AMERICAN ART ASSOCIATION, Managers 6 East 23d St., Madison Square South.

Storm and Fog Delay the Umbra. The Cunarder Umbra, in yesterday from Liverpool and Queenstown, was delayed a day by stormy weather and held off the Hook five hours by heavy fog. Among her passengers were N. L. Armitage, Milton Harper, R. B. Ireland, Capt. and Mrs. Charles E. Soward and E. M. Robertson.

DIED. LEECH—At Jacksonville, Fla., David Charles Leech, 72 years of age, died of scarlet fever on Saturday, Jan. 20, 1906. Notice of funeral hereafter.

LYNE—On Saturday, Jan. 20, 1906, Samuel W. Lyne, in his 93rd year. Burial at the late residence, 181 1/2 12th street, Brooklyn, on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

MILLER—Anna Grant, daughter of William S. Miller and Susan Ripley Tracy, and widow of Col. Alexander Macomb Miller, Jr., S. A., at Pittsburgh, Pa., Sunday, Jan. 21, 1906, at 6:30 A. M.

Interment at Ulica, N. Y., Tuesday afternoon. RAPALLO—On Friday, Jan. 19, 1906, Helen S. Rapallo, widow of Charles A. Rapallo, in the 54th year of her age. Funeral services at her late residence, 15 East 30th st., on Monday, Jan. 22, at 11 o'clock, at the residence of her son, Dr. John F. Russell, 21 West 11th st., Louisville, daughter of the late William Russell, a member of the Grand Army of the Republic, and widow of the late Charles P. Russell, in the 62d year of her age. Interment at Washington, D. C.

SILLMAN—At Ulica, N. Y., on Saturday, Jan. 20, 1906, of pneumonia, Charles A. Sillman, in the 76th year of his age. Funeral services at the residence of his sister, Mrs. E. J. Parmelee, 3 Washington square, Troy, N. Y., on Monday, Jan. 22, at 11 A. M. Interment at Woodlawn. Special train leaves Grand Central Depot, Tuesday, Jan. 23, at 11 A. M.

SUTHERLAND—Suddenly, on Saturday, at Jacksonville, Fla., George H. Sutherland, aged 67 years. Funeral from the chapel of Stephen Merritt Rusk Company, 8th and 19th sts., on Monday afternoon at 1:30.

WRIGHT—On Jan. 18, 1906, at Nassau, Bahamas, Charles Wright, 62 years of age. Burial at Ulica, N. Y., on Tuesday, Jan. 23, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon. Relatives and friends are invited to attend.

THIEVES HAD ROPE LADDER

DOWN FROM THE ROOF INTO MR. WHITE'S HOUSE.

THIEVES HAD ROPE LADDER

DOWN FROM THE ROOF INTO MR. WHITE'S HOUSE.

THIEVES HAD ROPE LADDER

DOWN FROM THE ROOF INTO MR. WHITE'S HOUSE.

THIEVES HAD ROPE LADDER

DOWN FROM THE ROOF INTO MR. WHITE'S HOUSE.

THIEVES HAD ROPE LADDER

DOWN FROM THE ROOF INTO MR. WHITE'S HOUSE.

THIEVES HAD ROPE LADDER

DOWN FROM THE ROOF INTO MR. WHITE'S HOUSE.

</