NEW JUDGES TO BE ELECTED.

GOV. HIGGINS DISPOSES OF THE BILLS BEFORE HIM.

This District Will Have Eight More Supreme Court Justices, the Second Ten More, the Fifth One and the Eighth Two—The Third, Fourth and Sixth Get No Increase

ALBANY, June 2.—Gov. Higgins to-day disposed of the bills providing for additional Supreme Court Justices. He signed the bills providing for an increased number of Justices in all of the districts except in the Third, or Albany and Hudson River district; in the Fourth, or Saratoga and northern New York district, and in the Sixth, or Binghamton and southern tier district.

The bills vetoed provided for two additional Justices in the Third district, one in the Fourth and one in the Sixth. Judge G. D. E. Hasbrouck of Kingsburgh in the Third, and Frank Black was to have named a Bannassee county man as the second Justice. Former Assemblyman Wemple of Schenectady was mentioned as the probable new Judge in the Fourth, and Senator Harvey D. Hinman had been highly spoken of as the probable new Judge in the Sixth district.

The only judicial district for which there was no bill providing for additional Justices was the Seventh, or Rochester district. The bills signed provide for the election next fall of eight additional Supreme Court Justices in New York county, First district; seven in Kings county, Second district; three in the new Ninth district, formerly a part of the Brooklyn district; one in the Fifth, or Onondaga-Onesida-Oswego district, and two in the Eighth, or Erie-Chautauque-Niagara district. In all twenty-one new Justices will be elected next fall. In disposing of the bills Gov. Higgins filed this memorandum:

Until the recent constitutional amendment was adopted the Constitution fixed the number of Supreme Court Justices in each judicial district of the State, but this amendment permits the Legislature to make an addition to the present force of thirty-eight Justices, an increase of 10 per cent. The Legislature has exercised the discretion lodged in it to create new Justices from time to time to meet the needs of the State by passing bills providing at once for twenty-five additional Justices, or two-thirds of the total possible increase.

Of the seventy-six Supreme Court Justices of the State thirty, or over 39 per cent, are assigned to appellate courts as follows: Appellate Term, 3; total, 30.

The percentage of Justices assigned to appellate work from the eight districts respectively, as they existed prior to the creation of the new Ninth district, is: First, 3; Second, 3; Third, 3; Fourth, 3; Fifth, 3; Sixth, 3; Seventh, 3; Eighth, 3; Ninth, 1.

While a majority of the Justices assigned permanently to the Appellate Division in each department will be residents of the department to which they are assigned, the Constitution clearly contemplates the assignment of Justices to the Appellate Division outside of the departments in which they reside. It was seriously urged in the constitutional convention that a majority of such Justices should be non-residents of the department; and that they were assigned.

The State Bar Association at its session in January adopted a report which urged the assignment of Justices to perform duties on the Appellate Division from districts outside of the departments in which they are called upon to serve as "an important and valuable feature of our Appellate system. The report contended that the plan of keeping the Justices at home as "provincial and narrow."

At present seven of the twenty-four Justices assigned to the Appellate Division are non-residents of the department to which they sit. It is improbable that this number will be reduced in the near future, as no such designation terminates prior to December 31, 1907, and it is safe to assume that the practice of assigning Justices to Appellate duty outside of the departments in which they reside will not be discontinued.

eight Justices in such district will, when the present grand jury cases are cleared up, be needed in order to prevent a recurrence of the law's delays which now result in great hardship.

The same conditions prevail in the King County district, including the new Ninth. The number of grand jury cases in Kings county has nearly doubled in the past three years and is about ten thousand at present. In the Fifth district outside Judges are called in when available, but new cases accumulate more rapidly than the old ones are disposed of.

No less than seven trial and special term Justices are demanded in the Eighth district. Five only are now available, and in order that seven may be at all times available the proposed increase of two in that district must be approved.

Where cases cannot be tried promptly in court references become necessary. Referees and stenographers' fees are large, and the expense must be borne by the parties. Litigants are denied justice when it is difficult and almost impossible for them to get equity cases to trial in court, and they are forced to consent to a reference.

Supreme Court Judges are State officers, whose salaries are paid from the State treasury, except as they receive additional compensation from the city of New York when holding court there. While I do not contend that Justices should be elected in one district merely to supply the needs of another district, it should not be overlooked that an additional Judge in the First district imposes upon the Eighth district the same expense that an additional Judge in the Eighth district imposes upon that district, and that as there is no direct State tax, the increase of the judiciary nowhere adds to the general real and personal property tax.

Taking all these matters into consideration, I am led first to condemn the constitutional amendment which leaves the Legislature and the Governor subject to opportunities to make at once an increase which should be made gradually; second, to condemn any unnecessary increase of the number of judges as tending to multiply expense and reduce the standard of merit and fitness of judicial candidates; third, to condemn the practice of compensating judges for services outside their departments at a higher rate than they receive at home and, finally, to consider what disposition to make of the pending bills.

I approve the bill providing for eight additional Justices in the First district. This is the maximum increase for this district, but on the same basis of population as that applied outside the First and Second districts the possible increase would be sixteen.

The ten additional Justices provided for the Second district, including the new Ninth, are demanded with practical unanimity. The possible increase is sixteen, and on the basis prevailing up the State the possible increase would be twenty-six.

The addition of one Justice in the Fifth district, where at present the Constitution permits an increase of two, seems proper in view of the population and business activity of the district. In the Eighth district the bar looks upon an increase of two, which is but one-half of the possible increase, as conservative and proper, and such increase seems necessary in order that trial and special term work may be disposed of satisfactorily and with reasonable despatch.

I am of the opinion that with these increases the remaining districts will suffer no serious inconvenience, and I have not approved the bills for additional Justices in the Third, Fourth and Sixth districts.

FRANK W. HIGGINS.

THROUGH WITH 30 DAY BILLS.

Gov. Higgins Withholds His Signature From 200—He Signed 848.

ALBANY, June 2.—Gov. Higgins to-day completed his consideration of the 544 thirty day bills left him by the Legislature. Of this number he signed 348, leaving 200 which he refused to approve or which were vetoed by city authorities after the Legislature adjourned. This year there were 606 laws, or fifty-two less than last year. The last bill signed this year was the measure of Senator Barnes increasing the quota of money to be received from the State each year by the weaker rural school districts. Aside from the Supreme Court Justices bills the only other bills signed by the Governor to-day were Senator Carpenter's authorizing each trial term Supreme Court Justice in the new Ninth district to have a confidential clerk at a salary of $2,000, and Assemblyman Fife's fixing at $1,800 the salaries of the Troy Assessors.

One of the bills which Gov. Higgins refused to sign was Senator Brackett's exempting the Gotham Hotel in New York City from the provisions of the general law prohibiting the sale of liquor within a certain distance of churches and schools.

The Governor did not sign Assemblyman Wells' bill providing that New York city auctioneers may be licensed by the City Clerk and pay an annual license fee of $250, or Assemblyman Campbell's bill authorizing borough presidents to appoint a deputy commissioner of public works.

Sale of Handsome Summer Dresses at $22.50

A Remarkable Lot of Exquisite New Models.

To produce such exquisite Dresses as these, and be able to keep the price down to $22.50, is an achievement of which we are more than proud. In style, in character, in materials and workmanship, they'll compare very favorably with any in New York at a half more in cost. Mind you, they are the very newest models—made from the leading fabrics, tailored in perfect fashion. Some are original; others are copies of models we brought over from abroad. Materials comprise Silk, Net, Batiste, Lawn and Linen; the silk ones are in both taffeta and foulard. Some of the suits are plainly tailored; others are trimmed with lace. Two of the models we picture here. Ready in the morning.

Another Lot of Silk Dresses $10.50

Despite the rain of last Monday, we sold ALL of the Silk Dresses the maker could possibly get ready for us. By the hardest kind of effort, however, we'll have ready to-morrow one hundred and fifty more of the same kind.

They come in black, navy, stripe and check taffetas; all made of selected silks; very smart model; some with lace yoke, others self materials; new pleated skirts. Suits we honestly believe have never been seen in a special sale anywhere below $10.

- Peter Pan Blouse Suits of linen; good full skirt, with detachable hem; blouse pleated. $9.75
- 75 Black Taffeta Silk Skirts.—New full accordion pleated model; fine lustrous material; perfect hanging. $10.50 value for $7.50
- Covert Coats, fine all wool materials, best tailor finish; silk lining; cannot be equalled at our price of $10.00
- Taffeta Silk Coats in short loose effects, light and dressy; the price is low but the value excellent. $5.00

Bathing Suits for Women and Children, in a large variety of new models and materials; very pretty combinations; make your selection early while assortments are complete. $1.95 to $10.00

15,000 Yards of Regular 35-cent French Organdies, 14c

With all the Summer season ahead of you, we count this the most important sale of organdies that will be held in New York this year. They are positively worth 35 cents a yard; cannot be bought for less anywhere. We offer exactly fifteen thousand yards at 14c. Exquisite printings in pink, light blue, lavender, blue, yellow, green, etc.; large, medium and small designs; all this year's styles. A bargain that requires little comment—we'll be very busy to-morrow, rest assured.

PATRICIAN

Shoe for Women

THE SUMMER GIRL

Will find this season, more than ever before, that "PATRICIAN" seems literally "made for her."

(This is not peculiar, in view of the fact that the makers of these shoes devote their entire attention to the perfecting of this one line of women's footwear.)

The pleasure of Summer jaunts and sports is complete when Patrician shoes are worn. They not only allow perfect freedom of movement, so essential to grace in a woman, but their attractiveness and perfect styles give her the consciousness of being well dressed.

Try Style 22 for Golf—you will find it flexible soled, cool and perfect fitting—Style 23 or 79 for walking—they are light, cool and exceptionally attractive.

ADAMS DRY GOODS COMPANY.

Among other bills which the Governor refused to sign were:

Assemblyman Young's, fixing at $2,000 the salaries of the record clerks of the court of General Sessions in New York county.

Senator Cooper's, providing for the establishment of a city college in Brooklyn.

Assemblyman Weber's, fixing at $1,500 the salaries of the Kings county District Attorney's detectives.

Assemblyman Schoenack's, increasing the exemption of colleges from taxation.

Assemblyman Wells', permitting the formation of corporations to guarantee the validity of securities.

Assemblyman O'Neill's, amending the election law with regard to changing the boundaries of election districts in New York city.

Senator Grady's, increasing the force of the New York county Sheriff.

The Governor refused to sign all claim bills against New York city, as well as bills providing for reinstatement in the police and fire departments, and also a number of bills changing the game laws as they apply to Orange county.

WELCOME PRESIDENT TAYLOR.

A Thousand Vassar Girls Escort Him With Songs and Shouts of "Banzi!"

POUGHKEEPSIE, June 2.—A thousand Vassar girls cheered themselves hoarse last night welcoming President James M. Taylor, who returned to the college after a year's absence in Europe. A shower came up while the enthusiasm was at its greatest, but it did not dampen the ardor of the students. The students were massed along the drive from the entrance of the campus. With songs and cheers and shouts of "Banzi," President Taylor was escorted to the college, the seniors marching ahead, the juniors and sophomores on either side and the freshmen bringing up the rear.

SMUGGLED LEAF TOBACCO.

Goods Found on a Truck in Hoboken and Arrests Made.

Detectives Garrick and Hopper at 3 o'clock yesterday morning heard something stirring near the bridge to the Hoboken public baths at the foot of Fourth street. On their approach a truck with three or four men about it started off at a quick gait. The officers caught the truck, with two men and several hundredweight of Sumatra leaf tobacco on it. The men said they were Fred Lang, a tinsmith, and William Blissenbach, a longshoreman.

On the statements of the prisoners Abraham Grossman, a saloon keeper of 322 River street, and Max Klausenstock, ostensibly his bartender, were arraigned as the principals in the smuggling scheme. These two were each held in $2,500 bail, which they later secured. The police and the customs officers are now looking for a boatman, who, according to the statement of the prisoners, brought the tobacco down from the Hamburg-American Line docks. They think they have found a gang who have been carrying on the smuggling of Sumatra leaf for a long time.

MISSED RAT; SHOT CHILDREN.

The Faces of the Latter Peppered With Birdshot.

BRANCO, N. J., June 2.—Rocco Sallanardo of Jersey City, on a visit to West Orange this evening undertook to shoot a muskrat that was stealing a chicken from the coop of his friend Nardiello of Dean street, West Orange. He missed the rat, but three children were peppered with birdshot. The injured children are Julia Miller, 9 years old, of 3 Joyce street; Marie Gubbio, 7 months old, and her sister Julia, 12 years old, of 1 Joyce street.

They were all sitting on the back stoop when they were shot. An ambulance took the children to the hospital. Little Marie got one shot over the eye, which was quickly extracted, but the faces, hands and arms of the other children contained many shot. Marie was discharged from the hospital, but the other two children will be kept there for the present. Sallanardo and his friend escaped to the mountains.

EDDY DIVORCE A SURPRISE.

Famed Chicago Organist and His Wife Thought to Have Been Reconciled.

CHICAGO, June 2.—Information that Clarence Eddy, the organist, has got an unconditional divorce from his wife came as a surprise to-day to his friends in Chicago. Mr. Eddy is reported to have made the announcement. The decree was granted in Pierre, S. D., on May 10, the grounds being desertion. Mrs. Eddy will do living in Paris.

Suit was originally filed in Chicago about eight months ago, but was later withdrawn. The withdrawal convinced the acquaintances of the Eddys that their differences had been patched up and that the proceedings for a separation or a divorce would not be pressed.

They were married here in 1876.

TERRANOVA GIRL CHEERFUL.

Doesn't Fear Another Trial and Dreams She's at the Theatre.

Josephine Terranova, who was acquitted of the murder of her aunt, Concetta Reggio, on Friday, seemed to enjoy herself in the Tombs yesterday. She says she is willing to stay there until the indictment charging her with the murder of her uncle, Gaetano Reggio, is disposed of. The girl doesn't fear another trial. It will not be known what the District Attorney's office will do until Mr. Jerome returns from Lakeview to-morrow.

The girl said she dreamed that she was in a theatre on Friday night. It was a beautiful show, she said, nothing tragic. When she awoke yesterday she thought for a second she was free and out of the Tombs.

SEASIDE HOSPITAL TO OPEN.

St. John's Guild Will Begin Its Work Earlier This Season.

St. John's Guild announces the opening of its seaside hospital at New Dorp, Staten Island, to-morrow. This is opening is two weeks earlier than usual.

Until the Guild's floating hospital begins its daily trips at the usual time—about July 1—the patients for the Seaside Hospital will be conveyed thence by the Staten Island ferry and trains, on boats leaving the foot of Whitehall street at 10 A. M. and 2 P. M.

An inspector from the Department of Health will be at the ferryhouse fifteen minutes in advance of these hours, to examine the patients and countersign their tickets, and a nurse and orderly will meet the patients in the ferryhouse on the New York side and will conduct them to the hospital.

The fares of the patients will be paid by the guild, so that the mothers bringing sick babies to the hospital need have no other thought than to get to the ferryhouse at the times designated—they need not even bring extra clothing with them, as all such things are provided at the hospital and everything is absolutely free.

One Chicago Labor Unionist Kills Another.

CHICAGO, June 2.—John W. Lavine, one of the best known of Chicago labor union officials, died to-day of wounds inflicted last night by John L. Tobin, a brother unionist. Lavine was a cigarmaker, and had represented that organization in the Chicago Federation of Labor for many years. The shooting, which resulted in the death of Lavine, took place last evening and followed Lavine's speech opposing further paying of union benefits to Tobin, who is a cripple.
