FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

Thursday, June 16. Transactions in the stock market today were two and a half times as great as they were yesterday.

The market which has been more or less continuously in evidence throughout the week culminated in the last hour of business in a violent break in prices. From this sharp rally occurred which still, however, left not in doubt the neighborhood of a point in each instance in most of the principal stocks, and much larger concessions than those were noted in the relatively inactive and high priced shares.

There was no more than a few days past any definite reaction today for the market, and the fall for the market as brought about merely by the fact that speculators for the first had become tired of holding stocks that the public, for the time being at least, showed no desire to buy.

There were some notable exceptions to the general trend of the market, and the Ohio common stock was strongly bought from the beginning of the day to the end, upon the conviction that it will be for the interest of the Pennsylvania Railroad management, that is practically in control of the Baltimore and Ohio property, to enlarge in view of existing circumstances the dividend distribution upon the company's common shares.

This belief is, anyway, naturally suggested by the increase in dividends as yesterday announced on the stock of the Pennsylvania Company and the preferred stock of the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis Railroad Company.

For the same reason, doubtless, there was to-day more support extended in the market to Chesapeake and Ohio stock than might otherwise have been expected.

Other stocks that stoutly resisted the declining tendency were Steel Rapid Transit and United States Steel preferred.

There was a general reaction in the market, and the Pennsylvania Railroad Company itself was very little affected by the liquidation or speculative selling for the fall that occurred.

A preliminary break in the market took place shortly after midday, but the recovery from this was only feeble and the rapid decline that followed later seemed to take few people by surprise.

The largest fall in any one stock was in Reading common, which at one time sold 8 1/2 points below its final quotation yesterday.

There was, of course, to the idea that the well known pool in existence in the stock was selling out; but at the lowest point touched to-day Delaware and Hudson had declined 7 points, Delaware, Lackawanna and Western 1 1/2, Union Pacific 2, Amalgamated Copper 2 1/2, and the United States Steel common 1 1/2 points.

The pressure to sell the last named stock probably influenced the market as unfavorably as anything else.

The monetary situation to-day remained without change. The banks were in further receipt of large sums of money by telegraph from San Francisco and have now received in this way $19,215,000, exclusive of shipments of money representing gold imports, since the disaster on the Pacific Coast.

The grain markets fluctuated erratically during the day upon conflicting reports of agricultural conditions. In general better weather seemed to prevail throughout the spring and winter wheat districts, but lugubrious stories concerning the outlook for the corn, oats and hay crops were circulated and the price of the speculative options in corn and oats held firm.

The International Mercantile Marine Company made a public good report of its operations, showing a surplus for the year ended December 31 of $1,127,491, an increase of $4,000,000 as compared with the previous year. The Government report of our agricultural export trade in May, given out in Washington late yesterday afternoon, was also encouraging.

The total value of these exports for the month diminished about $4,000,000 as compared with those of the general month last year, but were relatively speaking, large for the period. In the seven months of the fiscal year thus far our exports of these commodities have been $141,000,000 greater than they were in the same time a year ago.
