A MOMENTOUS BILLIARD SHOT

CHAMPION HOPPE TELLS OF AN IMPORTANT ONE.

Turning Point in the Game With Vignaux That Brought Him to the Front Rank—Says Force Is the Hardest Thing to Master in Billiards—His Record Run.

William Hoppe, the young champion of the world at 18 inch balk line billiards, one shot in, and holder of the world's record run of 307 for 18 inch balk line, two shots in, was asked the other day what shot, if any, he considered the most important of his career.

In January last Hoppe defeated Maurice Vignaux in Paris and wrested the 18 1/2 title away from the veteran Frenchman. He told of a shot in that game which came as near as any to being a turning point in his struggle for premier honors.

It was the winning of that game that brought him from the shortstop class up to the masters' class—ranked him among the top notchers.

"The most important shot, to me, of that game," said Master William Hoppe, "was at the beginning of the second inning of the second half of the contest. In Paris there is a recess when one of the players has reached the half way mark in points. The game was close enough, when the second half began, to be either man's. For the shot I am telling you about the balls were lined up, extending diagonally out from the side rail. The cue ball was furthest from the side rail and outside the other two. The cue ball went from the left object ball to the side rail and then to the second ball, catching the second ball on the far edge. The shot gave me position, and I ran 95.

"If I had missed I would have left position for Vignaux, and the chances are that he then would have caught his stroke first instead of me. A great deal depended on which of us got his stroke first, and I consider that shot the most important in the game. Anyway, he did not play well after that, and he told me after the game that that shot beat him.

In the recent Chicago 18 1/2 tournament Hoppe defeated George Sutton, who made the record average of 100 for 18 1/2 in the New York tournament. There was a shot in that game which he thinks as hard as any he ever made. The first object ball was frozen to an end rail. Near the other end rail and about its middle was the cue ball. The second object ball was in a corner just to the right of the cue ball. The cue ball was driven up to the far object ball, shod off the latter to the right and to the adjacent end cushion and came back to the second object ball—made a one cushion shot. It was a shot calling for complex application of force and a position shot as well. It gathered the balls and led up to a big run.

"How long did it take me to run 807?" repeated Hoppe. "About forty minutes; I should say. I did not feel much like playing before the game began, but the further it went the better I felt. Sometimes a man plays well when he doesn't think he is going to do well. That's one of several things about billiards that are important to me. I was a little tired when I reached the hundredth count of the run, but not after that. When you get to the 200 mark in a run you feel you can make anything, and that's the way I felt in that run.

"There was more applause when I reached 250 than when, a few shots later, I passed the previous record run, made by Cura. Most of the spectators did not know the record run had been beaten. No, I can't say that applause has much effect on me. I never see the people in an important match. The balls and the table are all I see. The only time I feel nervous is just before the start. After the start I'm all right.

All the Saks & Co. Dry Goods In the Greatest Sale Ever Held.

THE WEEK HAS BEEN ONE OF IMMENSE PUBLIC ENTHUSIASM—of such Dry Goods selling as was never before known at this season of the year. But the occasion has been one that justified all the attention it received. A superb new stock of Dry Goods, including Silks, Velvets, Linens, Sheets, Towels, Linings, White Goods, Dress Cottons, Linen and Lace Pieces, Dress Goods, Has been offered at prices without precedent in littleness. For we bought the entire splendid stock of Dry Goods from Saks and Co. of Broadway and Thirty-third street, Manhattan, when that firm decided to give up that branch of their business. We added to it the choicest plums in the market, making altogether a stock of at least $250,000 Worth of New and Fine Dry Goods A Fourth to Half Less Than Regular Prices.

Now, for the second week of the Sale much that it was impossible to make ready at first is brought to the counters. In some cases the Sale presents even lower prices and greater values than on the first day. Extra preparations for good service have been made. You will not only find such assortments and such values as have never been equaled at this season, but you will find the same careful and prompt service always characteristic of the Loesser Store. We give some of the details briefly. But the stock is still so vast and varied that it is impossible to do more than hint at the larger groups. Come and see. And come early.

- The Saks Dress Fabrics. NO FEATURE OF THE SALE is more important, for many of these handsome fabrics are of the styles and weaves that will be chiefly favored in the fall. We give a new and interesting list—some values that have not heretofore been equaled even in the Sale. Saks' 40c. Wool Albatross at 25c. a Yard. Two thousand and two hundred yards of fine all wool Albatross in cream and light shades. Saks' 75c. and $1 Dress Fabrics at 49c. Every Fancy Suit for Men Half Priced.

THE MOST IMPORTANT SALE OF SUMMER SUITS for men that has been announced this season. A chance that few men will care to miss—since August and September are still ahead and these Suits may be worn during both of these months. It is a radical clearance of the Suits in our own stock; every one of which was made for us and every one of which bears the distinctive marks of style and good tailor work characteristic of Loesser Clothing. All the lots are broken—but you will probably find a Suit that fits and satisfies you without difficulty. Main Floor, Elm Place Entrance. None sent C. O. D.

Unrivaled in Scope and in Values

The Great Summer Furniture Sale

THE PAST WEEK RECORDED THE GREATEST SINGLE DAY'S BUSINESS and the greatest single week's business in Furniture we have ever done—probably the greatest ever done by any one store in America. That was significant of two things. FIRST, that the Furniture is right—of high quality, in splendid variety and at low prices. SECOND, the splendid public confidence in the Loesser Store. It is our best and biggest Furniture Sale. Perhaps no other store in the country has quite the facilities for gathering fine Furniture that are within the power of the Loesser Store. Perhaps no other Store can so logically force low prices. And every effort of our organization, the planning and work of months; the skill and experience of years are back of this great merchandise movement which now swings into the second week—offering a magnificent stock of the best Furniture, and nothing but the best Furniture, at prices A Fifth to Half Under Regular Prices.
