

LIBERALS LOSE BY-ELECTION.

HOUSE ADJOURNS TO OCTOBER AS NEWS IS RECEIVED.

Country Feels Relief at Government's Failure to Act on Trade Unions Bill and That Terms of Transvaal Scheme Are No Worse—When King and Kaiser Meet.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN. LONDON, Aug. 4.—There have been important developments this week in what is easiest described as the European situation.

The whole country gave a sigh of relief this afternoon when the House of Commons in the middle of its discussion of the quality of their corporate acts, adjourned until October.

The Liberal majority of 563 in January becomes a Conservative majority of 563. The most important news by far, as already explained in these despatches, is the announcement that King Edward and the Emperor William will confer at Kronberg on August 16.

There is still no information of the extent to which matters have gone toward reaching an understanding between the two monarchs. There is probably nothing definite as yet, and even after the meeting itself the world cannot expect to learn immediately what has been done toward an adjustment of the immense issues which the two men will discuss.

GERMANY WOULD MIX IN EGYPT

Opposition to British Plans Likely Unless Concessions Are Made Elsewhere.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN. LONDON, Aug. 4.—Germany's intention to take an active hand in settling the Egyptian question after the same fashion as she interfered in Morocco is indicated by a significant article in the Deutsche Review, a leading German magazine, which reflects the views of the Foreign Office.

The writer then discloses ingeniously the "major in the woodpile" by saying that Germany may abandon her opposition to England in Egypt in return for British concessions elsewhere.

FARM WORKERS WIN STRIKE.

Wife for First Time in France and Get Wage Increase.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN. PARIS, Aug. 4.—An important development has marked the summer in France, namely, the organization of the agricultural laborers into a union which struck for better wages. The strikes took place in the district known as La Brié and were successful, the cowherds and carters obtaining an advance of 150 francs a year in their wages; shepherds, 20 francs a month; laborers, 25 centimes a day, and women, 50 centimes. These methods of combination are now spreading to Belgium.

GOLF PLAYED LONG, LONG AGO.

GAME KNOWN IN BYZANTINE EMPIRE, SAYS PROF. PETRIE.

Bronze Polo Clubs From Persia Probably Used in the Second Century—Budget of Queer Facts From British Association for the Advancement of Science.

LONDON, Aug. 4.—Several items of popular interest have been gleaned from the discussions in the various sections of the British Association for the Advancement of Science at its meeting in York.

In the anthropological section a collection of bronze weapons and implements from Persia was discussed. Prof. Ridgeway placed them as belonging to the first or second century.

In the same section E. W. Knocker read a paper on the aborigines of Sungai and Vjong, wild tribes inhabiting the hills north and northwest of Negri Sembilan.

He said that their profile was negroid, not prognathous. They had no rites for the celebration of births, marriage or deaths.

They had no religion, no belief in existence after death and did not practise any form of witchcraft or magic.

In the geographical section Prof. Clement read a paper on coast erosion in England. He showed that the British Islands 4,000 years ago were sixty feet higher out of the water than they are now.

He said that the intermittent subsidence of the land or rise of the sea. This was completed about 3,500 years ago. Then commenced the coast erosion.

He asked: If since civilized man lived in Great Britain there had been a rapid change in the sea level, followed by a long rest, what are the prospects of another rapid change, with the possibility of vast damage caused by a rise or fall of but two or three feet in the level of the sea or land?

In the educational section Prof. Sadler in his presidential address said that on the whole English education was in a very satisfactory condition.

He said that the moral of his address was that monitory State control must tend to deindividualize English character.

Sir Lauder Brunton, speaking of physical education, said that every girl should have a washable and unbreakable doll; she should be taught how to eat, to dress, to stroll and stomach ache, how to exercise and how to make clothes.

TO GET AFTER THE QUACKS.

One of the Purposes of a Proposed National Public Health Society.

It was announced yesterday by the County Medical Society that a national society for the preservation of the public health is to be formed at a meeting to be held on November 15 in the Hudson Theatre for the purpose of fighting the quack doctors and adulterated food.

Following up the recent exposure of the beef trust, the indiscriminate sale of alcohol and narcotics, and the sale of patent medicines, and the alarm conditions made known by the pure food bill, a great many philanthropists and religious associations have issued a call for a conference of public spirited citizens.

It is interesting to note that while District Attorney Ward is prosecuting the case against Gillette the latter, apparently, has been deserted by his wealthy relatives in his fight against the quack chair. A Cortland lawyer visited him a few days after his arrest, but he has since been left to his own resources.

An uncle in Cortland, in whose territory Gillette was employed at the time the Brown girl was murdered at Big Moose Lake, in the Adirondacks, has announced that the prisoner had been let to him for trial and that he will be held in custody until the trial.
