

CLEMENCEAU TO RULE FRANCE

HE'S WIDELY ACCLAIMED AS THE NATION'S NATURAL LEADER.

May Be Made Premier to Succeed Sarrien. Though President Fallieres is Said to Fear Him—Described as a Man of Many and Widely Different Moods.

From THE SUN Correspondent at Paris. PARIS, Oct. 20.—If the half of what is said to-day in Paris and telegraphed here from other capitals is to be believed, peace and war, prosperity, tranquillity and destruction, all and severally, depend upon M. Clemenceau, who was Minister of the Interior in the Sarrien Cabinet which resigned yesterday. Were M. Clemenceau to be made Premier to-day, he would be the man to whom the Government of France would be entrusted.

A casual sifting of public opinion as reflected in the newspapers would indicate that the belief is prevalent that if he can be all things to all men he may succeed in being one of the great leaders of France; otherwise he will fall as the head of a Cabinet or plunge the country into war.

Nobody has doubted for months that he would sooner or later be Premier. Everybody accepts it to-day as natural that he should direct the Government of France. The only question is whether he will direct it. He is declared to be the master of France, and the country is asked if it knows it has a master.

It is declared that he is the king and that President Fallieres will obey him. He is hailed at one and the same time as a man of tremendous personal force and as so slightly and undetermined that the people can be sure only of his instability. He is described as terrible, frolicsome, tragic and comic; by turn assuming power with a smile, and likely to strike violent but incoherent blows because he is too impetuous to be practical.

Ex-Premier Sarrien's illness is described as not enteric, but Clemenceau, and M. Clemenceau is hailed as a man of like his marksmanship, which endangered only his seconds in his duels with MM. Drouleide and Dumont, although before these duels his reputation as a duelist had been great.

The retiring Cabinet has been said to represent a selection from among fifty of the greatest minds in France, yet it did not hold long together.

To-night's discussion figures M. Briand as the pivot on which will turn the success or failure of the Cabinet which M. Clemenceau may form, for if M. Briand retains power he is committed to a rigorous application of the Separation law, while, if he should be dropped, much of the Socialist support will forsake Clemenceau, who has declared for moderation in applying that law, which is the greatest question with which the new Cabinet will have to deal.

The other chief questions in dispute are the levying of an income tax, reduction in naval armament and reduced military expenditures. The British entente is accepted practically everywhere and M. Clemenceau's devotion to it is one of his strong holds, as likewise, it is said, is his sympathy with American institutions. Just where M. Clemenceau wishes to place Major Dreyfus and his champion, Brig.-Gen. Piquart, who was suddenly recalled to Paris from Vienna to-day, is a subject of conjecture.

President Fallieres came to Paris this evening to confer with the parliamentary leaders over the new Premier but up to midnight had talked only with M. Bignon. It is expected that the President will see M. Clemenceau on Sunday and it is regarded as practically certain that Clemenceau will be Prime Minister, though it is held to be just possible that the difficulties in the way of forming a Cabinet satisfactory to the Chamber may be too great and may make it necessary for President Fallieres to call on some one else.

ASLEEP FOR 28 MONTHS.

German Hurt on the Head June 20, 1904. Has Been Slumbering Ever Since.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN. BERLIN, Oct. 20.—Prof. Eulenbergs reports in the Medical Weekly the case of a patient who has been asleep steadily since June 20, 1904.

The man, who is 45 years old and was town clerk of a suburb of Berlin, fell from a street car at the time mentioned and struck on the back of his head. When he was taken home it was found that he was suffering from concussion of the brain, but he was sensible of his surroundings. While the doctors were examining him he fell asleep and has been in that condition ever since.

He lies in bed, frowning heavily all the time. His limbs are flexible but his skin has lost its color. He shows sensibility when food is placed to his lips and chews it mechanically.

GRAPE-NUTS.

REST While You Work!

That sounds paradoxical, but the reasoning is correct. Rest signifies "comfort" and there's comfort in working with a clear brain, steady nerves, possessed of the conscious power to "do things" and still have a lot of thought and energy stored up for more work.

To be in fashion nowadays, one must be able to do something well that requires strenuous activity and correctly thought out plans. The "gentlemen of leisure" belong to a former era—not in demand in this country at the present time. The modern gentleman is a "doer"—not a mere "looker-on."

Individuals differ in their ability to plan and execute, but human energy is largely derived from food. And that food is best which supplies all the requirements with the least expenditure of bodily (digestive) effort to convert it into action. Grape-Nuts, the product of a food expert's experiments and practical application during many years, contains the nitrogenous elements of field grains (wheat and barley) that repair tissue-waste. This waste is greater or less in accordance with the activity of the individual.

It contains also the carbohydrates, or starch element (changed in making Grape-Nuts, into soluble sugar for absorption into the blood stream) which the vital forces convert into energy. It contains, also, the highly important phosphate of potash which the system elaborates, by combining with albumen, into the delicate gray matter of brain and nerve centres. Where Grape-Nuts forms the basis of food, the digestive organs do their work easily and naturally, converting food into stored up energy and keeping the tissues in perfect repair—then they rest, while this energy is at the command of the individual to work with in comfort—the rest of wholesome activity. Then does the work count. Read the little book in pgs. of Grape-Nuts, "The Road to Well-being."

There's a reason.

COERCING RUSSIAN VOTERS.

Government Continues Its Repressive Measures—Army of Exiles Grows.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN. ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 20.—Premier Stolypin has determined, in view of the present success of his administrative measures, to reject the demand of the League of Real Russian Men for a subsidy during the electoral campaign.

The difficulty of finding money has confirmed the Premier's decision to treat the elections from a strictly authoritative point of view. All the newspapers are compelled to print the Government's communications, expounding favorably its policy, and all State employees are compelled to subscribe to documents repudiating the Progressive Party, but beyond such administrative measures the Government has no intention of seeking to make its policy popularly attractive.

The prosecution of the signatories to the Viborg manifesto debars their candidacy at the coming election, and Premier Stolypin is prepared to apply disciplinary measures to the new members as well as to the old. The removal of the passport disability, under which the peasants suffered in comparison with the citizen class, is expected to work in favor of candidates who do not belong to the party organization, of whom there were 100 in the last Duma, who, however, cooperated generally with the Group of Toil.

Political prosecutions continue to be entered against everybody interfering with the Government's programme. A report just issued shows that 25,000 persons in 18,000 families have been exiled to Siberia since the manifesto of October 30, 1905. Premier Stolypin now threatens to expel the leaders of the League of Russian Men at Yareval because they passed a resolution declaring his programme of reform to be an infraction of the divine right of the monarch.

Three men, one armed with a bomb and the others with revolvers, entered the office of the Kadet (Constitutional) group organ, Retch, in St. Petersburg this afternoon and demanded that the cashier give them money. To-day was pay day at the office, but the messenger had not yet returned from the bank and the robbers secured only fifty rubles, after which they escaped.

The Retch to-day publishes a table, showing what the fate of the members of the former Duma has been, as follows: Murdered, 1; insane, 1; exiled, 2; in prison, 1; exiled, 5; their houses searched by the police, 33; imprisoned, 24; tried and deprived of civil rights, 182.

RUSSIAN TERRORIST A SUICIDE.

Woman Apparently Sought Death Rather Than Become an Assassin.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN. LONDON, Oct. 20.—The body of a woman who had committed suicide was found in Kensington Gardens on September 23. It was evidently that of a foreigner, but all efforts at identification, carried on for weeks, failed.

Now a Russian revolutionary informs the police that the dead woman was Olga Ann Stetepatzky. He says that she was twice expelled from school at Riga for making revolutionary speeches. One of her exploits was to secure the escape of seven revolutionaries from a Lithuan prison, afterward visiting the prison and distributing revolutionary literature among the guards.

She was arrested, feigned lunacy and finally escaped, after having received a wound in the leg. She became the most active member of the central terrorist committee in London. The committee ordered her to join two others and assassinate King Sollygus of Riga. The attempt was made on September 22, when a bomb was thrown at him as he was walking on the street. He was not hurt. One of the agents of the committee was arrested and was shot within twenty-four hours.

The committee learned that Olga did not accompany the assassins. She changed her abode, but when she received the money for the expedition from the committee she did not use it. She remained in London and eventually committed suicide.

MORE AUTONOMY FOR FILIPINOS.

Natives, Except Moros, Can Now Elect a Majority of the Provincial Boards.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN. MANILA, Oct. 20.—On the recommendation of the Provincial Governors' convention, which met recently in Manila, the commission has modified the composition of the provincial boards in the provinces that are not inhabited by Moros or other non-Christian tribes.

They are approved now of the Governor of the province, elected, and a treasurer and a division superintendent of schools, appointed. The superintendents will now be unseated and for them will be substituted on each board a third member who will be elected under the same conditions as the Governors now are, provided that this third member shall be appointed by the Governor-General until the regular election, which will be held next February.

This new law substantially amplifies the native autonomy, as it gives the Filipinos control of the provisional boards by allowing them to elect a majority of the members of each. Safeguarding restrictions are imposed. The commission has amended the election law, granting popular suffrage before February next.

The experiment will be closely watched, especially on account of the inconsistency of the Governors' convention with respect to local option road law on the ground that while it undoubtedly would be a valuable aid to commerce the convention feared abuses on the part of native municipal officials.

SELBY ABBEY A RUIN.

Fire Left Merely the Bare Walls of the Famous Norman Church.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN. SELBY, England, Oct. 20.—The magnificent parish church of this place, part of an abbey that was founded by William the Conqueror in 1068, and accounted one of the most perfect examples of Norman architecture in the world, was completely ruined by the fire which started last night. Only the bare walls are left.

The fire broke out at 11:30 p. m. and spread rapidly. The cause of the fire is not known. The fire was extinguished by the fire department.

Cabinet Approves Draught Associations Bill in Its Entirety.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN. MADRID, Oct. 20.—The Cabinet to-day concluded its discussion of the law of associations which will present to the Cortes, which will assemble on October 23. It was expected that the Cabinet in view of the attitude of the Vatican with regard to the bill would make some considerable modifications in it, but it approved the bill in its entirety, making modifications in matters of form only.

The bill contains the following provisions: No religious order is to be established without Parliamentary authorization. Religious orders the members of which are foreigners or the directors of which reside abroad will be dissolved. The Government authorities shall have power to enter monasteries at any time without ecclesiastical sanction. No religious order shall hold property in excess of the objects for which it was instituted.

Strict limitation shall be placed upon sums of money given to orders by members on admission or by charitable subscription. All legacies or donations to religious orders, directly or through intermediaries, are strictly prohibited. Orders which engage in trade or industry shall pay the regular taxes.

ROME, Oct. 20.—The Pope to-day received the new Spanish Ambassador, Marquis de Ojeda, who brought an autograph letter from King Alfonso. The Pope expressed the hope that the traditional friendship between the Vatican and Spain would be maintained and strengthened.

JAPANESE PRESS STIRRED UP

By Certain Evidence of Anti-Japanese Sentiment in This Country.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN. TOKYO, Oct. 20.—All the newspapers have devoted leading editorial articles to the subject of anti-Japanese sentiment in the United States. The excitement, which has been growing for the last three days, centres upon the exclusion of Japanese children from the public schools of California, John D. Rockefeller's utterances on Japan's commercial treachery and Congressman Kahn's bellicose threats coupled with the declaration that Japan is unprepared for a fight.

Three of the most responsible of the newspapers, the Asahi, Yiji and Kokumin, denigrate the taking of the anti-Japanese movement in California as representative of public opinion in the United States. They advise the Japanese public to trust to the liberal sentiments of the American people to prevent a rupture of the historic friendship of the two nations. The Yiji to-day changed its attitude and points out the absurdity of the debarment of Japanese children from American schools. It apprehends that Japan's appreciation of the traditional friendship may cool.

The Herchi openly urges retaliatory measures. The Kokumin takes the strongest pro-American stand, but while urging continued confidence in the just dealing of President Roosevelt and Secretary Root and Taft and the American people's appreciation of what Japan's future friendship means it nevertheless confesses that the exclusion of the children, supplemented by Congressman Kahn's remarks, is a severe shock to the Japanese nation.

SUBMARINE'S DEAD FOUND.

Diver Reports Principal Hatch Open and Two Bodies Near the Opening.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN. BREZEA, Tunis, Oct. 20.—The French armored cruiser Jeanne d'Arc, with M. Thomson, the Minister of Marine, aboard, arrived to-day. The Minister boarded a salvage steamer and Diver Levy descended. When he came up he said that the principal hatch of the sunken submarine Lutin was open and that two bodies were close to the opening.

VIOLIN VS. CELLO TONES.

A cello has a larger and more voice-like tone than a violin because its strings are longer, producing longer vibrations, and is larger reflecting body projects the sound waves further.

MAXIMUM TONE.

The exclusive constructive features of the Kranich & Bach piano enable its makers to use longer strings and a larger reflecting surface of sounding board without increasing the size of the case than is possible in any other of the world's greatest pianos.

These are only two of the important details of these great instruments; there are others equally valuable. We offer installment terms more favorable than those prevailing among any of the other high grade manufacturers.
