

12 AFTER PARK DEPARTMENT NOW

COMMISSIONERS OF ACCOUNTS IN-PEACH LABORERS' PAYROLL

In The Bronx, Where Joseph L. Berry Holds Down a Job Hard to Hold—Intimation That Laborers Don't Labor—Berry Says They Can't Prove It on Him.

The Commissioners of Accounts have for some weeks past been investigating the Park Department of The Bronx, and in a report made yesterday to Mayor McClellan they said that their inspectors had uncovered a condition of affairs that seemed to require the immediate attention of the Mayor.

The report, which was described as a preliminary report, to others to follow, intimated that laborers are being improperly carried on the payroll. On November 26 last 79 skilled laborers were appointed by Park Commissioner Joseph L. Berry at a daily wage of from $3.84 to $4.96. It is the usual custom of the Park Department to lay off rather than to employ laborers at the beginning of the winter, and it was to ascertain why these 79 men were added to the payroll in November that the commissioners began their investigation.

Reporting to the Mayor the result of that inquiry the commissioners say: "We have undertaken to locate each of the seventy-nine persons whose names were placed on the payroll of the department on or about the date named, and which continue thereon to the latest date for which payrolls are now accessible to us, namely, the week ended April 19, and to learn from them, their families or their neighbors the facts as to their appointment and whether they had done work in accordance with the record on the payroll.

In some cases we were unable to find the persons at the address given on the payroll, possibly because the address is not given in every case with exactness and further work will be necessary in order to find them; in a few cases the persons have lived at the addresses given on the payroll but have moved, and of these last we were in some cases successful and in others not successful in finding them at the new address.

Speaking generally, the work of paving gave these seventy-nine men from three to five days work each week from the last week in November to the first week in February.

Some of the men worked rather steadily during the winter and some only occasionally, but since the winter season the payrolls show a uniform condition for nearly every man of only a few days work in a month.

This may have been due to the fact, as stated by several of the men interviewed, that they only put in a day occasionally to keep their names on the payroll, because the appropriation had run out.

Many of the men are shown to be engaged in other occupations, although their names remain on the department's payrolls. One man, William Hawkes of 2389 Jerome avenue, told the inspectors that he had done no work for the department since December, yet he is credited on the payrolls with having been paid for sixteen and a half days' work in January and six days in March.

The reports also show that one man on the payroll is a private detective. Another runs a bicycle store, and another is a corporation inspector. It is also declared that on the list are an insurance agent, a railroad employee, a bookkeeper for a stone cutting concern in Calvary cemetery, a real estate agent, the secretary of a district Democratic club and a saloon keeper.

When the report was submitted to the Mayor he directed the commissioners to continue their investigation, not only of the Park Department of The Bronx, but the park departments of the other boroughs. He also wrote to Commissioner Berry for an immediate explanation of the disclosures made in the report.

The Park Department of The Bronx has been a graveyard for politicians. Since 1864 there have been four commissioners. At the last primary election Berry ran for the leadership of the Third ward district against William E. Morris, Borough President Haffen's candidate.

Commissioner Berry said last night that every one of the seventy-nine men named in the report had been appointed from the civil service list. "They have not worked continuously during the winter," he said, "because they have only been put to work when their services were needed. The reason why these men were appointed last November was because of the condition of the roads, which were in a state of guttering. I put the men to work on this job so as to have the guttering ready for the spring thaw. As to the case of Hawkes, he certainly has been at work on the days recorded on the payroll, because it was only recently that he was up before me on charges of disobeying the orders of his foreman, and after reminding him I allowed him to go back to work. I shall at once send in a reply to the Mayor which will denounce the Commissioners of Accounts to prove even a single instance of a laborer being irregularly carried on the payroll.

The Commissioner of Accounts resumed yesterday their investigation of Borough President Ahearn's office and after holding a short session in the morning adjourned until Monday. One of the witnesses called was Michael E. Lynch, who was supposed to be a member of the carpentering firm of Boyce & Lynch, which did so much work on the buildings on orders from William H. Walker. Lynch asserted that he had never been associated with Boyce and had never done any work for the city. Commissioner Mitchell, however, from the testimony of Thomas M. Blake, given at a previous hearing, a description of the Michael H. Lynch of the firm of Boyce & Lynch lived in Bethune street. Lynch, however, practically admitted that he lived in Bethune street and that he was well acquainted with Mr. Walker. Thomas H. Boyce was also called, but refused to answer questions, even to say if Lynch was the Lynch or not. He will be reported to the Supreme Court.

EXAMINATIONS AT WEST POINT. Gen. F. D. Grant and Some French Naval Officers Visit the Post. WEST POINT, May 20.—All recitations among the corps of cadets were discontinued to-day and the annual examinations began. It is probable that Cadet James O. Steese, appointed from the Eighteenth Pennsylvania Cavalry district, will graduate at the head of his class, he having held that position for the last two years.

There was much to interest the board of visitors to-day. For their benefit there was a review and drill of a field battery on the cavalry plain, position firing service, coast artillery and field artillery drill and target practice.

In the afternoon Major-Gen. Frederick D. Grant, with Rear Admiral Thierry and a dozen other French naval officers, arrived. The visitors came in the torpedo boat destroyer "Centurion," and after the landing by Col. Hugh L. Scott, superintendent of the academy, his military staff and an escort of cavalry. There was a salute fired in their honor and a review of the cadet battalion.

The visitors were piloted through the various places of interest about West Point, including the principal buildings, and had a siesta at the officers' club. They also witnessed with apparent interest a baseball game between Trinity College and West Point and saw the cadets go down to defeat. Gen. Grant and the naval officers returned to New York at 6 o'clock.

SAN FRANCISCO WILL GET IT.

Ex-Mayor Phelan Says Red Cross Will Turn Over Relief Fund in Time.

Major-Gen. George F. Davis, chairman of the central committee of the American National Red Cross, is to start to-day for San Francisco to inspect the relief work there. According to a statement made yesterday by ex-Mayor James D. Phelan, who is chairman of the San Francisco relief committee, there is no disposition on the part of the Red Cross to keep for other purposes the balance of the fund subscribed for the relief of San Francisco, as some folks in San Francisco have believed.

Mr. Phelan has had a talk with Gen. Davis and said yesterday that Michael H. de Young and other San Franciscans who believed that San Francisco would not get the balance, which now amounts to $750,000, were very much mistaken, though it was true that the Red Cross had refused to turn over the money in a lump.

"The Red Cross," said Mr. Phelan yesterday, "has been paying San Francisco, by a mutual understanding, one-half of our monthly outlay for relief and will continue that until the end of our work unless they see fit to turn the money over to the San Francisco committee in bulk for specific purposes. As president of the relief committee I appreciate their position not to pay out the money in a lump sum, in which they approve in advance. The Red Cross is a great permanent agency and is itself responsible for the wise expenditure of money committed for a specific purpose, such as the relief of San Francisco. This has been its attitude from the very beginning. It knows where every dollar has gone and is required to account for it under its charter. At the same time there is no disposition to hold back funds from us or to divert them to other purposes. Of course the money belongs to San Francisco and San Francisco will get it."

Mr. Phelan said that personally he had never entertained the idea that the Red Cross was trying to hoodwink money. "I can only account for the idea that some people have had to that effect," he said, "by the refusal of the committee up to date to turn over the money in a lump sum to be expended by the San Francisco committee."

It is understood that Gen. Davis is going to San Francisco, not with any view to being faulted, but simply to see just how the balance may be expended. In this, Mr. Phelan said, he would have the cordial cooperation of the San Francisco committee.

HOTEL PORTERS STRIKE.

Their Chief Complains It Is That They Have to Divvy Tips With the Head Porter.

The hotel porters who have been taking strike for several weeks quit yesterday at twenty of the largest hotels. They demand all the tips, which under the present system they have to divide with the head porter, and a minimum wage scale of $25 a month. The main object of the strike is the squelching of the head porters.

The strike came so suddenly that the hotel guests had to take a hand in moving the guests' luggage. At the Waldorf-Astoria the bellboys were presented with some of the hotels before new men could be found, but the guests as a rule took matters good humoredly with the exception of men who wanted to catch trains.

The strikers belong to the Hotel Porters' Protective Union, which before the strike was ordered made demands on the hotel proprietors to curb the power of the head porters. The strikers met at Curry's Hall, 228 East Forty-seventh street, with the executive committee of the union reported that the following hotels among others were affected by the strike: Belmont, Manhattan, Holland House, Murray Hill, Imperial, Grand Union, Wolcott, Fifth Avenue, Prince George, Marlborough, Savoy, Seville, Majestic, New Grand and Breslin.

Financial Secretary Timothy Callahan reported that the St. Regis and the Hotel Astor had agreed to the demands, and that the porters would get all the tips, also a minimum scale of wages of $25 a month. Thirty porters struck at the Waldorf-Astoria and twelve housemen went on strike at the Belmont in sympathy with the porters. At the Knickerbocker also the housemen struck in sympathy with the porters.

In all about three hundred porters quit work. The hotel proprietors say their places will all be filled to-day, and do not fear the threat of chambermaids' and waitresses' strikes. With every striker as the time has passed when such a threat would have soared them.

CONSPIRACY, SAYS MISS MARTIN.

Counter Charges in Suit Against Logan Estate Over San Luis Mine.

Charges of conspiracy in the suit against the estate of Walter S. Logan over the San Luis Mining Company were made against the plaintiff in the action, John J. Gibbons, his attorney, Walter B. Raymond, the firm, Watson & Raymond, and Louis Ross, a former managing director of the company, by Myra B. Martin, secretary of the company and executrix of the estate in an affidavit which she submitted yesterday to Supreme Court Justice Davis. She denied all charges of fraud and conspiracy brought against herself and Logan in the management of the company. Justice Davis granted a stay of the order obtained by the plaintiffs for her examination before a referee and issued an order upon Raymond to show cause on Monday why the order for examination should not be vacated.

Miss Martin, who says that she had no pecuniary close or intimate relation with Logan and had no knowledge of his private affairs, avers that the Gibbons suit is one step in a conspiracy to wreck the company and force the sale of its stock held by the Logan estate at prices far below market value. Logan, just before his death, owned about 100,000 shares and she owned 10,000.

Mr. Raymond said yesterday that there was no conspiracy whatsoever. Mr. Gibbons of New York, who is the executor of the Logan estate, he said that he offered last November to purchase for his client 100,000 shares of the stock held in the estate for $4 a share, when he said, the market price was $1.25. That did not look like a conspiracy.

Mr. Demond of Logan, Demond, Hanford & Reed, counsel for the San Luis company, said that the answer to the charges of the stockholders of the Copete Mining Company would be practically the same as that of the Logan estate.

CANALLERS' ANNUAL BILL.

Preposterous and Unconscionable, Says the Mayor.

The bill which annually comes down from Albany providing for the exclusive use of piers in this city for the up-State canal interests was before Mayor McClellan yesterday. This year's measure would restrict the use of the East River piers from Pier 1 to a point between Piers 8 and 9 for the handling of freight coming from north of Castleton, near Troy.

"This bill is preposterous," said the Mayor. "It seems to violate the interstate-commerce law and the Constitution of the United States. It is in restraint of trade and would shut out the Hudson River traffic as well as the New Jersey shipping interests on the Hudson River."

J. E. BOECK'S WONDERFUL DAD

HIS OBITUARY READS LIKE FICTION, AS HIS SON WRITES IT.

For Senator Clark's Benefit as Bait With a Collection of Porcelains Which Some Say Are Fakes—But the Senator Didn't Mind—Creditors Easy on Dayton.

Letters seized by the Sheriff in his raid on the office of John Edward Boeck, art collector, man of many accomplishments and bucconer of jewelers, at 170 Broadway, show that Boeck tried to palm off on Senator William A. Clark his collection of porcelains and other objects which are now said to be fakes by persons that know something about such things.

Whether Boeck got into Senator Clark for any money could not be learned yesterday. The Senator is out West, but it was said on good authority that the Senator never purchased any part of the collection. Edwin W. Dayton, the jeweler and art dealer at 4 West Thirty-ninth street, yesterday afternoon, Mr. Dayton is the heaviest loser through Boeck. Nothing was done about the matter, and it is understood that Boeck has assured the jeweler that he can have plenty of time to make good his obligations.

More Complaints Against Air Line Officials. CHICAGO, May 20.—Certain stockholders of the Chicago-New York Air Line have filed an affidavit before Judge Windes reiterating the charges of Theodore Nemyer against its officers and, like that complaint, petitioning the court to appoint a receiver and issue an injunction restraining the continuation of the practices of which Nemyer complains. The court set the matter for hearing Friday morning.

Business Troubles. Edward C. Boyce of 81 East Fifty-eighth street, an architect who retired about four years ago and whose contracts were taken over by the firm of Edward C. Boyce, incorporated, filed an individual petition in bankruptcy yesterday, with liabilities of $18,000 and no assets.
