

SOCIALISTS' REGARD FOR LAW

DECIDE IF WAY OR IT WON'T DO, THE FRENCH RULE.

Will Appeal in Parliament Over Couriers' Master Decisions—Enormous Budget for 1908 Exciting Comment—New Method of Detecting Typhoid Fever.

PARIS, July 27.—After the Couriers' mine catastrophe, a legal inquiry was held at Arras, which decided that there were no grounds on which to hold the company responsible for the loss of life.

The Socialists, however, refused to be satisfied by the judicial decisions, and through M. Basly, deputy from Pas de Calais, intend to offer an interpellation in Parliament on the question.

Deputy Coehery, ex-Minister of Finance, writing in the Grande Revue on France's financial position, says the expenditure for 1907 reached a total of 3,960,000,000 francs.

He will reach four milliards, and the world may be repeated which M. Thiers said in regard to the budget of one milliard at the beginning of the monarchy in 1830.

M. Coehery concludes by saying the country has had value for the enormously growing expenditure of the last thirty-seven years, the republic having administered its finances with a stability and loyalty not shown by any previous regime.

That large families still exist in France was shown this week when Senator Piot, whose Rooseveltian ideas on families are so well known, awarded the sum of 400 francs, placed annually at his disposal by the French Chamber of Commerce of Brussels.

For quite a month there has been no talk of a strike in Paris, but this unusual state of affairs has come to an end. The labor exchange shows signs of activity once more.

It is as difficult to become a croquemort as to become a sub-prefect, and needs almost as great a salary as applied at the same time for the Palais Academique as for my job.

Prof. Chantemesse, one of the leading French sanitarians, has made an important discovery of the means of diagnosing typhoid fever in its incipient stages.

James K. Hackett sailed unexpectedly today for New York. He had planned to remain in Carlsbad until the middle of August.

John Marlowe has been visiting Arthur Synnott Kent, making arrangements for a voyage to Franzbad for the cure. After a brief stay at the Italian lakes and a visit to a friend's villa on the Riviera she will come to Paris and remain until October.

VIENNA AS ART CENSORS.

Vienna, which has been ordered to cease the exhibition of certain pictures.

VIENNA, July 27.—The art quarters much criticism and amusement have been caused because the police assert the right of censorship of the works of old masters.

The picture dealer has submitted for the time being to the prohibition, but has appealed to the Minister of the Interior.

FOUND ANTI-AMERICAN PLOT. Cuban Senator Says a Returned Revolutionary Planned an Uprising.

HAVANA, July 27.—According to Senator Delgado, Cuba has just escaped an anti-American uprising led by Maso.

ATTEMPTS TO WRECK TRAINS.

The West Shore Electric Road Narrowly Escapes Two Disasters.

UTICA, July 27.—The Onondaga Railway Company, which is the name under which the New York Central Railroad operates its electric West Shore line between Utica and Syracuse, has within the last few days escaped two disasters by uncomfortably close margins.

The railroad officials have a squad of detectives scouring the territory between Utica and Syracuse seeking a clue to the perpetrators, but so far have been unable to secure sufficient evidence on which to issue arrests.

DUTIES OF NEUTRALS IN WAR

LIVELY DISCUSSION AT THE HAGUE WITHOUT RESULT.

England Presents Treaty of Washington as a Model Document—She and Japan Want Duties of Neutrals to Be Rigid—Others Nations Plead for Flexibility.

THE HAGUE, July 27.—The British delegation laid to-day before the commission that is dealing with the rights and duties of neutrals in maritime warfare a copy of the treaty of Washington of 1871.

The subject under discussion by the commission was the rules that should govern belligerents' warships in neutral ports and waters.

DIGGING FOR HIDDEN BULLION.

Manager of a Mexican Mine Looking for $25,000,000 of Buried Treasure.

MEXICO CITY, July 27.—Charles P. Bowker, manager of the Aguila mines in the State of Jalisco, recently came into possession of an ancient Spanish document which purports to show that gold and silver bullion to the amount of more than $25,000,000 was buried by rich mine owners of the district in the mountains near the mines at the time of the war of Mexican independence.

So far as known the bullion was never unearthed. All of the men connected with the treasure were killed in the war. Mr. Bowker has a force of men at work excavating the mountain in search of the treasure.

MADDEN MUST PAY ALIMONY.

Court Says Woman Now L. V. Bell's Wife Helped Make Madden's Fortune.

CINCINNATI, July 27.—Judge Pfeiffer to-day rendered the long awaited decision in the case of John E. Madden, the fortune teller, who had sued to have the alimony granted his wife, $250 a month, entirely annulled on the ground that she had remarried, being now the wife of Louis V. Bell, a wealthy New Yorker.

The Court's decision reduces the alimony to $150 a month. The reason why it was not annulled, the court says, is because Mrs. Madden helped by personal efforts to amass the fortune of her husband.

The decision also provides for a settlement of the claim by Mr. Madden paying Mrs. Bell a lump sum of $30,000, if he so elects.

A relative of Mrs. Bell to-day denied the recent report that Bell was seriously ill in Egypt. This relative says Bell is quite well and is not in Egypt, but that he is not at liberty to disclose the whereabouts of the Bells.

WONT GIVE UP THE SOLDIER.

Regular Who Killed a Canadian Girl by Accident at Salet Ste. Marie Is Shielded.

OTTAWA, Ont., July 27.—It is said, refuse to give up the American soldier who at military quarters there accidentally shot and killed Miss Caidenhead of Kingston, Ont. It is said Washington advice is that an American soldier who kills a civilian within the limits of a post in order to assert military jurisdiction cannot be taken by civil authorities. In case this soldier is tried by the civil courts, he cannot again be fraternized on a chain railing of the park. The ultramarine declares that he will get another bird to fill the five dollar imported bamboo cage if he has to pay 20 cents for it.
