Figures About the New Hudson Tunnel Building Are Baffling.

Announcement was made yesterday of some interesting facts in connection with the building and plan of the Hudson Company's terminal building, covering two blocks along Church street and north of Cortlandt street, which is being rushed to completion.

It is estimated that when the building is finished and the various offices on the twenty-two floors occupied the structure will house 10,000 souls.

From this can be drawn the comparison that the building will be populated in an equal number with such cities as Portsmouth, N. H.; Helena, Mont.; or Middletown, Conn., and will exceed in population the largest towns in four States—Arizona, Idaho, New Mexico and Nevada.

There will be thirty-nine elevators in the building, and it is estimated that about 100,000 persons will pass through the building in entering or leaving trains in the course of a year.

The new Central Station in Boston only takes care of 30,000,000 a year and the Broad street depot in Philadelphia handles 20,000,000.

From this new terminal building one will be able to go to most any corner of the country, as the trains running into it will connect with all the great lines.

The huge steel frame of the building weighs more than 24,000 tons and rests on foundations extending to bedrock, 80 feet below the street.

At no point will this steel frame be exposed. Every inch will be covered with one or more courses of hollow terra cotta blocks, which form enclosed air spaces about all parts of the frame.

In the San Francisco wire the exposed steel frames of buildings did not burn, but they buckled, wrecking the structures and causing much injury and loss.

Before being placed about the frame the hollow blocks are heated to a temperature of 2,000 degrees.

This terrific heat leaves the terra cotta in a perfect porous state, capable of resisting practically any heat that may be applied.

If all the terra cotta blocks used on the building were built into a wall 10 feet high the mass would stretch along for 28 miles.

Above the curb line there will be used a total of 16,800,000 bricks and 120,000 square yards of plastering.

There will be over 18 miles of plumbing pipe, 39 miles of steam pipe and 16 miles of electric conduit in the building when completed.

Each floor of the building will provide an acre of office space, so that the entire structure will afford 22 acres for business purposes.

NEW BUILDING IN WALL ST. Quarters of the Trust Company of America Opens for Business Tomorrow.

The new building of the Trust Company of America will be formally opened to the customers tomorrow morning.

The building itself, which is at 37 Wall street, is practically completed, so far as the office quarters are concerned, but the trust company's quarters did not reach full completion until last week.

Yesterday a large force of men was at work moving the books, securities and effects of the company from the old office at 135 Broadway to the new quarters.

This moving entailed the transfer of over $100,000,000 worth of securities through the streets.

The building is of white marble, with upper stories of red brick, and is done in the Colonial style, Francis H. Kimble being the architect.

The structure has a 60 foot front on Wall street, and the banking office is about 45 feet wide.

The company's quarters take up the main floor, basement and mezzanine gallery and are equipped with modern appliances.

The interior is of white Alabama marble, with the fittings and screens in handsome bronze.

The banking floor has a wainscoting 15 feet wide and above that the wall is ivory tinted.

About the only ornate feature of the whole apartment is the capitals of the great columns on the side wall, which are decorated with a golden scroll work.

The whole interior of the banking room is of Renaissance design. The furniture, desks and wood trimmings are of solid mahogany.

The officers' quarters occupy the Wall street side, and adjoining is the reception room for women.

Cards are here for the wedding on Monday.

Robert M. Thompson Garrison gave his bachelor dinner last night at Delmonico's.

His marriage to Miss Mary Ridgely Rodgers will take place on September 21 in St. George's Church, Newburgh on the Hudson.

The bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Kearney Rodgers, will give a reception afterward at their summer residence, The Misses Emily K. Rodgers and Marguerite Rodgers will be included in the list of the bride's bridesmaids.

Mr. and Mrs. Rodgers have a winter home at Sewall's Point, Fla. Miss Rodgers has been out in society for the last year.

Earl Grey, Governor-General of Canada, and Lady Grey were the guests last week of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Vanderbilt at their Japanese camp in the Adirondacks.

Mr. and Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., are now at their place at Great Neck, L. I., which will be their autumn headquarters.

D. O. Mills returned to town last Thursday from the Adirondacks accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Whitelaw Reid, and Miss Jean Reid.

Mrs. Ogden Mills, daughter-in-law of Mr. Mills, gave a big dinner on last Sunday night at her Newport cottage.

She returned yesterday to her place at Staatsburgh on the Hudson, which came to her from her father, the late Matthew Livingston, and will give a succession of weekend week parties there until Thanksgiving, when the town residence will be opened.

Wednesday of Miss Isabelle Winlock and Alphonso Johnson Murphy of Dublin, Ireland, to be celebrated in St. Peter's-by-the-Sea at Narragansett Pier, R. I.

The bride is a daughter of the late William Crawford Winlock of the Smithsonian Institution and a granddaughter of the late Joseph Winlock, an astronomer.

Mrs. Hopkins, wife of Prof. N. Monroe Hopkins of Washington, will attend as matron of honor, and Henry G. Beyer, son of Dr. Beyer, U. S. N., will assist as best man.

The marriage in the near future of Miss Elizabeth S. Potter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Potter of Philadelphia, and Frank Lyon Polk of this city will be of much interest here and will be attended by numerous friends of Mr. Polk, who is a son of Dr. and Mrs. William M. Polk of 7 East Thirty-sixth street.

Mr. Polk, who is a member of a Southern family, has been a popular society beau since he was graduated from Yale in 1894. He is a lawyer. He has served many times as an usher at smart weddings and was best man for Cornelius Vanderbilt on his marriage to Miss Grace Wilson.

Countess de Laugier-Villars sailed on Thursday for her home in Paris. She returned from Bar Harbor with her father, Johnstone Livingston, last Sunday and will soon make him another visit at his home, 309 Fifth avenue. Baron Alfonso Bueche returned to Europe during the week.

Baroness Goto of Japan will be one of the distinguished foreign visitors in town for some time to come. She is on a tour of the world. Baroness von Kettler (Miss Maud Cass Ledyard), who is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Cass Ledyard at their Newport cottage, will go on to Manchester-by-the-Sea for the wedding of Miss McMillan and Col. Sir John Harrington on October 12.

Mrs. Henry F. Dimock, who has done much entertaining during the recent summer at her Bar Harbor cottage, went yesterday to her country house in South Coventry, Conn. Mr. and Mrs. W. Earl Dodge, who have been abroad for several months, are due to arrive on next Saturday.

Mrs. Dodge was one of the few cousins of the bride not present at the recent marriage of Miss Evelyn Sloane to William E. S. Griswold. Mrs. Dodge's sister, Miss Emily Sloane, the guest of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. William D. Sloane, and Mr. and Mrs. John H. Hammond, returned to town from Lenox early in the week. Mr. and Mrs. William Starr Miller returned to their town house during the week after a summer at Newport. Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Gerry and family, who have occupied their cottage at that resort, since they returned from Europe, will come to town tomorrow on their steam yacht Electra.

T. Suffer Taylor, who passed the summer in Europe, has been home several days. While absent he went automobiling with Mr. and Mrs. George J. Gould and Miss Gould. He will pass much of his time from now at the clubhouse, Tuxedo.

He will entertain the members of the Coaching Club, who go on the long distance drive this month from town to Blairden, the home of C. Ledyard Blair, both going and coming. Mr. Taylor's young son was in care of his aunt, Mrs. Robert R. Livingston, while he was abroad. The lad's mother, Mrs. Cecil Barrington, makes her home now altogether in England and Ireland and his grandmother, Mrs. Lortillard, has been on the other side now for a prolonged period.

Remsen-White. Miss Ethel Folger White, daughter of the B. Ogden Whites, was married yesterday to Cornelius Weststaff Remsen in St. Thomas's Church, Fifth avenue and Fifty-third street. The bride, a white rose, lilac and aster decorated the interior of the edifice, and the Rev. Dr. Ernest M. Stiles, the rector, performed the ceremony at 1 o'clock. Du Bois Remsen was best man, and David Wagstaff, a cousin, Herbert Robinson McIlwaine and Clement Griswold of Philadelphia, Walter Sabers Johnson of Pittsburgh and Jarvis McAlpine Johnson of Hartford, Conn., were ushers. Afterward there was a reception at Sherry's.

Stiekney-Lapsley. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Stiekney, Jr., who have started on their honeymoon jaunt, will live in New York on their return. The bride, who was Miss Katherine S. Howard Lapsley, entered the chantry of Grace Church, where the ceremony was performed yesterday afternoon, with her father, Howard Lapsley, who gave her away. The Lapsley family came on to New York this week from Narragansett Pier, and among the bridal guests were many representatives of the summer community of that place.
