

deputy president in order to give attention to the strike, which would be lost.

Small took the floor again and the telegraphers' union decided to go to work.

Small said that he was glad that the union thought it could win it had decided to keep up the strike.

By a standing vote the meeting then decided unanimously to ignore Small's message and remain on strike.

It was decided to ask the general executive board to send $5,000 in its treasury for the New York strikers.

Small in the meantime had left the meeting. He said later that he was glad that if the union thought it could win it had decided to keep up the strike.

Thomas said last night that he had heard from 66 of the 137 or so locals throughout the country and that all of them had decided to continue the strike.

Russell issued this war whoop: "There is no A. J. in the striking telegraphers in New York to-night."

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—The continuation of the telegraphers' strike was decided upon today unanimously by the 2,000 strikers who crowded into Ulrich's Hall.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 13.—John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers of America, took a hand today in the commercial telegraphers' strike and the operators here decided to follow him instead of President Small.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—The Washington local of the telegraphers will meet to-morrow afternoon to decide the question of calling off the strike.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 13.—Gus Rose, chairman of the press committee of the telegraphers' local union, said to-night that the union would hold a meeting to-morrow and that a resolution asking that Small be removed from office of president would likely be passed.

PRESIDENT STAYS IN CAMP

ROUGH RIDER WINTER HELPS THE COLORED PEOPLE

While the Negroes are very busy for the week-end, the President has been busy with the national executive board and wanted to strike against the Western Union for the executive board did not think it necessary.

"I can't stand for that," said Russell, springing to his feet and facing Small. "Look me in the face and tell me that again."

Russell repeated his statement and said he was told of what had happened in the presence of witnesses by Mr. Fisher of the general executive board.

"On account of what Mr. Neill told us, or Mr. Neill had gone on record as saying about Small," said Russell, "we decided to leave Mr. Small behind. Mr. Small failed to send the evidence which he should have sent to Mr. Roosevelt until it was too late."

"I want to know," said Percy Thomas, "if it is true that when Small sent the message to Chief Operator McManis of the Western Union, who agreed to give instructions to each seat in the service to send the message about all of the others."

By a standing vote the meeting then decided unanimously to ignore Small's message and remain on strike.

Principles of Liberty Applied to the Negro. The Negro is a human being and has the same rights as the white man.

These systems of law differ from each other as the conditions, the customs of each people differ from those of every other people. But there has arisen in recent years quite a new and artificial system of law.

Now this task is something that cannot be accomplished except by scientific procedure, by the study of comparative jurisprudence, by the application of the highest order in the most painstaking and practical way.
