

THE BISHOP'S VISIT TO THE PILGRIMS

The visit which the Bishop of London made last night to the Pilgrims House at the Pilgrims' Home, 100 West 11th St., New York, was a most interesting one.

The Bishop, who is now on his way to the States, was accompanied by the Rev. Canon G. H. G. and the Rev. Canon J. H. G.

William Butler Duncan, Jr., as president of the society, presided, sitting under the draped flag of Great Britain and the United States and the great seal of the Pilgrims.

Among the 500 Pilgrims and their guests were Frederick T. Adams, the Rev. Charles F. Aked, the Hon. Hugo Baring, Cornelius B. Bliss, Herbert L. Briggman, Gen. Henry L. Burnett, Paul Dana, Health Commissioner Bingham, Sir Caspar Pardon Clarke, ex-Secretary of the Treasury Leslie M. Shaw and the Rev. Charles C. Schreyer.

President Duncan at the outset proposed the health of the King and the President and back among the diners George T. Morgan sprang up with a rousing speech and called for "shove, shove, ripping American cheers" to top the toast.

Among the many letters of regret, letters from about everybody except him who is hunting bears and the Secretary of State and the Secretary of War, was one from Bishop Henry C. Potter.

Mark Twain wrote that he didn't attend any banquets last year and wanted to begin this one by declining the only invitation which could be made to him.

These disturbances," continued Dr. Butler, "which interest and touch laughter so many Americans are after all but temporary aberrations in the steady progress of our civilization."

"Oh, yes; that tennis match, I suppose you'll want to know about that; the truth about it shall have to refer you to a Washington newspaper which really did have the straight story."

THE BISHOP'S VISIT TO THE PILGRIMS

The Bishop, who is now on his way to the States, was accompanied by the Rev. Canon G. H. G. and the Rev. Canon J. H. G.

William Butler Duncan, Jr., as president of the society, presided, sitting under the draped flag of Great Britain and the United States and the great seal of the Pilgrims.

Among the 500 Pilgrims and their guests were Frederick T. Adams, the Rev. Charles F. Aked, the Hon. Hugo Baring, Cornelius B. Bliss, Herbert L. Briggman, Gen. Henry L. Burnett, Paul Dana, Health Commissioner Bingham, Sir Caspar Pardon Clarke, ex-Secretary of the Treasury Leslie M. Shaw and the Rev. Charles C. Schreyer.

President Duncan at the outset proposed the health of the King and the President and back among the diners George T. Morgan sprang up with a rousing speech and called for "shove, shove, ripping American cheers" to top the toast.

Among the many letters of regret, letters from about everybody except him who is hunting bears and the Secretary of State and the Secretary of War, was one from Bishop Henry C. Potter.

Mark Twain wrote that he didn't attend any banquets last year and wanted to begin this one by declining the only invitation which could be made to him.

These disturbances," continued Dr. Butler, "which interest and touch laughter so many Americans are after all but temporary aberrations in the steady progress of our civilization."

"Oh, yes; that tennis match, I suppose you'll want to know about that; the truth about it shall have to refer you to a Washington newspaper which really did have the straight story."

"Oh, yes; that tennis match, I suppose you'll want to know about that; the truth about it shall have to refer you to a Washington newspaper which really did have the straight story."

THE BISHOP'S VISIT TO THE PILGRIMS

The Bishop, who is now on his way to the States, was accompanied by the Rev. Canon G. H. G. and the Rev. Canon J. H. G.

William Butler Duncan, Jr., as president of the society, presided, sitting under the draped flag of Great Britain and the United States and the great seal of the Pilgrims.

Among the 500 Pilgrims and their guests were Frederick T. Adams, the Rev. Charles F. Aked, the Hon. Hugo Baring, Cornelius B. Bliss, Herbert L. Briggman, Gen. Henry L. Burnett, Paul Dana, Health Commissioner Bingham, Sir Caspar Pardon Clarke, ex-Secretary of the Treasury Leslie M. Shaw and the Rev. Charles C. Schreyer.

President Duncan at the outset proposed the health of the King and the President and back among the diners George T. Morgan sprang up with a rousing speech and called for "shove, shove, ripping American cheers" to top the toast.

Among the many letters of regret, letters from about everybody except him who is hunting bears and the Secretary of State and the Secretary of War, was one from Bishop Henry C. Potter.

Mark Twain wrote that he didn't attend any banquets last year and wanted to begin this one by declining the only invitation which could be made to him.

These disturbances," continued Dr. Butler, "which interest and touch laughter so many Americans are after all but temporary aberrations in the steady progress of our civilization."

"Oh, yes; that tennis match, I suppose you'll want to know about that; the truth about it shall have to refer you to a Washington newspaper which really did have the straight story."

"Oh, yes; that tennis match, I suppose you'll want to know about that; the truth about it shall have to refer you to a Washington newspaper which really did have the straight story."

THE BISHOP'S VISIT TO THE PILGRIMS

The Bishop, who is now on his way to the States, was accompanied by the Rev. Canon G. H. G. and the Rev. Canon J. H. G.

William Butler Duncan, Jr., as president of the society, presided, sitting under the draped flag of Great Britain and the United States and the great seal of the Pilgrims.

Among the 500 Pilgrims and their guests were Frederick T. Adams, the Rev. Charles F. Aked, the Hon. Hugo Baring, Cornelius B. Bliss, Herbert L. Briggman, Gen. Henry L. Burnett, Paul Dana, Health Commissioner Bingham, Sir Caspar Pardon Clarke, ex-Secretary of the Treasury Leslie M. Shaw and the Rev. Charles C. Schreyer.

President Duncan at the outset proposed the health of the King and the President and back among the diners George T. Morgan sprang up with a rousing speech and called for "shove, shove, ripping American cheers" to top the toast.

Among the many letters of regret, letters from about everybody except him who is hunting bears and the Secretary of State and the Secretary of War, was one from Bishop Henry C. Potter.

Mark Twain wrote that he didn't attend any banquets last year and wanted to begin this one by declining the only invitation which could be made to him.

These disturbances," continued Dr. Butler, "which interest and touch laughter so many Americans are after all but temporary aberrations in the steady progress of our civilization."

"Oh, yes; that tennis match, I suppose you'll want to know about that; the truth about it shall have to refer you to a Washington newspaper which really did have the straight story."

"Oh, yes; that tennis match, I suppose you'll want to know about that; the truth about it shall have to refer you to a Washington newspaper which really did have the straight story."

THE BISHOP'S VISIT TO THE PILGRIMS

The Bishop, who is now on his way to the States, was accompanied by the Rev. Canon G. H. G. and the Rev. Canon J. H. G.

William Butler Duncan, Jr., as president of the society, presided, sitting under the draped flag of Great Britain and the United States and the great seal of the Pilgrims.

Among the 500 Pilgrims and their guests were Frederick T. Adams, the Rev. Charles F. Aked, the Hon. Hugo Baring, Cornelius B. Bliss, Herbert L. Briggman, Gen. Henry L. Burnett, Paul Dana, Health Commissioner Bingham, Sir Caspar Pardon Clarke, ex-Secretary of the Treasury Leslie M. Shaw and the Rev. Charles C. Schreyer.

President Duncan at the outset proposed the health of the King and the President and back among the diners George T. Morgan sprang up with a rousing speech and called for "shove, shove, ripping American cheers" to top the toast.

Among the many letters of regret, letters from about everybody except him who is hunting bears and the Secretary of State and the Secretary of War, was one from Bishop Henry C. Potter.

Mark Twain wrote that he didn't attend any banquets last year and wanted to begin this one by declining the only invitation which could be made to him.

These disturbances," continued Dr. Butler, "which interest and touch laughter so many Americans are after all but temporary aberrations in the steady progress of our civilization."

"Oh, yes; that tennis match, I suppose you'll want to know about that; the truth about it shall have to refer you to a Washington newspaper which really did have the straight story."

"Oh, yes; that tennis match, I suppose you'll want to know about that; the truth about it shall have to refer you to a Washington newspaper which really did have the straight story."

Special PIANO Recital GRIEG Program

Grieg's most popular piano compositions will be played according to Metrosyle interpretation made by the great composer at his home in Bergen, Norway, two years ago.

The specially interesting feature of the concert is that Grieg's music will be played according to the personal directions of the master himself.

It is in his advanced age Grieg seldom appeared in public. While there are people who have heard Grieg play the piano or conduct an orchestra, their recollection of his interpretations must necessarily be faulty, when the evanescent character of all music is considered.

But here, in the wonderful Metrosyle, are Grieg's personal directions preserved for all time, not only for those who attend this concert, but for every person whose home contains a Metrosyle Piano or Pianola.

Sheet music can convey only the most general and incomplete directions for interpretation. But the Metrosyle makes available the very ideas of the musician, in minute detail, down to the most delicate shading and tempo nuance.

Never was the achievement of the Metrosyle so convincingly shown, never its vital importance more forcibly illustrated. No wonder that so many of the great musical authorities of the day have said that they would not give serious consideration to any piano-player without the Metrosyle.

WEDNESDAY, OCT. 16, AT 8 P. M. (No extra admission required)

Program: Grieg's Piano Concerto, Op. 16, in E-flat major, for Piano and Orchestra. Grieg's Piano Concerto, Op. 16, in E-flat major, for Piano and Orchestra.

I have heard the Metrosyle Piano, and consider it most admirable and interesting. Before hearing the Metrosyle I had thought that all such instruments were only additions, but it is indeed surprising what can be done with the Metrosyle in reproducing musical works in the way of giving the intentions of the composer. It is excellent. EDWARD GRIEG

The Aeolian Company, Aeolian Hall, 363 FIFTH AVENUE, Near 36th Street, New York

W. & J. SLOANE WILTONS IN LARGE VARIETY THE variety of Wilton carpets shown by us is so great that we are able to meet the most exacting requirements. The latest productions of both domestic and foreign looms are included in designs prepared under our supervision and to be found in no other stock.

BROKAW BROTHERS Fall Suits $18 to $37 Fall Overcoats $16 to $42 363 FIFTH AVENUE, NEAR 36th STREET, NEW YORK

MARRIED. LEE-BOWELL-On October 12, 1907, at the City Hall, New York, by the Rev. Samuel B. Appleton, D. D., associate pastor of the Church of the Holy Apostles, Philadelphia, Pa., Abby Stone Bowell to Joseph Lee.

DIED. ANDREA-Suddenly, on the 13th inst., George C. Andrea, beloved husband of Anna Andrea (nee) and son of Mrs. Andrea, aged 84 years, at his residence, 103 Bay St., Brooklyn.

John Jameson Whiskey Stands as the symbol of Purity in Whiskey W. A. Taylor & Co., Agents, New York.

NEVER HUNGRY When you eat Grape-Nuts food as a regular part of meals. It gives strength and endurance. "There's a Reason"

Our Improved Croup Kettle Constructed according to directions of an eminent physician. Made and for sale by LEWIS & CONGER 125 and 127 West 62d Street, and 125 West 67th St., New York.

ARMY AND NAVY ORDERS. WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.-These army orders were issued today: First Lieut. Albert A. King, Eighth Cavalry, detailed for recruiting duty at Jefferson Barracks, St. Louis, Mo., for 30 days.

NEW CONCRETE DISCOVERED. Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 15.-A despatch received at Harvard Observatory today from Prof. G. C. Comstock, director of the Washburn Observatory, announced that a comet of the eighth magnitude was discovered by Prof. H. J. Hall at Madison, Wis., at that time in right ascension 5 hours 31 minutes and declination minus 9 degrees 24 minutes. The comet was moving slowly in a northwesterly direction.

THE BISHOP'S VISIT TO THE PILGRIMS

The Bishop, who is now on his way to the States, was accompanied by the Rev. Canon G. H. G. and the Rev. Canon J. H. G.

William Butler Duncan, Jr., as president of the society, presided, sitting under the draped flag of Great Britain and the United States and the great seal of the Pilgrims.

Among the 500 Pilgrims and their guests were Frederick T. Adams, the Rev. Charles F. Aked, the Hon. Hugo Baring, Cornelius B. Bliss, Herbert L. Briggman, Gen. Henry L. Burnett, Paul Dana, Health Commissioner Bingham, Sir Caspar Pardon Clarke, ex-Secretary of the Treasury Leslie M. Shaw and the Rev. Charles C. Schreyer.

President Duncan at the outset proposed the health of the King and the President and back among the diners George T. Morgan sprang up with a rousing speech and called for "shove, shove, ripping American cheers" to top the toast.

Among the many letters of regret, letters from about everybody except him who is hunting bears and the Secretary of State and the Secretary of War, was one from Bishop Henry C. Potter.

Mark Twain wrote that he didn't attend any banquets last year and wanted to begin this one by declining the only invitation which could be made to him.

These disturbances," continued Dr. Butler, "which interest and touch laughter so many Americans are after all but temporary aberrations in the steady progress of our civilization."

"Oh, yes; that tennis match, I suppose you'll want to know about that; the truth about it shall have to refer you to a Washington newspaper which really did have the straight story."

"Oh, yes; that tennis match, I suppose you'll want to know about that; the truth about it shall have to refer you to a Washington newspaper which really did have the straight story."

THE BISHOP'S VISIT TO THE PILGRIMS

The Bishop, who is now on his way to the States, was accompanied by the Rev. Canon G. H. G. and the Rev. Canon J. H. G.

William Butler Duncan, Jr., as president of the society, presided, sitting under the draped flag of Great Britain and the United States and the great seal of the Pilgrims.

Among the 500 Pilgrims and their guests were Frederick T. Adams, the Rev. Charles F. Aked, the Hon. Hugo Baring, Cornelius B. Bliss, Herbert L. Briggman, Gen. Henry L. Burnett, Paul Dana, Health Commissioner Bingham, Sir Caspar Pardon Clarke, ex-Secretary of the Treasury Leslie M. Shaw and the Rev. Charles C. Schreyer.

President Duncan at the outset proposed the health of the King and the President and back among the diners George T. Morgan sprang up with a rousing speech and called for "shove, shove, ripping American cheers" to top the toast.

Among the many letters of regret, letters from about everybody except him who is hunting bears and the Secretary of State and the Secretary of War, was one from Bishop Henry C. Potter.

Mark Twain wrote that he didn't attend any banquets last year and wanted to begin this one by declining the only invitation which could be made to him.

These disturbances," continued Dr. Butler, "which interest and touch laughter so many Americans are after all but temporary aberrations in the steady progress of our civilization."

"Oh, yes; that tennis match, I suppose you'll want to know about that; the truth about it shall have to refer you to a Washington newspaper which really did have the straight story."

"Oh, yes; that tennis match, I suppose you'll want to know about that; the truth about it shall have to refer you to a Washington newspaper which really did have the straight story."

THE BISHOP'S VISIT TO THE PILGRIMS

The Bishop, who is now on his way to the States, was accompanied by the Rev. Canon G. H. G. and the Rev. Canon J. H. G.

William Butler Duncan, Jr., as president of the society, presided, sitting under the draped flag of Great Britain and the United States and the great seal of the Pilgrims.

Among the 500 Pilgrims and their guests were Frederick T. Adams, the Rev. Charles F. Aked, the Hon. Hugo Baring, Cornelius B. Bliss, Herbert L. Briggman, Gen. Henry L. Burnett, Paul Dana, Health Commissioner Bingham, Sir Caspar Pardon Clarke, ex-Secretary of the Treasury Leslie M. Shaw and the Rev. Charles C. Schreyer.

President Duncan at the outset proposed the health of the King and the President and back among the diners George T. Morgan sprang up with a rousing speech and called for "shove, shove, ripping American cheers" to top the toast.

Among the many letters of regret, letters from about everybody except him who is hunting bears and the Secretary of State and the Secretary of War, was one from Bishop Henry C. Potter.

Mark Twain wrote that he didn't attend any banquets last year and wanted to begin this one by declining the only invitation which could be made to him.

These disturbances," continued Dr. Butler, "which interest and touch laughter so many Americans are after all but temporary aberrations in the steady progress of our civilization."

"Oh, yes; that tennis match, I suppose you'll want to know about that; the truth about it shall have to refer you to a Washington newspaper which really did have the straight story."

"Oh, yes; that tennis match, I suppose you'll want to know about that; the truth about it shall have to refer you to a Washington newspaper which really did have the straight story."

THE BISHOP'S VISIT TO THE PILGRIMS

The Bishop, who is now on his way to the States, was accompanied by the Rev. Canon G. H. G. and the Rev. Canon J. H. G.

William Butler Duncan, Jr., as president of the society, presided, sitting under the draped flag of Great Britain and the United States and the great seal of the Pilgrims.

Among the 500 Pilgrims and their guests were Frederick T. Adams, the Rev. Charles F. Aked, the Hon. Hugo Baring, Cornelius B. Bliss, Herbert L. Briggman, Gen. Henry L. Burnett, Paul Dana, Health Commissioner Bingham, Sir Caspar Pardon Clarke, ex-Secretary of the Treasury Leslie M. Shaw and the Rev. Charles C. Schreyer.

President Duncan at the outset proposed the health of the King and the President and back among the diners George T. Morgan sprang up with a rousing speech and called for "shove, shove, ripping American cheers" to top the toast.

Among the many letters of regret, letters from about everybody except him who is hunting bears and the Secretary of State and the Secretary of War, was one from Bishop Henry C. Potter.

Mark Twain wrote that he didn't attend any banquets last year and wanted to begin this one by declining the only invitation which could be made to him.

These disturbances," continued Dr. Butler, "which interest and touch laughter so many Americans are after all but temporary aberrations in the steady progress of our civilization."

"Oh, yes; that tennis match, I suppose you'll want to know about that; the truth about it shall have to refer you to a Washington newspaper which really did have the straight story."

"Oh, yes; that tennis match, I suppose you'll want to know about that; the truth about it shall have to refer you to a Washington newspaper which really did have the straight story."

THE BISHOP'S VISIT TO THE PILGRIMS

The Bishop, who is now on his way to the States, was accompanied by the Rev. Canon G. H. G. and the Rev. Canon J. H. G.

William Butler Duncan, Jr., as president of the society, presided, sitting under the draped flag of Great Britain and the United States and the great seal of the Pilgrims.

Among the 500 Pilgrims and their guests were Frederick T. Adams, the Rev. Charles F. Aked, the Hon. Hugo Baring, Cornelius B. Bliss, Herbert L. Briggman, Gen. Henry L. Burnett, Paul Dana, Health Commissioner Bingham, Sir Caspar Pardon Clarke, ex-Secretary of the Treasury Leslie M. Shaw and the Rev. Charles C. Schreyer.

President Duncan at the outset proposed the health of the King and the President and back among the diners George T. Morgan sprang up with a rousing speech and called for "shove, shove, ripping American cheers" to top the toast.

Among the many letters of regret, letters from about everybody except him who is hunting bears and the Secretary of State and the Secretary of War, was one from Bishop Henry C. Potter.

Mark Twain wrote that he didn't attend any banquets last year and wanted to begin this one by declining the only invitation which could be made to him.

These disturbances," continued Dr. Butler, "which interest and touch laughter so many Americans are after all but temporary aberrations in the steady progress of our civilization."

"Oh, yes; that tennis match, I suppose you'll want to know about that; the truth about it shall have to refer you to a Washington newspaper which really did have the straight story."

"Oh, yes; that tennis match, I suppose you'll want to know about that; the truth about it shall have to refer you to a Washington newspaper which really did have the straight story."