

TO KEEP UNEMPLOYED AWAY

WORK TEST SUGGESTED BY THE CHARITABLE SOCIETIES.

Informal Meeting to Consider Heading Off the Mass That is Already Beginning—One Plan is to Set the City's Lodgers at Work on Blackwell's Island.

That an army of tramps and unemployed is headed for New York is the opinion of some of the experts here who have been lately studying the situation as revealed thus far this winter. A sudden jump in the number of applications at the Municipal Lodging House and some of the bureaus of the Charity Organization Society gives rise to the belief that the advance guard of such an army is already here.

With a view to meeting this situation and to protect New York from such an army a conference of persons interested in the charitable care of the homeless was held yesterday afternoon in the United Charities Building, at which a number of plans were discussed.

The meeting was the second conference of a committee formed at the instance of Robert V. Bruer, general agent of the New York Association for Improving the Condition of the Poor. The committee includes O. F. Lewis, superintendent of the application bureau of the Charity Organization Society; W. Frank Parsons, assistant secretary of the society; Supt. Merrill of the society's wood yard; Supt. William C. York of the Municipal Lodging House and Leonard E. Opydecke, secretary of the Association for Improving the Condition of the Poor.

Representatives from the State Board of Charities and other organizations conducting relief work met with the committee. Charities Commissioner Hebbard and Health Commissioner Darlington also attended the conference.

It was said that the purpose for the conference was to talk over the general situation, but that it had been prompted more especially by the conditions at the Municipal Lodging House, which might or might not be an index of what was going on.

Figures were presented at the meeting by the superintendent showing that not only was the present lodging house, which accommodates somewhat more than 300, full every night, a condition most unusual in itself, but that it had been necessary lately to use for the overflow the pier at the foot of East Twenty-sixth street, where Commissioner Hebbard has his office. From fifty to sixty men a night have been sent over there. On the night of December 18, when there was a snowstorm, the number sheltered on the pier rose to 316. All that the men get on the pier is a bench to sleep on.

The total overflow at the Municipal Lodging House from December 1 to December 23, Mr. York said, was 2,353. In 1906 the overflow for the entire year was only 1,687.

An interesting aspect was given to these figures when Mr. York said that at least two-thirds of the number now applying for shelter seemed to be men from out of town. Such a jump in the number of applications has never been known before.

While these figures would seem to indicate an unusual amount of distress due to hard times the statements made by representatives of some of the societies engaged largely in home-to-home work among the poor showed apparently that the situation in this city as regards the homeless is not so bad. As a matter of fact, it was said, a canvass, so far as one could be made, has shown that so far as persons actually living in New York and belonging here were concerned the situation was not much different from what is usual at this season of the year.

The fear that tramps and unemployed persons throughout the country have taken into their heads to move on New York led to the discussion of a plan to head off such an invasion before it was too late.

As a possible deterrent, it was suggested that the Department of Charities should require those whom it boards for the night to do a little work. What is known as the work test has been tried before in other cities, but never in this. Some of those who are at the meeting would be a good time to begin, and Commissioner Hebbard is to take this plan under advisement. It was the opinion of some of those present that with New York trying such a signal the homeless from other parts of the country would turn back.

The plan suggested yesterday involves the use of an old stone quarry over on Blackwell's Island. It hasn't been used for a good many years, but there is still a lot of stone there and it was suggested that able bodied lodgers at the city's boarding house who were without employment might be sent over to the island early in the day to break up stone, returning after a few hours work. The stone could be used for making macadamized roads on the island.

Commissioner Hebbard presided at yesterday's meeting, at which this and other plans were considered. Mr. Lewis, general agent of the Charity Organization Society, who acted as secretary, made a brief statement after it was over, in which he said that the need of such a work test for the Municipal Lodging House had been particularly emphasized at the meeting. He said that the desirability of making arrangements between public and private charitable societies and the snow contractors had also been recommended. Under such a plan, he said, in the event of snowstorms a large number of men might be placed quickly at the disposal of the contractors.

"Any general relief measures for the unemployed seem entirely unnecessary at this time," said Mr. Lewis. "The increase in the destitute homeless class has not by any means been so noticeable as to warrant an assumption that an abnormally large number of men are now destitute in New York for whom large relief measures should be planned. At the same time it was emphasized at the meeting that New York has evidently little or no work for strangers who come here in search of employment."

Mr. Lewis explained that the meeting had been entirely informal and was not to be considered a meeting of accredited representatives of various charitable societies. "The fact should be emphasized," said Mr. Lewis, "that men who may be starting for this city are not going to get work here."

While those at the meeting were not inclined to talk, it was said that no suggestion had been made for making a general appeal on behalf of the charitable societies.

FLEET HAPPY AT TRINIDAD.

Good Behavior of Battleships Liberty Parties Causes Satisfaction.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun. PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad, Dec. 27.—The officers and crews of the American battleship fleet continue to have a very enjoyable time here. The commanders are giving the men as much shore leave as possible and the latter are taking advantage of it to explore every part of the city and vicinity.

This evening Sir Henry Moore Jackson, Governor of Trinidad, entertained the fleet captains at dinner at Government House.

The annual race meeting was continued to-day and it was largely attended by the members of Port of Spain society and a large number of the American officers.

The town is filled with liberty men from the fleet, who are behaving themselves in a most seemly manner. It is a matter for congratulation that hitherto there has been no complaint whatever against the conduct of the men while ashore.

The Spanish Yacht, conveyed by the auxiliary cruiser Panther, sailed this morning for Rio de Janeiro. The Yankton, which was not able to keep up with the remainder of the fleet on the passage here from Hampton Roads, was despatched to-day in order that she might arrive at Rio at about the same time as the battleships, which will sail on Sunday on the 3,100 mile run to that port.

The Virginia, Minnesota, Rhode Island, New Jersey, Louisiana, Vermont and Maryland spent several hours this morning correcting variations in their compasses in the Gulf of Paria.

CRUISERS OUT FOR PRACTICE. SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 27.—The armored cruisers Colorado, Maryland, Pennsylvania and the West Virginia, flagship of Admiral Dayton's squadron, left port this afternoon and will proceed to Magdalena Bay for target practice.

On their way down the coast all four vessels will practice maneuvers and upon the arrival of the battleship fleet will be joined by the first class cruisers Tennessee and Washington.

The Nebraska is at Mare Island taking on ammunition and will sail on January 3 for the south to join the others.

HENRY F. TERRY A SUICIDE.

Brother of Wily's Terry Shoots Himself in Prospect Park.

Henry F. Terry, member of the well known Brooklyn family, was found dead in Prospect Park, Brooklyn, late last night. He had shot himself in the chest.

Cards found in his pocket identified him. His brother, the Rev. Eliphaz B. Terry, of 12 Reuben street, made a positive identification later. Another brother is Wily's Terry.

Mr. Terry tried to kill himself by gas in San Francisco last January. He came here from the West two weeks ago and bought a farm in Rockland county. He had been mentally unbalanced for some time.

NO TURKEY FOR ROOSEVELT.

President and Dr. Hixey Spend Part of a Day in Fruitless Hunt.

SCOTTSVILLE, Va., Dec. 27.—The hinges on the trap which the big game warden set for Mr. Roosevelt, had no chance to grow today. They have had a chance to grow back and forth a score of times to admit and release visitors.

The day had been sunny, though rather windy, becoming cold and raw toward evening.

Mrs. Roosevelt and Miss Carey took a drive, accompanied by Joseph Wimer, behind a pair of thoroughbreds.

The president and Dr. Hixey spent part of the day with the game warden, looking about the woods and fields, tramping for wild turkeys, which they did not find.

The President and his boys had a long chase after rabbits with the beards this morning. It is not reported that any rabbits were taken. Quail are plentiful about Pine Knot, but the President has set his heart on bigger game.

U. S. WINS COAL FRAUD APPEAL.

Circuit Court Holds That Evidence Against Jakway Was Admissible.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 27.—In the suit of the United States against the Ute Coal and Coke Company, Lewis C. Jakway, Frank W. Stubbs and others to recover $600,000 worth of coal alleged to have been taken from Government lands in Colorado, the Federal Circuit Court of Appeals to-day reversed the judgment of the lower court, which found against the Ute Coal and Coke Company but not against the other defendants and gave judgment for the generally the amount of the cost of mining the coal and the amount it sold for at the mouth of the mine. The United States appealed the case.

The Appeals Court said the jury in the lower court should have been permitted to consider the evidence against Jakway. There is substantial and persuasive evidence that Jakway knew that this coal was the property of the Government and that he intended to appropriate it to the use of the coal company and Stubbs and Jakway," said the opinion.

ARREST NO. 173

By Riordan, Wasserman and Others in East Side Gambling Crusade.

County Detective Riordan, Sergt. Wasserman and two detectives from the District Attorney's office made their one hundred and seventy-fifth arrest in the crusade against East Side gamblers last night. They seized a stucco game in the rear of a coffee parlor on Eldridge street and gathered in sixteen men, 100 packs of cards and about $70 in coin.

Henry Sarger, whom they believed to be the proprietor of the place, was locked up at Headquarters on the charge of maintaining a gambling house. The others they let go.

Favors 40 Year Subway Leases.

It is understood that the Public Service Commission is considering the advisability of recommending that a suit of forty years, with an option of twenty years more, be set for the leases of subway constructed by private capital. The present law provides for a twenty year period, and now should be planned. At the same time it was emphasized at the meeting that New York has evidently little or no work for strangers who come here in search of employment."

Wants Retired Naval Officers Retired.

There are about twenty retired officers on duty at the navy yard in Brooklyn and various stations under the supervision of Rear Admiral Goodrich, the Commandant of the navy yard in Brooklyn. He has recommended that they be detached and their places filled by men from the active list. Retired officers while on active duty receive full pay.

HOODWINKED DR. MACCRACKEN

WERNER THULI POSED AS SON OF A SWISS EDUCATOR.

"President" of University of Zurich His Father—New York University Head Got Him Into Students' Club—Stole There and in Many Other Places.

Police Headquarters last night took in a clever swindler who so fooled Chancellor Henry M. MacCracken of New York University that he gave the man a card introducing him into the Students' Club, thus making his work easy for him. The prisoner is Werner Thuli, 19 years old, and he says in the season of the president of the University of Zurich, at Zurich, Switzerland. The university has a rector, whose term of office is a year, and who is elected from the faculty.

Thuli was graduated from Oxford, England, last year and came then to this country, according to his story. On December 21 he called upon Chancellor MacCracken at his home and presented his card.

"You ought to know my father," the young man said to the chancellor.

"Why, yes," answered Chancellor MacCracken. "I met your father several years ago."

Thuli then told Chancellor MacCracken that he had been ill in Bellevue Hospital for several months and was out of a place and in need of money. He asked Chancellor MacCracken if he would not help him get a place.

Chancellor MacCracken gave Thuli a letter to Thomas E. Robbins, who lives at the Students' Club at 328 West Fifty-sixth street, and asked Mr. Robbins to see Thuli at the hospital by some friend at the club and that any expense incurred at the club would be paid by the chancellor.

Chancellor MacCracken then told the young man that when he had got work and got himself into better physical shape to come and see him.

Thuli went to the club on the night of the twenty-first and was made welcome as a friend of the chancellor's. He remained there until December 23, when he was seen to come in with a new suit case.

Apparently he went direct to the room of Mr. Robbins and there took a new fur overcoat valued at $200 and a diamond stick pin valued at $60 and disappeared from the club. The Students' Club at once notified Chancellor MacCracken and he in turn called in the aid of the Detective Bureau.

The first thing the police learned was that the Swiss Benevolent Society in this city was very anxious to find the young man, as he had been swindling members of that society in the name of his father. They also learned that the Charities Organization Society wanted to interview the young man about several matters.

From a Mrs. Wadleigh, who represents the Charities Organization Society at Bellevue Hospital, the detectives learned that young Thuli had not been in the hospital for many months. Mrs. Wadleigh told the police that she had held $100 which had been sent to Thuli at the hospital by some friend, but that he never had called for the money.

Detective Flynn called upon H. H. Bernichan, who is a banker at 18 Exchange place, and also the Swiss Consul in this city. When Flynn mentioned Thuli's name the Consul became greatly excited and said that no one was more anxious to see him than he was.

According to the story told by the Consul, young Thuli had forged the name of the Consul in a letter to his father in Zurich, in which the Consul said that he was financially embarrassed and in need of aid and asked President Thuli to lend him some money. The police say that they have also unearthed several other queer transactions of the young man of a similar character.

Last night a member of the Charities Organization Society was on a southbound Broadway car when he spotted young Thuli. He spoke to the young man and after talking some time to him told him in a casual way that a Mr. Hutton, living at 1 West Fifty-first street, wanted to see him very much and that Mr. Hutton had something for him.

Thuli said he would go there at once, and the other man at once notified Gallagher and Flynn, the two detectives on the case, who hurried to the address and had just arrived when Thuli came along and was arrested.

At Police Headquarters Thuli refused to say anything at all concerning himself. He had in his possession two pawn tickets for the overcoat and the stick pin.

FRENCH SUBMARINE BLOWN UP.

Explosion of Gas on the Ventose at Cherbourg—No One Killed.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun. CHERBOURG, Dec. 27.—The Ventose, one of the new submarines of the French navy, was practically destroyed to-day by an explosion of gas. There was no loss of life.

POSSE CAPTURES BANK ROBBERS.

Early Morning Battle Followed by Successful Chase—$2,500 Lost Recovered.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Dec. 27.—The bank at Camden Point was robbed by three men early this morning. They got $2,500, of which $1,000 was in silver.

A battle between citizens and the robbers took place, in which many shots were exchanged.

The robbers escaped to the woods on the Platte River, near Edgerton Junction, where they were captured by the posse.

One was identified as Clyde Reed, 25 years old, the son of a respectable farmer. They have been jailed in Platte City.

The money was found in a strawstack near Edgerton.

HAND IN DETECTIVE'S POCKET.

Man, Who Would Have Got 10 Cents Only, Arrested.

Edward Fisher tried to pick Central Office Detective Casassa's pocket yesterday in a subway train and as a result was landed in Police Headquarters. All the detective had in the pocket Fisher was fumbling with was 10 cents.

Casassa got on a downtown express train at Fourteenth street yesterday morning at 10 o'clock and as the car was crowded he had to stand. He felt a hand in one pocket and saw Fisher in the act of extracting the 10 cents.

At Headquarters Fisher was recognized as a pickpocket who has already served several terms in prison. He was arraigned in the Tombs police court, where Magistrate Dreese remanded him back to Police Headquarters.

TO WITHDRAW U. S. DEPOSITS.

Bankers Expect a Heavy Drain From Washington in January.

In well informed banking circles it is expected that the Secretary of the Treasury will issue a call early in January for part of the Government deposits held by banks throughout the country. It is recognized that the amount will be large, but few bankers yesterday cared to make an estimate. Generally it was believed that the total would not fall below $25,000,000.

Washington dispatches yesterday said that the working balance in the Treasury had been reduced to $3,500,000. In the current month, it was said, the revenues show about $3,000,000 less than the revenues for last December, but the expenditures are $7,000,000 greater. There have been very heavy decreases in the receipts from customs and internal revenue, the principal sources of Government income.

In normal years the expenditures of the Government in the first part of a quarter greatly exceed the receipts. There is no reason to expect that with the constant decrease in the revenues the excess of expenditures over receipts in January will not be much greater than in any month of the recent past.

Secretary Cortelyou is still ill and as far as the banks have learned no official action has yet been taken. It is expected, however, that the deposits will be withdrawn gradually, that the withdrawals will not bear heavily on any particular locality and that they will be accomplished in such a way as to interfere as little as possible with the January 1 interest and dividend disbursements.

JAPAN GRIPS MANCHURIA HARD.

Hitler's Complaint to the "Times" of Violations of Open Door Programme.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun. LONDON, Dec. 28.—The Pekin correspondent of the Times cables a strong indictment of Japan for persisting in her occupation of Manchuria. He says the whole of the South Manchurian Railway, from Kwang Chenshze to Dalny, is held by Japanese troops and is subject to the same military law as during the war.

A whole division of Japanese troops is stationed at Liaoyang. Six battalions patrol the railway. Armed soldiers enter every compartment of the trains at every station. Ladies complain of their rudeness.

The Chinese wish to continue the Pekin main line into Mukden, where the station is two and a half miles distant, but the Japanese forbid this because it would cross their line. China contracted in November with a British firm to extend the Pekin-Hankow railway northward fifty miles of Funanum.

The correspondent concludes that it is impossible to reconcile this prohibition with any rational interpretation of the open door policy.

CLARENCE DARROW OUT OF CASE.

Compelled by Illness to Turn Pettibone's Defense Over to Wilson.

BOISE, Idaho, Dec. 27.—Clarence Darrow, chief counsel for the defense in the Pettibone case, has been forced to retire from the case, for the present at least, on account of his health.

He left this afternoon for Los Angeles, where he will submit to a mastoid operation, which has become necessary because of an abscess in the middle ear which has given him trouble for the last six months.

After he delivered his opening statement to the jury yesterday afternoon his physicians informed him that if the operation was performed his life would be endangered. There is little probability that he will be able to return to Boise in time to make the closing address for the defense.

Ex-Congressman Edgar Wilson will be in charge of the defense for the present.

ADDICKS JUDGMENT SOLD CHEAP.

Buy State Gas Receiver Accepts Less Than 10 Cents on the Dollar.

WILMINGTON, Del., Dec. 27.—In the United States District Court to-day Judge Bradford issued an order authorizing the assignment by Receiver George Wharton Pepper of the Ray State Gas Company of a judgment obtained by him against J. Edward Addicks for $1,300,000 to Charles F. Hinckman, at the rate of 10 cents on the dollar. It was argued that $100,000 in hand would be better than the chances of realizing on the Addicks judgment.

This action virtually closes the Ray State Gas litigation. Addicks expressed satisfaction with the assignment of the judgment, and said he approved the election of Thomas W. Lawson as president of the company.

ASSEMBLY CLERKSHIP FIGHT.

Ray B. Smith on the Ground and Says He is Confident of Winning.

ALBANY, Dec. 27.—Ray H. Smith of Syracuse, the present deputy clerk of the Assembly, reached Albany to-night. He is on the ground to stay until the Assembly clerkship fight is settled in the Republican caucus next Tuesday night, and if he does not land the clerkship he says he will retire from the State service, but he has every confidence in his election.

Col. Archie E. Baxter, clerk of the Assembly for the last twelve years, has not yet reached here. His friends insist that he will win. The Grand Army men of the State are working like Trojans for him.

NO AMERICAN NEWS CO. STRIKE.

Three Year Wage Agreement Providing Increase in Pay to Be Signed.

The Newspaper and Mail Deliverers' Union decided last evening to accept the terms of the American News Company, and the threatened strike was averted. General Manager Stephen Farrelly of the company said last night that an agreement for three years will be signed to-day by which the men get $1 a week more than the present wages, which are $14 a week for drivers and $14 for carriers. The demands were for an advance of $3 a week, which the company thought excessive.

The vote of the union was 830 to 340 against a strike. This statement was made on behalf of the union.

"While we did not get all we asked for we believe we gained a victory, when the present state of trade is considered. The men go to work in the meantime, pending the signing of the agreement by the wage committee."

LANTRY IS AGAIN ACCUSED

TAMMANY COMMITTEE NAMED TO HEAR THE CHARGES.

Rivals in His District Say That He Won His Leadership by Fraud—Williams, Ahern and Nagle Are Retaliated According to the Announced Smooth Programme.

Roswell D. Williams, James Ahern and Percy Nagle got in as members of the Tammany executive committee last night. There wasn't any hitch in the programme and the reorganization of both the executive and general committees for the ensuing year was accomplished in almost record time.

While Williams, Ahern and Nagle, after being barred out of the executive committee for a year, are now members in good standing it would appear that the troubles of Fire Commissioner Lantry are not over yet, for at a meeting of the new executive committee, held immediately after its appointment by the general committee, charges were presented against him by J. J. Hassett and Michael Conroy of the sixteenth district, Lantry's district. Hassett and Conroy are the men who disputed the leadership with Lantry at the last primaries.

Lantry is accused of having accomplished his election by fraud and corruption and of having been aided and abetted in this by members of the police and fire departments. These charges were referred to a committee of five to investigate.

The committee appointed by Chairman Thomas F. McAvoy, who was re-elected as head of the new committee, is made up of John T. Oakley, William Dalton, Christopher Sullivan, William J. Wright and Peter J. Dooling.

The action last night in the case of Lantry, who has been an out and out McClellan leader, is similar to that a year ago when charges of treachery to the organization were made and referred to a committee. The committee never met and Commissioner Lantry retained his seat.

The bringing of new charges against Lantry and the appointment of a committee to investigate was taken as meaning that Leader Murphy still wants to hold something over Lantry for use if he deems it necessary. He appeared to be the only one of the five leaders who had lined up with the Mayor to be singled out for any mark of displeasure.

This is the executive committee named last night:

- 1. D. E. Flinn, 188, John V. Coggery.
- 2. T. P. Sullivan, 29, Maurice Feaster.
- 3. J. T. Oakley, 21, James J. Walsh.
- 4. John F. Ahern, 22, William H. Sinnott.
- 5. Charles W. Cullin, 24, John J. Dietz.
- 6. Benj. Hoffman, 25N, George F. Scannell.
- 7. Frank J. Goodwin, 25S, J. P. Prendergast.
- 8. C. D. Sullivan, 26, James J. Frawley.
- 9. N. J. Dooling, 27, G. L. Donnellan.
- 10. William Dalton, 28, N. J. Hayes.
- 11. Julius Harburger, 29, Thomas E. Rush.
- 12. T. J. McElmool, 30N, Wallace S. Fraser.
- 13. Joseph J. Murray, 30S, Patrick H. Nagle.
- 14. John F. Curry, 31, William J. Wright.
- 15. W. J. Boyhan, 32N, Thomas H. O'Neill.
- 16. James J. Hagan, 32S, Eugene J. McGuire.
- 17. Frank J. Lantry, 33, Michael J. Gahan.
- 18. R. D. Williams, 34, Arthur H. Murphy.
- 19. Benj. Dunn, 35, William E. Morris.

J. Sergeant Cram was elected again unanimously to head the general committee. Mr. McAvoy presented the names of the new executive committee as decided upon at a meeting of the old executive committee just before the new general committee was called to order. As the names were read the adherents of the various leaders gave some cheers. The greatest outburst of cheering came when the name of John F. Ahern of the Fourth was read.

The two meetings did not last half an hour. It was not announced when the Lantry investigating committee would meet.

FIGHTING EDITOR ARRESTED.

Bonifs of the Denver "Post" Charged With Assaulting Ex-Senator Patterson.

DENVER, Dec. 27.—Fred G. Bonifs of the Denver "Post" was arrested to-day on a warrant sworn out by Thomas M. Patterson, former United States Senator and principal owner of the Rocky Mountain News and Denver Times, charging him with assault and battery.

Bonifs was taken before Justice Thomas Carlon. He gave bonds for his appearance for trial.

The assault was committed yesterday and grew out of an attack on Bonifs in Patterson's paper.

In a card published in the "Post" to-day Bonifs says he will call Patterson to account every time they meet if similar publications continue.

A CASUAL CAPTURE.

Policeman Interrupts Trip to Theatre With Wife to Take Two Men.

Sergeant Thomas Tunney captured two men by a lucky chance last night as he and his wife were on the way to the theatre. Tunney lives at 41 West Forty-third street. As he and his wife came out of their house Mrs. Tunney happened to look across the street toward 402. She saw two men kneeling down in the shadow of a doorway, and between them there was what looked like a man lying down.

"That looks funny to me," she remarked to her husband.

"Ditto, guess I will join the bunch myself," said Tunney.

He walked over to where the men were and leaned over them. They were so busy that they failed to notice Tunney and his wife.

"Pat, that's a good looking watch and I guess your guy has some of the cash on him if we can find it."

"I'll help you," said Tunney.

He grabbed the two and a struggle followed which lasted until the patrol wagon came from the West Forty-seventh street station house and to a call sent in by Mrs. Tunney. There the men said they were Patrick O'Mara of 333 Sixth avenue and Robert Williams of 23 East Twenty-third street. They were charged with grand larceny. The man they were going through was locked up charged with intoxication. He said that he was Isidore Cohen and lived at 38 East 10th street.
