

COEDS AT OBERLIN DINNER

FURNISH RELIEF TO THE WHITE SHIRT FRONT EFFECT

And Give the Speakers a Chance to Say Nice Things—Statistics About the Ohio College That Are Worth Entertaining Over—President Finley a Guest.

When you've been hardened by a season of nightly dinners where always you gaze out from the press table upon a row of hard-boiled shirt fronts like the minstrel first part and listen to the crackling at the speakers' table of jozemillers, simonias and johndoes—also like the first part—then you'd be pardoned for your gasp of relief when the annual dinner of the Oberlin College Alumni Association of New York flashed upon you at the St. Denis last night.

They had a real good time, everybody; and Oberlin is the greatest college in the United States or Ohio, and this time that it's going to be better than that.

They got a lot of attention, the coeds did, from William B. Shaw, president of the alumni association, and the other speakers. At the guest table were President Frost of Berea College, Kentucky; the Rev. Dr. Charles C. Creagan, who is field secretary of the American Board of Foreign Missions; the Rev. Irving W. Metcalf of Oberlin; Dr. Charles G. Warner, who has been manufacturing corsets since the days of the Y. M. C. A.; President King, C. F. Cox of the Lake Shore Railroad; C. Hall, the alumni expert of the City of New York; and Mrs. Charles J. Ryder, secretary of the American Missionary Association; Dr. Howard H. Russell, President John H. Finley of the college of the City of New York; and Mrs. Warner, Mrs. Shaw and Mrs. Cox.

Toastmaster Shaw reviewed briefly the growth of Oberlin—this year celebrating its fiftieth anniversary of its foundation—during the days you got there by flatboats and thence by prairie schooners to the present time, when you got by the Lake Shore and thence by hired hacks.

After that the alumni glee club aired to come, oh come, come, come, come, with about and song, come, come, come, and join, oh, join, us in, oh, join us as we march along, along, oh come, for we are a jolly, happy throng, and merry, oh come, and well, they were asked, anyway, to have everybody join them, but the diners let them argue it out among themselves. The final speech was heartily applauded.

President Finley gave a rattling good speech about Oberlin and insisted that he is trying to make not a university but a better college of Oberlin. Perhaps it were better to remark that he said "even a better college."

President Finley was introduced as a man with two distinguishing marks. For years, said the toastmaster, he was noted as the youngest college president in the country, and, secondly, he even now is the only college president who can offer magnanimous terms for sale and get away with it.

President Finley's subject was "The Fresh Water College and the Salt Water College," but he said himself, after telling some introductory yarns, that he would now speak of colleges with regard to the "salinity in their aqueous environment." According to President Finley, Brigham Young's college in Salt Lake City cannot be classed as a fresh water college. He closed with a high tribute to Oberlin.

President William G. Frost spoke on "Post-graduate Courses" and there was an oratorical symposium on the college man in politics by Assemblyman William Bennett, Alderman L. Barron Case, Lewis C. Franklin, Warner and Seabury C. Mastick.

Just across the hallway thirteen members of the Xi Psi Phi, all graduates of various local colleges, and a thick crowd who separated the dental recitations from the Oberlin coeds, however, and the doors were carefully closed.

EDUCATION BY TRAIN. University of Georgia Students Learn of the College's New Plan.

Fifty alumni of the University of Georgia gathered at their eighth annual dinner at the St. Regis last night. Chancellor David G. Barrow, the executive head of the university, was the guest of honor.

Chancellor Barrow, president of the alumni association, acted as toastmaster. At his right sat Chancellor Barrow. Other guests of the evening were Charles J. Peabody, who came in the absence of his brother, George Foster Peabody, one of the benefactors of the university; Robert C. Ogden, Marion J. Verdery, former president of the Southern Society; John Temple Graves, Prof. John H. Clark and J. G. Zachry.

When Chancellor Barrow, who went among the older alumni under the affectionate title of Old Dave, was called upon to speak he told of the Georgia woman who had moved to Mississippi, where all the family had chills and ague, the household chickens died and even the pig died. She was stricken with apoplexy. When she got her attention at a revival the preacher asked her if she felt that she was already walking the heavenly streets and placing golden callus on the heavenly hinges.

"No, sir," said the ecstatic woman, "I feel just as if I was back in Georgia."

"I want you all here to-night to feel like this sister did," continued Chancellor Barrow. "And I want to tell you that you would not know the university now. Why, we got two hundred barns on the same road and the college runs way down to Watkinsville now."

The Chancellor told of the new venture in university extension that the college was making. A train was being run over all the lines within the State, stopping five times a day on an itinerary of five weeks. At every station some professor gives a lecture to the crowd from the rear platform and the educational train moves on its way.

Robert C. Ogden spoke briefly of the work that was being done for education in the South by the Education Board. There were built in North Carolina 1,000 new school houses within the last three years, said he, and in Tennessee the funds devoted to education had doubled in four years.

PAULINE LUCCA DEAD. Famous Concert Singer of Vienna Was 64 Years Old.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN. VIENNA, Feb. 28.—Pauline Lucca, the singer, died to-day.

Pauline Lucca was a famous concert artist who came of poor parents. She worked herself into the front rank of such performers. She retired from the concert stage in 1901. She was 64 years old.

Says Earnings Increased Under Two Cent Fare Law.

LANSING, Mich., Feb. 28.—In a statement issued to-day by Railroad Commissioner Glasgow an increase of passenger earnings during an interval of the same period in the last three months of 1907 is shown, despite the operation of the two cent rate law. The figures are obtained by a comparison with the earnings of the same months in 1906.

BELGIUM RESENTS CONGO PAPER.

The One Prepared by Great Britain Causes Great Discussion in Chamber of Deputies.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN.

BRUSSELS, Feb. 28.—The statement made in the British House of Commons by Foreign Secretary Grey regarding Great Britain's attitude toward the Congo question has made a deep impression in Belgium.

In some quarters it takes the form of extreme irritation, while elsewhere satisfaction is expressed. King Leopold has postponed his intended visit to Ostend, and he has been repeatedly closeted with the Ministers and with officials of the Congo Independent State.

There was a lively debate in the Chamber of Deputies to-day when M. van der Velde, the Socialist leader, interpellated the Government on the subject. He referred to the astonishing revelations in the British parliamentary paper and in the report of the American Consul, and said it was evident that the United States and Great Britain had agreed with each other to insist upon reforms in the administration of the Congo. He demanded that the British parliamentary paper be translated and circulated for the benefit of the public.

Prime Minister Schollaert refused to have the paper translated on the ground that it would be contrary to precedent. He said Belgium was her own mistress and was responsible to nobody, neither England nor any other country. She would not accept advice concerning the control of Belgian affairs.

The Clericals and other members of the Right warmly supported the Premier, while the Liberals and Socialists backed M. Van der Velde. The proposal to circulate the British paper was defeated by a vote of 75 to 56.

Some of the newspapers attack the action of Great Britain. The Independence Belge interpreted it as indirect support of the Belgian opposition parties and as interference with Belgian internal affairs.

The Petit Bleu accuses Great Britain of wounding the national honor. It contends that Sir Edward Grey's declaration that Great Britain was not seeking political or territorial advantages in the Congo is equivalent to a similar declaration made by Lord Salisbury regarding the Transvaal and the Orange River Colony at the time of the Boer war.

SMALL HOPE FOR CALVINI. Italian Minister of Foreign Affairs Thinks He Should Be Executed.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN. ROME, Feb. 28.—Signor Tittoni, Minister of Foreign Affairs, replied in the Chamber of Deputies to-day to the petition of Italian newspaper men to intervene to prevent the execution of Calvini, the Italian newspaper correspondent who was recently sentenced to death at St. Petersburg for complicity in the Terrorist plot lately frustrated in that city.

He read the reply of the Russian Ministry of Foreign Affairs to the plea of Signor Melagari, the Italian Ambassador at St. Petersburg, on behalf of Calvini, which contained the accusations against the prisoner. Signor Tittoni added that Calvini must share the treatment accorded his accomplices. Nevertheless the Italian Ambassador still is making efforts to save his life.

JAPAN SENDS WARSHIPS To Enforce a Claim Against China for Seizing the Tatan.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN. TOKYO, Feb. 28.—With regard to the Japanese steamship Tatan, which was seized at Macao, China, early this month with rifles and ammunition consigned to a Portuguese merchant who the Chinese Government alleges is an agent for the revolutionists, the newspapers say that Japan has addressed to Peking a demand for the immediate release of the ship and the payment of indemnity for the seizure, on the ground that the shipment of the arms and ammunition was a bona fide transaction about which there was no concealment. Japan threatens drastic action should there be any delay in the negotiations. Several warships have already been despatched to Hongkong to enforce the claim.

Americans Presented at Court. Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN.

LONDON, Feb. 28.—Among those presented at the court held by the King to-night were Mrs. Miller Graham of California, Mrs. Fred Sherman and Miss Sherman of New York and Miss Peck of California.

CARNEGIE RESCUES LOVEJOY. Sends Former Partner a Check for $125,000, With Which Mortgage is Lifted.

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 28.—Andrew Carnegie has again waved his magic wand over the head of Francis T. F. Lovejoy, the former young partner of Mr. Carnegie, whose home was about to be sold to satisfy a mortgage for $90,000.

Mr. Carnegie sent to Mr. Lovejoy a check for $125,000 on the Home Trust Company of Newark, N. J., and told his former partner to get out of his financial difficulties as quickly as possible. Mr. Lovejoy heeded the advice, for the mortgage has been satisfied and the Sheriff's notice of sale was removed to-day.

The Weather. The storm which was of Nantucket on Thursday was over the mouth of the St. Lawrence yesterday, dispensing snow over northern New England and New York and in parts of the Lake region.

The northwestern storm had its centre over Idaho and Nevada, with light snow in Montana, but no other disturbance of importance. It was reaching southward and its configuration with a high area central over the east Gulf states was drawing warmer weather into the Mississippi Valley districts and from the Gulf northward into the Dakotas, also over the extreme Southwest.

In the Atlantic States, the lower Lakes and Ohio and Tennessee valleys it was colder, with freezing temperatures reaching almost to the Georgia coast.

It was colder also in the extreme Northwest and on the Pacific Coast.

There were no extreme temperatures. In this city the day was fair and colder, with a light northerly breeze, at 9 per cent. barometer, corrected to read to sea level, at 8 A. M., 30.87; 3 P. M., 29.91.

The temperature yesterday, as recorded by the official thermometer, is shown in the annexed table:

9 A. M. 32° 10 P. M. 28° 1 P. M. 30° 4 P. M. 29° 7 P. M. 27° 12 M. 28° 2° Lowest temperature, 27°, at 8 A. M.

WASHINGTON FORECAST FOR TO-DAY AND TO-MORROW. For eastern New York, fair and slightly warmer to-day, warmer to-morrow, with snow in northern and rain or snow in southern portion; winds becoming westerly and probably increasing to-night.

FLEET LEAVES CALLAO TO-DAY

BATTLESHIPS READY TO GO TO MAGDALENA BAY.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN.

Peruvians Sorry to See Sailors Depart.—Newspaper Correspondents guests at a Reception—Other Social Functions. Mark the End of the Visit to Lima.

LIMA, Feb. 28.—The breakfast given to-day by Señor Polo, Minister of Foreign Affairs, in honor of the newspaper correspondents accompanying the American battleship fleet was a very jovial affair. The guests included a number of officials and prominent representatives of the Peruvian press.

Señor Polo warmly welcomed the correspondents and said he hoped they were pleased with their visit to Peru. A report was read detailing the real conditions and resources of the country. Franklin Matthews, the correspondent of THE SUN, replied to the speech of welcome.

A brilliant reception was held this afternoon on the flagship Connecticut. All the prominent officials of the capital and the leaders of society attended.

The fleet is ready for its departure to-morrow for Magdalena Bay. Peruvians of all classes will see it leave with regret. Not a single incident has occurred during its stay here to mar the enthusiasm with which it was received. The behavior of the men while ashore has been the subject of warm commendation from everybody.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—The Bureau of Navigation of the Navy Department has arranged a tentative schedule of anchorages for the great naval spectacle in San Francisco Bay when the battleship fleet arrives from the Pacific fleet. The fleet will be in the bay in four parallel lines running from Mission Rock to Hunter's Point. The combined fleet will be the largest ever gathered together in American waters and will consist of forty-five vessels. There will be eighteen battleships, eight large armored cruisers, six smaller cruisers and eleven torpedo boats. The gunboat Yorktown will be used by Secretary of the Navy Metcalf in reviewing the fleet.

Señor Admiral Evans sent a cable to the Navy Department to-day saying that the tender Yankton, in command of Lieut. Walter R. Gherardi, had left Callao for the Galapagos Islands to find Frederick J. Cole, the American sailor who was wrecked there last October and is supposed to be living alone on one of the islands of the group. The Yankton will stop at Acapulco, Mexico, on its way to the United States.

Lieutenant-Commander George B. Bradshaw and Lieut. Richard D. White, inspectors of target practice, will leave Washington in a few days for Magdalena Bay to attend the target practice of the battleship fleet there. The Navy Department announced to-day that the annual record target practice of vessels on the Atlantic will be held off Cape Cruz, Cuba, about April 15.

ROY REPORTS TO PARIS POLICE. They Haven't Any Instructions as to What to Do With Him.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN. LONDON, Feb. 28.—A despatch to the Evening News from Paris says that Paul H. Roy reported to-day to the police, who are still without instructions with regard to him. There is no slight chance that his wife's hope to send him to the electric chair will be gratified. In any case Roy would be tried in France, and if convicted would be punished in France.

Public opinion in Paris is against Mrs. Roy. It is said that the so-called Baroness von Orendorff, with whom she went about Paris, is none other than Mrs. Hodgkin, her aunt.

Roy's mother said to-day: "If my son were an assassin we should disown him. We are convinced that he acted in self-defense. We want a public trial in which the light may be thrown on the whole dreadful business and our son cleared of these accusations."

PARIS, Feb. 28.—Paul H. Roy, accompanied by a lawyer, went this afternoon to the office of the Procureur-General to put himself at the disposition of French justice if a demand for his prosecution had been presented by the American Government. He was informed that nothing concerning him had been received.

The opinions of experts are quoted in the press to show that it is contrary to French custom to grant extradition against a Frenchman. If a charge is brought against a Frenchman his trial must take place in France.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Feb. 28.—County Solicitor C. B. Batchelder of the city and Attorney-General Eastman this morning left for Concord, where they will ask for the extradition of Paul E. Roy from France for the murder of George E. Calkins.

Mr. Batchelder and Gen. Eastman took with them a copy of the warrant sworn out by Sheriff M. M. Collins and the affidavits as to the crime made by the sister of the murdered man, Mrs. John D. Kelley, the mother, and John D. Kelley, stepfather.

Gen. Eastman has studied the treaty between this country and France and he is confident that Roy can be brought back to the United States for trial. In this contention he is supported by Solicitor Batchelder.

Mrs. Roy spent last night at the home of her mother, Mrs. John D. Kelley, in Newington, a few hundred yards from her own home. This morning she refused to see the newspaper men but she came into the city this afternoon and was closeted with her personal counsel for two hours.

BREWERY SHARES HARD HIT. Government's Licensing Bill Kills Market For Them.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN. LONDON, Feb. 28.—The Government's drastic liquor licensing bill, which was introduced in the House of Commons on Wednesday, has seriously affected the market for brewery shares.

Business in them is at a standstill. The brewery authorities are unanimous in their belief that the bill means ruin. There was an estimated loss of £10,000,000 on the day in stock prices alone. The loss in trade if the bill passes in its present form would be £50,000,000. The bill, however, is certain to undergo drastic changes before it is adopted.

KING HENRY V.'S CRADLE SOLD. Bought for 230 Guinea, Presumably for King Edward.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN. LONDON, Feb. 28.—Guy Francis Laking bought to-day at Christie's the old oak cradle that was used by the infant prince who was afterward King Henry V. Mr. Laking paid 230 guineas for it.

He acted presumably for King Edward, who viewed the cradle privately yesterday. Mr. Laking is custodian of the royal collection of armor at Windsor Castle.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN. KINGSFORD, Jamaica, Feb. 28.—Mrs. M. L. Britton and Hollick of the New York Botanical Gardens are here on a botanical expedition. They will make an exploration of the island in conjunction with the director of the local Public Gardens.

Eugene Benson Dead in Venice. Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN.

VENICE, Feb. 28.—Eugene Benson, a New York artist, who had been a resident of this city since 1858, died to-day.

5,000 TROOPS TO CASABLANCA.

French Garrisons in Algeria and Tunis to Provide Reinforcements.

Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN.

PARIS, Feb. 28.—It is practically certain that 5,000 or 6,000 reinforcements will be sent to Casablanca.

They will be drawn from the garrisons in Algeria and Tunis. Operations will be suspended until after Easter.

The increase of the French forces in Morocco means that a more vigorous campaign will be carried on in the attempt to crush the supporters of Mulai Hafid, the Sultan of the South. This involves the giving of the command to a General of division, and consequently Gen. Lyantey, who now is in supreme command in Algeria, will replace Gen. d'Amade, who is a Brigadier-General.

An unconfirmed report from Tangier states that Gen. d'Amade has met with a fatal accident.

FIXING FARES ON LONG ISLAND. Traction Company Directed to Charge Only 5 Cents for a Five Mile Ride.

ALBANY, Feb. 28.—The New York and Long Island Traction Company is directed by order of the up-State Public Service Commission to-day to collect not over 10 cents for a continuous passage in either direction over its entire line and not over five cents for a single ride not exceeding five miles long in either direction along its road. The company has been charging 10 cents between the villages of Hempstead and Freeport, where the distance is less than five miles. The order given by the commission to-day follows an investigation which showed that conditions limiting the maximum rate to be charged had been fixed by the commissioners of highways in the grant of a franchise to the former Mineola, Hempstead and Freeport Traction Company, which conditions, it is held, the commissioners had power to impose both in territory within and without the jurisdiction of the state commission.

Buffalo's station facilities and the terminal freight facilities there of the New York Central, the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western, the Lehigh Valley, the Buffalo and Susquehanna, the Toronto, Hamilton and Buffalo, the Michigan Central, the West Shore and the Grand Trunk railroads are complained of in a petition filed with the State commission by 100 citizens and taxpayers of Buffalo. The facilities for both passengers and freight are declared to be antiquated and in need of reconstruction and inadequate for a city of Buffalo's size and inferior to New York Central stations at Albany and Schenectady.

SENATOR RAINES FOR HUGHES. Says Any Man Falsely Pretending to Be for Him is a Coward and a Sneak.

ALBANY, Feb. 28.—For the first time this session State Chairman Timothy L. Woodruff and Senator John Raines had to-day what might be called a conference.

They met in the Lieutenant-Governor's room and talked over the legislative situation. Senator Raines was a guest at Mr. Woodruff's weekend party at his camp in the Adirondacks last week. In an interview following the conference Senator Raines strongly endorsed the Hughes Presidential boom.

"Any man who goes to the Republican national convention pretending to be for Hughes but not actually for him is a coward and a sneak, he said.

"The coming Republican State convention to him is a declaration for Hughes for President and will send a delegation to Chicago that will support him with determination. No other course will be considered for a minute. The voters of the State are accustomed to make their mark in the Republican column as for Hughes! The party leaders can't fail to recognize this. The people are earnestly for Hughes; that if he recommends a certain thing they are for it and they may not know anything about it either. They don't care a rap about the evidence. If Hughes favors it that's enough.

"The party leaders, I understand, are willing that Hughes should select the delegates at large. I hope that indicates his choice. They will be selected."

TO HURRY ADJOURNMENT. Legislative Leaders Planning to Get Away on Friday, April 10.

ALBANY, Feb. 28.—The Republican legislative leaders are planning final adjournment for Friday, April 10, in view of the fact that the State convention to name national delegates is to convene in New York city on April 11.

The only thing which will prevent the adjournment on that date will be the failure of the Financial Committee of the two houses to get legislation for the support of the State government for the ensuing year in shape for passage by that time. The prospects for the passage of legislation covering any of the main recommendations contained in the Governor's message are so dim as to be undecipherable.

Hamm's Insurance Bill Signed. ALBANY, Feb. 28.—Gov. Hughes to-day signed Assemblyman Hamm's bill amending the Armstrong insurance laws to permit the Mutual Life to participate in the reorganization of the Third Avenue Street Railway in New York.

The Chamberlains Off for Cannes. Special Cable Dispatch to THE SUN.

OBITUARY. Tom Cobb King, a well known metallurgist and a member of a noted family, died on Thursday night at his home, 66 Walnut street, East Orange, N. J., of appendicitis. Mr. King's ancestors were prominent in the South. He was born on the old King estate at Marion, Ala., in 1865 and was the son of Porter King, who was a colonel in the Confederate army. His grandfather, Gen. E. D. King, fought in the war of 1812, and a cousin of his father, W. B. King, was a prominent figure in the war of 1861 in the administration of Franklin Pierce. His grandfather on his mother's side was Judge J. M. King, the first Chief Justice of Georgia. Several other relatives of King were prominent in the first half of the century. Mr. King was a graduate of Howard College in Alabama and a member of the American Institute of Mining Engineers in different parts of the world. He had lived in East Orange for two years. Mr. King had made several inventions in connection with mining machinery and processes, and had invented a process for separating iron ore and another for reducing nickel. His wife and a son survive him.

The Rev. Peter Catalan of East Newark, N. J., died at the Emergency Hospital in Washington yesterday from the effects of cerebral hemorrhage. He had been on a trip South, returning home in the afternoon, when he was struck by a train. He was stopped off there for a brief visit. Father Catalan was born in Maculone, Italy, thirty-seven years ago and was ordained to the priesthood at Caserta when he was 24 years old. For some time he served churches in Naples and later went to Africa, where he was engaged in missionary work. Coming home he was used by the City National Bank. He was widely known for his extensive charities. His wealth is estimated at $100,000. He is survived by three children, William E. Burham, Mrs. Henry Henshaw and Mrs. John Adams Ten Eyck, all of Bridgeport.

Frederick Dose, an importer of French china and a member of the Crocker Board of Directors, died yesterday at his home, 289 McDonough street, Brooklyn, in his sixty-third year. He leaves a widow, son and two daughters.

One Day's Rent Free! Today, Saturday, Feb. 29. Smoke on the Landlord!

The landlord pays half for what you buy today. This is the way of it: In every year except Leap Year there are 365 days, and on a basis of 365 days we figure our rent charge. Our annual outlay for this item alone is $2,550,000 for the chain of United Cigar Stores operated from Coast to Coast.

That's a charge of about $7,000 a day for rent. This year we save every cent of one day's rent—it's Leap Year you see, and on that reckoning February has an extra day—the 29th, today. All over the country United Cigar Stores are open for business, and the rent charge of $7,000 is wiped off the books.

It's clear gain to us—we give it to you. How? By selling today boxes of DUKE SAVOY Perfecto Superiores at $1.59—worth nearly double. (By the box only). A once-in-four-years price.

Today we give you in profits $7,000 which we save in a day's rent.

Nobody loses a penny by the transaction, but it keeps money in the pocket of every smoker.

Just thank your lucky stars that Leap Year has come around again. This time the benefits are shared—the ladies don't get them all. Ever since the calendar was straightened out by tacking on a twenty-ninth day to February, Leap Year has never taken proper account of the men. It has simply been an open season for the husband hunters.

But the men are in the running this Leap Year. They smoke on the landlord.

Our good friends the landlords—the Astors, the Fullers, the Ehrets, the Rhinelanders, the Cheesebroughs, and all the others who own the choice corners and adjacent locations, to whom the United Cigar Stores Company pays tribute, are perhaps "in bad" today—but they accept the inevitable and say, "Smoke on us."

That's the idea—smoke on the landlord. Smoke DUKE SAVOY Perfecto Superiores at $1.59 per box.

9,000 Boxes of cigars worth nearly double the price for $1.59 today.

DUKE SAVOY is the brand—Perfecto Superiore size—price box of 25, $1.59—and the cigars are choice.

We expect to sell an awful lot of cigars at this profit-off price today—many times more than would be covered by our sacrifice of one day's rent.

We feel we can afford to because in addition to the $7,000 rent we save our thousands of clerks are working without extra pay today—are glad to do it to co-operate with us in carrying out this Leap Year Sale.

Our men are satisfied to get their share in the commissions they earn. So you can have all the cigars at this Leap Year day price that can be carried away.

But the price is by the box and for today only—not a minute longer. The chance passes like the 29th of February itself.

It's a fleeting opportunity—grasp it. DUKE SAVOY—remember the name.

The cigar is the Duke Savoy Perfecto Superiore, 25 in a box. Today $1.59.

The DUKE SAVOY Perfecto is a 10c. cigar—looks like it and smokes like it.

The DUKE SAVOY is an Havana—and it smokes as an Havana should, with the delightful aroma of Havana tobacco.

Skilled workmen make the DUKE SAVOY Perfecto Superiores—look at the cigars—you will see how beautifully they are modelled. They are certainly beauties.

A generous size—5 inches long, and nearly as round as a man's thumb. Big smoke.

Today by the box only—$1.59 for 25.—DUKE SAVOY Perfecto Superiores.

Wounded on Cohalan's Name. John F. C. McCarthy of New Brighton, Staten Island, who used the name of Daniel F. Cohalan and other Tammany men to get money on bad checks, was sentenced yesterday by Judge Foster of General Sessions to four years and three months in Sing Sing.

SPECIAL NOTICE. Only One "BROMO QUININE," that is Luxative Bromo Quinine Cures a Cold in One Day, Grip in 3 Days.
