BOARD OF ESTIMATE SPLIT

THE MAYOR AND METZ ALONE IN OPPOSING APPROPRIATIONS.

Borough Presidents and McGowan Line Up Against Resolution to Repeal Recent Authorizations—New Brooklyn Water Supply Scheme Advanced.

The Board of Estimate is no longer the happy and harmonious family it was during the first years of Mayor McClellan's administration. It was made plain yesterday that an understanding exists between the borough presidents and the President of the Board of Aldermen to fight against the influence which the Mayor and the Comptroller have hitherto exercised over the board.

Borough Presidents Ahearn of Manhattan and Haffen of the Bronx blame the Mayor for prompting the investigations by the Commissioner of Accounts. President McGowan of the Board of Aldermen, who will be the Tammany candidate for Mayor next year, is not so friendly with Mayor McClellan as he has been, and President Gresser of Queens and President Cromwell of Richmond think that they can get more for their boroughs by standing in with the opponents of the administration.

WASHINGTON, June 26.—That a determined effort will be made to keep the colored voters of the country in line for Taft and Sherman is indicated in a movement that has just been started by prominent negro Republicans. Its purpose is to make an active campaign among negroes in the States where the vote of negroes is the balance of power to the end that the race shall not be weaned from its time honored political affiliations.

HEARST CONVENTION PLANS.

Will Nominate at Chicago No Matter What Is Done at Denver.

Meivin G. Palliser, the member of the executive committee of the Independence party, who is really in charge while William E. Hearst is in Europe, said yesterday that the Independence party at its convention in Chicago on July 27 and 28 would put a ticket of its own in the field.

CONSPIRACY, WIFE CHARGES

MRS. BADOUINE SAYS SHE WAS TRAPPED WITH A MAN.

Unnamed Lawyers Accused—She Wants Her Alimony Increased From $250 a Month to a Third of Her Husband's $85,000 a Year—May Go to Jerome.

Mrs. Mai Alden Badouine, wife of John F. Badouine, who is suing her for absolute divorce, accused Justice Blanchard yesterday in the Supreme Court for additional alimony pending the determination of her husband's suit and a counter suit she has filed, in which she alleges that he was guilty of wrongdoing with a Mrs. Genevieve Mann. She is now receiving $250 a month alimony and got $750 counsel fees.

Mrs. Badouine, who was a Miss Chatterton, was 17 years old when she met and married Mr. Badouine, then a widower, declares that her allowance is insufficient in view of the fact that her husband has an income of $85,000 a year and has two automobiles, eight servants and a yacht. The Marjory, his butler and the captain of the yacht getting the same amount she receives.

Moses A. Grossman, counsel for Mrs. Badouine, said that she was the victim of a conspiracy in which three young lawyers figured, whom he would refer to as "H.," "L." and "Z." He said that as a result of telegrams, letters and other messages which Mrs. Genevieve Mann sent to Mr. Badouine a separation agreement was drawn up, in which the wife received $250 a month. Then she went to live at the Bevan House, said the lawyer, and there in 1907 met a Mrs. Emory, who made herself very agreeable, and then Mr. "Z," one of the conspirators, came along.

Spottswood D. Schenck Dead. Had Been a Recluse Since His Wife Got a Divorce.

Spottswood Danridge Schenck, who died on Thursday night in his room at the Woodcock Hotel, Lakeview, Conn., was once well known as a broker in Wall street and with his wife, Mrs. Ethel Morgan Schenck, was prominent in society both here and in Newport. But years ago, following his wife's divorce from him, Mr. Schenck became a recluse and his latter years had been passed entirely without the knowledge of what was once a host of friends. He was 60 years old.

While he was living at the Lakeview Hotel Mr. Schenck had no children, spoke no English and was a recluse. He was a native of New York and had graduated from Columbia University after having gained fame as an athlete and entered Wall Street as a broker.

Mr. Schenck married Miss Effie Morgan, daughter of the late Edward D. Morgan, for a few years Mrs. Schenck and her husband entertained on a considerable scale. When their daughter Natalie was a very small child the Schencks separated and subsequently Mrs. Schenck got a divorce.

Mrs. Schenck continued to be prominent in Newport and in New York. She was associated with the Oxnard company in the West and returned to New York to become secretary and treasurer of the company. Her residence was at a comfortable fortune.

Mr. Schenck married Miss Effie Morgan, daughter of the late Edward D. Morgan, for a few years Mrs. Schenck and her husband entertained on a considerable scale. When their daughter Natalie was a very small child the Schencks separated and subsequently Mrs. Schenck got a divorce.

Justice Blanchard said that if the statements made by Mr. Grossman were true the attention of the District Attorney should be called to the matter. He said he thought Mr. Ely, as Assistant District Attorney, would give the matter his attention.

Decision was reserved on the application. RICHMOND BALLOTS MISSING. County Clerk Told to Bring Them or a Good Excuse.

C. Livingston Bostwick, the County Clerk of Richmond, informed Justice Lambert yesterday that he and his men had been unable to find the envelopes containing the 203 void and protested ballots from the forty-three election districts of Richmond, which are needed to complete the Hearst-McClellan recount.

He was sure that the envelopes were returned to a closet in his office after Justice Dickey canvassed them two years ago. Justice Lambert advised him to be in court by 10 o'clock on Monday morning either with the ballots or a good excuse.

The Hearst gain on the count of the forty-three Richmond boxes yesterday was six votes, bringing his total gain up to 569 votes, defeating Mayor McClellan's plurality of 2,985.

WHITTRIDGE OBDDURE.

Westchester People Plead in Vain for Five or Eight Cent Fare to New York.

Major Benjamin Howe, Corporation Counsel Bell and Joseph H. Wood of Mount Vernon, who were selected as a committee at a mass meeting held in that city, and J. Addison Young, receiver of the Westchester Electric Railway, held a conference with Receiver Whittridge of the Union Railway Company at Mr. Whittridge's office in New York yesterday afternoon in reference to the abolishing of the transfer system between the two companies.

The Westchester Electric Railway Company operates in Westchester county and in the Bronx from the Mount Vernon line to Williamsbridge. From Williamsbridge to 128th street the system is operated under the name of the Union Railway Company. The Union company proposes to charge five cents from the Hudson River to Williamsbridge and from that point to any place in Westchester county an additional fare will be required. The trolley people also abolished its three cent transfer to the elevated railway yesterday despite the protest of the people of Westchester. The proposed abolishing of the transfer system affects 3,000 people daily and about 75,000 on Sundays.

The Mount Vernon delegation protested vigorously before Receiver Whittridge yesterday, but it was of no use. Mr. Whittridge said that after August 1 his company under the recent decision of Judge Lacombe will demand a five cent fare over its own route and will not accept transfers from any other company.

Joseph H. Wood, who represented the citizens of Mount Vernon, suggested that Receiver Young of the Westchester Electric Company lease the tracks of the Union Railway Company from its terminal at Williamsbridge to the Bedford Park elevated station and the subway terminal at 177th street and Third avenue, so that the people of Mount Vernon, Pelham, New Rochelle and Yonkers might reach these junctions for a single fare. Mr. Whittridge thought this suggestion a good one, but Mr. Young objected because he did not think his company could stand the additional expense of leasing without increasing its income. Nevertheless he will investigate the suggestion thoroughly and report next week.

DENY SHOOTING AT BALLOON. Vermonters Plead Not Guilty to Charge of Trying to Kill Glidden.

BATTLEBORO, Vt., June 26.—William Murphy and Charles Bigeman were arraigned in the local court to-day on a charge of assault with intent to kill upon Charles J. Glidden of Boston while the latter was in a balloon 2,900 feet above Battleboro last Friday evening. According to two rifle shots were fired at the balloon in Boston, in which were Mr. Glidden and Leo Stevens, and the police officers that the men arrested were in the shooting.

Wilford French, who lives at the farm with Bigeman and Murphy, the authorities assert, has made statements which direct suspicion against the accused. According to the police, French said that Murphy did the shooting and that he took the rifle from the alleged assailant after two cartridges had been fired.

Both prisoners deny all knowledge of the affair and say they can prove their innocence. Vermont counsel secured a postponement of the hearing until to-morrow afternoon, when he said his clients would be ready to stand trial. Mr. Glidden has been ordered to appear in court as a witness.

He was caught in the machinery while attaching a pulley on a revolving shaft, less than two feet from the floor, and his body was terribly mangled. Francis McMahon, the superintendent of the works, was arrested on a charge of criminal negligence.
