

FORAKER WON'T GRAB TAFT

SENATOR'S SECRETARY OF TOWN WORD THAT HE IS OUT OF DENVER.

Was invited to Notification on Taft's Suggestion... Not Likely to Speak at Ohio Campaign Opening...

CINCINNATI, July 25.—Senator Joseph Benson Foraker will not attend the Taft notification here next Tuesday...

"DEAR SIR: I write to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 21st inst. addressed to Senator Foraker, inviting him to attend the ceremonies incident to the notification of William Howard Taft for the office of President of the United States on July 29, 1908, on account of absence from the State it will not be possible for him to be present."

"Thanking you for your kind remembrance of him, I remain, very truly yours, S. C. CHENOWETH."

The invitation which Senator Foraker has declined is said to have been sent indirectly by Mr. Taft himself. Two sets of invitations were sent out by the citizens' committee, one set to the United States on the States regardless of their political opinions, and the other set upon the suggestion of the candidate himself or his advisers.

Ohio Republicans will tell you that Foraker wants peace as a matter of self-preservation, at least until after the Legislature is elected. That may be true, but things don't look very promising in the emergency line just now, and there may be some dynamite in the meeting of the Republican State central committee here on Monday.

One of the things that will probably come up at that meeting will be the question of speakers at the opening meeting of the campaign in Youngstown on September 5. Gov. Hughes has already accepted an invitation to deliver the chief address of the occasion, but there is a difference of opinion as to whether Senator Foraker is going to be there.

The State central committee, it seems, reserves the right to name the speaker for the opening meeting of the campaign, but somebody down at Youngstown, it is said, went ahead and invited Senator Foraker anyway.

The question now is: Will the State central or executive committee send Mr. Foraker an invitation? The belief here now is that some sort of assurance will be demanded from Senator Foraker beforehand that he will not attack the Roosevelt policies. Republicans here point out that it would not be a very encouraging opening of the Ohio campaign to have Senator Foraker get up and make a speech such as he made before the Chamber of Commerce in this city two weeks ago. It not only would be discouraging, it would be embarrassing to Mr. Taft.

The Chamber of Commerce speech was shock enough for one campaign to the Republicans who attended. The purpose of the chamber dinner was to celebrate in a non-political way the return of prosperity. Senator Foraker got up and told them practically that there was no real prosperity and that there would not be any as long as the Roosevelt policies against the railroads were in force.

Mr. Taft himself will attend the meeting of the State central committee, but probably will not be there when the question of the Youngstown meeting is up. Mr. Taft intends to outline to the committee his plans for the campaign in Ohio and to get from the committee a list of their views on the conditions in the different parts of the State.

Through the presence of Gov. Wilson of Kentucky and ex-Gov. Bradley of the State of Ohio, the committee will meet Tuesday the Taft managers hope to wipe out the ill feeling between the two men and put Kentucky in line for a Republican victory again. The chairman of the notification committee has received a letter from Mr. Bradley asking him to assure Mr. Taft that he is for him and that he will do everything possible to promote his candidacy in Kentucky.

Bradley is one of the men who went away from Chicago deeply resenting the Hitchcock steam roller and the Wilson delegates were thrown out and the Wilson delegates were seated. The Bryan Democrats have been counting a good deal on this split in the Republican ranks to keep Kentucky safe in the Democratic column.

Some interesting answers have been received by the citizens' committee to invitations sent out by Democratic Governors. But first a word about this general plan of inviting all the Governors. Practically the entire program at notification, so far as the local celebration is concerned, is to be non-political. Some of the most prominent Democrats in the city are taking the lead in the invitation. The Republicans, however, wanted the Governors of Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky invited. They are all Republicans, and the Democrats allowed that that would lead too much of a partisan air to the proceedings. They compromised by inviting the Governors of all the States.

Judson Harmon, the Democratic nominee for Governor of Ohio, regretted that he was unable to accept because of serious illness in his family. Gov. Folk of Missouri regretted that his other engagements would prevent him from attending. Gov. Smith of Georgia appreciated the honor, but the duties of his office would detain him. B. H. Comer, Governor of Alabama, also was duly appreciative. He hoped that the occasion would be successful, and he added: "Mark you, I want to see Mr. Bryan elected with the least possible damage to Mr. Taft, for we like him."

Gov. Glenn of North Carolina said that it would give him great pleasure as a citizen, although not a politician, to see Mr. Taft elected, but he had a high opinion of his ability and qualifications. He regretted, however, that he could not be present, because he is in Quebec as a representative of the United States at the celebration there.

Gov. Fort of New Jersey, a Republican, would like to attend, but he cannot get away from camp at Sea Girt.

Mr. Taft was pretty tired after his trip from New York. It was 1:35 o'clock in the afternoon when he got in and he spent the remainder of the day resting, except for an automobile drive in the evening.

The trip to Cincinnati from New York was practically without incident. Mr. Taft traveled in the Pullman to meet him at the station in Utica, but when he heard that his train did not reach there until 11:50 he con-

HEARST REPEATS HIS REFUSAL

WON'T RUN FOR PRESIDENT—OFF TO CHICAGO TO BE SEEN.

William R. Hearst arrived from Europe yesterday on the Lucomia and went on to Chicago, where the Independence party will hold its national convention to-morrow.

Mr. Hearst traveled on the Twentieth Century Limited and when he reaches Chicago this morning he will be in conference with Western leaders of his organization who are awaiting him. It is known that most of these leaders intend to urge him to run for President himself if the Independence party is to make any kind of a show, but he says he won't do it.

Clarence J. Shearn, Arthur Brisbane, Mrs. Hearst and two stenographers went to Chicago yesterday with Mr. Hearst. Before he boarded the train Mr. Hearst said that he would not consent to take the nomination of the Independence party for President. "I have stated that under no circumstances would I accept the nomination and I intend to abide by that statement."

One of the reporters asked him if his refusal to run for President would be the Democratic nomination in 1912. Mr. Hearst replied: "You have been dipping into my past for a long time, since, and now you are trying to look into my future. If you can work it out it is something more than I can do."

Mr. Hearst refused to talk on political matters generally or to comment on the announcement that Gov. Hughes would be a candidate for renomination. Asked if he would support the platform of the Independence party, Mr. Hearst replied that the convention would have to decide. Mr. Hearst will be the temporary chairman of the convention and he said that in addition to answering his accumulated correspondence he would deliver a speech on the train the day he is to deliver to-morrow.

The delegates from this city to the convention will leave for Chicago at 10 o'clock this morning on a special train over the West Shore road. There will be about 125 delegates and members of the Independence League on the train, which will be met at the station at 10 o'clock by the chairman of the special committee of arrangements.

A SOCIALISTIC HURRAH Issued by Joshua Wanhope by Way of Accepting Nomination for Governor.

The letter of acceptance of Joshua Wanhope, the candidate of the Socialist party for Governor, was made public yesterday by the State committee of that party. The letter of Candidate Wanhope may be regarded as unusually brief for a Socialist, as it consists of about 13,000 words. After acknowledging the nomination he says:

I accept the task you impose on me without false modesty or undue estimation of my own abilities, but with the deep conviction that guides the entire Socialist movement in this State at the moment, that the class must be achieved by the working class itself. Steadily and surely is the conviction growing that in socialism alone is to be found the solution of our modern industrial problems.

It goes on to say that the people ought to know by this time that they have nothing to expect from the Republican or Democratic parties. The plutocrat, he says, is a man who has no other interest than the accumulation of wealth for himself and his family. He is a man who has no other interest than the accumulation of wealth for himself and his family.

TWENTY YEARS FOR WALKER

NEW BRITAIN BANKER, SHAVEN AND SHORN, BEGINS TERM.

Fleeced Guilty to Embezzling Nearly Half a Million and is Sentenced Within Three Hours—Thought to Have Told Detectives Where the Stolen Money Went.

HARTFORD, July 25.—In a cell in the State prison at Wethersfield to-night sits a shaven and shorn man of 62 years pondering over the twenty year sentence ahead of him.

Walker would recognize in the convict garbed and beardless prisoner William F. Walker, the former treasurer of the New Britain Savings Bank, which he robbed over a year ago.

Walker was sentenced to one from twenty years after he had pleaded guilty before Judge Milton H. Shumway of the Superior Court to four counts of an indictment alleging the embezzlement of more than half a million dollars worth of bonds from the bank.

Another indictment containing eight counts of forgery and still a third, alleging the embezzlement of $48,000 from the Connecticut Baptist Association, were not pressed to-day and it is therefore generally supposed that he has given some valuable information concerning the whereabouts of a portion of the stolen bonds or of the manner in which he lost them, if his tale about being tricked by two charpers who had made him an attraction and apparently sound business proposition to be true.

The announcement that he would plead guilty came early this forenoon after an extended conference with his son, his sister and her husband, Judge John Coats of New Britain, State Attorney Hugh M. Alcorn, George S. Dougherty, superintendent of a New York detective agency, and Noah S. Rogers, of the Merrill & Rogers, the New Britain Savings Bank's counsel in New York city.

After the brief trial, which lasted three hours, Detective Dougherty and Judge Rogers sat pumping Walker, who was in a steel cage in the basement of the Court Building, and everything tends to confirm the belief that he gave some useful information.

Few think that Walker will die outside of prison, for even allowing for four years time off for good behavior he will not live more than five years at his present term expires.

The court room, into which Walker was brought at 11 o'clock this forenoon, was crowded, but there were none but the mere curiosity. Each person admitted was interested in the case and carefully scrutinized the prisoner, who leaned his head on his hand to screen his face.

The reading of the indictment of five counts consumed about thirty minutes, and at its conclusion Walker muttered "guilty" to the charge of embezzling $470,000.

Judge Shumway then, according to the Connecticut statute for such cases, sentenced Walker on the first count to not more than five years in prison, and on the second, third and fourth counts to not more than five years, making altogether an indeterminate sentence of from one to twelve years. The fourth count was waived.

Walker was led back to the cage in which he had spent last night and was kept there under a fire of questions for two hours when an automobile conveyed him to the Wethersfield prison, which he reached at 3:15 o'clock. There he was stripped and bathed and received a prison shave. Then his whiskers were shaved off for the first time in many years and his hair was trimmed prison style.

To-morrow Walker may attend the prison services at 10:30 o'clock and rest the remainder of the day.

On Monday Dr. Fox, the prison physician, will examine Walker and ascertain for what work he is best fitted. Tuesday will be his first work day and he will probably be assigned to some light clerical task.

He managed to evade most of the snapshots men to-day and was visibly annoyed when he saw sketch artists in court waiting on him during the long time he was obliged to stand listening to the indictment. He did not look like a banker in court to-day, but he did appear to be in better advantage than last evening, when he arrived from the West. He slept well and this morning remarked to a guard: "Well, I guess it's about twenty years, then a pine box for me."

Walker's relatives from New Britain who visited him this morning supplied him with new underwear and clean linen, which improved his appearance.

Most of the bank's directors, including Walker's successor, Treasurer Edward N. Stanley, were in the court room, but the person he bowed to was Julius H. Pease, the New Britain man who identified him when he was captured at Ensenada.

The first time he was under arrest, he endeavored to draw his pistol and kill himself, and later on the way back to the coast he was caught uncooking a small plial of deadly poison.

Walker's wife, who was the only person who wrote to him at Ensenada, is in ill health and did not see her husband either last night or to-day.

WALDO WANTS RENOMINATION. Brooklyn Congressman Eager to Make Peace With Woodruff.

According to the gossip at Republican headquarters in Brooklyn Congressman George E. Waldo is so eager to go back to Washington as the representative of the Fifth district that he is ready to make an unconditional surrender to the party.

Woodruff, the State chairman, against whose leadership he made frequent open declarations of war within the last six months.

It was reported yesterday that Mr. Waldo recently called on Mr. Woodruff at the State headquarters in Manhattan and after expressing regret for past differences of opinion and promising future loyalty, the machine urged the State chairman not to make any further opposition to his renomination.

Mr. Woodruff, so it is said, merely informed Mr. Waldo that it was for the delegates to the convention in the Fifth district and not for him to determine as to the choice of a candidate.

It is the general opinion of the active political workers in the district that Mr. Waldo will fall to get a renomination.

WANTS TOM JOHNSON'S AID. Bryan Said to Have Offered Him Dought Committee Chairmanship.

HART NOT FOR HUGHES.

Sponsor for Gambling Bills Doesn't Favor Renomination.

UTICA, July 25.—Assemblyman Morwin K. Hart of this city, one of the sponsors for the Hart-Agnew anti-racetrack gambling bills and a confidential friend of Gov. Hughes, returned to-day from Woodruff's Adirondack camp, where he had been for two days. He declined to say when asked if there had been an anti-Hughes conference at Kamp Kill Kare.

Republicans of standing throughout the State, he said another guest of Chairman Woodruff, "are not in sympathy with the policies and the legislation of the Governor, and while there has been nothing done to antagonize his renomination, there is a feeling among many Republican leaders that his renomination should not be made, that it would endanger Republican success this fall because of the extreme policies of the Governor and that Republicans will refuse to support him on election day. The feeling in all sections of the State was canvassed by those who were present."

DID THEY MEET HITCHCOCK? Chairman Refused to Say a Word About Conference of Middle West Chiefs.

CHICAGO, July 25.—Republican State chiefs, representing eight Middle Western States, were scheduled to hold a conference with Frank H. Hitchcock, chairman of the Republican national committee, here to-day.

Maybe they did, and then maybe they didn't. Mr. Hitchcock was seen late to-night and was asked concerning the conference. He not only declined to say that a meeting had been held but expressed the fervent hope that the reporters would not speculate on the details of the alleged gathering.

From a roundabout way it was learned that four of the State chairmen attended, together with secretaries and representatives from eight States. As to what transpired at the gathering it must necessarily be speculation. Mr. Hitchcock positively declined to make any statement on the subject, and none of the present would say a word for fear of offending the mute chairman.

It had been expected that a detailed report of the "poll system," originated by William Hayward, State chairman of Nebraska, and adopted at the Colorado Springs gathering, would be considered. Mr. Hitchcock, however, refused any information on the subject, contenting himself with the statement that he had "nothing to say for publication."

Mr. Hitchcock did say that the Republican headquarters would not be located in the International Harvester Building. It is practically certain, however, that the Harvester Building, a structure owned by the Heyworth estate, will be used.

Mr. Hitchcock will leave Chicago to-morrow for Cincinnati to attend Tuesday at the Taft notification ceremonies.

Next week he will go to New York to confer with Taft headquarters for the Eastern territory. He will then return to Chicago, reaching here on August 10.

POKES FUN AT ROOSEVELT.

Robert Hunter Says the President Might Be Called a "Socialist Faker."

STAMFORD, Conn., July 25.—Robert Hunter, the rich Socialist and likely candidate for Governor of Connecticut in New York, poked fun at President Roosevelt in a speech here to-night.

"My observations lead me to believe that Mr. Roosevelt does not know the genus Socialist," he said. "He has acquired a lot of imaginative, fabulous lore that does not tally with the facts. What he says of Socialists partakes of the nature of pipe-dreams."

"The animal is not so monstrous as he thinks, nor so murderous, nor so inhuman, nor so stupid. The unheard of doctrines which he thinks it advocates, it does not advocate. He is wrong, and if Mr. Roosevelt does not watch out he may yet earn the opprobrious title, 'Socialist faker.'"

"I would suggest to Mr. Roosevelt that he invite to the White House—let the various breeds. He could learn the same study the habits of their aspirations and learn from them their doctrines. He might find that we are really not strange beasts, hairy and uncleanly, but that we are now I shall support Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Phelps Stokes and the Rev. Alexander Irvine also spoke.

THOMAS OSBORNE OUT FOR BRYAN

One of the Leaders of the Gold Democrats Says He Will Support the Ticket.

ALBANY, July 25.—Thomas M. Osborne of Auburn, the up-State Public Service Commissioner and one of the leaders of the New York Gold Democrats is out for Bryan in a public letter to Norman E. Mack, Democratic national committee man. In his letter Commissioner Osborne says in part:

"It is because I believe that a vote for the Democratic ticket would be a vote in favor of a return to sanity, to a moral way of looking at matters, national and international, because I see some hope of dealing effective blows at all forms of corruption that I shall accept my party's platform and candidates and cast my vote for Mr. Bryan. And as I opposed him frankly and openly before, so now I shall support him with equal frankness and sincerity."

"I can only regret that the New York convention has left the party in such a condition that it is not possible to make a remarkable exhibition of interest and energy among its members and a complete change in the present management of the party, that I can see hope of success in this State."

HERRICK AFTER DICK'S SEAT.

Ohio's Ex-Governor's Friends Say He Won't Go In for Foraker's Scalp.

CLEVELAND, July 25.—From the followers of former Governor Herrick comes the statement that his candidacy for the United States Senate will be kept in the background for the present. They say the chance of a northern Ohio man succeeding Senator Foraker of Cincinnati is slim.

There is much better chance for a man from the northern section to succeed Senator Dick of Akron, politicians say, and Herrick is said to be willing to wait. He believes he will not have so many rivals.

Charles P. Taft and Arthur I. Vorys are strong candidates for the Southern Senatorship. Taft has the money for a strong campaign, but Vorys has the loyalty of party leaders in all parts of the State and probably could get the Senatorship for the asking.

Some of Congressman Burton's friends think he has made a mistake in announcing himself a candidate for the Southern Senatorship. Herrick's men are sure he has made a mistake and predict his defeat. Herrick's maintaining of headquarters in Columbus in charge of O. K. Schimansky, his purchasing of newspapers and his close relationship with Republican leaders indicate that he has a Senatorship campaign under way.

PRESIDENT KEEPS CADET OUT

APPROVES ACTION OF AUTHORITY AT WEST POINT.

And the Eight Men Dismissed Can Get Back Only by an Act of Congress—Report Was Sent to Oyster Bay Before Secretary of War Wright Had Reviewed It.

OTSEGO FALLS, July 25.—President Roosevelt today approved the dismissal of the eight West Point cadets who were expelled recently from the West Point Military Academy for having. The cadets have appealed to the Secretary of War for reinstatement, but William Loeb, Jr., the President's secretary, announced this afternoon that since the President has set his approval to the findings of the court the dismissed cadets can be reinstated only by an act of Congress.

WASHINGTON, July 25.—President Roosevelt's summary dismissal of the eight West Point cadets has disclosed an unusual situation in the War Department. The report of the investigating board was received at the Department early last week while Secretary of War Luke E. Wright was in Tennessee and Gen. Robert S. Oliver, Assistant Secretary, was acting as Secretary of War. Gen. Oliver sent the records in the case to Oyster Bay for the action of President Roosevelt.

On his return from Chattanooga Secretary Wright found the eight cadets waiting in his office to ask him to disapprove the report recommending their dismissal from the academy. Gen. Wright seemed favorably disposed toward the cadets and promised to give the report careful consideration. On inquiry, however, he found that the report had been forwarded to Oyster Bay before he arrived. Gen. Wright therefore will be unable to review the case of the cadets, and all he can do is to issue formal orders dismissing them from the service. So far as the War Department is concerned the case is closed by the action of the President.

The dismissal of these cadets has brought out several points which are being discussed in army circles. The hazing law of 1901, passed by Congress as a result of the investigation of hazing at West Point, and the unusual case of the guilty of hazing should be summarily dismissed. The use of the words "found guilty" according to the view of some experts on military law is not correct. The President intended that dismissals should follow conviction by court-martial. In the present case, however, a court-martial was not convened to try the accused cadets. An investigating board, composed of Capt. Morton F. Smith, senior instructor of infantry tactics; Capt. Charles F. Sumner, senior instructor of artillery tactics; and Capt. George S. Simonds of the Second Infantry, who is now on duty at the Military Academy, gathered all the evidence against the cadets and unanimously recommended their dismissal. This report was approved by Col. Hugh L. Scott, Superintendent of the Military Academy.

The people authority rests with the President to dismiss cadets from the Military Academy. Unlike commissioned officers, the Senate does not confirm appointments of cadets to the academy, and the President's power of dismissal is absolute.

The dismissal of these cadets is similar in many respects to the discharge without honor of the cadets of the Twenty-fifth Infantry, colored, for alleged participation in the riots at Brownsville, Tex., in August, 1906. In both cases the dismissal was based on the report of investigating officers and not as a result of a court-martial. The cadets, however, unlike the colored infantrymen, admitted that they were guilty of the offense charged.

TREASURER'S A THIEF.

W. R. Hutchings Says He Knows Who Took Ring From His Dead Father's Finger.

CENTER MORICHES, L. I., July 25.—A notice was posted in the post office here to-day and will also be printed in the Record on Tuesday signed by W. R. Hutchings, whose father and stepmother and their little daughter were killed in an automobile by a Long Island train on July 10.

The notice says: "If the man who took my father's ring from his finger on July 10 does not return it some time on or before August 1 I will swear out a warrant for his arrest, as I have evidence which will secure his conviction."

The notice attracted a good deal of attention and comment here to-day and much speculation was indulged in as to what Mr. Hutchings knew about the theft. At the time Mr. Hutchings' father was carried from the scene of the accident a ring valued at about $400 was missed from one of his fingers and an advertisement was inserted in the papers for its return saying that no questions would be asked. The response was received and the son has been searching diligently ever since to trace it and it is believed here that he has a clue to its whereabouts. Mr. Hutchings lives at Westfield, N. J. He has refused to comment on the matter and will add nothing to what is in his notice.

VAN RENSSLAER FREE.

Man Who Threatened His Mother is Declared Neurotic, but Not Insane.

John A. Van Rensselaer, who was arrested on Tuesday for sending a threatening letter to his mother, Mrs. John King Van Rensselaer, and who afterwards was sent to the observation ward at Bellevue Hospital, was paroled in the Tombs police court yesterday.

Detective Wilbur, who took the young man from the Tombs to the court, also took a letter from M. G. Gregory to Magistrate Corrigan. Dr. Gregory wrote that Van Rensselaer is constitutionally neurotic, but not insane.

"This type of person under stress, difficulties, reverses and intemperance becomes at times practically irresponsible," the doctor said. "The patient is a sane man for Van Rensselaer, asked the Magistrate to parole his client, promising that his friend Lawrence Lee would take him into the country for a rest. The request was granted and Van Rensselaer left the court room in cheerful spirits."

Found Dead Man in Harlem Woods.

Adolph Zerner of 197 Naagie avenue and Julius Peterson of 187th street in Brooklyn were found in the woods between Broadway and St. Nicholas avenue at 187th street yesterday the body of a man lying across the path. A revolver was in the right hand and a bullet hole in the right temple.

In two pocket books were 34 cents and eighteen one cent stamps. The man was fairly well dressed, was 5 feet 8 inches high, about 28 years of age, had curly hair and was smooth shaven.

MARMOLA.

Slim Woman Wins

"Thinner is feminine power. Granted. The 'thinner' one is the more stylish," say the dressmakers. Then to be pert and attractive as a femme fatale, one must be a female. This would have been bad news for the fat woman, a year ago, but to-day she is a different creature. The prospect is not so terrible. Dieting and exercising that failed her before can be dispensed with, for now she has Marmola's Casarett's Food Tablets, an effective quantity of which costs only 75 cents, to fall back on. As these have reduced thousands of women all over the United States without causing wrinkles, stomach distress, or the least interference with one's habits, she feels tolerably sure of success. A tablet after meals and at bedtime, in all most fat folks find necessary to take of a pound a day.

All first class druggists are familiar with and fill the following prescription, viz.: 15 grains Marmola's Food Tablets, 15 grains Fluid Extract Casarett's Food Tablets, 15 grains Simplex, and as these tablets are an exact duplicate of this famous receipt, they may, of course, be used with entire confidence. They are made by Marmola Co., Detroit, Mich., and are identical with the celebrated prescription given above in every particular except form.
