GOLF.

Meeting This Week—Merion Added Applicant for Women's Tourney.

Selecting places for the championships and voting on the proposed amendments to the constitution probably will be the most important business to be transacted at the annual meeting of the United States Golf Association next Friday night at Sherry's.

This year's nominating committee has prepared a strong ticket if the disappointment over the non-retention of Leighton Calhoun by the executive committee is overlooked.

The Merion Cricket Club is an added applicant for the women's championship.

Regarding the new rules from St. Andrews it will have to be decided at the meeting whether to accept them as a whole, or as in other years to appoint a committee to amend them for American players.

The new arrangement makes the code easier to comprehend, yet there are many points on which the committee should be asked to make a choice of the nominators.
