

HOUSE OF LUCK, THEY CALL IT

VARIABLE RECORD OF AN OLD NEW YORK BUILDING.

Adventure, Mad, Actors Have Found Fame or Fortune There—Romances in Its History—Here Many a Beginner Has Made Good. There is a strange old house in New York, a house of old castles. It is haunted by building genius. It is filled with the children of the unquiet spirit. It is especially noteworthy because of the work it has brought.

NOTABLES IN A CITY HOTEL

THE MAN WHO KNOWS EVERYBODY SIZES THEM UP.

Appearances Not Always Indicative of Occupations—Said by a Well-Known Resident—Men With Money, Business, and Last Fortunes—Calling the Bell. The man who knows everybody spent an afternoon last week in one of New York's biggest hotels, and as notable people passed to and fro he entertained a friend with this line of comment.

THREE SOLDIERS OF FORTUNE

WHO WON OUT IN LATIN AMERICAN REPUBLICS.

A Tennessee Locomotive Engineer Who Became a General in Honduras and a British Trade Made Admiral—Career of Kosterlitzky in Mexico. They had been discussing the situation in Nicaragua. The ex-consul had grown eloquent over the misdeeds of Central American dictators. His friend had mourned the shooting of Cinnon and Groce.

A CITY DANCING PROBLEM

CONDITIONS WHICH IT IS SOUGHT TO IMPROVE.

Dancing the Pastime Thousands of Self-Supporting Girls Must Have—Their Present Opportunities—Dance Halls to Which Objections Is Being Made. About 3 o'clock on a Sunday afternoon in a big uptown casino the matinee dancing crowd begins to gather. Pretty, well-dressed girls and well set up well-dressed youths make up the show far from unpleasing to look at, but you are vaguely uncomfortable.

TOMB FOR HIS RABBITS

SADA NUMATA APPREHENSIVE OF HIS FORTUNE BRITERS.

The sad tale of Sada Numata, with a delightful surprise dénouement, comes from the East. It is told in the idiom of the Yiddish. Sada Numata, who was called Sada, was a young man who was born in a village in Poland. He was a very poor man, but he was very honest and very hard working.

WEDDING RECEPTION

AT THE ABOVE ESTABLISHMENT.

JOHN ALOYSIUS KILGORE REQUESTS THE PLEASURE OF YOUR COMPANY AT HIS WEDDING RECEPTION. Now that is Suburbia to do? Mr. Kilgore has shown his public spirit, he has given hostages to his own and the community's fortune, he has proved his worth in Suburbia, he has shown the strength of the family trade.

NEW METHODS OF SOCIALISM

ENTERPRISES BASED ON A HINT TAKEN FROM THE FINANCIAL MAGAZINE.

From the Bakers' Weekly. In Europe, if we may believe such a writer and student as Prof. Brooks, the more advanced socialists have practically abandoned the old communism which is still groped after by the noisy socialists of America. They have turned to more practical and profitable things by developing the infinite forms of cooperative industry.