

STRIKE RIOT ON FERRYBOAT

WAGON WAGED FROM HOBOKEN TO THIS SIDE OF RIVER.

Striking Helpers of U. S. Express Company Swam on Ferryboat and Attacked the Strike Breakers. Trouble Nearly Settled by Delivers on the Other Side.

The business of the United States Express Company at its Lackawanna ferry platform in Ferry street, Hoboken, and at the Jersey Central Railroad platform at Communipaw, Jersey City, was seriously crippled yesterday by a strike of 300 or more wagon help...

The crew of the ferryboat was too small to take a hand in the affray, but word was sent to the captain in the pilot house as quickly as possible. The captain signalled to the Hoboken dock that the ferry help were being ferried across...

Assurance for the drivers was called from the express company a branch in West Twenty-third street, but the harness of all four teams was so badly cut that the horses could not pull the wagons from the boat...

Not long afterward Policeman Whelan saw a man cutting the harness of an express company team in Twenty-third street near the ferry and arrested him. He said he was Frank Ministri of 524 West Twenty-third street, West Hoboken.

The drivers have no complaint against the company and would declare a strike. They refused to take their wagons out, however, without their regular helpers whom they could trust, saying that they were all under bonds as drivers and couldn't afford to take chances of express packages placed in their care for safe delivery being stolen in transit by irresponsible persons.

A gang of strikers armed with stones and a railroad iron attacked a wagon in Jersey street far from the express press platform. After the bombardment these men were taken to the City Hospital with scalp wounds that needed stitching. They were James Astron of 34 Seventh avenue, Brooklyn; Michael Shanley, 742 Brook avenue, The Bronx; and William McNamara, 13 Bleecker street, Manhattan.

The Laker, a member of 186 Eldridge street, Manhattan, went to the express platform in the afternoon to look for a truck and somebody hit him on the head with a brick. He was sent to St. Vincent's hospital.

James Holmes, 19 years old, of 132 West Avenue, Hoboken, was arrested near the Hoboken line yesterday on a charge of striking a policeman. He was found guilty and sentenced to the City Jail.

DR. BUMPUS TO RETURN. Museum Men Say There's Been No Clash. Dr. Dean Resigned Last May.

Although it was admitted at the American Museum of Natural History yesterday that Dr. Bashford Dean had resigned from his position as curator of the department of ichthyology officials of the institution were inclined to make light of a story in circulation that a clash had occurred in the management of the museum.

Dr. Dean, who is professor of zoology at Columbia University and curator of arms and armor at the Metropolitan Museum of Art, was recently appointed to the National History Museum last May. Dr. Herman C. Bumpus, director of the museum, is taking a six month vacation, and Dr. Charles H. Townsend, director of the New York State Museum, is acting director. Dr. Townsend said yesterday that upon the return of Dr. Bumpus on December 15 he would resume his duties as director of the museum.

Dr. Townsend may possibly take a European trip to visit and study aquariums abroad before deciding upon the plans of the new building to be erected in this city.

POLICE TACKLE CHINATOWN

SIGHTSEEING AUTOS TOLD TO CUT OFF LATE TRIPS.

Driscoll Tells Managers That Things Visitors See Are Fringed Up Violent and Physically Dangerous, in Case of Tong War, to Have Them There.

Sightseeing parties from uptown looked at Chinatown from afar last night. Up to half an hour after midnight only one party had stepped within the boundaries of the village, and the seven members of this weren't allowed inside any of the buildings. It didn't appear to be so much because of police interference as because the guides told them that the police would shut them out if they tried to enter.

Those who run sightseeing automobiles which carry parties to Chinatown late at night were summoned to Police Headquarters yesterday afternoon to have a talk with Deputy Commissioner Driscoll about the situation in the quarter.

Deputy Commissioner Driscoll said that the situation in Chinatown was not as bad as the guides told them. He said that the police would shut them out if they tried to enter. Most of the parties merely stopped in Chatham Square and the lights of Chinatown were shown to them from that distance.

He said, too, that the sights that are ordinarily shown to visitors are not characteristic of the quarter. He told them that he believed most of them were for the purpose of showing them a street and who gamble for real stakes aren't doing it in public, he said, and the sights shown to tourists are made up for the occasion and do not do harm to the city's good name.

When the representatives of the five sightseeing automobile companies who were heard by the committee on Tuesday, Commissioner Driscoll said that it wasn't a good thing for their passengers to look in on Chinatown at night. He said that he believed most of them were for the purpose of showing them a street and who gamble for real stakes aren't doing it in public, he said, and the sights shown to tourists are made up for the occasion and do not do harm to the city's good name.

At the annual meeting of the Corporation of New York University yesterday the registrar reported that the enrollment of the university was 3,791 as against 3,648 last year, a gain of 143. As late enrollments brought the total last year up to 3,696, this indicates to the registrar a total enrollment for the year of more than 4,100 students.

The undergraduate College of Arts has 194 students as against 172 last year. The Medical College has 437, as against 422 last year, and the School of Commerce has 1,000, as against 977 last year.

William M. Kingsley, treasurer of the university, reported that the net property of the university is now $5,000,000, divided as follows: $1,100,000 permanent funds; $3,900,000 educational plant and other property. Gifts and bequests received since the last annual meeting amount to $633,000.

Up upon last night the sightseeing automobiles set out as usual. The barkers told passersby that the cars would go to Chinatown, but that some of the visits to Chinatown and the like would be left out because the police had shut down on them. But if you started away looking as though you wanted to see the current shows and spectacles, you couldn't they tipped you off that there was something good along the Bowery and they'd take you to it.

PLAQUE OF STREET WOMEN. Merchants in East 23d Street to Ask Relief of Police.

Merchants about Twenty-third street and Third avenue are getting up a petition to present to the chief of the Police Department asking for relief from the street walkers who are about the neighborhood nightly. So bold have these women grown it is said, that they sometimes follow men into stores.

These women parade the streets in great numbers, and their presence is a nuisance to the business of the neighborhood. Their business is really ruinous. We have complained to the police a good many times, but they do not seem to care. They are a nuisance to the business of the neighborhood.

DR. BUMPUS TO RETURN. Museum Men Say There's Been No Clash. Dr. Dean Resigned Last May.

Although it was admitted at the American Museum of Natural History yesterday that Dr. Bashford Dean had resigned from his position as curator of the department of ichthyology officials of the institution were inclined to make light of a story in circulation that a clash had occurred in the management of the museum.

Dr. Dean, who is professor of zoology at Columbia University and curator of arms and armor at the Metropolitan Museum of Art, was recently appointed to the National History Museum last May. Dr. Herman C. Bumpus, director of the museum, is taking a six month vacation, and Dr. Charles H. Townsend, director of the New York State Museum, is acting director.

FERRYBOATS NOT STEAMSHIPS

Wilson Says He Will Lead TO HE PARTY'S HEAD IN JERSEY IF ELECTED GOVERNOR.

Wants Voters Not to Vote for Him if They Want the Party Run by Other Names. Talks of Reorganization Before a Large Meeting in Camden.

CAMDEN, N. J., Oct. 24.—In the first of two speeches delivered at two political meetings to-night, meetings the like of which for size Camden had never seen, Woodrow Wilson said flatly to the audience that if he is elected Governor of New Jersey he will consider himself leader of the Democratic party in the State and will act as the party's leader. Mr. Wilson had been saying that the only way to get at great bodies of opinion was by public address. Then he said:

"I want to say, therefore, that I understand the present campaign to mean this: That if I am elected Governor I shall have to be elected leader of my party and shall have been elected Governor of all the people of the State in their interest only, using party coherence for that service. If the Democratic party does not understand it in that way then I want to say to you very frankly that the Democratic party ought not to elect me Governor. When I was approached with regard to the nomination for the Governorship I understood it to be distinctly represented to me that the purpose of those who asked my leave to use my name for that purpose was that I should be invited to take the leadership of the Democratic party. If they do not understand it they ought to withdraw the invitation on the eighth day of November."

"They will never do it," cried a man in the crowd. The audience had been listening in tense silence. At this point there came a ripple of applause. It was but a ripple, for every one in the theatre realized that Mr. Wilson had not finished. He went on:

"I am not claiming that I am qualified for leadership. That is not the point. But I am claiming that I did not seek the leadership and that I was asked to take it, but that I was asked to take it with the understanding that I was absolutely free from pledges and obligations of any kind. If you think I am a suitable leader and that my leadership will produce a reorganization take the leadership of the Democratic party. If they do not understand it they ought to withdraw the invitation on the eighth day of November."

He went on to say that he was not claiming that he was qualified for leadership. That is not the point. But I am claiming that I did not seek the leadership and that I was asked to take it, but that I was asked to take it with the understanding that I was absolutely free from pledges and obligations of any kind.

ETHICAL FORUM DEDICATED. F. M. Shepard Haps Roosevelt in New $200,000 Civic Meeting House.

A new civic forum was dedicated last night. It was provided by the society of Ethical Culture. Dr. Felix Adler, leader and aims to hold up ideas and ideals for New York and the nation. The dedication proclaimed it to have come from Mount Sinai and Mount Calvary and to exist for the brotherhood of man, but in the proclamation were some raps at Roosevelt.

The place is the new meeting house, costing $200,000, at Central Park West and Sixty-third street. Mayor Gaynor, who had hoped to be present, sent this letter:

DEAR DR. ADLER: I am pleased to attend the opening of your new meeting house and to speak on that occasion to your people. I had anticipated doing so with much pleasure. I am one of the many who have observed with interest and admiration the growth of your good work in this community and indeed throughout the whole country for many years by your broad religious and philosophical teachings. I regret to say that on account of my health I am unable to attend and I shall not be able to keep my engagement with you.

These present my good will to your people and when my voice is restored, if it be the will of Providence that it is to be restored, I will say a few words to those who attend your meeting house. I suppose that even you sometimes get discouraged and that you are not doing much for the benefit of your city and the good of the world. I suppose that you are not doing very much for the benefit of your city and the good of the world. I suppose that you are not doing very much for the benefit of your city and the good of the world.

MISS CANFIELD MARRIED. Daughter of Former Gambling House Man the Wife of a Salesman.

PROVIDENCE, Oct. 24.—Grace Martin Canfield, 17, daughter of Richard A. Canfield of this city, and Martin E. Hannan, 25, a traveling salesman, were married today in St. John's Church, Attleboro, after they had met and overcome some difficulties placed in their path by the law.

The young couple went to Attleboro about noon and applied to the town clerk to issue the license. The clerk was informed that it could not be granted owing to the youth of the bride to be unless the consent of one of her parents was obtained. The obstacle proved temporary and in a short time the couple returned, accompanied by the mother of the young woman, to the town clerk for consent to the marriage. After obtaining the license the party went directly to the rectory of St. John's Church, where the ceremony was performed by the Rev. Hannan, who is a resident of this city.

DRISCOLL AFTER CAR BOWDIES. His Activities Still Second Avenue Folks to Campaign of Arrests.

Deputy Commissioner Driscoll wrote a letter to the officers of the Interborough yesterday and called to their attention the increasing number of complaints of rowdiness on the Second Avenue elevated line. Shopkeepers especially complained that every night scores of men and boys were seen to loiter about the back platforms of trains and their heads and arms were thrust out of the windows.

FERRYBOATS NOT STEAMSHIPS

Wilson Says He Will Lead TO HE PARTY'S HEAD IN JERSEY IF ELECTED GOVERNOR.

Wants Voters Not to Vote for Him if They Want the Party Run by Other Names. Talks of Reorganization Before a Large Meeting in Camden.

CAMDEN, N. J., Oct. 24.—In the first of two speeches delivered at two political meetings to-night, meetings the like of which for size Camden had never seen, Woodrow Wilson said flatly to the audience that if he is elected Governor of New Jersey he will consider himself leader of the Democratic party in the State and will act as the party's leader. Mr. Wilson had been saying that the only way to get at great bodies of opinion was by public address. Then he said:

"I want to say, therefore, that I understand the present campaign to mean this: That if I am elected Governor I shall have to be elected leader of my party and shall have been elected Governor of all the people of the State in their interest only, using party coherence for that service. If the Democratic party does not understand it in that way then I want to say to you very frankly that the Democratic party ought not to elect me Governor. When I was approached with regard to the nomination for the Governorship I understood it to be distinctly represented to me that the purpose of those who asked my leave to use my name for that purpose was that I should be invited to take the leadership of the Democratic party. If they do not understand it they ought to withdraw the invitation on the eighth day of November."

"They will never do it," cried a man in the crowd. The audience had been listening in tense silence. At this point there came a ripple of applause. It was but a ripple, for every one in the theatre realized that Mr. Wilson had not finished. He went on:

"I am not claiming that I am qualified for leadership. That is not the point. But I am claiming that I did not seek the leadership and that I was asked to take it, but that I was asked to take it with the understanding that I was absolutely free from pledges and obligations of any kind. If you think I am a suitable leader and that my leadership will produce a reorganization take the leadership of the Democratic party. If they do not understand it they ought to withdraw the invitation on the eighth day of November."

He went on to say that he was not claiming that he was qualified for leadership. That is not the point. But I am claiming that I did not seek the leadership and that I was asked to take it, but that I was asked to take it with the understanding that I was absolutely free from pledges and obligations of any kind.

ETHICAL FORUM DEDICATED. F. M. Shepard Haps Roosevelt in New $200,000 Civic Meeting House.

A new civic forum was dedicated last night. It was provided by the society of Ethical Culture. Dr. Felix Adler, leader and aims to hold up ideas and ideals for New York and the nation. The dedication proclaimed it to have come from Mount Sinai and Mount Calvary and to exist for the brotherhood of man, but in the proclamation were some raps at Roosevelt.

The place is the new meeting house, costing $200,000, at Central Park West and Sixty-third street. Mayor Gaynor, who had hoped to be present, sent this letter:

DEAR DR. ADLER: I am pleased to attend the opening of your new meeting house and to speak on that occasion to your people. I had anticipated doing so with much pleasure. I am one of the many who have observed with interest and admiration the growth of your good work in this community and indeed throughout the whole country for many years by your broad religious and philosophical teachings. I regret to say that on account of my health I am unable to attend and I shall not be able to keep my engagement with you.

These present my good will to your people and when my voice is restored, if it be the will of Providence that it is to be restored, I will say a few words to those who attend your meeting house. I suppose that even you sometimes get discouraged and that you are not doing much for the benefit of your city and the good of the world. I suppose that you are not doing very much for the benefit of your city and the good of the world. I suppose that you are not doing very much for the benefit of your city and the good of the world.

MISS CANFIELD MARRIED. Daughter of Former Gambling House Man the Wife of a Salesman.

PROVIDENCE, Oct. 24.—Grace Martin Canfield, 17, daughter of Richard A. Canfield of this city, and Martin E. Hannan, 25, a traveling salesman, were married today in St. John's Church, Attleboro, after they had met and overcome some difficulties placed in their path by the law.

The young couple went to Attleboro about noon and applied to the town clerk to issue the license. The clerk was informed that it could not be granted owing to the youth of the bride to be unless the consent of one of her parents was obtained. The obstacle proved temporary and in a short time the couple returned, accompanied by the mother of the young woman, to the town clerk for consent to the marriage. After obtaining the license the party went directly to the rectory of St. John's Church, where the ceremony was performed by the Rev. Hannan, who is a resident of this city.

DRISCOLL AFTER CAR BOWDIES. His Activities Still Second Avenue Folks to Campaign of Arrests.

Deputy Commissioner Driscoll wrote a letter to the officers of the Interborough yesterday and called to their attention the increasing number of complaints of rowdiness on the Second Avenue elevated line. Shopkeepers especially complained that every night scores of men and boys were seen to loiter about the back platforms of trains and their heads and arms were thrust out of the windows.

FERRYBOATS NOT STEAMSHIPS

Wilson Says He Will Lead TO HE PARTY'S HEAD IN JERSEY IF ELECTED GOVERNOR.

Wants Voters Not to Vote for Him if They Want the Party Run by Other Names. Talks of Reorganization Before a Large Meeting in Camden.

CAMDEN, N. J., Oct. 24.—In the first of two speeches delivered at two political meetings to-night, meetings the like of which for size Camden had never seen, Woodrow Wilson said flatly to the audience that if he is elected Governor of New Jersey he will consider himself leader of the Democratic party in the State and will act as the party's leader. Mr. Wilson had been saying that the only way to get at great bodies of opinion was by public address. Then he said:

"I want to say, therefore, that I understand the present campaign to mean this: That if I am elected Governor I shall have to be elected leader of my party and shall have been elected Governor of all the people of the State in their interest only, using party coherence for that service. If the Democratic party does not understand it in that way then I want to say to you very frankly that the Democratic party ought not to elect me Governor. When I was approached with regard to the nomination for the Governorship I understood it to be distinctly represented to me that the purpose of those who asked my leave to use my name for that purpose was that I should be invited to take the leadership of the Democratic party. If they do not understand it they ought to withdraw the invitation on the eighth day of November."

"They will never do it," cried a man in the crowd. The audience had been listening in tense silence. At this point there came a ripple of applause. It was but a ripple, for every one in the theatre realized that Mr. Wilson had not finished. He went on:

"I am not claiming that I am qualified for leadership. That is not the point. But I am claiming that I did not seek the leadership and that I was asked to take it, but that I was asked to take it with the understanding that I was absolutely free from pledges and obligations of any kind. If you think I am a suitable leader and that my leadership will produce a reorganization take the leadership of the Democratic party. If they do not understand it they ought to withdraw the invitation on the eighth day of November."

He went on to say that he was not claiming that he was qualified for leadership. That is not the point. But I am claiming that I did not seek the leadership and that I was asked to take it, but that I was asked to take it with the understanding that I was absolutely free from pledges and obligations of any kind.

ETHICAL FORUM DEDICATED. F. M. Shepard Haps Roosevelt in New $200,000 Civic Meeting House.

A new civic forum was dedicated last night. It was provided by the society of Ethical Culture. Dr. Felix Adler, leader and aims to hold up ideas and ideals for New York and the nation. The dedication proclaimed it to have come from Mount Sinai and Mount Calvary and to exist for the brotherhood of man, but in the proclamation were some raps at Roosevelt.

The place is the new meeting house, costing $200,000, at Central Park West and Sixty-third street. Mayor Gaynor, who had hoped to be present, sent this letter:

DEAR DR. ADLER: I am pleased to attend the opening of your new meeting house and to speak on that occasion to your people. I had anticipated doing so with much pleasure. I am one of the many who have observed with interest and admiration the growth of your good work in this community and indeed throughout the whole country for many years by your broad religious and philosophical teachings. I regret to say that on account of my health I am unable to attend and I shall not be able to keep my engagement with you.

These present my good will to your people and when my voice is restored, if it be the will of Providence that it is to be restored, I will say a few words to those who attend your meeting house. I suppose that even you sometimes get discouraged and that you are not doing much for the benefit of your city and the good of the world. I suppose that you are not doing very much for the benefit of your city and the good of the world. I suppose that you are not doing very much for the benefit of your city and the good of the world.

MISS CANFIELD MARRIED. Daughter of Former Gambling House Man the Wife of a Salesman.

PROVIDENCE, Oct. 24.—Grace Martin Canfield, 17, daughter of Richard A. Canfield of this city, and Martin E. Hannan, 25, a traveling salesman, were married today in St. John's Church, Attleboro, after they had met and overcome some difficulties placed in their path by the law.

The young couple went to Attleboro about noon and applied to the town clerk to issue the license. The clerk was informed that it could not be granted owing to the youth of the bride to be unless the consent of one of her parents was obtained. The obstacle proved temporary and in a short time the couple returned, accompanied by the mother of the young woman, to the town clerk for consent to the marriage. After obtaining the license the party went directly to the rectory of St. John's Church, where the ceremony was performed by the Rev. Hannan, who is a resident of this city.

DRISCOLL AFTER CAR BOWDIES. His Activities Still Second Avenue Folks to Campaign of Arrests.

Deputy Commissioner Driscoll wrote a letter to the officers of the Interborough yesterday and called to their attention the increasing number of complaints of rowdiness on the Second Avenue elevated line. Shopkeepers especially complained that every night scores of men and boys were seen to loiter about the back platforms of trains and their heads and arms were thrust out of the windows.

Bloomington's Pretty Cretonne Boxes for the Boudoir. Covered with Artistic floral designs. Colors, pink, blue or yellow shadow effect. These boxes are well made, attractive as well as practical. To be had in sets, if desired matched design and color. This 5-Drawer Utility Cabinet, $1.25. This 3-Drawer Utility Cabinet 59c. 1,000 French Cretonne Glove or Handkerchief Boxes at 19c. 200 French Cretonne Scrap Boxes, with antique gold braid, at 49c. Comb and Brush Trays, glass lined, divisions for hair pins, hat pins, comb and brush $1.49. Photograph Frames, 25c for 2 pictures, 39c for 4 pictures. Box, size 14x7 inches, with two divisions for neckwear, laces, &c. Same box without divisions, 69c. Box for Gloves, same style as the box illustrated, 39c. Box for handkerchiefs, 39c. Box for Photographs, same style, 49c. BLOOMINGDALES', Lex. to 3d Ave., 59th to 60th St.

BROWN IS JELLINEK. Young Bohemian Let Go on Conditions That Keep Him From Returning. The case of "Otto Brown," 30 years old, a Bohemian artist who was arrested in New Brighton, Staten Island, last July on a burglary charge, came to trial yesterday before Judge Puskas in the Richmond County Supreme Court. Louis Boehm, the man's counsel, entered a plea of guilty on condition that the court suspend sentence and deport the prisoner, forbidding him ever to return to this country. The plea was accepted. The prisoner will remain in the Richmond county jail until Saturday, when he will be sent away on the steamship Columbia, bound for Trieste. The man's name is Jellinek. His father is a merchant in Prague, who is said to own a large leather business with branches in several countries. He said he explained that he was looking for a friend who he had been led to suppose lived in this house. He was arrested and held in $1,500 bail. He wouldn't send his father, who is 83 years old, for help. At the time of Jellinek's arrest he was living in a furnished room at 129 East Forty-sixth street. He said he had been sent to New Brighton to find a friend named Joseph Jankowsky, who was living there and that he required in a saloon at Jersey and Ferry streets and was told that he would find Jankowsky at the house where he was later arrested. There was also a charge against him of stealing a watch at Forty-sixth street on the same day, but nothing came of this charge. Killed by a Live Wire. NORWICH, N. Y., Oct. 24.—George Webb of this village, employed by the Bell Telephone Company as lineman, while at work at the top of a pole here this morning slipped and as he started fell grabbed hold of a live electric wire. Twenty-eight hundred volts passed through his body killing him instantly, his body hanging in midair until taken down by companions. An Expert will examine Your Feet FREE. For forty-seven years, at the same store, James S. Coward has studied remedial foot-needs. He is an expert in foot anatomy and shoe-craft. If you are troubled, or think you are troubled with: weak ankles, falling arch, "flat-foot," pain in the foot muscles, a bunion, callouses, or any ailment that can be corrected or relieved by proper footwear—have your feet examined, without expense to you, by James S. Coward. Mr. Coward's advice and the remedial help of the The Coward Shoe have enabled thousands, suffering from foot ailments, to walk again, in comfort. SOLD NOWHERE ELSE JAMES S. COWARD 264-274 Greenwich St., N. Y. (NEAR WARREN STREET) Mail Orders Filled - Send for Catalogue. The Sun Book Exchange. Advertisements of second hand books for sale or exchange or wanted will be inserted in THE SUN, Saturdays, at 20c a line seven words to the line, fourteen lines to the inch. Display type not allowed. Copy for advertisements under this classification must be received at THE SUN office not later than Thursday previous to Saturday of insertion. The Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. Y.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. Indigestion and dyspepsia are the most common and most distressing of modern diseases and are the cause of much ill health. If you are to get the proper nourishment from the food you eat it must be well digested and properly assimilated. Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is a form of food already digested, and when taken just before a meal stimulates the mucous surfaces and little glands of the stomach to a healthy action, causing a sufficient flow of the gastric juice to digest the food and it promotes perfect assimilation. If continued it will cure the diseased or weakened function by its tonic and stimulating effect. It also excites the flow of saliva for the digestion of starch, food preventing fermentation in the stomach and bowels. Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is sold in SEALED BOTTLES ONLY by all drug-gists, grocers and dealers or direct, $1.00 a large bottle. Look for the "Old Blend" on the label. Medical booklet containing rare common-sense rules for health and testimonials, also doctor's advice sent free to any one who writes. The Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. Y.