PATROL WAGON VISITS THREE MEDICAL INSTITUTES.

Patrol Wagon Visits Three Medical Institutes. Printed in Foreign Tongues and a Man Named Smith Has Been Responding to the Ads in 20 Languages.

Fourteenth street watched with approving enthusiasm yesterday morning as two patrol wagons and seven men took mail matter from the Hartmann Medical Institute at 201 East...

This is the second time that raiders have sallied forth from the Federal building in search of the men who advertise circulars in newspapers printed in foreign languages in this country.

Five prisoners were taken in yesterday's raids and locked up in Marshal Honck's office charged with a scheme to defraud, and Grand Jury subpoenas were served upon the employees of the various concerns.

Recently the Collins New York Medical Institute was raided by the Post Office people and Dr. Charles H. Ohly, who had been the author of several books written in Croatian offering to cure sundry ills, was arrested.

COP WHO SASSSED CROPSY. Patrolman Sherry Suspended and His Dismissal Recommended.

Patrolman William A. Sherry of the Rockaway Beach station, who admitted sending a letter to a newspaper containing severe criticisms of Mayor Gaynor, Police Commissioner Cropsy and City Magistrate and setting forth the alleged demoralization of the Police Department, had to surrender his badge, book of rules and patrol box keys yesterday after his trial for insubordination had been wound up before Deputy Commissioner Walsh at Brooklyn headquarters.

W. C. Murphy, his lawyer, who had been retained by the Patrolman's Benefit Association to defend Sherry, in a plea for leniency said: "Sherry is a splendid type of a manly man. In his enthusiasm for a particular cause anybody is likely to overstep the proper bounds."

Armed with warrants made out upon such evidence Inspector Kincaid headed inspectors Shanon, Reddy, Nolle and McDonough and McMillen, McQuinn, Upton, Farsallo and Santoro uptown and the callers stopped first at the Hartmann place.

At the Universal Medical Institute Reddy and Sharon went on with several anxious patients and met the clatter of about a dozen typewriters and were pounding away on the second floor. While the detectives were watching all the exits the inspectors sorted out Albert S. Del Gaudio, who they say is owner and proprietor, and Dr. William Taylor, prescribing physician. Del Gaudio refused to unlock the two safes that were in the office where he was arrested and to give his name. But he saw the uselessness of this in a short time and philosophically watched the seizure of his letters.

One prisoner, Dr. Leonard Landis, who the police say never was taken at the Vienna Medical Institute and here was held in $5,000 bail, which he was able to procure.

CANFIELD'S CLUBHOUSE SOLD. The Village of Saratoga Purchases It and the Grounds for $150,000.

SARATOGA, April 20.—The Canfield clubhouse and park, for thirty-five years one of the best known gambling places in America, was sold to-day by Mr. Canfield to the village of Saratoga Springs for $150,000. The famous property will become a public park and casino. The Canfield place is just across the street from the Congress Spring park, which the village recently purchased for $100,000 and with which it probably will eventually be merged.

Canfield bought the old Morrissey clubhouse fifteen years ago for $70,000 and immediately enlarged it, spending $200,000 on a restaurant, gardens and rare works of art. For several years business flourished, but with the coming of reform times Canfield had to close. For four or five years the place has been vacant and last year Canfield had all the gambling paraphernalia taken out and sent away.

The Saratoga clubhouse was built in 1877 by Honest John Morrissey and rapidly gained a worldwide reputation. Later Charles Reed and Albert Spencer were associated with Morrissey. It was during Morrissey's ownership that the famous rule excluding all Saratogans from playing there was put into effect. This rule was later adopted by Canfield. To-day's purchase does not only include the buildings and grounds but the furniture, carpets and rugs, for which Mr. Canfield paid large sums.

NOT GUILTY, SAY BARRETT. Counsel Says He Refused to Sign "Confession" of Haneroff Robbery.

Harry Barrett, who was arrested in connection with the theft of $85,000 worth of securities from Aaron Bancroft, pleaded not guilty yesterday before Judge Rosalys in Part I. of General Sessions to indictments charging him with robbery in the first degree and grand larceny in the first degree. He was remanded to the Tombs in default of $10,000 bail and his lawyer was given until Monday to change the plea if he so desired.

Richard E. Weldon, counsel for Barrett, said that his client had not signed the "confession" produced by Inspector Russell. In a talk with the inspector, Mr. Weldon said, Barrett had told of his acquaintance with Cy Yates, but had denied complicity in the robbery. When the report of the commissioner was put before him to sign Mr. Weldon said that before he signed it, saying some of the statements in it were false.

DEADLY DULL GAMBLING RAID.

Why Should Any One Halt to See Eight Derbied Clerks Arrested?

Most everybody who stopped off on his way to dinner to watch a raid on an alleged poolroom at 12 Stone street spoke harshly of the tameness of the affair in which eight prisoners were eased into patrol wagons and taken to Police Headquarters as quietly as if they were so many abattoir bound sheep.

He had twelve men with him, and as they went up to the second story of the four-story office building on Stone street, the block a way and in the rear of the Produce Exchange, they found the door to the left they were about to enter opened to permit the exit of a man who was going away in somewhat of a hurry and didn't see any reason for going back with the police, who took him with them nevertheless. So there was no need for axes.

In the loft were about 150 men watching a crap game. Quite a number of them were young clerks with flattened derbies and frightened hair and the checked suits to which the younger drinking set is prone. They were lined up, and in the sifting the man who had got the evidence against the place picked out eight for whom warrants with the titles John Banker, John Sheethanger, etc. had been issued.

On the wall of the room was a charter for the Hall White Social Club. The police found $100 in silver on the table, $700 in the pockets of Christopher Kennedy of 143 Sixth avenue, who was arrested, and $400 on William Klein of 1741 Amsterdam avenue, another prisoner.

The eight prisoners had to survey the Old Slip police station reserves holding back the crowd that had gathered when they stepped outside and into the patrol wagons, and they were all pretty well scared when they got to Headquarters. Not enough, however, to keep them from giving fictitious names. Two were held for pool selling and common gambling, three for pool selling and three for common gambling. According to the police one Tommy Wynn had been running the place for about a month.

The opening of the campaign by which the friends of the Brooklyn Y. W. C. A. hope to raise $400,000 within two weeks for the establishment of a home for working girls was marked by a dinner of more than six hundred covers last night in the Academy of Music in that borough.

Wilson Ignores Precedent. Holding Up Most of His Appointments Till Legislature Adjourns.

TRENTON, N. J., April 20.—Gov. Wilson has established another precedent in New Jersey by holding up practically all of his appointments requiring Senate confirmation until the last day of the session. The Legislature is scheduled to adjourn sine die some time to-morrow, but as yet the Governor has made scarcely more than a tenth of his appointments for the year.

Every one seemed anxious to get busy on the building fund, but there was a wild burst of applause when Horace J. Morse, chairman of the executive committee, announced that one-quarter of the desired sum had been subscribed early in the evening in four sums of $25,000 each.

Among the waitresses at the dinner, who were all volunteers to be among the younger members of the association, were Miss Isabel Ide, Miss Abbott, Miss Ruth Wardell, Miss Josephine Sutphin, Miss C. S. Hand, L. M. Brooks, David Porter, Warren S. Lee, Edward Banker, Woodruff Looming, E. P. Maynard, J. C. Klinek and J. E. Craighton.

FOR FORTY CITY MAGISTRATES. Bill Providing for Their Election by Boroughs Instead of by Districts.

ALBANY, April 20.—A bill of Assemblyman J. Levy, chairman of the Assembly Judiciary Committee, introduced to-day, amends the inferior criminal courts act of New York city by terminating on Dec. 31 next the terms of office of the present city magistrates in New York city and providing for the election of their successors. The new city magistrates are to be elected by boroughs instead of by districts within boroughs, as provided in the present act.

ALBANY, April 20.—The "International Agricultural Corporation" of New York to-day certified to the Secretary of State that it had increased its capital stock from $24,000,000 to $38,000,000. The certificate is signed by William N. Shaw, vice-president, and J. R. Floyd, assistant secretary.

FEAST OF THE HUGUENOTS

THEIR BLOOD NEEDED THESE DAYS, THEY HEAR.

The Rev. Dr. Birchhead, for One, Tells the Sons of France That Our Government Is Pretty Poor Most of the Time and It Is Because We Don't Care Enough.

Twelve choristers from Grace Church marched into the ballroom of Delmonico's last night and straight up to the dais where sat Col. William Jay, president of the Huguenot Society of America, presiding over its biennial dinner. Behind the youngsters came William Mitchell and John L. Merrill, each carrying a loving cup, and with them was Mrs. James M. Lawson, the society's secretary.

And then came a procession of flags, the banner that the choir boys were singing about, the Huguenot flag, and the flags of England, France, Holland, Germany, Switzerland and Italy borne by Col. J. Slocum, William C. Demorest, William D. Dutton, Oscar B. Ireland, Herbert Dupuy, Philip Rhineland, J. Morris Helfenstein and William B. Britton.
