

McMANIGAL SPURNS COUNSEL

REFUSES TO TALK WITH LABOR UNION LAWYERS.

Another Person Who Met "J. B. Bryce" Intimately Comes to See if McNamara is He—Alleged Kidnappers Not to Be Indicted Unless Evidence is Clear.

LOS ANGELES, April 28.—"I don't want to see you or Judge Hilton or any other attorney connected with the labor movement. We will let things take their course," said Orrie E. McManigal to Attorney Job Harriman today.

It is evident that he is going to seek advice from Burns and be guided by what the detective tells him to do.

Widely published "confessions" sent out of Los Angeles last night had been faked statements into which had been woven various circumstances related by McManigal.

John H. Baker, a clerk in the employ of the Giant Powder Company of Giant, Cal., where the explosive used to wreck the Times building was purchased last September, arrived in Los Angeles today and will take a look at James B. McNamara.

Baker delivered the 500 pounds of dynamite to the men on September 23 last, and they took it away in a launch. It is charged that James B. McNamara, passing under the name of J. B. Bryce, signed for the delivery of the explosive, Baker taking his signature.

Clarence Darrow is expected here on Monday. There seems to be no doubt that he is coming, despite denials he is said to have given out in Chicago.

Rumors were rife to-day that both McManigal and James B. McNamara had attempted suicide.

Guards outside the jail last night halted all who approached it and others inside watched the sleeping prisoners.

Detective Burns telegraphed to District Attorney Fredericks to-day a denial that McManigal has been in his pay as an informer.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 28.—Frank P. Baker, Public Prosecutor, gave the labor unions to understand to-day that there would be no indictments in the alleged kidnapping cases unless both the law and the facts justified them.

PROSECUTOR BAKER TO-DAY DECLARED the proceedings before the police judge illegal and many lawyers agree with him, but he doubts whether the ties to them—the police and Detective Burns and others—are amenable to any law for the part they took.

He has been advising that Burns, Ford, Drew and others did their duty only and they could be indicted only in the event that Superintendent of Police Hyland, Detective Gerber and a half dozen other Indianapolis officials are indicted, and it is not believed that the prosecutor wishes to go that far.

THE ANNEXATION BUGABOO

THE GHOST TAFT SILENCED IS REVIVED IN THE HOUSE.

Principle of Illinois Says the Pending Reciprocity Agreement is the First Step in the Direction of Political Union of Canada and the United States.

WASHINGTON, April 28.—President Taft's speech in New York last night on our relations with Canada brought out the ghost of Canadian annexation in the House of Representatives to-day.

Representative Prince of Illinois, a Republican opponent of the reciprocity agreement, acted as medium. Feeble applause marked the declaration of Representative Prince that the pending trade agreement was the first step in the direction of a political union of the two countries.

Representative Prince did not say whether he favored annexation.

"I did not touch on that point and do not care to discuss it now," he said, when the question was put to him by the newspaper men at the close of his address.

"What is the history of the American people?" asked Mr. Prince in beginning his speech. "We might as well be frank and honest. Americans went into Texas, Americanized it and that empire became a part of the Federal Union.

Americanized it and that empire became a part of the Federal Union. Americans went into Hawaii, Americanized it and we annexed the island.

If those bright young men that the President speaks of, those clever, virile, active, vigorous young men from the farms of Illinois and other Northern States go up into that northland, what do you think the effect of such a movement will be? Have I not a right to say that it is the first step toward annexation? Have we not a right to believe it?"

Representative Prince referred to the speech of Champ Clark in the last session, in which there was a suggestion about the annexation of Canada.

"Speaker Clark is plain in blunt, honest man whom I admire for his frankness," said Mr. Prince.

Continuing Mr. Prince said: "I want to say to my neighbors on the north that we know it did not enter into a country and get control we take it. It is our history, and it is right that we should take it if we want it, and we might as well make ourselves plain in discussing the subject."

Mr. Prince attacked the Canadian agreement passed by the House last week.

"The President of the United States said in his speech: The effect is not going, in my judgment, to lower the specific prices of agricultural products in our country. The word 'specific' is used pointing out definitely that it will not lower prices in this country.

How can he square that with the statement that this measure is passed to relieve the ultimate consumer from the high cost of living in this country? If this bill does not reduce the prices for the farmer why are we seeking to pass it? What is the purpose of this extra session if this measure gives no relief? Does it leave the price of the farmers' products exactly as it is under the other legislation? It does not.

The Canadian commission knew it did not. They declined to let in manufactured products on the free list because it was not in their interest to do so. We have given to Canada the free market of the United States with its $20,000,000 of trade."

Commenting on the free list bill now under consideration in the House Mr. Prince said:

"There is a little kink headed fellow in this bill that is in favor of the trusts, in favor of the combinations, in favor of the manufacturing interests of this country. The Canadian commission knew it did not. They declined to let in manufactured products on the free list because it was not in their interest to do so. We have given to Canada the free market of the United States with its $20,000,000 of trade."

Administration supporters of the Canadian agreement are not concerned over the annexation bugaboo discussed by Mr. Prince. They believe that President Taft's declaration at New York will have the effect of allaying any fears that may be entertained in Canada on this score.

THE FOXES OUT OF COURT.

Fix Up a Separation Let the Papers Be Published.

Following the refusal by Supreme Court Justice Blanchard to seal the papers submitted to him on a motion by Mrs. Marguerite Hitt Fox for alimony pending her suit for a separation from Hugh Corby Fox, a manufacturer of railroad supplies living at 130 West Fifty-seventh street, the parties to the suit went before Supreme Court Justice Hendrick yesterday and got permission to withdraw the motion and all the papers.

With Mrs. Fox were her father, Samuel Hitt; her aunt, Mrs. Lawrence S. Parsons; Howard S. Gans, S. Stanwood Menck and several other lawyers. Fox had and several other lawyers in a matrimonial proceeding. The lawyers then held up the papers pending negotiations for the settlement which was reached yesterday.

It was because of the nature of the allegations that caused Justice Justice Blanchard to seal the papers when the motion for alimony came originally before him. He said he had never found it from which the invitations to last night's reception were printed. About five hundred members of the congregation were present.

The Marble Collegiate Church has changed much in the twenty years. The St. in October, 1891, announcing the coming of the Rev. Dr. Burrell, stated that the building was old and out of repair and that for some time it had been attended by but a handful of people because of changes in population and removals uptown.

N. Y. U. MINSTREL SHOW. It is a Change From the Regular Musical Comedy Staff.

New York University's substitute performance for the annual musical comedy, a minstrel show, was given last night at University Heights before a crowded house.

The programme opened with a prologue by Thomas J. Crawford, '12. Cooney '11, was the interlocutor. The hit of the minstrel part was a song, "Way Down in Georgia," by the four end men, Moore, '13; Hall, '13; Judd, '11, and Boulton, ex-'12.

A double quartet, composed of members of the University Glee Club of New York which made the big hit of the evening, sang several college songs and a medley composed of most of the popular song hits of the year. The Down in Georgia was Roger F. Holloway, Cornell; James Jenkins, W. D. White, Pennsylvania; George Lewis, Cornell; Cyrille Garreau, Jr., New York, and Vincent Roberts, New York.

To-morrow's Sunday Sun contains a budget of interesting features. You can read about what New York was like when the lid was really off twenty-five years ago and there was no Flynn to raid 'em. It's an ex-police captain who tells about it too. There's also an article on the Sun Building's Centenary which will give you a picture of what New York was like a hundred years ago when the home of this newspaper was erected. A building that has helped make history and was the first Tammany Hall, it still stands among the skyscrapers to recall the New York that was.
