

because it maintains a good time schedule, runs numerous trains and its service apparently commends itself to commuters. The commission shows the difference between the fares of the Central of New Jersey and the increased fares of the other railroads in the following table:

Ten Miles—Central Railroad of New Jersey, $3.15; Erie Railroad, $5.50; Delaware, Lackawanna and Western, $5.75; Lehigh, $5.90; West Shore, $5.90.

With respect to all the special instances here mentioned we shall assume that the defendants named will at once revise their schedules so as to bring their fares more into conformity with the fares of the Central of New Jersey and the Lehigh Valley for the distances referred to and that no order in that regard will be necessary.

The complaint of Pennsylvania commuters was that the 180 trip quarterly tickets were abolished and at the same time there was an increase of $1 in the cost of sixty trip monthly tickets.

After careful study of the record we see no justification, either in the value to the commuter or in the cost in the service of such a large difference in the fare demanded of the commuter. We find that the price of $12 per month demanded of New Brunswick commuters for their sixty ride tickets is unreasonable and ought to be reduced to $8.

ONE WICKERSHAM IN A FIX

AND IT DOESN'T SEEM TO BE THE ATTORNEY-GENERAL.

House Committee Hears the Alaska Delegate's Case and Tells Him to Make Good or Withdraw His Charges—Was Willing to Be a Guggenheim Lawyer.

WASHINGTON, July 31.—After Attorney-General Wickersham and Delegate Wickersham of Alaska had faced each other for six hours before the House Committee on the Judiciary to-day, the Delegate was given to understand that it is up to him either to withdraw his charges against the Attorney-General or introduce a resolution of impeachment.

The committee seems to think that the Delegate, who has charged by the Delegate with the gravest misuse of his high office, declaring that "he did purposely shield and defend Alaska syndicate criminals against punishment" and that he "refused to prosecute them for fraud and perjury committed in robbing the Government Treasury and permitted the statute of limitations to run in their favor," must do one thing or the other.

Up to a late hour to-night Delegate Wickersham had given no intimation of which alternative he intends to accept or whether he will ignore the suggestion of the committee. It is not generally believed, in view of the attitude assumed by both Democratic and Republican members of the Judiciary Committee toward his charges against the Attorney-General, that the impeachment resolution will be offered by the Delegate.

WICKERSHAM'S CASE

He Is Being Defended by the Guggenheim Firm. WASHINGTON, July 31.—The House Judiciary Committee to-day heard the case of Delegate Wickersham of Alaska against the Attorney-General.

Throughout the hearing the Attorney-General frequently interrupted to declare that the Delegate was guilty of making statements having no foundation in fact, and the Delegate several times remarked that everybody in Alaska was "against him," that President Taft had removed his official patronage and that the Guggenheim interests illegally voted 800 men in the last election in the attempt to defeat him.

KNOCKED DOWN BY AMBULANCE

Charles I. Berg, Architect, Struck by Motor Vehicle in Heavy Traffic.

A Bellevue Hospital automobile ambulance struck Charles I. Berg, an architect, who lives at 34 Gramercy Park, as he was crossing Fifth avenue at Forty-sixth street yesterday and injured him so severely that he had to be taken to the hospital. Mr. Berg had just come from the Windsor Arcade at 10:30 yesterday morning, where he had been supervising some alterations.

There were many wagons and pedestrians on Fifth avenue and it was difficult to cross the street. The ambulance driver, however, which is used for transferring insane patients to the hospital was going north. Two wagons were crossing on Forty-sixth street and Henry Bodner, the chauffeur who was running the ambulance, slowed down to wait for the wagons to pass.

As he started up the machine to cross the street at higher speed Mr. Berg stepped out from behind one of the wagons and the ambulance struck him. The ambulance driver, however, which is used for transferring insane patients to the hospital was going north. Two wagons were crossing on Forty-sixth street and Henry Bodner, the chauffeur who was running the ambulance, slowed down to wait for the wagons to pass.

Mr. Berg was placed in ward 2 at the hospital. Dr. Rutledge, who examined him, said that he was suffering from contusions and lacerations from a fractured rib. A radiograph was taken to determine whether a rib was broken and the result will be known this morning.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD. Bulletin. BETWEEN SUNS TO CHICAGO. Through the uplands and valleys of Pennsylvania, over the plains of the near west is a pleasant route to travel in the summer-time.

It is a great advantage for either the constant or casual traveler between New York and Chicago to be able to make the trip in a refreshing environment when his mind is free from current care.

The "Pennsylvania Special" is in the highest respect the Busy Man's train. It runs in its idle hours while business rests, and delivers him when the trade of the day begins.

It uses the night to clear the way for to-morrow's work. The "Pennsylvania Special," the original 18-hour train, all-steel, perfectly appointed, leaves Pennsylvania Station, one block from Broadway at 32d Street, 4:00 P. M. and arrives Chicago 8:55 next morning.

For tickets, delivered at home, office, or hotel, Pullman reservations, and any information, telephone "Madison 7900."

TELLS HIS MOTHER HE DID IT

GEIDEL, QUIET IN COURT, GOES TO PIECES WHEN HE SEES HER.

His Case and His at Insanity Defense—Pleading Pleas Off to To-day—Sister and Aunt Go to the Tomb Too.

Paul Geidel, the seventeen-year-old boy who is under indictment for the murder of William H. Jackson in the Hotel Iroquois, met two ordeals yesterday.

The girls told the policeman that on their way to and from a milliner's where they were employed they had become acquainted with the two chauffeurs. On Friday the girls left home and have since been living at a Raines law hotel.

James C. Cleary and Mr. Gray, counsel for Geidel, said that they would be busy all day and most of the night going over the facts in the case and were not able to say as yet what line the defense would take.

From what I have learned of this young fellow's history," said Mr. Cleary, "it is unbelievable that he would commit any such act when he was in his right mind. It may be that we shall ask for a commission to pass on his sanity."

Mr. Gray said that there was a disposition in the community toward a "legal lynching" in Geidel's case.

TRUNK STRAP DISCIPLINE.

Mother of a Girl Who Told About a Chauffeur Did Her Own Punishing.

Two women, one of them with a trunk strap and each holding by the arm a struggling and screaming young girl, attracted the attention of a policeman in East Fifty-fifth street yesterday afternoon.

The girls told the policeman that on their way to and from a milliner's where they were employed they had become acquainted with the two chauffeurs.

James C. Cleary and Mr. Gray, counsel for Geidel, said that they would be busy all day and most of the night going over the facts in the case and were not able to say as yet what line the defense would take.
