

PERE MARQUETTE GOES INTO RECEIVERS' HANDS

Michigan Railroad Commission Refuses to Approve Proposed Bond Sale.

A VERY COSTLY WINTER

Road Had Been Unable, Part of the Time, to Cover Running Expenses With Gross Receipts.

DETROIT, Mich., April 5.—Receivers for the Pere Marquette Railroad were appointed this morning by Judge Angell in the Federal court. The action was taken on a petition filed by the American Brake Shoe and Foundry Company of New Jersey on a claim for $7,164.50.

The receivers are Newman Erb, Dudley E. Waters of Grand Rapids, and Frank W. Blair, president of the Detroit Trust Company. Each receiver is directed to give a bond of $50,000 within five days.

The receivership was agreed upon last night following the refusal of the Michigan State Railroad Commission to allow the issue of additional 1 per cent. bonds.

In announcing the decision of the Railroad Commission Chairman C. L. Glasgow said that the showing made by the officials of the road was not sufficient to warrant the permission asked. "By their own statements they show that the road is a losing proposition," said Mr. Glasgow, "and that the bonds are not worth more than 50 cents on the dollar. This money if raised would be used to pay interest on outstanding obligations and would in no way increase the efficiency of the service. The Pere Marquette has bonds amounting to $5,000,000 that will mature in July and if we granted this request it would be only a matter of another loan in a few months."

"It sounds like the irony of fate," said one of the few men greatly interested in Pere Marquette, who came downtown yesterday, "that the railroad named after one of the greatest of the Jesuits should go into the hands of receivers on Good Friday and because the State of Michigan, which has delighted to honor Pere Marquette, refused to permit it to be solvent."

The implication that the State of Michigan forced the receivership was based on the fact that arrangements had been made between the officers of the railroad and J. P. Morgan & Co. to raise the money the railroad needed by the sale of $4,000,000 bonds. The bankers had agreed to take the bonds on terms satisfactory to the railroad managers, but it was necessary to secure the consent of the Michigan Railroad Commission before the bonds could be issued.

It was supposed that the application for the sale of the bonds would be a purely formal matter. Unexpectedly the commission interposed objections, but until yesterday it was thought here that the objections related to details rather than to the entire subject. All that J. P. Morgan & Co., could say of the receivership was contained in the following statement:

Owing to final refusal of the Michigan State Railroad Commission to permit the company to carry out arrangements which it had made for borrowing money to meet maturing obligations it became necessary that receivers should be appointed so that the interests of all creditors might be protected. We are not informed of the reasons which led to the refusal of the commission to permit the consummation of the arrangements which had been made, but it is hoped that the receivership will be only a temporary expedient.

One of the receivers, Newman B. Erb, has been in charge of the road since the death of Edwin Hawley. Mr. Erb was closely associated with Mr. Hawley in the Western lines of the so-called Hawley system and was devoted to the extension of the line from Canada to the Gulf of Mexico with Minneapolis and St. Louis, Missouri, Kansas and Texas and others of the Hawley system as connecting links. He was asked to take charge of the Pere Marquette in Mr. Hawley's lifetime, but was unable to do so because of other business. Mr. Hawley's death relieved him from some of these responsibilities and shortly thereafter he took the place of chairman of the board of the full power over the road's operation and finances.

The failed company operates 2,358 miles of road. Most of it is in the Michigan peninsula, which Pere Marquette opened to the world. The winter there has been as severe this year as any that the great Jesuit experienced and in January the company's operating expenses actually exceeded its gross earnings. The loss, coming on top of a fiscal year ended June 30 last in which the company failed to earn its fixed charges by $1,900,000, made it necessary that money be raised to satisfy merchandise creditors. Mr. Erb made arrangements for this and also devoted most of his time to reorganizing the operating staff. It has been the West for some time on the company's business.

J. P. Morgan came into possession of 511,000 shares of the road's common stock, a dominant interest, through purchase a year ago from the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton. The Dayton road had a lease on the Michigan line when the Dayton went into the hands of Judson H. Tompkins, now Governor of Ohio, as receiver. Pere Marquette was then dragged into a receivership and Judge Harmon was appointed receiver of it also. A clause in the lease to the Dayton was secured and in December, 1907, the receiver was discharged. Since the no great deal of money has been spent in improving the property and it was proposed to put into whatever additional funds was necessary to provide an up to date roadbed and equipment.

BIG AWARD IN GUM SUIT.

Jury Says Flint & Co. Must Pay Prosecutor Johnstone $282,212.

The jury in the suit of Robert L. Johnstone against Charles R. Flint, Nelson B. Flint and Frank R. Cordley, members of the firm of Flint & Co., importers of chewing gum, for the recovery of half the profits of the chewing gum trust, which had been on trial before Supreme Court Justice Scudder in Brooklyn since March 12, returned a sealed verdict yesterday awarding the plaintiff $282,212.50, the full amount of his claim. The jury also gave the plaintiff interest on the above sum, amounting to about $35,000.

Johnstone is an importer of crude chicle. He asserted that in 1907 he proposed a merger of the T. B. Dunn Company of Rochester, the Sen Sen Perdue Company and the Frank H. Pifer Company of Philadelphia, the C. R. Scoville Company of London, Canada, Curtis & Co. of Portland, Me., and the Grove Company of Salem, Ohio. The Flint Company was to finance the project, the purpose of which was to form a combination that would be independent of the American Chicle Company. For his work in organizing the trust, Johnstone said, he was to receive a big slice of the profits but when the organization was completed he was frozen out. The defendants, he said, had offered to settle for $100,000.

A motion to set aside the verdict was made on behalf of the defendant and will be argued before Justice Scudder next Friday.

DISCOVERED MIDWAY ISLANDS.

Daughter of Capt. Brooks Seeks Recognition from the Government.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Fifty-three years ago Capt. W. E. Brooks, an old whaler, discovered what are now known as the Midway Islands in the Pacific, midway between Hawaii and Japan. Now his daughter, Miss Alice Brooks of New York, is trying to get Uncle Sam to recompense the skipper's heirs for services rendered to the Government. In 1839 Capt. Brooks sailed out of San Francisco in search of whales. His vessel was driven out of its course and he sought shelter in the harbor of the then unknown islands. He explored the territory, made a map of the harbor, unfurled the American flag and reported to the Government that he had named the new possession "Brooks Island." Eight years later the Government took possession, calling the new territory Midway Islands.

To-day, at the request of Miss Brooks Representative Needham of California asked the State Department if there was any way in which Capt. Brooks's heirs might be recompensed for her father's service to the Government. The Midway Islands, aside from being valuable as a coaling and cable station, are rich in guano.

ORGANIZE ARMY LEAGUE.

Wood, Oliver and Hudekoper Begin Movement in Washington.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Realizing the value of publicity and general educational work in creating a strong interest in the army officials of the War Department have joined civilian friends of the service in the organization of an Army League. Gen. Wood, Chief of Staff, Gen. Oliver, Assistant Secretary of War, and Frederic I. Hudekoper, military expert, are at the head of the movement. The keynote of the league's organization was sounded in an address made at a preliminary meeting to-night by Mr. Hudekoper.

The protection of the Panama Canal, he said, "obviously will involve the assumption of additional burdens and its security must ultimately devolve upon our land forces. The army and organized military unfortunately are far below the standard which the new circumstances will render necessary and the time has come to enlist the interest of the American people in their behalf and to initiate a movement to bring them both up to the desired standard."

Mr. Hudekoper stated that the organization of an Army League with the purpose of accomplishing it possible for our land forces the same admirable results already achieved for our naval forces through the Navy League is the purpose in mind. Other speakers took similar views. Gen. Oliver presided and Mr. Hudekoper was secretary. A committee on temporary organization was appointed, consisting of Gen. Oliver, Lieut.-Gen. Bates, retired, former Senator Dick of Ohio, Mr. Hudekoper and E. B. Johns.
