

SOCIETY BEGINS TO LEAVE TOWN

The Spring Season Practically Over— Departure for Europe and Country Homes.

Society's spring season is practically at an end and with the exception of a few weddings to-morrow and Tuesday there remains almost nothing for which to keep city houses open. The month of May is not looked upon with favor by brides. The weddings thus far announced for the next month are few and far between. The annual parade of the New York Coaching Club has been abandoned, interest in this sport evidently having died out. It is a pity that such a feature of the spring life of the city could not be a fixture, but nowadays the automobile with its allurements seems to have crowded out the horse in almost every way.

There is no falling off in ocean travel, notwithstanding the terrible disaster of last week left with a full complement of passengers and those who had expected to sail on the return trip of the Titanic had difficulty in securing passage on favorite steamships. Mr. and Mrs. Ogden Mills went on the Mauretania with the intention of returning in July for Newport. Mr. and Mrs. Pembroke Jones and their daughter, Miss Sadie this summer, although it had been the intention of the late Col. Astor to pass the greater part of the summer there. The lawn tennis tournament and the horse show will add to the spectacular features of the season and it is rumored that there will be an attempt at a parade of four-in-hands during the season. There will be early departures for the country places on the Hudson and in Long Island and later on Bar Harbor and Lenox will be filled.

One of the interesting events of this week will be the invitation concert of the children's orchestra founded by Mrs. James Cunningham Bishop. It will be given in the Plaza ballroom Tuesday afternoon and Mrs. Bishop has invited many of her intimate friends to hear the little orchestra, to which four of her daughters belong.

For several years Mrs. Bishop has been supporting a class of children for the study of music. They have met at her house, 22 East Sixty-fifth street, once a week, going there from distant parts of the city. Mrs. Bishop has provided them with carfare and after two hours of instruction a luncheon has been served. The concert of Tuesday will be the fifth will sail on the France next Thursday, as will also Mr. and Mrs. Robert Goelet, all of them later will be in Newport. Eberton L. Winthrop was also a passenger on the Mauretania, and he will also return early in the summer for Newport. It seems as if Newport will have one of the gayest seasons in several years and most of the great villas will be open. Mrs. Vanderbilt, who has arrived in London, will return here early in June and will soon afterward go to Newport for the summer. It is several years since she opened the villa. The Breakers, has been opened for the season there. Mrs. Ogden Goelet has decided to pass the summer there and her villa, Ochre Court, is being put in readiness. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Goelet, who last summer had the villa of Mrs. E. R. Thomas will be with Mrs. Goelet at Ochre Court. Mr. and Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish, who have been in Newport for two seasons, will be ready for them late in June. Mr. and Mrs. Fish will go to Garrison, N. Y., at the end of this week. Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Berwind will arrive at The Breakers, their villa, early in July and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Curtis James will be in their recently completed house, which is one of the handsomest of Newport. The presence of members of the German Embassy and the possible visit of one of the Kaiser's sons will give a flip to the season.

by this orchestra and will be directed by Louis J. Cornu. Mrs. Bishop has afforded much pleasure to her young charges, who otherwise might not have had an opportunity to cultivate their taste for music.

Members of the Army Relief Society held their annual meeting last Wednesday at the house of Mrs. Daniel S. Lamont, who was again elected president of the organization. This society supplies clothing and money to needy widows and orphans of officers and enlisted men of the United States Army. Among the other officers elected were Mrs. Emerson H. Liscom, Mrs. Stephen C. Mills, Mrs. Frederick Swift, Mrs. Henry Bischoff, Mrs. Richard Colt, Miss Margaret Duryea and Cornelius R. Agnew. It is a matter of regret that the annual garden party at Governors Island for the benefit of the society has been given up for this year.

The first of this season's weddings in Newport in which society is interested will take place this week when Miss Joanna A. Morgan, a daughter of the late W. Rogers Morgan of Newport, will be married to Arthur Goodby on Saturday afternoon. Owing to the death of the bride's father last year the ceremony will be quietly celebrated at Tudor Lodge, the home of Miss Morgan, only relatives and a small number of intimate friends being asked to attend. The Rev. Stanley S. Hughes, rector of Trinity Church, Newport, will officiate.

Miss Morgan will be given away by her brother, Dudley Selden Morgan. She will have no attendants. Alexander M. Hadden will act as Mr. Goodby's best man.

The announcement of their engagement was made last winter. Miss Morgan was introduced to society in Newport several years ago and is prominent there and in New York society.

Dr. Goodby is a member of several leading clubs, served during the Spanish American war as a member of Troop A and was graduated from Harvard.

Another wedding of importance in the month of May will be that of Miss Dagmar Wetmore, a daughter by a former marriage of Mrs. James W. Markoe of this city, to Charles S. Sargent, Jr., formerly of Boston, which will be celebrated in Grace Church chantry on Thursday afternoon, May 9. The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. Hugh Birkhead of St. George's Church, and there will be a choral service.

On account of mourning the reception at the house of Dr. and Mrs. Markoe, 12 West Fifty-fifth street, after the ceremony will be small, only relatives and intimate friends being asked.

Miss Wetmore will be given away by her stepfather. She will have her sister, Miss Annetta Markoe, as her only attendant.

The bridegroom will have his brother, Andrew Robeson Sargent, as best man. The ushers will include Guy Fairfax Berry, Philip A. Carroll and Louis C. Clark, Jr., of this city and Arthur Devins of Boston.

An engagement of interest recently announced was that of Miss Mabel Gordon Moorman, daughter of Mrs. Benjamin Shepard of East Orange, N. J., to Henry Warren Goddard of this city. Miss Moorman is a descendant of one of the oldest
