

SUMMERY WEATHER HELPS ASBURY PARK Choice of a Carnival Queen Already Interests Young Women.

FIRST STRIPED BASS TAKEN Flower Show and Fire Show Two Coming Events—Arrivals at Hotels.

ASBURY PARK, N. J., June 22. Typical summer weather has prevailed at Asbury Park during the last week. The undercurrents have been altered, with the latter prevailing, and visitors have lost little outdoor recreation. The hot weather that came after the muggy spell of the week end further augmented the bathing crowds and brought great additions to the hotel colony. Only the larger hotels are still closed. The smaller hotels and big boarding houses have opened and to-night are entertaining many visitors.

With the end of school days at colleges and seminaries there is a noticeable increase among the resort's crowds of young folk. Hundreds of girls have arrived for the season, dressed in their best dresses and at least tried out their new bathing costume at the natorium. At many of the hotels dancing sets have already been formed, and while male partners through the week are somewhat scarce, this has not deterred the young women from enjoying themselves.

There is already considerable excitement over the selection of a carnival queen. The choice is an early problem this year, the carnival association having moved the carnival dates back into the second week in August. The queen and her six ladies in waiting are great persons during the carnival season. State balls, Elizabethan functions, dinners, theatre parties and motor rides are arranged in their honor and on at least three occasions they are the centre of attraction of practically all the North Jersey coast.

While bathing constitutes the chief daytime diversion, Deal Lake is steadily attracting boating enthusiasts and motor boats are being launched. The police patrol boat, which for the last few years has helped to keep the motor boat traffic on the main arm of the lake, goes on duty next week. The many winding branches of the lake, flowing many miles inland, offer a quiet retreat for canoeists. There is excellent pickering fishing in Deal Lake and picnicking is a popular diversion.

Mr. Harvey's new tennis courts at the Beach Auditorium, opposite the New Monterey, will soon be ready. In the meantime players find the courts at Interlaken speedy and well located. There will be ten clay and grass courts on the Auditorium plot. The Auditorium is being fitted up as a clubroom for the players. Many tournaments have been arranged.

Fishermen have been cheered this week by the announcement of the capture of a striped bass, the first of the season. Rodermen had almost become worried about the apparent failure of the big fish. The first bass was not a very big fish, but fishermen are encouraged. Charles H. Smith of New York, fishing off Cedar avenue, captured a three pound bass on Tuesday. It was weighed officially at the headquarters of the Asbury Park Fishing Club. Mr. Smith thereby winning the club prize offered for the first bass taken.

Dr. and Mrs. George W. Potts entertained at their Grand avenue villa at a musicale given for Miss Edith Wynne Morgan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Morgan, who is to be married in the fall to Joseph Savage of New York. Among those who contributed numbers were Mrs. Garcia, Miss Mary L. Leech, Mrs. Walter T. Hubbard, Mrs. Bruce S. Keator, Clarence Reynolds and Mrs. and Mr. Arthur Parker. Among others present were Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Woodcock Savage, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Berry, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hendrickson, Dr. and Mrs. John Rockefeller, Mrs. Reynolds, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Beringer, Sr. and Mrs. G. H. Shreve, Dr. Raymond Penwarden, Miss Sybil, Miss Sylvia Parmelee, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Rhomero, Miss Kinsley and Mr. Savage.

Ex-Chief Edward F. Croker of the New York Fire Department has accepted an invitation to open the firemen's exhibit to be held here in September in connection with the three days firemen's carnival. Mr. Croker will review the parade on September 5. Two hundred volunteer departments from New Jersey, New York and Pennsylvania will participate in it. One of the features of the carnival is to be a fire prevention show to be staged in the Beach Auditorium.

Dr. and Mrs. Ernest M. Herring of New York, who have a summer residence in Grand avenue here, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Edna A. Herring, to Leo P. Eble of Newark. The New Monterey will open next Saturday. There will be a banquet to celebrate the opening and every room in the hotel is being renovated. The opening night, Manager Shute also reports having bookings for July.

The Coleman House and the Plaza are entertaining in their respective dining rooms are fast becoming popular with tourists. Weekend tourists being arriving in the resort to-night and scores more will come to-morrow. The roads hereabout are in excellent condition. A summer flower show will be given in the Asbury Park Auditorium for several days beginning July 3. Preparations for the show have been under way since last December. Over $2,000 is offered in prize money.

There are twenty-one classes in the foliage and special groups, twelve classes for sweet peas with special prizes as high as $200; five classes for roses from the garden, two classes for greenhouse roses, four classes for gladioli, three classes for hardy garden flowers, two classes for annuals, eight classes for fruit, two classes for vegetables and seventeen special classes in the amateur section.

The centre of the building will be given over to a South American ravine, with waterfalls and brooks. There will be displays of pond fishes and other aquatic plants, a modern Italian garden and commercial exhibits pertaining to horticulture and landscape gardening. The show will be under the joint auspices of the Elberon Horticultural Society and the city of Asbury Park.

CAPE MAY'S SEASON IS IN FULL SWING The Big Hotels Opened and the Diversions of Summer Under Way.

PLANS FOR THE FOURTH Many New Yorkers at the New Jersey Resort—Golf Club Attracts Crowds.

CAPE MAY, N. J., June 22. New Yorkers have been arriving at Cape May in large numbers, and to-day more came with the crowds attracted by the opening of the larger hotels, such as the Cape May and the Lafayette. These are the largest hotels here and were the last to open for the season. From now until September there will be a continuous round of social gaiety. Many dinner parties, yachting excursions, golfing contests and dances are taking place.

All day long, and particularly in the afternoon, large numbers of persons are found on the piazzas and the lawn of the golf clubhouse. The clubhouse was formerly a famous hotel and it was here that Henry Clay stayed when he was a guest at Cape May in August, 1847. The old hotel register on which his name was inscribed is still preserved. On the register are also the names of James A. Bayard, who was then United States Senator from Delaware, Col. John Knott of Kentucky and a number of other distinguished Southerners who made the trip to Cape May from Warm Sulphur Springs, Va., mostly by stage coach and stageboat.

The golf tournaments were started last Saturday. The main season will start next Saturday, when the invitation tournament for women will be played. Arrangements are being made by the Board of Trade for a Fourth of July celebration which is intended to outdo the celebration on Independence day in 1901. On that occasion two dynamite cruisers and a gunboat were brought to Cape May and a number of United States marines were landed to take part in the parade, while the oration was delivered by President Benjamin Harrison. There will be a display of fireworks on the ocean front in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. F. K. Wallbridge and Mr. and Mrs. William Clark of New York make up a party enjoying the early summer at the Windsor. Mr. and Mrs. Otis T. Baines of New York are among the recent arrivals at the Windsor. Duncan Campbell of New York is spending the summer at Cape May.

BRADLEY BEACH PLANS. Borough Proposes to Buy and Develop the Ocean Front. BRADLEY BEACH, N. J., June 22. The summer colony in Bradley Beach has been considerably increased during the past week and the bathing contingent is growing.

Ground has been broken for the new rectory for the Catholic Church in the Ascension. The edifice will adjoin the new $95,000 church and will cost about $12,000. The Rev. Father O'Hara announced this week that a member of the congregation had donated a statue of the Sacred Heart.

The Board of Trade has begun an agitation which has for its purpose the purchase of the beach front by the borough. James A. Bradley of New York, founder of Asbury Park, and for whom this place is named, owns the ocean front. Bradley Beach officials want to build a boardwalk, erect beach pavilions and otherwise develop the ocean playground. Hearings will be held from time to time during the summer to advance the project.

HYMNS AT OCEAN GROVE. Annual Religious Season at Camp Meeting City Begun.

OCEAN GROVE, N. J., June 22.—Methodist hymns may be heard at almost any hour of the day in this resort now, the annual religious season having begun in the camp meeting city with the opening of the Auditorium last Sunday. Temple services have begun, the twilight recitals under Miss Rumsey's leadership have been instituted and the Young People's meetings have been resumed.

To-day the great pipe organ in the Auditorium was heard for the first time. Several new parts have been added to the organ so that its orchestration is now complete. Clarence Reynolds played "The Storm," which brings into play practically every part of the great instrument. Beginning next Saturday afternoon recitals will be given daily on the organ.

The week has brought back to the Grove many of the popular soloists. Donald Chalmers, the basso and leader of the Young People's singing, Miss Harris and others have resumed their work. Popular Saturday night concerts will be given in the Auditorium this season. The first will take place a week from to-night.

Director Morgan has interested children of his festival band in a "swat the fly" crusade and has offered prizes for effective work. The children are not to be confined to flies alone, but are to be sworn against all insects. The Rev. Dr. G. Wolfson of Andover Theological Seminary will preach in the Auditorium to-morrow morning and on Monday evening. He will also lecture on Monday evening.

Bathing along the Ocean Grove beach front is now in full swing. The pool at the swimming tank, which Missis has begun at the pavilion and the amusement places are open.

WAR AT ALLENHURST OVER. Old Dispute Concerning the Use of the Beach Settled.

WAR AT ALLENHURST OVER. Old Dispute Concerning the Use of the Beach Settled.

ALLENHURST, N. J., June 22. The first striped bass of the season, caught in this vicinity, was leached on Wednesday by Charles H. Smith, a member of the Asbury Park Fishing Club, which offers a prize of a tackle book and tackle for the first one taken. Mr. Smith landed his catch at the foot of Cedar avenue.

With the appointment of Arthur H. Hammond as a beach commissioner ends a long and bitter fight which has been waged for several years past between the club casino and the hotels. The club casino and the hotels, the beach front and all the bathing privileges, cottagers and guests of the hotels, with the exception of the Allenhurst Club, could only rent bath houses at the discretion of the Beach Casino Club, which in many cases exercised its power to the annoyance of visitors. John H. Winans, president of the Curlew Hotel Company, got an injunction some time ago against the club. With Mr. Hammond's appointment matters will be amicably settled and the guests of the Curlew Hotel Club will have the same privileges on the beach as they do at neighboring resorts.

The opening of the hotels this week marked the beginning of the active social season in Allenhurst. The cottage colony is about complete and the resort has started its summer round of entertaining and outdoor pastimes.

There was a large gathering at the Allenhurst Club to-night for the formal opening of that house. There was a dinner followed by a dance, at which were the families of Searles Babbitt, C. W. Feigenbaum, E. L. Lewis, C. E. Bigelow, T. L. King, T. M. McCarthy, W. R. Hess, J. D. Johnson, T. E. Ennis, A. G. Sherrer, Jesse Watson, J. A. McGuire, F. H. Eaton, C.
