

MISS ERSTEIN WEDDED TO NELSON W. GREENHUT

Marriage of New Yorkers at West End Shore Club in Long Branch.

THOUSANDS OF FLOWERS

Orchestral Music, a Dinner for 300 After Ceremony and Dancing.

LONG BRANCH, N. J., July 11.—Nelson W. Greenhut of New York married Miss Cecile Erstein at the West End Shore Club here to-night. Mr. Greenhut is the son of the dry goods man and assistant general manager of the Greenhut-Siegel Co., of New York.

The bridesmaids were Miss Clara Greenhut, Miss Helen Bach, Miss Anna Hess and Miss Marion Newman. They wore cream tulle and carried pink roses.

Mrs. Walter N. Kahn was matron of honor. She wore a gown of all lace and blue tulle and carried a bouquet of pink roses and daisies.

Benedict J. Greenhut, the brother of the bridegroom and secretary and treasurer of the dry goods firm, was best man. The maid of honor was Miss Aimee Erstein. She wore a gown of lace and blue tulle and carried a bouquet of pink roses and daisies.

During the ceremony Charles J. Schwab's orchestra of twenty-two pieces played, and played again at the collation that followed. The bride's table was set in the form of a horseshoe with covers for twenty-seven. There were smaller tables scattered throughout the room. Several hundred red, white and blue lanterns were strung above the tables.

Mr. Greenhut, the bridegroom, celebrated his twenty-first birthday by giving a dinner to his friends last Tuesday. He was born in Peoria, Ill., the son of Joseph and Clara Greenhut, and attended the public schools there. Then he came to New York to attend the Sachs Collegiate Institute.

After leaving school he went to work for his father in the Greenhut-Siegel Co. He was soon made a department manager and assistant treasurer of the firm, assisting his brother, Benedict J. Greenhut, the secretary and treasurer of the dry goods establishment. He showed great aptitude at the business and was promoted to the position of assistant general manager. He is also a director of the company.

He is fond of automobile and is a member of the Frisco and the City Athletic Club of New York and the Seventh Army Corps and the Sons of Veterans.

The bride is the daughter of Mag Erstein of New York, of the firm of L. Erstein & Co.

Mr. Greenhut will return with his bride after their honeymoon to the Greenhut at Long Branch.

Guests at the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. Morris B. Berman, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Rosenthal, Mr. and Mrs. I. A. Roth, Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Marx, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. Mrs. Himmelfinger, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Adler, Mr. and Mrs. Mortimer Hess, Mr. and Mrs. Alden Baer, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. OBITUARY.

William Herring, a former Assistant District Attorney of New York and a member of the Legislature, died at his home in Tucson, Ariz., Wednesday, at the age of 79. Herring was elected to the State Legislature in 1873, serving until 1880. While in the Legislature he introduced the first New York city consolidation bill. He also introduced an act designating May 30 as Memorial Day.

Mr. Herring was born in New Brunswick, N. J., January 31, 1832. He was graduated from Columbia College law school in 1856. In 1857 he married Mary E. Ingle. He moved to Arizona in 1850, where he became Chancellor of the University of Arizona and later Attorney-General of the State. Mr. Herring was at one time a member of the New York city Board of Education.

Dr. Daniel H. Smith died on Wednesday at his residence, 34 West Thirty-seventh street, at the age of 65. He was born in Orange county, New York, in 1847, his family moving to this city two years later. He was graduated from the College of the City of New York in 1873 from the College of Physicians and Surgeons. He then pursued his studies at Glasgow University and the Rotunda Hospital in Dublin. Dr. Smith was a police surgeon for nineteen years, retiring last year on account of ill health. He is survived by his wife, a brother and two sisters.

William T. Welch, who was noted as a volunteer worker in the missionary field, died on Wednesday at his home, 33 Marion street, Brooklyn, in his eighty-sixth year. He was a son of the late Rev. Dr. Bartholomew Welch of Albany, a prominent Baptist minister. He had been a salesman for Tredegar, Davis & Co. of Manhattan for over forty years. His wife and three sons survive him.

The Rev. G. A. Leakin, the oldest alumnus of Princeton University, where he was graduated in 1826, died at his home near Baltimore on Wednesday. He was 93 years old. For forty-five years he was pastor of the Trinity Protestant Episcopal Church in Baltimore. Dr. Leakin's father was at one time Mayor of Baltimore and served in the War of 1812.

John Watta, a manufacturer of Germantown and father of Harvey Watta, the widely known newspaperman, died to-day of heart failure at his home at Pelham. Mr. Watta for years was interested in the Harvey & Watta Manufacturing Company. He was 84 years old. He is survived by his wife and two daughters.

JOHN WANAMAKER'S BIRTHDAY.

Spent Quietly in His Usual Fashion at Atlantic City.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 11.—John Wanamaker celebrated his seventy-fourth birthday here to-day at his summer villa on Pacific avenue near Chelsea. Except for congratulatory messages and the many visitors who respected in during the afternoon to pay their respects Mr. Wanamaker spent the day the same as any other of this year.

For the greater part of the morning he was out on the Boardwalk and this afternoon he was found chatting with Mrs. Wanamaker seated on the porch. Although perfectly good natured about it Mr. Wanamaker refused to be interviewed.

"I'd rather not," he said. Then he chatted quite pleasantly about the weather, but steered clear of politics and business. The ex-Postmaster-General thoroughly enjoyed himself, taking a quiet rest again to-night on the veranda of his cottage.

Mrs. Charles de L. Gelrichs Better.

The condition of Mrs. Charles de L. Gelrichs of 772 Park avenue, who is in the General Memorial Hospital at 100th street and Central Park West suffering from appendicitis, was very encouraging to her physicians last night and it was said that it might be necessary for her to undergo an operation.
