

1866, will have paved the way for a Lincoln and a long line of successors in the White House who will give a government to the American people...

The convention was late in getting started. The hour was for noon. Thousands were in their seats before that hour. Shortly after noon the great audience was completed.

The New Yorkers came in headed by a band, Chairman Timothy L. Woodruff escorting Miss Mary E. Dreier and in the line were William H. Hotchkiss, Ethel Allen Doty, ex-senator Nathan...

One of the features of this convention is the singing. All join in the songs with old-fashioned camp meeting fervor.

Temporary Chairman Beveridge called the convention to order shortly after 12 o'clock and requested the Rev. Father Andrew...

Secretary Oscar King Davis then read the following telegram from Col. William H. Nelson, owner of the Kansas City Star...

Col. Nelson's telegram brought out rapturous applause. Next, with the great hand booming and the veteran life and drum corps of civil war veterans...

Instantly terrific cheers ascended. Every man and woman arose. They shot up from their seats and rubbed faces.

The hand began to play. It could not be heard. High notes, strains and effectively stirring tunes were the tumultuous plaudits. Megaphones roared, the fife and drummers shrieked and boomed.

Several of the veterans threw their arms around his neck. A boy scout waved two small American flags over him.

How about the Mississippi question? he was asked, and he replied: "I refer you to my letter of a number of weeks ago, in which I advocated that the Mississippi should be made a great national waterway."

Under these conditions it will become for the first time possible that the negro who shows the quality which entitles him to respect and confidence will, with the cordial good will of his white neighbors, do his part in healthy political work for the common good.

With the close of Col. Roosevelt's speech on the negro question there was another uproar of cheers and jubilation, which was closed by the convention singing an anthem entitled "Roosevelt to the strains of 'Maryland, My Maryland,' as follows:

The ROCKY MOUNTAIN LIMITED, disappoints you in its speed—you're there before you're tired of its luxury—

For booklets, low fares and details address K. E. Perkins, 1228 Broadway, New York, Cor. 31st St. Phone, Madison 2350.

Island, California and other States were lifted by their comrades in the delegations to the platform. Amid the shrieks and howls and yells and cheers Roosevelt...

By this time the demonstration had lasted thirty-three minutes. Chairman Beveridge called the convention to order shortly after 12 o'clock and requested the Rev. Father Andrew...

After several minutes this was accomplished. The demonstration lasted exactly fifty-two minutes. A flashlight lit the scene. The delegates and alternates turned toward Mrs. Roosevelt and sang...

Col. Roosevelt began by speaking of the pleasure it had given him to see the hands of the fife and the drummers and of the old delegates who had clambered to the platform to greet him.

Several columns of Col. Roosevelt's speech are printed in another part of this paper. His attacks on political bosses and his assertion that the nomination of Bryan from him the Republican national convention, were cheered most enthusiastically.

Col. Roosevelt's advocacy of woman suffrage brought out a tremendous demonstration of enthusiasm and jubilation. So did his reference to the pay envelope of the working man, that is, that the workingman should get his share of the profits...

How about the Mississippi question? he was asked, and he replied: "I refer you to my letter of a number of weeks ago, in which I advocated that the Mississippi should be made a great national waterway."

Under these conditions it will become for the first time possible that the negro who shows the quality which entitles him to respect and confidence will, with the cordial good will of his white neighbors, do his part in healthy political work for the common good.

With the close of Col. Roosevelt's speech on the negro question there was another uproar of cheers and jubilation, which was closed by the convention singing an anthem entitled "Roosevelt to the strains of 'Maryland, My Maryland,' as follows:

Under these conditions it will become for the first time possible that the negro who shows the quality which entitles him to respect and confidence will, with the cordial good will of his white neighbors, do his part in healthy political work for the common good.

SUFFRAGETTE PARADE TO THE COLISEUM

Copyright, 1912, by International News.

To crush the powers of greed and lust, Roosevelt, O Roosevelt! Thou wilt not yield corruption's toll, Roosevelt, O Roosevelt!

By this time the demonstration had lasted thirty-three minutes. Chairman Beveridge called the convention to order shortly after 12 o'clock and requested the Rev. Father Andrew...

After several minutes this was accomplished. The demonstration lasted exactly fifty-two minutes. A flashlight lit the scene. The delegates and alternates turned toward Mrs. Roosevelt and sang...

Col. Roosevelt began by speaking of the pleasure it had given him to see the hands of the fife and the drummers and of the old delegates who had clambered to the platform to greet him.

Several columns of Col. Roosevelt's speech are printed in another part of this paper. His attacks on political bosses and his assertion that the nomination of Bryan from him the Republican national convention, were cheered most enthusiastically.

Col. Roosevelt's advocacy of woman suffrage brought out a tremendous demonstration of enthusiasm and jubilation. So did his reference to the pay envelope of the working man, that is, that the workingman should get his share of the profits...

How about the Mississippi question? he was asked, and he replied: "I refer you to my letter of a number of weeks ago, in which I advocated that the Mississippi should be made a great national waterway."

Under these conditions it will become for the first time possible that the negro who shows the quality which entitles him to respect and confidence will, with the cordial good will of his white neighbors, do his part in healthy political work for the common good.

With the close of Col. Roosevelt's speech on the negro question there was another uproar of cheers and jubilation, which was closed by the convention singing an anthem entitled "Roosevelt to the strains of 'Maryland, My Maryland,' as follows:

NAME GEO. W. PERKINS N. Y. COMMITTEEMAN

State's Third Party Delegates Elect Him to National Progressive Body.

STRAUS REFUSES TO RUN

Withdraws in Favor of First Nominee—Negro Resolution Again Tabled.

CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—George W. Perkins was elected unanimously to-day to represent New York State upon the National Progressive Committee by the third party delegates from that State after Oscar S. Straus had refused to be a candidate against Mr. Perkins.

ALL NIGHT ON PLATFORM.

Committee Began Work on a Tentative Draft at 10 P. M.

CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—After an all night session the sub-committee of the platform committee resumed its labors to-day and submitted a tentative draft of the platform to the full committee at its meeting at 10 o'clock to-night.

MCCORMICK ILLINOIS LEADER.

He Will Be in Charge of Fight on Demers.

REV. DR. CARSON FOR TAFT.

Old Union League Member Can't Stand Overemphasized Ego.

The Rev. Dr. John F. Carson, pastor of the Central Presbyterian Church in Brooklyn and until recently Moderator of the General Assembly, is an old member of the Union League Club, but was unable to attend the special meeting held a week ago at which Taft and Sherman were endorsed by an overwhelming vote.

TICKET IN PENNSYLVANIA.

Roosevelt Says Third Party Will Have Full Representation.

CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—After conferring with William Flinn and other Pennsylvania leaders to-night Col. Roosevelt announced that there will be a straight third party ticket in that State.

It is cowardly and not the voice of manhood to take such a position," declared Mr. Spingarn, and the 60,000 colored voters in the Northern States resent it.

BUSY DAY FOR ROOSEVELT.

Colonel Might Glad He Was Interrupted in Convention.

CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—Things were stirring about Col. Roosevelt's headquarters very early this morning. It was to be the Colonel's big day. He was primed for his speech to the convention, hoped to settle the Southern negro delegate question that had been vexing him and to straighten out all the tangles before bedtime.

HILLES QUESTIONS WILSON.

Chairman Wants Tariff Views of Democratic Nominee.

WILL EXONERATE SECRETARY WILSON.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Exonerations of Secretary of Agriculture Wilson from blame in the "Everglades scandal" and censure for another such offense were forecast by the press on the Florida land controversy to-day.

FAMILY CHARGED WITH ARSON.

Oil Soaked Rags Get a Father and Mother and Two Children Into Jail.

PATERSON, N. J., Aug. 6.—Vineo Torro, his sixteen-year-old daughter Susan, his fourteen-year-old son Frank and his wife are locked up here charged with arson. This followed the investigation by the police of a fire at 553 River street, the Torro home, early Monday morning.

HORSE BOLTS ON BRIDGE.

Horse Slides Under and Driver Flies Over Runaway Gate.

They dropped the runaway gate at the Brooklyn end of the Williamsburg Bridge last night as a horse harnessed to a wagon driven by Harry Salzman of 176 Floyd street, Brooklyn, came tearing along.

BROADWAY SUBWAY CONTRACTS READY.

The Public Service Commission adopted yesterday the form of contract for the construction of section No. 1 of the Broadway Lexington avenue subway and ordered that bids should be advertised for and opened at noon on September 10. The section extends under Trinity place and is 2,004 feet long.

ROSLAN SOAP.

Will keep your skin in "the pink of condition," clear, soft—always healthy. Does more than other soaps because it contains Roslan, the healing remedy. Pure, healthful, antiseptic, delightful. For toilet and bath.

AT ALL DRUGGISTS.

For free sample, write to the Roslan Soap Laboratories, 12 B. 24th St., New York City.

FARLEY TO GO AFTER CONEY ISLAND NEXT

State Authorities to Close Up and Rest of Brooklyn Up Early.

PART OF GENERAL CLEANUP

Many Arrests and Prosecutions Expected at the Island.

Commissioner W. W. Farley of the State Excise Department plans to make a night raid on Brooklyn, including Coney Island, this week to close up the all-night places which sell drinks after a check in the morning. The Commissioner was expected to arrive from Albany yesterday and it was said he intended to make a tour of the suspected cafes and restaurants with his deputies and a number of the agents. The greater part of the activities will be directed toward Coney Island, where it is expected a large number of arrests and civil suits will result.

"The situation in New York may have precipitated matters," he said, "but the crusade is not intended as any criticism of the police. We have been working hand in hand with the Police Department, have been receiving information every day which has helped us in locating the places which we want to get after. Every arrest which is made which applies to all to our work is reported to us. We have no criticism to make of the police."

"We already have gone through Syracuse, Troy, Saratoga and other up-State towns, and wherever they have been they have cleaned up. We have been working down the line and New York is the last stop."

The chief agents have been at work in Brooklyn this week and they have made daily reports of their progress. They were told to make the rounds of the places which sell drinks after 11 o'clock A. M. It is understood that many warrants have been issued as a result of the investigation in Brooklyn and that the raid was made in Manhattan early on Sunday morning. It is planned to bring action against the proprietors of the cafes in Part II of Special Term of Commissioner James S. Hogan, who is said to be the counsel for the department, would be ready to bring their cases into court next week. The court will be asked to revoke the license in each case.

In the criminal cases the prisoners are to be brought before a police magistrate and then held for General Sessions. The agents of the Department have found that the campaign, however, for Commissioner Farley has designs on Queens and agents are at work there now getting the necessary information. Special Deputy Commissioner Charles Norris and Lawrence Firestone and Donnell. They will ride in three automobiles.

Commissioner Farley arrived in Albany from Chicago yesterday and in the afternoon addressed the Liquor Dealers Association of Troy at that city. When asked what he intended to do in New York city he replied:

No police officers enforce the closing provision and every other provision of the liquor law in New York city and every other locality in the State. The holders of liquor tax certificates must abide with the liquor tax law.

They dropped the runaway gate at the Brooklyn end of the Williamsburg Bridge last night as a horse harnessed to a wagon driven by Harry Salzman of 176 Floyd street, Brooklyn, came tearing along. But the horse slid under the gate as it dropped, the wagon stopped and Salzman shot over it and landed on his head.

The runaway animal was caught in the crowded bridge plaza by Vincenzo Ranello of 145 West End avenue. He and Salzman were considerably bruised and were fixed up by an ambulance doctor.

The Public Service Commission adopted yesterday the form of contract for the construction of section No. 1 of the Broadway Lexington avenue subway and ordered that bids should be advertised for and opened at noon on September 10. The section extends under Trinity place and is 2,004 feet long.

Will keep your skin in "the pink of condition," clear, soft—always healthy. Does more than other soaps because it contains Roslan, the healing remedy. Pure, healthful, antiseptic, delightful. For toilet and bath.

AT ALL DRUGGISTS. For free sample, write to the Roslan Soap Laboratories, 12 B. 24th St., New York City.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Exonerations of Secretary of Agriculture Wilson from blame in the "Everglades scandal" and censure for another such offense were forecast by the press on the Florida land controversy to-day.