

trial may be, Inspector Hayes's position is not without interest in the investigation of the graft side of the Rosenthal case.

The inspector's friends were saying yesterday that he is not likely to offer himself as a witness. They said too that he was no friend of Becker and that Hayes and Becker had quarreled recently.

With the demotion of Hayes went also the dispersion of his staff, Lieut. James A. Brady, Sergeant Charles Hoffman and John P. Higgins and nineteen patrolmen.

The suspension of Hayes and the reprimand of other inspectors in whose districts disorderly houses and gambling houses have been running interested the department as much perhaps as any development of the Rosenthal case.

The Commissioner, it was known, acted Friday on other information than that obtained by Assistant District Attorney James E. Smith in raiding disorderly houses.

Commissioner Waldo left the city on Friday night to be away until tomorrow, but before he left he gave a plain intimation that he intends to rid the town of protected vice or rid the Police Department of several very well known inspectors.

Stories have been going around that he has placed his resignation in the hands of the Mayor. This Commissioner Waldo emphatically denies.

More of Becker's Money. District Attorney Whitman was in Manchester, Vt., yesterday. His assistants in charge of the graft side of the Rosenthal case went ahead getting evidence as to the property of Charles Becker and other policemen accused of blackmail.

On Friday information was got as to two deposits aggregating $19,000. Yesterday's discovery showed that Becker deposits up to about $60,000. The District Attorney has pointed out that some newspapers have printed inaccurate and confusing figures as to the Becker deposits.

Becker's Defence. A story in circulation yesterday that Becker's defence would be that Rosenthal was shot by Harry Vallon after Vallon got drunk in Bridge Street poker rooms, was not taken seriously by the District Attorney's assistants.

They pointed out that there are five witnesses of the murder other than accomplices who have identified Rosenthal, Muller, Horowitz and Crofani as the men who fired the shots.

Lawyers expect a great deal from the appointment of Supreme Court Justice John W. Goff as a committing magistrate. It is more than likely to dig up the murder and graft cases.

As the inquiry is planned, the trials of the defendants in the murder cases and the Grand Jury investigation of the graft situation can proceed simultaneously, although it is probable that the graft investigation cannot get into fall

SCHEPPS ACCEPTS ATTORNEY.

Buffalo, Aug. 17.—For six hours today Sam Schepps, held in connection with the Rosenthal murder in New York, was a tourist and enjoyed a trip to Niagara Falls and returned at the expense of New York State.

The journey was made with Thompson and Stewart, the two detectives who have acted as Schepps's bodyguard since his departure from Hot Springs. Assistant District Attorney Rubin remained here, his wife coming up from New York to join him.

Bernard H. Sandler, the New York attorney who got to Hot Springs a few hours after the departure of Schepps on route to New York and who the latter repudiated up to last night, met Schepps in his room at the Statler Hotel upon the return of the party from the falls.

Schepps is keeping his own counsel in regard to what he will tell District Attorney Whitman next Tuesday, but according to members of the party he has denied all knowledge of the actual shooting of Rosenthal.

Schepps deprecates any idea that an attempt will be made by his friends to attempt a rescue, and he does not fear that any attempt will be made to shoot him from an airplane.

"YES, it is pretty warm down here, but you know I don't mind it. I stay in the office where it is cool and let the telephone run my errands. It has saved me many trips this summer, but the best thing the telephone has done is to let me talk to you and the children every day."
