

PIERRE LOTI, IMMORTAL OF FRANCE, HAS ARRIVED

Battalion of Press Agents Kept Busy Telling How He Hates Publicity.

"BATHES IN MORNING SUN"

Playwright Appears With Rouged Cheeks, Penciled Eyebrows and French Heels.

When the 8:03 boat, to give the exact time of the lowering of La Savoie's gangplank, came to East 42nd street...

Even the Parisian press agents who had been hired to come to America aboard La Savoie with M. Loti seemed to be wholly unable to prevent the detailed life history of the author of "The Daughter of Heaven" from leaking into print.

Mr. Loti talked but briefly aboard La Savoie and at the pier. He had written, he said, "The Daughter of Heaven," which is soon to be produced at the theatre named the Century in honor of George Westly of the Liebler office, Columbus 880.
