

BROKER CHARGED WITH ATTEMPTED EXTORTION

W. L. Washington Accused by Atwood Violet in Answer to Slander Suit.

PARTNERS HAD SEPARATED

Violet Says ex-Member of Firm Took Private Papers and Demanded Money.

William Lanier Washington of 120 West Fifty-seventh street, who until January 10, 1911, was a member of the Stock Exchange firm of Atwood Violet & Co., accused various charges in an answer filed in the Supreme Court yesterday by Atwood Violet, head of the firm, to a suit for $300,000 damages for slander brought against him by Washington.

The plaintiff alleges Mr. Violet called him a thief on twelve occasions and asks $20,000 damages for each. In his answer Mr. Violet contends his accusations were justified. He alleges that on January 10, 1911, Washington had an interest of $4,050 in the firm and had drawn $3,867 of this amount, so the firm actually owed him only $183. A dispute then arose over money drawn by Washington, the defendant says, and Washington made out a check for $4,950, cashed it and retained the money without the firm's permission.

Violet further says that in February, 1911, Washington called on Brainerd Avery, a lawyer, and told him he had a personal grievance against Violet and had neither the patience nor money to sue him, but "had a method of bringing Violet to terms."

The defendant alleges Washington then told Lawyer Avery he had used a passkey to enter the firm's office at night and had made a careful examination of all the firm's files, books and papers and had found transactions which he thought would cause Mr. Violet to be questioned by the Stock Exchange authorities as to a violation of the rules.

Violet says that Washington told the lawyer he had taken away certain correspondence of the firm, some of which he had copied and some photographed. The defendant alleges that when he heard this story he made a search of his books and papers and found that the books had been mutilated, check stubs torn out and certain papers were missing. He says he told his attorney, William Travers Jerome, about it and Jerome advised him that it looked like a case of attempted extortion, which is a felony.

Violet alleges that thereafter "for a considerable sum" Washington executed a general release against Violet and turned over to Mr. Jerome what he said were all the papers he had. The defendant says he paid over the money because he is of advanced age and felt that he ought to avoid the excitement and annoyance of an altercation with Washington.

NO HOPE FOR JUDGE PLATT

Connecticut Jurist Fed Through Tube, Cannot Be Operated Upon.

HARTFORD, Oct. 2.—After five days of absolute fast, even to the extent of drinking water, Judge James P. Platt of Meriden was operated on in this city to-day, and though he is being given nourishment through a tube no hope is held out to-night for his recovery.

Judge Platt, who is a noted jurist and a son of the late Orville H. Platt, Connecticut's beloved United States Senator, was brought from his home in Meriden by his wife and daughter to a private hospital here to-day and a Hartford surgeon, assisted by Dr. E. T. Bradstreet of Meriden, operated and inserted a tube by means of which nourishment was given to the starving patient.

GEORGIA RAILROAD TIED UP

Not a Wheel Turned Since the Strike Order Went Into Effect.

ATLANTA, Oct. 2.—Not a wheel has turned on the five hundred miles of the Georgia Railroad since the strike order went into effect at 8:30 last night, except for three trains that had already begun their runs at that hour, and as soon as those trains reached their points of destination they were abandoned by their crews.

In the main yards in Atlanta, Augusta and Macon there are many abandoned trains. The ties and rails are in a complete paralysis of traffic, not one attempt being made for or by the road to operate trains.

GIVES BROTHER HER SKIN.

Little Alice Schultoff Submits to Operation for Baby.

Twelve-year-old Alice Schultoff of 1034 Washington avenue, The Bronx, made good yesterday on her word to the doctors at Bellevue that she had come there to let them take enough skin from her body to cover the ugly burn on her little brother Wilfred's left leg. Wilfred is 11 years old and the burn wouldn't heal.

Dr. Walter Cramp and Dr. R. A. Norris put Alice under an anesthetic and cut from one of her thighs enough skin to start a growth over her brother's wound, which covers a space of thirty-six square inches.

POLICEMEN CAUGHT OFF DUTY.

Chief Inspector Schmittberger Visits Parkville Section of Brooklyn.

As the result of another early morning tour of inspection by Chief Inspector Schmittberger last Tuesday charges will be preferred soon against ten members of the Police Department for "engaging in conversation" and "being off post."

The inspector, Capt. Thomas Myers and Patrolman John Cromer set out in an automobile to cover the Flatbush and Parkville sections of Brooklyn. In the railroad station at Avenue H and East Eleventh street at 5:30 A. M. they found Patrolmen Patrick Jones and Daniel J. Reilly of the Parkville station sitting at a bench reading a newspaper. The police officer was under the stove.

Fifteen minutes later they came upon Patrolman John Cavanaugh of the Parkville station in the Newark avenue railroad station.

SAVE EIGHT FAMILIES IN FIRE.

Thomas McCabe and Firemen Brave Flames in Williamsburg Tenement.

A fire among pantries and ovens which painted had stored in the cellar of a four-story tenement dwelling at 55 Flood street, Williamsburg, early yesterday, injured the eight families in the building. The blaze had made considerable headway toward the floors above when it was checked out from the cellar grating.

Thomas McCabe of 110 Floyd street, who was only partly clothed, rushed into the flames and from the first floor rescued Herman Schumacher, an aged man, and his crippled wife. McCabe went back to the building and rescued John Conzian, his wife and three children.

Three firemen of Engine 130 made their way to the second floor and helped two families across windows, ledges to adjoining buildings. The tenants on the third and fourth floors, whose rooms had become filled with smoke, helped to get down and carried across to adjoining buildings.

The loss was placed at $5,000.

C. P. R. TO ISSUE NEW STOCK.

MONTREAL, Oct. 2.—At a special meeting of the Canadian Pacific Railway held to-day in the company's offices the shareholders authorized the issue of $60,000,000 new stock, bringing the capitalization of the road to $260,000,000.

In his annual address Sir Thomas Sloughness referred to the necessity of procuring money to raise the company's capital. He said that the company's capitalization in 1911 amounted to $200,000,000. The shareholders were then asked to approve of the increase in the common stock of the company.

THREE HELD FOR LARCENY.

Woman and Two Young Men Accused of Stealing Diamond Earrings.

Mrs. Mary Monahan, 45 years of age, 342 West Forty-fifth street, Charles Egan, 20 years of age, 202 East Ninety-third street, and Francis Perkins, 20 years of age, 620 West Forty-eighth street, were held for trial in $1,000 bail by Magistrate Krotzel in the West Side police court yesterday afternoon on the charge of larceny.

The three persons were charged with the larceny of diamond earrings, valued at $1,000. Mrs. Vanderhook, of 62 St. Nicholas avenue was the complainant.

Perkins alleged that Mrs. Monahan, who lives in a tenement in the West Side, had cleaning apartments, gave him diamond earrings on September 1, telling him she had them in a box of jewelry.

When some of the men to whom Krotzel showed the jewelry called them "kiss" stones, the young man revealed to the police that the earrings were his.

MIDDIES COME BACK TO MANY CHANGES

New Scheme of Courses of Instruction at the Naval Academy.

ALONG UNIVERSITY LINES

Only Three Absences in Total Enrollment of 768 on Opening Day.

ANnapolis, Oct. 1.—Not much time is left in settling down to work at the beginning of the scholastic year at the Naval Academy, nor are the authorities of the institution at all in doubt as to the size of the school when the term begins and the students arrive. Of the 768 midshipmen only three were absent when the Academy officially began its year at the morning roll call Tuesday, and the reasons for their absence were known.

One was officially excused for illness, and the other two, who had been given a leave for a trip to Porto Rico, had been delayed in the return passage.

The 768 midshipmen are divided by classes as follows: first, 144; second, 163; third, 190; fourth, 264. Only the members of the three upper classes have been absent on leave during the term. The fourth class being composed of those midshipmen who have entered the Academy during the summer.

The work of breaking in the newcomers has been well performed, and they will be placed in their ranks beside the old men in a week or two no one will be able to pick them out, except by the absence of service stripes.

During the summer notable changes have been made in the teaching force, including the heads of four departments. In the department of mathematics and mechanics, regarded as the most important in the Academy, both Prof. Stimson J. Brown, the head, and Prof. H. M. Paul, the second in seniority, have been relieved, and Prof. Harry E. Smith has been named as his chief.

Distinct changes have been made in the course of study, too. The purpose is to graduate the men with a better grounding in fundamentals, leaving the more advanced work for post-graduate courses.

The university idea is to be more thoroughly developed, and the midshipmen, who are commissioned as ensigns immediately on graduation, will have additional instruction in their specialties in graduate schools. The Graduate School of Marine Engineering has been in existence two years, and it is proposed to establish additional schools of ordinance, advanced electricity, etc.
