

fighting is imminent until a flank of the lines has been turned by operations in another theatre of war that I am about to return to Constantinople, which place, in the opinion of experienced observers, will be the scene of an arrangement at an early date.

PEACE MEETINGS RUMORED.

Nothing Definite Known of Them in London.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun. LONDON, Nov. 26.—There is nothing here this morning which confirms with certainty that peace meetings between the emissaries of the allies and Turkey have begun.

There are only very scanty messages from Constantinople in the London morning papers and they deal with anything but negotiations.

There was a rumor on the Berlin Bourse that war had been actually declared between Austria and Serbia, and prices tumbled until there came a semi-official denial.

There was a rumor on the Berlin Bourse that war had been actually declared between Austria and Serbia, and prices tumbled until there came a semi-official denial.

There was a rumor on the Berlin Bourse that war had been actually declared between Austria and Serbia, and prices tumbled until there came a semi-official denial.

There was a rumor on the Berlin Bourse that war had been actually declared between Austria and Serbia, and prices tumbled until there came a semi-official denial.

There was a rumor on the Berlin Bourse that war had been actually declared between Austria and Serbia, and prices tumbled until there came a semi-official denial.

There was a rumor on the Berlin Bourse that war had been actually declared between Austria and Serbia, and prices tumbled until there came a semi-official denial.

There was a rumor on the Berlin Bourse that war had been actually declared between Austria and Serbia, and prices tumbled until there came a semi-official denial.

There was a rumor on the Berlin Bourse that war had been actually declared between Austria and Serbia, and prices tumbled until there came a semi-official denial.

There was a rumor on the Berlin Bourse that war had been actually declared between Austria and Serbia, and prices tumbled until there came a semi-official denial.

There was a rumor on the Berlin Bourse that war had been actually declared between Austria and Serbia, and prices tumbled until there came a semi-official denial.

There was a rumor on the Berlin Bourse that war had been actually declared between Austria and Serbia, and prices tumbled until there came a semi-official denial.

There was a rumor on the Berlin Bourse that war had been actually declared between Austria and Serbia, and prices tumbled until there came a semi-official denial.

There was a rumor on the Berlin Bourse that war had been actually declared between Austria and Serbia, and prices tumbled until there came a semi-official denial.

There was a rumor on the Berlin Bourse that war had been actually declared between Austria and Serbia, and prices tumbled until there came a semi-official denial.

There was a rumor on the Berlin Bourse that war had been actually declared between Austria and Serbia, and prices tumbled until there came a semi-official denial.

There was a rumor on the Berlin Bourse that war had been actually declared between Austria and Serbia, and prices tumbled until there came a semi-official denial.

There was a rumor on the Berlin Bourse that war had been actually declared between Austria and Serbia, and prices tumbled until there came a semi-official denial.

KOEHLE & CO. Automobile. 22 H. P. Touring and Roadster 1912. FULLY EQUIPPED. LANG STROKE FULL BEARING AXLES. SPEED 35 M.P.H. TORQUE 100 LBS. MAGNETO. BUSHING DESIGN. ALL MOVING PARTS ENCLOSED. NEWARK, N. J. 101 Halsey St. Boston, East Orange, Montclair.

garian headquarters in Turkey, but the fact is sedulously concealed. Cholera is raging at Adrianople also, he says, and there are some cases among the Servian forces which are now besieging the city.

The demoralization of the main Ottoman army, he adds, has not affected the garrison of Adrianople. The Turks there have several times rowed ground, especially on the right bank of the Maritza River, where a Servian division retired four miles, and on the left bank where the Servians suffered great losses.

The besiegers, the correspondent says, penetrated to Karagash on the night of November 20. Several street fighting ensued, but the allies' forces were obliged to withdraw. The correspondent estimates that 12,000 men of the allies' forces have been killed and wounded since the siege of Adrianople began.

The besiegers, the correspondent says, penetrated to Karagash on the night of November 20. Several street fighting ensued, but the allies' forces were obliged to withdraw. The correspondent estimates that 12,000 men of the allies' forces have been killed and wounded since the siege of Adrianople began.

The besiegers, the correspondent says, penetrated to Karagash on the night of November 20. Several street fighting ensued, but the allies' forces were obliged to withdraw. The correspondent estimates that 12,000 men of the allies' forces have been killed and wounded since the siege of Adrianople began.

The besiegers, the correspondent says, penetrated to Karagash on the night of November 20. Several street fighting ensued, but the allies' forces were obliged to withdraw. The correspondent estimates that 12,000 men of the allies' forces have been killed and wounded since the siege of Adrianople began.

The besiegers, the correspondent says, penetrated to Karagash on the night of November 20. Several street fighting ensued, but the allies' forces were obliged to withdraw. The correspondent estimates that 12,000 men of the allies' forces have been killed and wounded since the siege of Adrianople began.

The besiegers, the correspondent says, penetrated to Karagash on the night of November 20. Several street fighting ensued, but the allies' forces were obliged to withdraw. The correspondent estimates that 12,000 men of the allies' forces have been killed and wounded since the siege of Adrianople began.

The besiegers, the correspondent says, penetrated to Karagash on the night of November 20. Several street fighting ensued, but the allies' forces were obliged to withdraw. The correspondent estimates that 12,000 men of the allies' forces have been killed and wounded since the siege of Adrianople began.

The besiegers, the correspondent says, penetrated to Karagash on the night of November 20. Several street fighting ensued, but the allies' forces were obliged to withdraw. The correspondent estimates that 12,000 men of the allies' forces have been killed and wounded since the siege of Adrianople began.

The besiegers, the correspondent says, penetrated to Karagash on the night of November 20. Several street fighting ensued, but the allies' forces were obliged to withdraw. The correspondent estimates that 12,000 men of the allies' forces have been killed and wounded since the siege of Adrianople began.

The besiegers, the correspondent says, penetrated to Karagash on the night of November 20. Several street fighting ensued, but the allies' forces were obliged to withdraw. The correspondent estimates that 12,000 men of the allies' forces have been killed and wounded since the siege of Adrianople began.

The besiegers, the correspondent says, penetrated to Karagash on the night of November 20. Several street fighting ensued, but the allies' forces were obliged to withdraw. The correspondent estimates that 12,000 men of the allies' forces have been killed and wounded since the siege of Adrianople began.

The besiegers, the correspondent says, penetrated to Karagash on the night of November 20. Several street fighting ensued, but the allies' forces were obliged to withdraw. The correspondent estimates that 12,000 men of the allies' forces have been killed and wounded since the siege of Adrianople began.

The besiegers, the correspondent says, penetrated to Karagash on the night of November 20. Several street fighting ensued, but the allies' forces were obliged to withdraw. The correspondent estimates that 12,000 men of the allies' forces have been killed and wounded since the siege of Adrianople began.

The besiegers, the correspondent says, penetrated to Karagash on the night of November 20. Several street fighting ensued, but the allies' forces were obliged to withdraw. The correspondent estimates that 12,000 men of the allies' forces have been killed and wounded since the siege of Adrianople began.

The besiegers, the correspondent says, penetrated to Karagash on the night of November 20. Several street fighting ensued, but the allies' forces were obliged to withdraw. The correspondent estimates that 12,000 men of the allies' forces have been killed and wounded since the siege of Adrianople began.

The besiegers, the correspondent says, penetrated to Karagash on the night of November 20. Several street fighting ensued, but the allies' forces were obliged to withdraw. The correspondent estimates that 12,000 men of the allies' forces have been killed and wounded since the siege of Adrianople began.

The besiegers, the correspondent says, penetrated to Karagash on the night of November 20. Several street fighting ensued, but the allies' forces were obliged to withdraw. The correspondent estimates that 12,000 men of the allies' forces have been killed and wounded since the siege of Adrianople began.

The besiegers, the correspondent says, penetrated to Karagash on the night of November 20. Several street fighting ensued, but the allies' forces were obliged to withdraw. The correspondent estimates that 12,000 men of the allies' forces have been killed and wounded since the siege of Adrianople began.

The besiegers, the correspondent says, penetrated to Karagash on the night of November 20. Several street fighting ensued, but the allies' forces were obliged to withdraw. The correspondent estimates that 12,000 men of the allies' forces have been killed and wounded since the siege of Adrianople began.

changes have been made in the instructions to the American squadron now en route to the ports of Asiatic Turkey. The Montana, which with the Tennessee left Gibraltar yesterday, will stop at the ports of Mersina, Latakia and Alexandria. Calls will be paid by the commanding officer of the Montana on the Governors at these ports and he will ascertain what steps have been taken by the local authorities and the warships of the neutral European Powers for the protection of American citizens at the ports and in the interior districts. After making these stops the Montana will go to Port Said to get coal and thence go to Beirut and cruise along the Syrian coast.

The Tennessee will stop at Malta for coal and will then go to Smyrna. Ambassador Rockhill has informed the State Department that there is no necessity for either of the United States cruisers to go to Constantinople.

SOCIALISTS OPPOSE WAR. Adopt Manifesto Urging Its Abolishment at Basel Congress.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun. BASEL, Nov. 25.—A manifesto drawn up by Jean Jaures, leader of the French Socialists, was issued to-day by the International Socialist Congress, calling upon Socialists all over the world to resist any measure for war taken by their Governments. The declaration insists that a general war caused by the Balkan situation would be a disgrace to civilization. The cause of such a war, if war there is to be, is so out of proportion to the immensity of the catastrophe that it would follow, say the Socialists, that in all the wars which have involved the Socialists must work together to prevent such an event.

The Socialists believe that the gravest danger to the peace of nations is the artificially supported hostility between Germany and England, and they call upon Socialists in both countries to work for peace.

"The time has passed," says the manifesto, "when the working classes of the world should shoot down one another for the profit of capitalists, the pride of dynasties or the exigencies of secret treaties. If the Governments suppress the possibility of evolution and force the proletariat to desperate measures the responsibility for what happens will rest upon the shoulders of the Governments."

A resolution was adopted by the congress to hold anti-war meetings in the capitals of Europe on December 16.

"ALLIES CAN DOWN AUSTRIA." Such is Prof. Pupin's Statement to New York Ministers.

There will be no peace in Europe until justice is done to the Balkan States, Prof. Michael Idvorsky Pupin of Columbia University told the clerical conference of the New York Federation of Churches yesterday at a meeting held in the assembly hall of the Metropolitan Life Building. He said that in the event of a war between Austria and the Balkan States it was probable that Austria would be defeated.

About 100 ministers, prominent in the city, were present to hear Prof. Pupin talk on the opportunities offered by the revolution to the churches of America. Prof. Pupin urged the ministers to get together and create a strong public sentiment in favor of the Balkan allies.

"Justice from the European States, combined with a strong sentiment in their own countries," Prof. Pupin said, "will help the Balkan States more than if the armies of the United States were sent over to aid them."

"If the treaty of Berlin, made in 1878, had been just there would have been no war now. That was the greatest exhibition of hypocrisy and dishonesty that the world has ever seen. The treaty promised what they could not give and what they knew they could not give. They promised that the Christians in Turkey, who were freed by themselves and by Russia, going under the domination of Turkey, would enjoy all the rights of a free Turkish citizen. It was clear then that the treaty could not be kept. It was impossible to introduce reforms in Turkey without first overthrowing the military feudalism in Turkey by the sword."

"The Balkan Federation was formed to destroy Turkish feudalism and has accomplished its purpose. Power is now in the hands of the people who refuse the rights of the citizens of the Balkan States to them."

Prof. Pupin spoke of the influence of American ideas on the Balkan States and declared that the Balkan States would not have been victorious had it not been for what he called the "Greek, Bulgarian and Montenegrin" had learned in the United States. He said that the statesmen who formed the alliance between the four States and who directed the struggle were students of the Declaration of Independence and that the armies are imbued with the same spirit that filled the soldiers of Washington.

Appeal for Jews in Turkey. The American Jewish Committee, 256 Second Avenue, through Louis Marshall, its president, has issued an appeal to the Jews in America to campaign for rescue of their coreligionists in European Turkey. Many of whom are suffering from hunger, lack of adequate clothing and shelter, caused by the war between the Balkan States and Turkey. Felix M. Warburg, 24 Williams Street, is a member of the committee which is being collected and arrangements have been made to disburse to the best advantage all money collected.

SPANISH BATTLESHIP ASHORE. Damaged Entering Port Mahon on Island of Minorca.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun. PORT MAHON, Minorca, Nov. 25.—The Spanish battleship Pelayo went ashore here yesterday at the entrance of the harbor and several of her armor plates were stove in. She was towed off and beached. Divers are repairing the damage.

U. S. Cruisers' Plans Changed Following Rockhill's Reports.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—All Americans in Asiatic Turkey are safe, according to dispatches received at the State Department to-day, based on reports from all the Consuls in the Turkish provinces in Asia.

Upon the recommendation of Ambassador Rockhill at Constantinople

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun. BUCHAREST, Nov. 25.—Osman Nizami Pasha, the Ottoman Ambassador in Berlin, who has been selected by Turkey as one of her negotiators for an armistice, passed through here yesterday en route to assume his part in the negotiations.

He was granted an audience by King Charles while here.

CHOLERA SPREADING NORTH. Raging Also Around Adrianople, Where Besieged Still Stand.

On Rainy Days Use MICHELIN STEEL-STUDDED Anti-Skids. They Do prevent skidding and you don't have to bother with chains. Phone 2541 Columbus. 1763 Broadway.

NEW YORK HAS GOOD CHANCE TO KEEP MORGAN TREASURES. Metropolitan Director Says Situation Is Serious, but Not Critical.

Regarding a report that J. P. Morgan might remove his European art collections to Hartford because no space is being provided for them at the Metropolitan Museum of Art, Edward Robinson, the Metropolitan director, said yesterday the situation was serious, but not critical as yet.

Mr. Robinson thought that Mr. Morgan would not take any action until the Board of Estimate had decided whether or not the museum is to have a southern extension. If the Board of Estimate decides unfavorably, said Mr. Robinson, the museum would probably have to close its doors to other space rather than lose the Morgan collections. He understood that the Board of Estimate was disposed to grant the appropriation and that the matter at present was merely one of delay.

Borough President McAneny said that the city was not lagging back in delaying the $500,000 appropriation. The money could not be voted, he said, until the corporate stock budget was made up by January 1, 1913, and he has no doubt that the museum would get its appropriation at that time.

An outsider has suggested that Mr. Morgan should build the new wing for himself and have it privately owned to build on public property.

Mr. Morgan's librarian, Miss Greene, said yesterday that Mr. Morgan had been confined for some time by the influenza which he contracted in passing boxes of his collections to the city. It was true, she said, that he was endeavoring to remove them to the building erected in Hartford as a memorial to his father.

"I have done nothing criminal in forcing this collection to this country," Miss Greene quoted Mr. Morgan as saying. "Here it is. If this city does not appreciate its opportunity I shall send it to a city that does."

Mr. Morgan, according to Miss Greene, suspects that the Board of Estimate does not appreciate the risk of injury to the collection which the delay entails.

"RITUAL" MURDER CASE OVER. Four Kieff Detectives Acquitted of Charges Against Them.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun. ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 25.—The Criminal Court at Kieff has acquitted M. Mischuk, the former chief of the Kieff detectives, and three assistants, all of whom were accused of faking the discovery of the "ritual murder theory" in connection with the murder of the Christian boy Yushinsky, who was found horribly mutilated in a cave at Kieff and whose murder was ascribed to the Jews.

The boy's case was used by the Black Hundred more than a year ago to arouse hostility to the Jews and a Jewish massacre was feared. A long investigation followed and at one time the boy's relatives were on trial in connection with the murder.

NEW COREAN TRIAL TO-DAY. Preparations Completed for Its Opening To-day at Seoul.

SEOUL, Korea, Nov. 25.—Preparations are completed for the new trial of the 106 Koreans who were convicted on September 28 of conspiring against the life of Count Terachi, the Japanese Governor-General of Korea. The trial begins to-morrow and Judge Suzuki, Chief Justice of the Appeal Court, will preside. Two other judges will sit with him.

Baron Yun Chi Ho, a former Cabinet Minister, and four others of the more prominent prisoners received ten year sentences on the first trial, while the rest were sentenced from five years to seven years.

SAILS WITH BURNING CARGO. Half Million in Cotton Afire on Steamer at Manchester.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun. MANCHESTER, England, Nov. 25.—A half million dollars worth of cotton is afire on the British steamer Miguel de Larrinaga, which is off the Salford docks. The steamer came from Galveston via Norfolk.

The fire was discovered at sea and several sailors were overcome during the fruitless attempts to quench the blaze. The vessel arrived here with her hatches battened down.

NEW CUNARDER BOTTLED UP. Channel of Clyde Will Have to Be Widened to Let Her Out.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun. LONDON, Nov. 25.—The channel of the Clyde will have to be widened and deepened before the new Cunard liner, the mammoth Aquitania, can reach the sea. The application to dredge the channel was made to-day.

THREE DAY BOOK SALE IS BEGUN IN LONDON. Several Well Known Collectors Contribute Parts of Their Libraries. HIGHEST PRICE ONLY $700.

This Amount Paid for "The Book of Common Prayer Noted." Very Rare.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun. LONDON, Nov. 25.—A three days sale of books and manuscripts from the libraries of several well known collectors was begun to-day at Sotheby's. The sale includes valuable works on natural history (Audubon's "Birds of America," four volumes, complete and uncut), fine works on Egyptology, writings of English and French authors and other properties.

The highest price of the day was $700, given for John Marbecke's "The Book of Common Prayer Noted" (1559). This is excessively rare, no copy having been offered for sale since that in the collection of the late E. S. Ellis in 1891. Its importance in connection with the English liturgy and plain song is well known. The author was organist at St. George's Chapel, Windsor, and the compiler of the first English concordance to the Bible.

W. Combe's "English Dance of Death," from the designs of Thomas Rowlandson, with metrical illustrations by the author of "Doctor Syntax," two volumes, first edition, in the original twenty-four parts, numerous finely colored plates, a fine and perfect copy, went for $500.

W. Combe's "The History of Johnny Quae Genus, the Little Foundling of the Late Doctor Syntax," first edition, in the original eight parts, colored plates by T. Rowlandson, sold for $280.

Baron Lantons's "New Voyage to North America," two volumes, maps and plates (1703), brought $39. Shakespeare's works, with an account of the life and writings of the author by N. Rowe, six volumes (1709), sold for $135. The volumes are of large and thick paper copy, very rare, with all the frontispieces and plates. The Stratford Bust was first engraved for this edition.

St. William Keith's "History of the British Plantations in America," part I, containing the "History of Virginia," two fine maps, fine copy (1738), sold for $34.

Chronicles (The Cronycles of Englonde with the dedes of Popes and Emperours and also the description of Englonde) (Wynkyn de Worde) 1528, went for $155.

Henry Holbein's imitations of original drawings in the collection of his Majesty for the portraits of illustrious persons of the court of Henry VIII, with biographical tracts published by J. Chamberlaine, portraits on pink paper, with those of Holbein and his wife (1792), brought $182.

SEE PLOT AGAINST MENOCA. Cuban Conservatives Fear Life of President-elect.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun. HAVANA, Nov. 25.—The Cuban House of Representatives this afternoon had its first quorum since an attempt to open the session was made on November 3.

Speaker Ferreras' bill to create a department of war and marine was referred to a committee.

The Liberal National Assembly's committee to-day presented to President Gomez the Assembly's demand for the dismissal of Gen. Montenegro, the commander of the Cuban armed forces who took a prominent part in the recent elections. President Gomez in replying to the demand stated that he would order an investigation, whereupon Speaker Ferreras, a member of the committee, said that he had ample evidence to prove all the accusations made against Gen. Montenegro.

The Conservatives are convinced that there is a plot being hatched to assassinate President-elect Gen. Menocal.

SUING AUSTRIAN EMPEROR. Heirs of Baron Granted 21 Bosnian Villages Want Them.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun. VIENNA, Nov. 25.—Emperor Francis Joseph is being sued by the heirs of Baron Bernyakovics for the reversion of twenty-one villages in the provinces of Bosnia and Herzegovina which Emperor Leopold I. by a deed in 1654 granted to the Baron's ancestors in the event of Bosnia reverting to Austria. The heirs assert that the annexation of Bosnia in 1908, which caused a previous crisis in the Balkans, furnished the ground for their action, since the promise was not fulfilled. The defence in the suit is that the grant was illegal.

The case promises to be interesting.

PARIS SEES "LES FLAMBEAUX." Henry Bataille's Piece Inspired by Mme. Curie's Love Affairs.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun. PARIS, Nov. 25.—Henry Bataille's "Les Flambeaux" was produced at the Porte St. Martin Theatre to-night and was well received although the audience was somewhat wearied owing to the fact that it lasted four and a quarter hours.

Although not directly founded upon Mme. Curie's recent troubles, the play was certainly inspired by them and it shows that even the highest scientists act as much of the rest of the people of the world under the influence of love and hatred.

M. Lebargy made his first appearance in the play since leaving the Comedie Francaise.

BIG POLICE RAID IN PARIS. Brother of Premier Canaille's Assassin Caught in the Net.

ORIENTAL RUGS. Protect your investment in rugs by coming here the selection offers the widest possible range in choice and price. KENT-COSTIKYAN INC. 8 West 38th Street Only Location.

PROBATION BRINGS THEM LUCK. One Man Makes $100 a Week, Others Do Well, Judge Hears.

Judge Crain of General Sessions court met his probationers last night in one of the big court rooms of the Criminal Courts Building. There were 125 present and not one unaccounted for, the few absent sending valid excuses.

One man told the Judge that he had started a successful business and had cleared $600 in five months; another explained that the company from which he stole money had taken him back as a bookkeeper and that he was doing well, while a third said that he had found a job that paid him $100 a week. The average pay of the probationers, most of whom are boys, was about $18 a week.

FARMER FOUND STAIN IN ROAD. WHEELING, W. Va., Nov. 25.—George Ambler, a young farmer, was assassinated on a lonely road six miles east of this city some time Saturday night. He had been missing from home since Saturday night and to-day his body was found with a bullet hole in the temple. The police have no clue.

MR. STRIKER'S FUNERAL HALTED. Widow and Daughter Clash Over Last Resting Place.

The funeral of Elsworth L. Striker, grandson of the Revolutionary General, General Hopper Striker, was halted yesterday owing to a dispute between his widow and his daughter over the place where the body should be buried. The body is in the Trinity receiving vault pending the settlement of the dispute.

Mrs. Striker wanted her husband's body placed beside that of his grandfather in Trinity Cemetery and Mrs. Albert Farrington, his daughter, wanted the interment in a plot beside the grave of her mother. Mr. Striker's first wife, Mrs. Striker said yesterday that her husband went to the home of Mrs. Farrington at 568 West 134th street on November 4 because he felt that he was going to die. Against her advice, she says her husband was removed to Fordham Hospital, where he died last Friday.

She says that Mr. Striker's wishes were that he be buried in Trinity and she does not wish his body to be placed beside that of his first wife, with whose family he had little to do in the last years of his life.

Mr. Striker was 54 years old.

There is no worse bargain than CHEAP card and filing equipment. BUT—The man who continues to pay the old EXCESSIVE prices is the man who does not investigate. Telephone, Franklin 2361.

SHAW-WALKER. The highest type of Filing Equipment without the Fancy Prices. 371 Broadway.

A Test of Railroad Efficiency. Thirty-two special trains, carrying MORE THAN 50,000 PERSONS to and from the Yale-Harvard football game at New Haven were moved by the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad IN ADDITION to its NORMAL, DENSE TRAFFIC.

And these special trains were handled PRACTICALLY ON TIME and WITHOUT MISHAP. For transportation efficiency, this is a RECORD UNRIVALED.

It was a test—A SUPREME TEST—of the New Haven's traffic facilities. And the results tell HOW WELL the railroad RESPONDED.

Just consider what a TASK it was. The New Haven's NORMAL BUSINESS constantly places INTENSE PRESSURE on its facilities. Now, on top of an ordinary day's business think of moving the ENTIRE POPULATION of a city like BROCKTON, HOLYOKE, HAVERHILL or NEW BRITAIN. And moving them SAFELY and ACCORDING TO SCHEDULE.

Doesn't this exemplify TRANSPORTATION EFFICIENCY? Doesn't it demonstrate THE NEW HAVEN'S POWER EFFECTIVELY TO PERFORM THE TRANSPORTATION SERVICE OF NEW ENGLAND?

The New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Co. FOUNDED 1856.

BROKAW BROTHERS. MEN'S & BOYS' CLOTHING HATS & FURNISHINGS.

Chinchillas and rough surfaced fabrics are having the call for Men's Winter Overcoats—We anticipated the trend and provided liberally.

Chinchillas in various degrees of roughness in black, navy blue, light blue, oxford, brown, olive and fancy mixtures. Fuzzy Shetland, Irish Frieze, Elysians and Montagnac. Winter Overcoats... $18 to $75. Motoring clothes for owner and chauffeur.

Astor Place & Fourth Avenue. SUBWAY AT THE DOOR—ONE BLOCK FROM BROADWAY.

Correct Dress for Men. ALFRED BENJAMIN & Co's Tailor-made Clothes. The shawl-collar overgarment, now so popular and which was introduced by us two years ago, is at its best as shown here now—models that are perfect. Shawl-collar Overcoats, two distinctive models, $20 to $55. Shawl-collar Ulsters, stylish yet cold-defying, $20 to $55. George J. Benjamin. Fifth Ave Building Broadway Cor 24th St.