

FOWNES FORCED TO 19 HOLES TO BEAT KERR

Former Champion Plays Uphill Golf Against Ekwanok Man in Pinehurst Tourney.

IS FOUR DOWN AT TERN Wins Four of Next Five, Then Halves Until Extra One —Travis Wins.

PINEHURST, N. C., March 5.—The results posted after today's first match round of the ninth annual spring golf tournament mean very little, for in spite of the fact that four of the first division matches ended on the tricky fifteenth, three of them were uncertain ones which a single stroke might have reversed.

The best contest of the day was a thirteen hole victory of W. C. Fownes, Jr., former national champion, over H. K. Kerr of Ekwanok, who figured as a semifinalist in the 1912 national. Starting out Kerr had things pretty much his own way, winning six holes, halving one and losing two to take the turn 4 up. Fownes rallied at the turn and squared the match on the fourteenth. He won the fifteenth in indifferent play on the sixteenth. The short sixteenth was perfectly played, Kerr making the edge of the green at the front and Fownes on the green at the left.

Kerr made a brilliant putt for a two, but overran, and Fownes played safe and halved in three. The eighteenth hole also was halved. Kerr got into trouble on the nineteenth hole and Fownes ran down a long putt for a four and the match.

The Travis-Whitmore match attracted the biggest gallery of the afternoon, and an element of uncertainty entered the fight in spite of what was apparently an easy win for the Garden City player. The real climax was on the fourteenth, where Travis laid a 150 yard approach wedge shot that landed on the green and ran down a long putt for a two and lost the hole, 4-3, and the match by the same score.

A. A. Starg, the Chicago University coach, who has never had a golf club in his hand until he played here last winter, gave young B. Warren Coker, yesterday's medalist, plenty of entertainment. Three down, Starg halved the fifteenth in a par three and lost the sixteenth and the match, 4-5.

Henry C. Fownes and John E. Porter, Oklahoma clubmates of many a hard fought battle, had a hot, close, hard fought battle, but Porter took the best share of the holes, but on turning home was only 2 up, the match ending on the fifteenth, 4-3, and by the same score.

PAPKE FOULS; DISQUALIFIED.

Klaus Outflights Him All the Way—End is in Fifteenth Round.

PARKER, March 5.—Frank Klaus, the Pittsburgh middleweight, was declared the victor over Billy Papke of Kewanee, Ill., when the latter was disqualified in the fifteenth round for repeated fouling in their scheduled twenty round bout at the Cirque de Paris here to-night.

Klaus, who as the result of his triumph, is being extolled as the middleweight champion of the world, outflouted Papke from the start. Papke, in the opinion of ringsters, fouled so that he could be disqualified and thereby spared from a knockout which seemed certain to come at any moment.

The rivals weighed in at 160 pounds (the European middleweight limit). When they squared off for the first round there was only a brief moment of riddling and then Papke struck several blows of unusual style made little impression on his rugged antagonist, however. During the next few rounds Papke invariably tore out of his corner at the bell and just as regularly returned to it.

Klaus began to appear to great advantage after the tenth round. Previously content to let Papke carry the fight to the end of the time, he had conserved his strength. When he took the arena, he gave himself it was not long before Papke was forced to continual clinching. In the last few rounds Papke butted with his fists and struck several blows which appeared low. Finally the referee warned him, but this had no effect, and when the Thunderbolt duplicated his offense he was pulled from the ring and Klaus's hand raised as a symbol of victory. The late crowd that witnessed the fight was disgruntled at the unsatisfactory ending, though all admitted that the referee did only his duty.

MARSHALL CAN'T LOSE NOW.

Worst American Can Get by Final Play To-day is Tie for First.

HAVANA, March 5.—A clean sweep was made of all the adjourned games in the chess tournament here to-day so that everything is in readiness for the final round to-morrow. Frank J. Marshall, United States champion, will enter the final stage with a full point advantage over the British challenger, the Cuban player, so that he needs but to draw his final game with Janowski in order to emerge winner of the chief prize.

Both Marshall and Capablanca won their unfinished games from the thirteenth round, the former defeating Bianco after a hard game lasting fifty-eight moves, while Capablanca downed Janowski in fifty-two moves. This gave Marshall a total of ten and a half points and Capablanca nine and a half points. The best of the latter can do now is to for first in case he should win to-morrow and Marshall should lose.

Janowski, who all along has been an unknown quantity, as he had lost comparatively few games, was put out of the running to-day by the absence of his opponent, Capablanca. He defeated Chajes in forty-seven moves, but defeated Bianco in forty-five. In other games Chajes won from Jaffe in sixty-two moves and the Jaffe-Corzo game was drawn in seventy-one moves. The scores to date:

Players. Won. Lost. Players. Won. Lost. Marshall, 10 1/2 2 1/2 Chajes, 5 1/2 2 1/2 Capablanca, 9 1/2 2 1/2 Bianco, 4 1/2 2 1/2 Janowski, 8 1/2 2 1/2 Corzo, 4 1/2 2 1/2 Jaffe, 4 1/2 2 1/2 Kuchuk, 4 1/2 2 1/2

BALL SQUAD ON SOUTH FIELD.

Coach's Charges in Open Earlier Than Any Previous Year.

Columbia's baseball squad held its first outdoor practice of the year yesterday, earlier in the year than any Columbia team has ever done in the past. South Field, although not thoroughly dried out, was in sufficiently good condition for fielding practice. Billy Lauder put his entire squad through a two hour drill and with the exception of the pitchers every candidate for the team took the field. Lauder took the charge to outdoor work as an excuse for another cut in the squad and it is expected that there will be daily cuts until only the more promising material is left.

Yale Crew Rows on River.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 5.—The Yale varsity began actual work on the harbor, rowing in eight oared shells, to-day. But half the crew was taken to the harbor, the other half being kept at the machines. Coach Harriman was in charge of the work. Forty-eight candidates for the crew were given a try out and comparatively little ice was encountered in trial runs on the river. If the mild weather continues Coach Harriman will have the entire squad working hard in the harbor before the Easter recess.

Murphy and Wolgast Rematched.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 5.—Former Light Heavyweight Champion Al Wolgast and Murphy of New York, who fought twenty rounds to a draw here February 22, will meet again in a twenty round contest either April 12 or 19. An agreement for the fight was concluded here yesterday by their managers.

BOXING COMMISSION APPROVES BILLY JOH

No Good Reason Why He Should Not Referee McFarland-Britton Bout.

PACKEY WILLING TO WAIVE Rival Lightweight Boxers Are Confident and Fit for the Garden Battle.

William Joh was approved by the State Athletic Commission last night as the referee of the ten round bout between Packey McFarland and Jack Britton in Madison Square Garden to-morrow evening. The question was put up to Messrs. O'Neil, Price and Dixon after the regular weekly meeting had been postponed yesterday afternoon until next Monday. The commissioners announced that they saw no good reason why Joh should not officiate, although they did not believe that they should interfere in the matter. They declared that Joh was both honest and competent and that he had given general satisfaction as the referee of other important bouts in this city.

Britton's manager, said yesterday that he would accept Joh if the commission should override his protest against the popular ring official. Morgan will be asked to sign articles and post a $1,000 forfeit this morning, which he is expected to do without further delay.

McFarland, evidently fearing that the trouble over the selection of a referee might interfere with the bout, for which he has trained a month, was willing to pass up Joh yesterday morning, but such a move will not be necessary.

Emil Thery, who attends to McFarland's affairs, made the surprising statement that after he talks with Morgan he had decided to withdraw his demand for Joh's services. Thery said that while he and McFarland regarded Joh as the best referee in the East they did not desire to fight for two months they did not care to provide Morgan with an excuse in case McFarland should defeat Britton in ten rounds.

"I have written Master Gibson," said Thery, "that we no longer insist upon Joh and that we will oppose his selection to the last. I hope the Boxing Commission will name some other referee, for we do not desire to fight for two months of this kind. The commission has a reputation for fairness which is good enough for us. Morgan has said so many unpleasant things about McFarland that Packey is anxious to show his supremacy to the satisfaction of the public and newspaper charges won from Jaffe in sixty-two moves and the Jaffe-Corzo game was drawn in seventy-one moves. The scores to date:

Players. Won. Lost. Players. Won. Lost. Marshall, 10 1/2 2 1/2 Chajes, 5 1/2 2 1/2 Capablanca, 9 1/2 2 1/2 Bianco, 4 1/2 2 1/2 Janowski, 8 1/2 2 1/2 Corzo, 4 1/2 2 1/2 Jaffe, 4 1/2 2 1/2 Kuchuk, 4 1/2 2 1/2

HARVARD EAGER FOR FRAY.

To Take Up With Yale Challenge to Oxford and Cambridge. CAMBRIDGE, Mass., March 5.—Harvard alumni and undergraduates interested in track sports are keen over the possibility that a set of championship games may be arranged between Harvard and Yale and Oxford and Cambridge next summer. The "Cricket" enthusiasts already have held a meeting to consider sending a joint challenge to Yale to the Englishmen and it has been decided to take up the plan with the New Haven authorities.

From an unofficial source it is known that Oxford and Cambridge are willing to send teams. Harvard, however, would prefer a date early in June. Should the games materialize they doubtless would be held in the Harvard Stadium. The Oxford and Cambridge track teams last were represented in this country in 1901 when the Americans won the championship games held at Mott Haven.

It is understood that Harvard and Yale will be the first class men in every respect and it will be worth while to win over him. I have no personal feeling in this matter, but I will do my best to prove that I am the better man.

"I beat McFarland two years ago," said Britton, "and I can repeat. I've improved a lot in the last six months, having won twenty bouts with all kinds of men. I will get weight no more than 135 pounds in the ring and probably will concede three or four pounds to McFarland, but that will not affect the result. I expect to win decisively and I'm not going to run away either. I hope McFarland will do some of the leading you'll see a fast bout. I will have no excuses to offer before or after the battle."

ATHLETIC RECRUIT STARTS BOLDLY.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., March 5.—Pete Daley, the midwest recruit outlander of the Athletics, playing with the Yammigans, broke into the home run column to-day, when the Yammigans again romped away with the game by a score of 10 to 1. It was the first fray Daley has started since he enrolled on the Mack roster.

Connie Mack continues to play Orr at third base, where he has given a good account of himself with the regulars. Orr and Mack have formed the outfield combination in most of the games.

SHAWNEE DATES ARRANGED.

Women's Tournament First, Beginning June 25—Golf Gossip.

Dates for three more tournaments that are certain to interest golfers of this district have been arranged by the Shawnee Country Club. As was the case a year ago the women will be the first to compete, June 25, 27 and 28 being set aside for their entertainment. Considering the difficult nature of the course the women did well on their first visit, Mrs. Caleb F. Fox of Huntington Valley winning the chief trophy, while Mrs. R. H. Barlow, champion of the Women's Eastern Golf Association, established a record for the links.

On August 7, 8 and 9 the amateurs will gather for the third annual tournament for the Buckwood trophy, won last season by Reginald Worthington of the home club. The second annual open tournament is carded for August 22 and 23. Fred McLeod of Columbia was the winner a year ago.

Isaac Mackie, the Fox Hills professional, is back from Scotland and already has set a force of men to work on the course for the metropolitan championship the latter part of May. The latest improvement is the shifting of the tee at the fifteenth hole. It will be moved about thirty yards to the right, or toward the railroad.

Members of the Baltusrol Golf Club have been compelled to put up with little or no inconvenience because of the elements during the past winter. Except on rare occasions the regular eighteen hole circuit has been in commission at such times the 4,000 yard nine hole circuit with temporary greens, was offered. The full eighteen hole course is in commission at present.

Several amateur golfers of the Chicago district plan to travel early in May for a series of matches at Seattle, Tacoma and Portland. They are Charles Evans, Fred, D. E. Sawyer, Mason Phelps and Kenneth Edwards. At Seattle the visitors will participate in a triangular competition against a team from the Pacific Golf Association and another representing the British Pacific coast.

STOP WATCHES ANNOY THE AUTO WORKERS

Efficiency Men Stir Up Things in Plants in Akron and in France.

The efficiency expert in the automobile field has made a deal of mischief thus far. In a couple of recent instances he has eliminated lost motion to such effect that strikes have resulted. One case was that of the rubber workers in Akron, who complained of the presence of the man with the stop watch and the pad. Almost at the same time the workers in the Renault factory in France showed their opposition to the introduction of the split second and other manifestations of the system so vigorously that the factory was shut down and 5,000 men were put out of employment.

Late reports are that the tire makers are returning to work now, but that has little bearing on the grievance that led to the strike. The workers in Akron complained that they all were judged by the standard of the most expert and rapid hands, under which conditions it was impossible for the average worker to get a satisfactory wage.

Just about the same idea obtains among the French workmen. M. Renault was in America about a year ago and was pleased with the efficiency idea. Some months ago he tried to install it but the move met with failure. Recently he took it up again. The employees said the system worked out so that standards were obtained from picked men working under high pressure and applied to the general body of men. Their expressions of discontent disgusted M. Renault and he closed the factory, shutting out 5,000 men. Then he departed for Nice, saying he wouldn't come back until his men were in a more reasonable state of mind.

The chronograph and notebook apparatus has not been a successful pair in the estimation of the workers. The system applied for a couple of generations of workmen, however, should mean a highly skilled factory force.

A good move in a road building way is that made in Sayville, in the case of the highway from Bay Shore to the Brookhaven town line. Instead of a gravel base, this is to have an understructure of concrete. The supervisors succeeded in having the specifications changed to this extent. The four inch concrete base will have a two inch top covering of warrent.

Paul Smith, sales manager now for the Lozier Motor Company, is away on a trip toward the Pacific coast, in the course of which he will call on dealers, agents and business managers. This is his first such journey since entering the automobile business, albeit only his first in the interest of the Lozier.

Henry L. Doherty, president of the Society for Electrical Development, in his address at the organization meeting of the society in New York on Tuesday advanced the belief that a gasoline motor car without an electrical starter would be unsalable two years hence and that with the power plant necessary for the starter installed electricity would be employed in a great many ways not thought of at present.

E. J. Kulas, general manager of sales of the Peerless company, who attended the meetings of the society, when asked what further use might be made of electrical equipment on a motor car said:

GIANT REGULARS IN THEIR FIRST GAME

Scrubs, With Shafer Helping, Outslug Them, With Burns as Chief Hitter.

MARLIN, Tex., March 5.—Manager McGraw listened his regulars for a game against the second team this afternoon and ideal weather favored the contending sides for the battle, which was the first game for Arthur Shafer, who arrived from California this morning and played short for the second team. Shafer said he had not touched a ball for two months, but he jumped right into the fray and gave a sample of his speed when he beat out an infield hit. He hardly would have been hit, however, if the regulars had been disposed to let loose with their arms. The infielders lobbed the ball to first base.

Incidental to starting the ball-rolling, the regulars met with a defeat. The scrubs drubbed them by a score of 10 to 8 in a free hitting game and one in which the hitting was ragged. The ball was punched with vigor by both sides, the most effective pitching of the lot of young boxmen being done by Goulalet. All of the pitchers, however, were bumped in streaks.

The teams were made up as follows: Regulars—Devore, left field; Doyle, second base; Thorpe, center field; Murray, right field; Merkle, first base; Herzog, third base; Fletcher, shortstop; Myers and Hartley, catchers; Goulalet and Kirby, pitchers. Second team—Burns, left field; Shafer, shortstop; Cooper, center field; Robertson, first base; McCormick, third base; Stock and Groh, infielders; Groh, base; Wilson, catcher; Demaree and Smith, pitchers.

The score: Regulars..... 0 4 1 1 1—8 10 5 Second team..... 0 3 0 3 4—10 10 2

The leading stick artist of the afternoon was Burns, who has showed up an improved ball player since the start of the training season. He jostled the opposing pitchers for two singles and a home run. His home run was a clean liner between left and center, and he rolled to the distant fence. Doyle also made three hits, two doubles and a single. Fletcher was in good form, making two hits and being fast in heading off ground balls. Stock and Groh annexed for themselves two clouts apiece, and a hit each was made by Shafer, Robertson, McCormick, Thorpe, Murray, Herzog, Meyers and Goulalet.

Doyle was playing with a finger which was damaged by a batted ball in the morning practice and Chief Meyers bruised a finger against a foul tip in the afternoon and retired. There are various other minor ailments. Cooper has a lame back and could not swing his bat well this afternoon. He made a pretty catch by going back on a hard drive to deep center. Robertson's knee is sore, and in practice before the game Goulalet was hit on the eye by a batted ball. The job raised a lump, but did not keep him from pitching. Hanley and Jacobson are both in bed, the former with his intestinal troubles being pretty sick, and Jacobson's injured knee still keeping him from moving about.

Thorpe, whom McGraw tried out as a hurler, was rather awkward as an outfielder and by playing a bound wrong allowed a base hit to sift through him. Doyle's bunted up thumb didn't prevent him from jumping and spearing a liner. The second team clinched the game in the fifth inning, when with two on bases Groh laid down a neat bunt. Herzog slipped going for the bunt and Kirby picked up the ball and heaved it away.

Special arrangements have been made to insure that the great 600 is a truly run race so far as can be guaranteed on a ten lap track. In order that the competitors may have a longer stretch run in which to get into position before rounding the turn the stand usually allotted to the press at the Fourth avenue end of the garden has been taken away and the scries transferred to the balcony. This will allow the start to be made at the extreme Fourth avenue end and give a long stretch while the men are racing for positions.

It was a fine day for working out purposes, and the pitchers all took full advantage of it. Mathewson limbered up vigorously morning and afternoon and turned on more steam than before.
