

has had something to do with the preparation of a settlement today and there is talk among labor unions of sympathy strikes.

MR. MORGAN'S BODY TO BE HERE TO-DAY

Will Be Taken From La France to House There to Lie Until Monday.

NO EULOGY AT FUNERAL

Financier Wrote Out Directions for Services Many Years Ago.

The French liner France, bearing the body of J. P. Morgan, probably will reach her pier at the foot of West Fifth street between 4 and 5 o'clock this afternoon.

MILL OWNERS REFUSE TO DEAL WITH I. W. W.

Won't Enter the Conference Arranged by Paterson Aldermen.

Paterson, N. J., April 10. The silk manufacturers decided to-night not to join in the conference in which the Board of Aldermen and a committee of strikers will take part next Monday.

NO STRIKE TALK BY SEIDEL

Orders to Socialist at Auburn—No Sign of Settlement.

AUBURN, April 10.—Sheriff Bancroft issued orders that Emil Seidel, former Socialist Mayor of Milwaukee, refrain from making any reference to the strikers in mass meetings here to-night.

ANTI-STRIKE BREAKER BILL

Would Prevent Shipment and Enforcement Work of Employees.

WASHINGTON, April 10.—Measures to protect work earners against interstate shipment of strike breakers and the forcing of an employee to work as a strike breaker will be introduced in the House during the present Congress.

SWITCHMAN'S SETTLEMENT EXPECTED

Chicago, April 10.—A settlement between the General Managers Association and the committee representing some switchmen employed on nineteen railroads switching Chicago, who are demanding better working conditions, is expected to-morrow after the arrival in Chicago of Charles T. Neill, United States Labor Commissioner.

LINDE GIVES WOMAN'S NAME

Says Miss Gross Was Driving Car That Injured McCool.

John E. Linde, president of the Lind-Paper Company, of 14 Beekman street, yesterday examined in the Supreme Court the name of a young woman who was riding in his auto at the time the car ran onto the sidewalk at Broadway and Fort street last June and seriously injured John H. McCool of Johnson's, 121 1/2.

At the time of the accident Linde said the young woman was Miss Mary Gibbs of Hoboken, but a vacant lot was found at the address he gave.

McCool is suing Linde for $20,000, and got the order to examine him to find out whether the young woman at the wheel was a servant or a member of his family.

Linde contents that McCool was careless in not getting out of the way of a car on the sidewalk.

ESTIMATE BOARD DISCLAIMS BILL

Not Responsible for Measure Changing Riverside Shore Front Control.

The Board of Estimate passed yesterday a resolution, introduced by John Murray Mitchell disclaiming all responsibility for Senator Follick's bill providing that buildings along the shore front along Fifth street and west of the New York Central tracks be transferred to the board from the Park Department.

The resolution instructed the secretary of the board to inform the Legislature that the board knows no reason why the bill should become a law.

TWO FIRES LIGHT LOWER BROADWAY

Dry Goods Building at 371 Damaged $50,000 When Second Starts.

JOHN ST. ALLEY BLAZE

Six Story Building Burns for Third Time in Year—Fireman Jaycox Hurt.

Two lively blazes kept Chief Kenyon and his fire fighters scotching up and down Broadway after 9 o'clock last night. The hotter fire ate its way down cellar to roof of a five-story dry goods house at 371 Broadway, between Franklin and White streets.

MILL OWNERS REFUSE TO DEAL WITH I. W. W.

Won't Enter the Conference Arranged by Paterson Aldermen.

Paterson, N. J., April 10. The silk manufacturers decided to-night not to join in the conference in which the Board of Aldermen and a committee of strikers will take part next Monday.

AMATEUR ROBS THREE TRAINS

Captured by Deputy Sheriffs After a Desperate Fight.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., April 10.—Three train robberies, a running fight with three deputies, a siege in a barricaded old house and a surrender when enfiladed between front and rear entries after the front door had been battered in and the black window smashed to splinters was the exciting experience to-day of John Moore, amateur in crime.

WOLF IN BOSTON'S STREETS

Snarls Out of Crates, but is Caught Under Building.

Boston, April 10.—A gray timber wolf snarled its way to liberty from a crate outside the South Station this afternoon and becoming lost in the streets, finally dived into a hole under a building in South Boston, where it was captured three hours later. The animal was being transported by express from Ohio to Prof. H. Wilson of Lynn.

ROY HARTZELL'S ROOM AFIRE

Small Blaze Where Yankee Base Man Lives Soon Conquered.

There was a small fire last night in the bedroom of the apartment occupied by Roy Hartzell, third baseman for the Yankees, at 1366 St. Nicholas avenue, between 17th and 15th streets. Hartzell and his wife were in Washington with the team.

WOLF IN BOSTON'S STREETS

Snarls Out of Crates, but is Caught Under Building.

Boston, April 10.—A gray timber wolf snarled its way to liberty from a crate outside the South Station this afternoon and becoming lost in the streets, finally dived into a hole under a building in South Boston, where it was captured three hours later. The animal was being transported by express from Ohio to Prof. H. Wilson of Lynn.

WOLF IN BOSTON'S STREETS

Snarls Out of Crates, but is Caught Under Building.

Boston, April 10.—A gray timber wolf snarled its way to liberty from a crate outside the South Station this afternoon and becoming lost in the streets, finally dived into a hole under a building in South Boston, where it was captured three hours later. The animal was being transported by express from Ohio to Prof. H. Wilson of Lynn.

WOLF IN BOSTON'S STREETS

Snarls Out of Crates, but is Caught Under Building.

Boston, April 10.—A gray timber wolf snarled its way to liberty from a crate outside the South Station this afternoon and becoming lost in the streets, finally dived into a hole under a building in South Boston, where it was captured three hours later. The animal was being transported by express from Ohio to Prof. H. Wilson of Lynn.

WOLF IN BOSTON'S STREETS

Snarls Out of Crates, but is Caught Under Building.

Boston, April 10.—A gray timber wolf snarled its way to liberty from a crate outside the South Station this afternoon and becoming lost in the streets, finally dived into a hole under a building in South Boston, where it was captured three hours later. The animal was being transported by express from Ohio to Prof. H. Wilson of Lynn.

TWO FIRES LIGHT LOWER BROADWAY

Dry Goods Building at 371 Damaged $50,000 When Second Starts.

JOHN ST. ALLEY BLAZE

Six Story Building Burns for Third Time in Year—Fireman Jaycox Hurt.

Two lively blazes kept Chief Kenyon and his fire fighters scotching up and down Broadway after 9 o'clock last night. The hotter fire ate its way down cellar to roof of a five-story dry goods house at 371 Broadway, between Franklin and White streets.

MILL OWNERS REFUSE TO DEAL WITH I. W. W.

Won't Enter the Conference Arranged by Paterson Aldermen.

Paterson, N. J., April 10. The silk manufacturers decided to-night not to join in the conference in which the Board of Aldermen and a committee of strikers will take part next Monday.

AMATEUR ROBS THREE TRAINS

Captured by Deputy Sheriffs After a Desperate Fight.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., April 10.—Three train robberies, a running fight with three deputies, a siege in a barricaded old house and a surrender when enfiladed between front and rear entries after the front door had been battered in and the black window smashed to splinters was the exciting experience to-day of John Moore, amateur in crime.

WOLF IN BOSTON'S STREETS

Snarls Out of Crates, but is Caught Under Building.

Boston, April 10.—A gray timber wolf snarled its way to liberty from a crate outside the South Station this afternoon and becoming lost in the streets, finally dived into a hole under a building in South Boston, where it was captured three hours later. The animal was being transported by express from Ohio to Prof. H. Wilson of Lynn.

ROY HARTZELL'S ROOM AFIRE

Small Blaze Where Yankee Base Man Lives Soon Conquered.

There was a small fire last night in the bedroom of the apartment occupied by Roy Hartzell, third baseman for the Yankees, at 1366 St. Nicholas avenue, between 17th and 15th streets. Hartzell and his wife were in Washington with the team.

WOLF IN BOSTON'S STREETS

Snarls Out of Crates, but is Caught Under Building.

Boston, April 10.—A gray timber wolf snarled its way to liberty from a crate outside the South Station this afternoon and becoming lost in the streets, finally dived into a hole under a building in South Boston, where it was captured three hours later. The animal was being transported by express from Ohio to Prof. H. Wilson of Lynn.

WOLF IN BOSTON'S STREETS

Snarls Out of Crates, but is Caught Under Building.

Boston, April 10.—A gray timber wolf snarled its way to liberty from a crate outside the South Station this afternoon and becoming lost in the streets, finally dived into a hole under a building in South Boston, where it was captured three hours later. The animal was being transported by express from Ohio to Prof. H. Wilson of Lynn.

WOLF IN BOSTON'S STREETS

Snarls Out of Crates, but is Caught Under Building.

Boston, April 10.—A gray timber wolf snarled its way to liberty from a crate outside the South Station this afternoon and becoming lost in the streets, finally dived into a hole under a building in South Boston, where it was captured three hours later. The animal was being transported by express from Ohio to Prof. H. Wilson of Lynn.

WOLF IN BOSTON'S STREETS

Snarls Out of Crates, but is Caught Under Building.

Boston, April 10.—A gray timber wolf snarled its way to liberty from a crate outside the South Station this afternoon and becoming lost in the streets, finally dived into a hole under a building in South Boston, where it was captured three hours later. The animal was being transported by express from Ohio to Prof. H. Wilson of Lynn.

OHIO SENATE IN AN UPROAR

Labor Group Leader Threatens to Reveal Election Secrets.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, April 10.—Pledges alleged to have been made in the last campaign by members of the General Assembly to vote for certain measures now demanded by the labor group figured to-day in perhaps the most spectacular scene that has been seen on the floor of the Ohio Senate. Disclosures made in violation of Ohio laws are expected.

Senator Green declared under questioning that the pledges can be proved, and he offered to prove them if any member should declare he did not believe what the Senator said.

The controversy arose over the Thomas resolution to investigate the coal mining situation in Ohio. Green, who is the leader of the labor group in the Senate, moved to refer the resolution to the Committee on Labor.

Members opposed to this declared that his object was to throttle the resolution so as to ram through the Green coal screen bill without the investigation proposed by the Thomas resolution.

Senator Jung asked what pledges Green meant.

"The pledges made by members of the Senate to vote for the Green bill," Senator Green replied.

It is said that a newspaper man approached Green and said: "Tell them where the are. We have them in a safe deposit box."

Green ignored the suggestion.

The resolution was passed, 21 to 9. The defeat of Senator Green and the radical group, it was contended, was a challenge of Gov. Cox's friends to the voters.

It was declared that an attack on him by a local paper early in the day had much to do with subsequent events.

"YOU DIRTY CUR," SAYS SENATOR

Illinois Soton Then Shakes Fist at Fellow Member.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 10.—Charges by State Senator John E. Madigan of Chicago that a resolution of inquiry into reported statements of John Hill, Jr., of Chicago to the effect that money was used to pass the "board of trade bill" a few days ago was introduced to wash up the investigation brought forth today exchanges of personalities in the Senate.

Senator Clark had introduced a resolution for the investigation similar to the resolution offered by Madigan.

"I want to call attention to the fact," shouted Madigan, "that it is an effort of Senator Clark to cover up his affair."

"I resent such charges," replied Clark, "and declare that the Senator's statements are not true."

Madigan then repeated his charges.

Livid with rage and with tears rolling down his face, Clark advanced toward Madigan's seat.

"You dirty cur," shouted Clark shaking a fist. "If it weren't for the fact my family would suffer I would take and give you what you deserve."

Senator Madigan's only reply was he was ready at any time.

The Senate suspended the rules and adopted a resolution. Later Madigan called up his resolution and it also was adopted.

RABBIS OPPOSE THE KEHILLAH

Say Laymen Are Trying to Rule in Church Matters.

A number of rabbis and members from Jewish orthodox congregations of New York met last night at the Synagogue K'hal Adas Jeshurun, Eldridge street between Canal and Division streets, and expressed decided views of opposition to the organization of Jewish orthodox matters by the Kehillah.

The convention of the Kehillah takes place Saturday night. It is claimed by the orthodox rabbis that the Kehillah is an organization made up largely of laymen, is attempting to usurp regulation of Jewish rites.

Allen, an attorney, charged that a committee from the orthodox churches had asked the Rev. J. L. Magnus, formerly of Temple Emanuel and now president of the Kehillah, to agree that an independent committee should be put in control of religious matters, and that the Rev. Magnus had refused to yield the point.

"The Kehillah," he said, "is nominally a democratic organization of which the rich Jews of New York are in control and through which control are trying to regulate religious affairs."

The representatives of Jewish orthodox were said to fear that the Kehillah will secure power over the kosher meat shops of the city.

LEE SOON WEDS GUE CHEE

Chinese Motor From Jersey City Ceremony to Feast in Harlem.

Lee Soon, proprietor of a Chinese restaurant at 125th street and Third avenue, this city, and Gue Chee, who boarded at 325 Barrow street, Jersey City, were married yesterday in the Jersey City City Hall by the Rev. E. F. Crown, a retired minister employed as a clerk in the engineering bureau. The couple had waited for three hours for Mayor Wilson.

The bridal party came to the City Hall in a limousine. The bride's gown was of the brightest blue, embroidered with cardinal red flowers in fantastic designs. After the ceremony the party returned to Manhattan and last night Mr. and Mrs. Soon were host and hostess at a big dinner in the bridegroom's restaurant.

LOUIS MARTIN BUYS OUT GEORGE RECTOR

Breaks in the Turkey Trot Put Two Other Restaurants Into Bankruptcy.

WALLACE CAN'T SEE MAYOR

License Bureau Chief Hasn't Pleased in Dance Hall Management.

Northward the Martins take their merry way. Only a few years ago Martin's restaurant was at University place and Ninth street. Then J. B. and Louis went to Broadway and Twenty-sixth street. While J. B. resisted near Madison Square the encroachments of trade Louis went to Broadway and Forty-second street, resuscitating the Cafe de l'Opera. And yesterday Louis Martin handed a check for $75,000 to George Rector, purchasing Rector's restaurant at Broadway and Sixty-second street.

"Yes," said Mr. Rector yesterday, "I and my partner, Joseph Mally, have sold out to Mr. Martin. We divide fifty-fifty; that is to say, Mr. Mally takes $37,500 and I take $37,500. It was a cash sale. Mr. Martin said to me, 'I like your place. What will you take for it?' I said, 'How much will you have?' He said 'I have $75,000.' 'I want such charges,' replied Clark, "and declare that the Senator's statements are not true."

"It is not true," continued Rector the younger, "that the Mayor's order forbidding tea time dancing and requiring my patrons to leave at 1 A. M. forced me out of business. In a short time I expect to open a new restaurant; one that will give New York something to talk about. The last time I was in Paris I had plans drawn up for a cafe that would be a novelty to New Yorkers. I am not ready yet to announce my plans, but when I am ready there will be some talk. For instance, I expect to have women barmaids and women to wait on."

Mr. Martin took charge yesterday, but his name will not be put over the door until the corporation that conducts Louis Martin's at Broadway and Forty-second street lets go of it. Mr. Martin sold the right to that company to use the profitable name of Martin until July 1, 1913. On that date he will resume George Rector's and call it Louis Martin's.

Petitions in bankruptcy were filed against two restaurants yesterday, but it was denied at each that the ban on tea-time dancing or the Mayor's 1 o'clock order had caused financial difficulties. The Cafe La Grande at Broadway and Fifth street, owned by Mark Aron, is alleged to be insolvent, with liabilities of $48,000, of which $28,000 is secured by mortgage. A petition in bankruptcy was filed against the company on December 26, 1912, and a month later the receiver sold the business for $4,050. It was bought in by the original company, which again failed to make it pay.

Chief Wallace of the Mayor's License Bureau called at the City Hall yesterday and attempted to see the Mayor. He failed to do so. It was said around the City Hall that the Mayor has not been pleased with the way certain dance halls that had been within the jurisdiction of the Bureau of Licenses have been conducted.

Andrew Mehler, who used to work side by side with Oscar of the Waldorf in the old Delmonico's years ago, was made manager of the Hotel Rector, yesterday. He purposes to institute a new regime and will serve good meals without music.

Manager Mehler considers eating one of the lost arts which he proposes to do his best to do.

"Music and dancing have polluted the noble art," said he yesterday. "People used to come in to get good food. Now they expect a bite to eat, with a theatrical performance and a dash of Barnum & Bailey on the side. Things will be different here."

Mr. Mehler was with Delmonico for twenty-six years and remembers how the late J. P. Morgan used to come in and supervise arrangements for the dinners he gave.

It should be understood that Mr. Mehler is not against music. He likes it in its place. But he hates trotters and trotteries.

Chief Wallace of the Mayor's License Bureau called at the City Hall yesterday and attempted to see the Mayor. He failed to do so. It was said around the City Hall that the Mayor has not been pleased with the way certain dance halls that had been within the jurisdiction of the Bureau of Licenses have been conducted.

Andrew Mehler, who used to work side by side with Oscar of the Waldorf in the old Delmonico's years ago, was made manager of the Hotel Rector, yesterday. He purposes to institute a new regime and will serve good meals without music.

Manager Mehler considers eating one of the lost arts which he proposes to do his best to do.

"Music and dancing have polluted the noble art," said he yesterday. "People used to come in to get good food. Now they expect a bite to eat, with a theatrical performance and a dash of Barnum & Bailey on the side. Things will be different here."

Mr. Mehler was with Delmonico for twenty-six years and remembers how the late J. P. Morgan used to come in and supervise arrangements for the dinners he gave.

It should be understood that Mr. Mehler is not against music. He likes it in its place. But he hates trotters and trotteries.

Chief Wallace of the Mayor's License Bureau called at the City Hall yesterday and attempted to see the Mayor. He failed to do so. It was said around the City Hall that the Mayor has not been pleased with the way certain dance halls that had been within the jurisdiction of the Bureau of Licenses have been conducted.

Andrew Mehler, who used to work side by side with Oscar of the Waldorf in the old Delmonico's years ago, was made manager of the Hotel Rector, yesterday. He purposes to institute a new regime and will serve good meals without music.

Manager Mehler considers eating one of the lost arts which he proposes to do his best to do.

"Music and dancing have polluted the noble art," said he yesterday. "People used to come in to get good food. Now they expect a bite to eat, with a theatrical performance and a dash of Barnum & Bailey on the side. Things will be different here."

Mr. Mehler was with Delmonico for twenty-six years and remembers how the late J. P. Morgan used to come in and supervise arrangements for the dinners he gave.

It should be understood that Mr. Mehler is not against music. He likes it in its place. But he hates trotters and trotteries.

Chief Wallace of the Mayor's License Bureau called at the City Hall yesterday and attempted to see the Mayor. He failed to do so. It was said around the City Hall that the Mayor has not been pleased with the way certain dance halls that had been within the jurisdiction of the Bureau of Licenses have been conducted.

Andrew Mehler, who used to work side by side with Oscar of the Waldorf in the old Delmonico's years ago, was made manager of the Hotel Rector, yesterday. He purposes to institute a new regime and will serve good meals without music.

Manager Mehler considers eating one of the lost arts which he proposes to do his best to do.

"Music and dancing have polluted the noble art," said he yesterday. "People used to come in to get good food. Now they expect a bite to eat, with a theatrical performance and a dash of Barnum & Bailey on the side. Things will be different here."

Mr. Mehler was with Delmonico for twenty-six years and remembers how the late J. P. Morgan used to come in and supervise arrangements for the dinners he gave.

Violins Violas, 'Cellos Double Basses

Well balanced instruments of quality, with satisfactory tone, enable the player or student to attain the best technical results. Our instruments are carefully adjusted before they leave our workshop, and the final delivery shows the touch of an expert.

Violins For Children, 12 and 14 sizes $4.00 $30.00

Violins For Beginners $5.00 $25.00

Violins For Professionals $30.00 $50.00

Violins For Students $10.00 $15.00

Violins For All Classes $2.00 $7.50

Violas For Children, 12 and 14 sizes $4.00 $30.00

'Cellos For Children, 12 and 14 sizes $18.00 $40.00

'Cellos For Professionals $15.00 $15.00

Double Basses For Beginners $22.50 $140.00

FREE ON REQUEST

Violin Repairing a Specialty

Telephone, Murray Hill—411

Chas. H. Ditson & Co., 3-10-12 East 34th St.

The distinguishing feature of our card and filing cabinets is not that they solve so many filing problems, but that they solve them so simply.

This means time, space and money saved.

Investigate from the standpoint of your own business.

Telephone, Franklin 2261.

SHAW-WALKER

The highest type of filing equipment Without the Fancy Prices

371 Broadway

FOUNDED 1856

BROKAW BROTHERS

MEN'S & BOYS' CLOTHING, HATS & FURNISHINGS

"Getting the hang of it"—is the only secret of doing things right.

The style of a coat depends on "the hang of it," and that's where expert designing shows in clothes.

Our coats are cut differently in each size to drape properly. No matter what your build, the clothes we fit you with won't fall away from your figure.

Complete showing of Spring Suits and Overcoats, a size and style for every build, a pattern, fabric and coloring for every taste, and at prices that show real value.

Astor Place & Fourth Avenue

SUBWAY AT THE DOOR—ONE BLOCK FROM BROADWAY

The Man Who Put the EEs in FEET. Look for This Trade Mark Picture on the Label when buying ALLEN'S FOOT-EASE. The Antiseptic Powder for Tenders, Itching Feet. Sold everywhere. Trade Mark. ALLEN S. OLMBSTED, L. Rey, N. Y.

Correct Dress for Men. We know that our values are exceptional—we want you to know it; the test can be made by a single purchase. No risk, for we guarantee satisfaction. Choose any price from $18 to $45 and come here expecting to find the best Spring Suit or Overcoat in New York at the price; you'll not be disappointed. George G. Benjamin, Fifth Ave Building, Broadway Cor 24th St.