JOSEPH RECEPTION LATER

Couple Will Sail for Europe After a Honeymoon on This Side.

Miss Marian De Forest Cannon, a daughter of Mrs. Theodore Frelinghuysen of a former marriage, was married to John Dyneley Prince, Jr., son of Prof. John Dyneley Prince, yesterday afternoon at 4:29 in St. Thomas's church in the presence of a large gathering.

There was a full choral service by the choir of the church, and the officiating clergyman was the Rev. Dr. August M. Stiles, rector of St. Thomas's.

The bride, Miss Cannon, is a cousin of the late Edward T. Hoboken, and the Rev. Edmund Peabody, rector of St. Paul's church, officiated at the wedding.

The bridegroom is the second daughter of the late Henry Le Grand Cannon, engaged to the church with her stepfather, Theodore Frelinghuysen, who gave her away.

She was a trained gown of soft white satin embellished with point lace and a veil of tulle, held in place by a wreath of jasmine flowers.

Miss Adeline Cannon, the bride's sister, was her maid of honor. She wore a gown of pale green satin and a long coat of white satin, her hat of pale green panne velvet being decorated with pink and yellow flowers.

The bridesmaids, the Misses Mildred Helen Dinsmore Huntington, Katharine Miller and Lois Cunningham, were dressed alike in gowns of white tulle and chiton combined with pale green chiffon made with coat effect.

The groomsmen, the Misses Mildred Helen Dinsmore Huntington, Katharine Miller and Lois Cunningham, were dressed alike in gowns of white tulle and chiton combined with pale green chiffon made with coat effect.

The bridegroom, Mr. Prince, is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, and is now employed in the office of the United States government.

THE ARNOLD ARBORETUM. Report of the Committee Appointed by the Overseers of Harvard.

The committee appointed by the board of overseers of Harvard to visit the Arnold Arboretum report that they find the work for which this department of the university was established, namely, to increase the knowledge of trees and other woody plants, being satisfactorily and most successfully carried on.

There are three ways, the report says, in which the arboretum increases knowledge, first, through the display of living specimens of those species and varieties of trees and timber which can be grown successfully in the climate of this country.

The second way is by the collection of the Northern hemisphere to be found in the United States and one of the most complete in the world. The plants in this collection are arranged in a systematic and convenient manner.

The third way is by the publication of popular information. In its museum of living plants, the arboretum has assembled the largest collection of the Northern hemisphere to be found in the United States.

The fourth way is by the collection of the Northern hemisphere to be found in the United States and one of the most complete in the world. The plants in this collection are arranged in a systematic and convenient manner.
