

role. No rehearsals have taken place yet, but all hands are familiar with their lines. A Sunday night in the future has been chosen for the play, which will be in the form of talking tableaux representing all the principal scenes in the great Paterson strike.

Big Bill himself gave out an advance notice of production at the morning meeting of strikers here to-day, and everybody thought that the play would be a money maker. The receipts will be devoted exclusively to the strikers' relief fund.

"It is Haywood's idea to give the people of New York an exact idea of what has taken place here since the strike began," said Adolph Joesig.

Tossig repeated to-day that he did not intend to suggest violence of any kind yesterday when he spoke of causing a general strike of Paterson that would have the city in darkness.

It was said at the Edison plant of the Public Service Corporation that no guards had been placed around the plant and none was in evidence. Gen. Edwin S. Hine, general manager of the Public Service Corporation, was in town looking over the situation.

Sombody set off a bomb at 1 A. M. on the front porch of Harry Huttling's home at 25 Bergen avenue, Columbia Heights, in the Saddle River township. Huttling is a foreman at Cramer & King's mill, and he has been repeatedly warned, it is said, that he would have to quit work.

The bomb destroyed the porch and smashed windows, and the explosion scared his wife and children. Huttling appeared on the scene with his revolver almost before the smoke cleared away, but didn't see any of the bombers.

The Paterson police admitted to-day that ten or twelve landlords have received letters containing threats that if they didn't dispossess tenants who were working in the mills something would happen.

Eric Railroad detectives say a third attempt was made to wreck eastbound passenger train 138 at Carlton Hill last night. Patrick Quinlan, the convicted I. W. W. leader, was a passenger. Rocks were dropped on the train from a passing mining car.

The Patrick Quinlan went to the court house this morning in expectation of being sentenced on a conviction of "intending to assault," but discharge of his case was deferred. When Quinlan ran out with the train hands and a lot of passengers the bombers had disappeared.

with the striking journeymen by which the strikers will return to work this morning under the new schedule of hours. Recognition of the Industrial Union $74 by the boss barbers is included in the agreement.

Labor leaders said last night that this settled the strike so far as Brooklyn was concerned.

The new schedule of hours calls for work from 8 A. M. to 8 P. M. on weekdays, 8 A. M. to 12 P. M. on Saturdays, and 8 A. M. to noon on Sundays, with one day off each week.

Desert Line to Assault Truck Driver and Policemen.

A parade of striking barbers on their way from Columbus Circle to join a mass meeting at Union Square yesterday was interrupted by riot caused by a non-combatant truck which ventured to cut through the line of marchers at Seventh avenue and Twenty-sixth street.

The barbers resented this action of the truck driver and all who could get a foothold on the truck clambered aboard and started in to beat up the driver with fists, feet and canes.

Detective Rebbett of Inspector Gillen's staff wormed his way to the truck and rescued the driver. Then Rebbett picked out Santo Gattile as the most active of the driver's assailants and started for the West Thirtieth street station.

The paraders forgot the truck and its driver and followed Rebbett and his prisoner. Rebbett saw that something like half a thousand barbers were after him, so he took out his revolver and moved it threateningly as he backed up the street in a hall of horns of sticks, stones, half bricks, and such other missiles as could be grabbed from nearby vendors' stands—potatoes, apples, bananas and oranges.

Detective Walter Bishop, also of Gillen's staff, saw John Palmott of 48 Walker street, one of the stormtrooper, Rebbett and suspecting Palmott's motive arrested him. The crowd became still more angry at this and the detectives were having a rough time when a dozen reserves came and drove the crowd back. The half thousand barbers who had left the parade went on to the mass meeting in disorder.

The I. W. W. strikers had a blanket permit yesterday for parades on Columbus Circle and from the Circle to Union Square. One body marched from Forsyth street, the second body, in which there were about 6,000 strikers, from Thirty-ninth street and Eighth avenue, and the third from 106th street and Third avenue. It was estimated that there were 10,000 barbers, nearly all Italians, in the parade, which then started from Columbus Circle to Union Square.

The chairman of the mass meeting was Strike Leader Cancellieri, and the first speaker was Joseph J. Ettor, who spoke in English. "We don't want any violence; violent methods are bad in a strike," he said.

SAGE INVESTIGATORS ATTACK NEWBURGH

Citizens Quietly Hear It Called State's Worst Typhoid Town.

SCHOOLS ARE DENOUNCED Only 300 Persons at Meeting at Which Protests Were Expected.

Newburgh, May 16.—Expected stormy protests failed to come from indignant citizens of Newburgh at the public meeting at Columbia Hall to-night when Zenas L. Potter and his assistants of the Social Survey of the Russell Sage Foundation, who for six weeks have been investigating health, school, financial and other departments of Newburgh, read their adverse reports against Newburgh's civil system.

A placard placed by the Social Survey workers in the window of the clothing store of Alex Goldberg yesterday remained in the window only a short while. It announced in large letters: NEWBURGH IS A TYPHOID CITY.

Beneath this were statistics showing that the typhoid percentage of Newburgh is about 42 per cent, or twice the percentage of any other town in the State, while the average percentage of the State is only about 14 per cent. In the window of the leading millinery store, next door to Goldberg's, was a placard quite as objectionable to the citizens.

The Social Survey investigators said that with the exception of some leading citizens their investigations from the first have been thwarted because Newburgh did not want to hear the truth about itself. At any rate, when Mr. Goldberg returned from Manhattan last night and saw the placard in his window he was taken aback.

Indignant Newburghers in the mean time had protested about the placard in the millinery shop and Mr. Stern, the proprietor, had that one pulled down.

At the meeting at Columbia Hall to-night, presided over by Graham Wittschies, Newburgh's Corporation Counsel, instead of the great mass meeting which was expected, only about three hundred came to the hall, more than half being women. The Social Survey's reports so far completed were read and about everything in the city came in for condemnation. The derogatory reports, however, were received in respectful silence by the small audience.

As to financial methods, says the report, Newburgh has so old fashioned a method of book-keeping that one slight item of $22,000 in the sinking fund is due to error, although there is no intimation of dishonesty.

It was said also that the city spends its money before it gets it, or makes out its budget in the fall and collects the funds the following January, instead of reversing its procedure in collecting taxes and spending them.

MRS. DIETZ WILL BE TRIED.

Held for Grand Jury on Charge of Murdering Husband.

Chicago, May 16.—Mrs. Augusta Dietz will have to stand trial on the charge of murdering her husband, George Dietz, head of the Wabash avenue tailoring establishment.

She was held for the Grand Jury late this afternoon by the Coroner's jury, which returned a verdict declaring she had knowledge of her husband's murder.

George Nurnberg, the harness manufacturer, whose relations with Mrs. Dietz caused her to be held in jail pending the outcome of the inquest, was exonerated and released.

Charles Frederick von Glahn, Jr., aged 5, whose home is in Berlin, and who is travelling with his parents, has watched with interest the gardeners preparing the Astor Hotel roof for the summer season.

The small Von Glahn saw seeds planted in the long boxes and observed how it was done.

On Tuesday he decided to do a little planting on his own account. He took his mother's jewel casket up to the roof, got out a handful of pearls which had been in a necklace, but had broken the string, and proceeded to plant them in the long boxes. After he had been at the task for half an hour workmen saw what he was planting.

Mrs. von Glahn was called and all the boxes near which the boy had been seen by careful sifting the workmen got every missing pearl, thirty in all.

Mr. and Mrs. von Glahn, with their son, left yesterday for California.

MITCHELL HEAD OF LABOR DEPARTMENT

Sulzer Gets Around Senate Objection by Ad Interim Appointment.

WILLIAMS FIRST DEPUTY

Republicans Say Former Commissioner Has Favored Tammany.

John Mitchell, ex-president of the United Mine Workers, is to take John Williams's place as Commissioner of Labor, despite the two refusals of the State Senate to confirm his nomination by the Governor.

Mr. Mitchell was in Albany yesterday talking with Gov. Sulzer about the reorganization of the Labor Department in accordance with the new law passed in the last session of the Legislature.

Late in the afternoon Gov. Sulzer announced his appointment. The job pays $8,000 a year.

Soon after Mr. Mitchell's appointment was made public he turned around and named John Williams, his predecessor in office, a first deputy in the department.

The increase of the scope of the Department of Labor makes the shift in position less serious to Mr. Williams's interests than would appear. As his friends put it, there is room enough for two.

The Governor's legal advice justifies him in making the appointment, he says, because under the law he can make an ad interim appointment which is good until twenty-one days after the Senate meets—and if the Senate is still adjourned Mr. Mitchell stays in. The extra session of the Legislature the middle of June is not expected to make any difference.

But Mr. Mitchell's name will have to go to the Senate when it meets next January. There is a chance that the legality of it will come before the State courts in the interval because Comptroller Sohmer, a steadfast Murphy man, may hold up Mr. Mitchell's salary.

SHOOTER'S WIFE'S ESCORT DEAD.

Employer and Brother-in-law Employed Gun, Then Flees.

Newtown, N. J., May 16.—Jealously led the Robert W. Witt, Constable by his employer, Harry W. Witt, the Edward Judson farm in Wantage township this afternoon. De Witt used a double barrel shot gun.

Constable and De Witt married sisters. Constable's wife left him to make her home in Middletown, N. Y.

This afternoon Mrs. De Witt prepared to go shopping, and Constable after hitching up a horse to De Witt's spring wagon offered to drive her over.

De Witt heard the remark. "Oh no you won't. I'll drive her myself," three witnesses declare they heard De Witt say. "I think I will," Constable replied.

Without a word De Witt turned and entered the house, emerging with the gun. Mrs. De Witt was already seated in the wagon and Constable his back turned to her husband, was just driving away when De Witt fired.

De Witt threw the gun away and fled. The farm is only a few hundred feet away from the Middletown State line and he made his way across the border.

De Witt was followed and captured by deputy sheriffs, who brought him back to the county jail.

CITY EMPLOYEES IN BIG PARADE TO-DAY

Every Department to Be Represented Among the 12,000 Marchers.

Everybody who gets Father Knickerbocker's signature on his pay check will be in line or have his side partner there to-day, when New York starts its biggest civic parade up Fifth avenue.

That means about 12,000 workers from nineteen city departments and the chance to see just what sort of a "front" some of the important but until now little advertised departments can make when the Mayor and his staff are looking on.

The parade will start promptly at 1 o'clock the line of march will be from Washington Square north on Fifth avenue to Fifty-ninth street, west to Broadway and north to Eighty-sixth street.

The Mayor, his official family and guests will review the marchers from a stand in front of the Public Library at Forty-second street. Commissioner Johnson estimates that it will take two hours for the review.

DEPUTIES QUIT WHARTON.

Townfolk and Strikers Demanded That They Be Sent Away.

Wharton, N. J., May 16.—The days and nights of dynamiting of property, train wrecking and the exchange of thousands of shots between special deputies and the 300 miners who for seven weeks have been on strike against the Mount Hope mine of the Empire Steel and Iron Company, four miles from here, came to an end, at least temporarily, late this afternoon when the last of the deputies departed for Newark, whence Sheriff Gillen brought them yesterday.

Twenty people as well as strikers gathered about Mayor J. B. Davenport in the street to-day and an unofficial town meeting was held on the sidewalk, with Councilman Frank Tieran spokesman for the crowd, who demanded the sending away of deputies, whom many here think acted brutally toward old men and women and girls not even indirectly connected with the strike.

The Mayor tried to defend the manner of campaign to uphold law and order.

Some one yelled, "Thorman for our next Mayor!" and Mayor Davenport hurried away. A conference then was called in which the Borough Councilmen, Mayor Davenport, County Prosecutor Reed and Judge Custer, personal counsel for Sheriff Gillen, took part. As a result of the conference eight marshals were appointed to help Town Marshal McDonald cope with the strikers.

SCHOOL SPLITS EMANU-EL.

Decide Between Its Rabbis.

The religious school of the Temple Emanu-El will be the subject of lively discussion at the annual meeting of the members of the congregation Emanu-El on Monday evening in the temple, Fifth avenue and Forty-third street.

Under the existing rules the rabbis have equal rights in the religious school and the effort to place the school in charge of the Junior rabbi to the exclusion of Dr. Joseph Silverman caused a big commotion in the temple.

A committee of twenty-one men and women have sent out a circular which says:

Signs present by-laws are in many respects antiquated. No good results can be obtained where there is a divided responsibility.

BORUP EXPLORERS OFF JULY 2.

Under Lead of MacMillan They Will Search Crocker Land.

The George Borup expedition to Crocker Land will be attempted this Sunday by the Museum of Natural History and the American Geographical Society will leave New York on July 2 for two years exploration in the Arctic regions.

Donah D. Macmillan, one of Peary's lieutenants in the 1908-09 polar expedition, will lead the party.

This expedition was originally planned to start in July, 1912, but the death of George Borup, who was to have been a co-leader with Mr. MacMillan, necessitated its postponement.

The scientific exploration of Crocker Land will be attempted. This land was sighted by Peary from the summit of Cape Thomas Hubbard on June 30, 1906, and named Crocker Land in honor of the George Crocker of the Peary Arctic Club.

SULZER READY FOR CAMPAIGN.

At the Ellicott Club business men's luncheon on Monday the Governor will make his first appearance.

The three Buffalo meetings are to be by Rev. James H. Anderson, Dr. W. E. B. Dubois of New York city, and John B. Clayton of Brooklyn. The commission has $25,000 to spend.

Mr. Seaman said that the accounts of free rides were charged and at the end of the month were wiped off the books.

INDUSTRIAL BOARD NAMED.

Sulzer Also Appoints Justice Merrill to Supreme Court.

ALBANY, May 16.—After announcing the appointment of John Mitchell to be Labor Commissioner to-day Gov. Sulzer named Charles C. Fleisch of Unadilla, Oswego county, Maurice Worthem, Miss Pauline Goldmark and Richard Cullen of New York city as members of the State Industrial Board to cooperate with the State Commissioner of Labor at a salary of $3,000 each.

Gov. Sulzer named Robert H. Wood Mitchell, the new State Labor Commissioner, who will speak also with the Governor at Elmira on Tuesday night and John De Witt Warner, Frank H. Mott of Jamestown, Thomas Heffernan of Dunkirk, Clarence J. Shearn, William S. Bennett of Manhattan and Frederick M. Davenport, last fall's candidate for Lieutenant-Governor on the Progressive ticket, at the Elmira meeting.

Editor Frank H. Bennett will preside. So far $11,000 has been subscribed for the expenses of the Governor's campaign. Col. Jacob Ruppert, Jr., had a talk with the Governor to-day and was one of the subscribers.

DR. PIORKOWSKI'S CURE. Says It Is the Original Turtle Culture Made Harmless.

Dr. William Johnston Beattie of Littleton, N. H., who has been experimenting and studying four months in the Berlin laboratory of Dr. Piorkowski, one of the first to use the turtle serum remedy for tuberculosis, arrived yesterday by the Cunard line.

Enough serum to treat several hundred patients and the recipe for making all that he may need in his practice. He said Dr. Friedmann had conceived the same idea of the value of the serum as Dr. Piorkowski, who really discovered it, and that Dr. Friedmann had the Piorkowski laboratory in a hurry, before Dr. Piorkowski had perfected the remedy, and rushed off to commercialize it.

Dr. Beattie said he believed that the difference between the Piorkowski serum, which is also the Beattie serum, and the Friedmann serum was essential. The Friedmann cure, he said, was the Piorkowski serum in the experimental stage, or as it was when Dr. Friedmann left Dr. Piorkowski's laboratory, and the Beattie serum was the perfected product of Dr. Piorkowski's patient laboratory work.

"We have eliminated the danger of using the serum that has attended its application by Dr. Friedmann," said Dr. Beattie. "That means that we have removed the possibility of abscesses forming in the cells after inoculation. Dr. Friedmann claims that he has a tubercular bacillus. So he has but he is wrong if he says he is the only man that has one. He saw an opportunity to strike out for himself after he had been experimenting for some time in Dr. Piorkowski's laboratory, and he went into the world and commercialized his idea."
