

WALTER DE MUMM WEDS MISS SCOVILLE

Mrs. Van Rensselaer Barnes Changes Her Mind About Ending Life.

FEW PRESENT AT WEDDING

Kansas Girl Met French Ballonist at International Race in America.

Special Cable Despatches to The Sun. LONDON, June 3.—Miss Frances Van Rensselaer Barnes, daughter of the late Gen. Van Rensselaer, was married at St. George's Church, Hammer Lane, today to Walter de Mumm, the well-known ballonist and member of the French family of champagne producers who was shot last December by the Marie Van Rensselaer Barnes.

The wedding was a very quiet affair. Only a few friends were present in the church. The bride's gown was of white silk tulle. She wore a rope of pearls, a veil of tulle with orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of white orchids and orange blossoms. The bridegroom's brother, Hermann, acted as best man.

The couple have gone to a seaside place for their honeymoon.

Paris, June 3.—Up to a late hour tonight Mrs. Marie Van Rensselaer Barnes had not fulfilled her reported intention to end her life because Walter de Mumm was about to marry Miss Frances van Rensselaer of Kansas. Miss Josephine Howard, the actress, who came here from London to persuade her friend not to commit suicide, declared that Mrs. Barnes had changed her mind, and Mrs. Barnes's lawyer averred that his client had forgotten De Mumm and was indifferent to his marriage. He said:

Mrs. Barnes is in the best of health. I talked to her and in her mind regarding the absurd rumors that she had threatened to kill herself. She is in the best of spirits and says she has forgotten De Mumm."

URGES SUFFRAGE FOR MOTHERS

Woman Lawyer Addresses International Congress in Paris.

Special Cable Despatch to The Sun. PARIS, June 3.—The International Congress of Women resumed its sessions here today. The discussion of the various subjects, such as hygiene and women's work, was taken up in different sections of the congress.

The morning session was a plenary one. The meeting in the afternoon was held in the rooms of the Society of Civil Engineers. No American women were present and the only English woman in attendance was Lady Aberdeen, who presided. The only French speaker was Mme. Maria Verone, a lawyer, who amused laughter by pleading that only women who had been mothers should be allowed to talk and vote. Most of all of those present could have filled the conditions, she said, if they had not undertaken their obligations.

The subjects discussed were woman's role in charitable works; the amelioration of the lot of women workers; how women should uplift public morals in the theatres, newspapers and in photographs, and married women's civic activity.

A man who was present argued that country children should be taught to read and write and that all education being paid to the farm and country subjects. He was laughed down by the women delegates.

HUNGARIAN CABINET TO RESIGN.

Action Caused by Acquittal of Premier Lukacs's Accuser.

BUDAPEST, June 3.—The Hungarian Cabinet will resign in consequence of the action of the High Court in acquitting the opposition Deputy Deszy, who was sued for libel by Premier Lukacs because he called the latter "the scoundrel in Europe" (an allusion to the French Panama scandals). They accused Premier Lukacs of taking advantage of his position to sell his private property to the State at an enormous profit and of obtaining money from the Bank of Hungary for political purposes in return for important concessions.

The case was heard by the Court of First Instance some time ago and Deszy was condemned, but the court was obviously influenced by the Government and the opposition leaders, Counts Apponyi and Andrássy and others, took to the matter. Subsequently the Court of Second Instance quashed the verdict of the other court and ordered a new trial. The judgement exonerated Premier Lukacs from the charge of profiting personally by the alleged corrupt transactions. The verdict was greeted with cheers by the court and is immensely popular.

SULTAN HONORS MAJOR FINLEY.

Exiles From Moro Islands Receive Order of Medjidieh.

Special Cable Despatch to The Sun. CANTON, June 3.—Major John B. Finley, U. S. A., who came here from the Moro Islands in the Philippines to see the Sultan and the Sheik-ul-Islam, would not prevail upon their Mohammedan brethren there to cease their constant imprisoning and settle down, he was decorated with the Order of Medjidieh in recognition of his services to the Mohammedans in the Philippines.

The Sultan also bestowed upon Major Finley an imperial trade with an imperial signature, recognizing him as a high minister plenipotentiary of the Sultan. Such a document is very rarely granted and the Government only yielded to the wishes of the Sultan in the matter after repeated refusals.

The Sultan also sent to Major Finley a number of framed inscriptions and other decorations for the mosque at Tluk-Sangay, the chief Moslem building in the Philippines.

Major Finley will start for Russia on June 7. Later he will travel over the Transiberian Railway to Vladivostok and then return to his post in the Philippines.

ANCIENT STATUE UNEARTHED.

Greek Masterpiece of Marble Found Near Lake Albano.

Special Cable Despatch to The Sun. ROME, June 3.—A life size ancient marble statue was accidentally discovered recently while a road was being built along the banks of Lake Albano. The contractor hid the statue, intending to smuggle it out of the country. Some of the workmen, however, told the police, who seized the statue. It is headless and armless, but has been identified as that of an ephor, a youth who has just entered upon his manhood. It is regarded as a Greek masterpiece.

Other fragments have since been discovered and it is hoped that the site of the imperial nymposium will be found.

MME. DEVOIR LOSES HER SUIT.

Demanding Pension for Grand-daughter, Clara Ward's Niece.

Special Cable Despatch to The Sun. NICE, June 3.—The Civil Tribunal today notified Mme. Devour in her action for a pension of $720 a year from her great-granddaughter, whose father, Eber Ward, as guardian, pleaded that the demand was inadmissible, as Mme. Devour's sons were still alive and able to support her. The child inherited this property from her mother, the wife of Eber Ward, brother of Clara Ward, formerly Princess de Chimay. Mme. Devour, who is 83, then brought the present suit. She claimed that she was entitled to a pension, as she had no other way of supporting herself.

THAIAMAS ATTACKS ARMY BILL.

Fight Against Three Year Term Continued in French Chamber.

Special Cable Despatch to The Sun. PARIS, June 3.—Today's sitting of the Chamber of Deputies and the discussion of the three years military service bill were quite different from the noisy and turbulent scenes of yesterday. Gen. Pain of the Council of War and other high army officers entered the Chamber with M. Etienne, the Minister of War, and were cheered by the Right and the Centre. The Left remained silent, but made no further attempt to provoke the Government representatives.

M. Chautemps, who led the opposition to the measure yesterday and caused an uproar by blaming France's poor preparations on the Chief of Staff, resumed and concluded his argument today.

Joseph Delbecq followed with a speech in which he spoke in favor of the three years service measure. He gave the old worn out argument of the decreasing birth rate in France and declared slowness on the part of Russia, France's ally, in mobilizing her troops in an emergency was inevitable.

M. Thielland, Socialist, who was expelled from the university where he was a professor for attacking the character of Joan of Arc and was then elected as a Socialist Deputy, opposed the bill. The true solution of the question, he said, was to augment the birth rate. An increase in the time of service now, he declared, meant that there would be another increase to four years compulsory service ten years from now, and then to five years at the end of the following period of ten years.

The debate was then adjourned.

SCEPTICAL ABOUT 'CANCER CURE'

Dr. Schmidt's Claims Fail to Impress German Physicians.

Special Cable Despatch to The Sun. COLOGNE, June 3.—The claims of Dr. Otto Schmidt before the Medical Society yesterday that he has discovered the cause and cure of cancer have not deeply impressed the medical fraternity here. They say there have been too many similar claims heretofore.

Dr. Schmidt claimed that he had discovered that a parasite caused the disease, he claims, is contagious. Dr. Schmidt also claimed that he had produced a vaccine with which he had healed numerous serious cases of cancer. He demanded that a commission be appointed to investigate his claims. No such commission has as yet been appointed.

MATAMORAS CAPTURED BY MEXICAN REBELS

Federals Lose Five Officers—Several Wounded on American Soil.

Brownsville, Tex., June 3.—Matamoras, opposite this city, fell to-day into the hands of the Mexican rebels under Gen. Lufco Blanco with 1,600 troops. The Federals put up a hard fight. Major Estreban Ramos was shot while in command of the outpost covering the city electric power plant. Four other Federal officers were killed.

The rebels made the power plant the point of their principal attack in the beginning of the fight, as it was being used to generate power to charge barbed wire fences erected at vulnerable points about the city. The Federals assert that forty rebels were killed at one point when they charged against the fence.

After the outposts were driven back the rebels easily gained access to all parts of the city. The adobe buildings afforded the rebels shelter and rendered useless the Federal machine guns. The Federal artillery fire was poor.

As the rebels crept in many Federals deserted and swam the river to Brownsville. Some bullets fell on American territory and several were wounded on this side of the line. The rebels with bombs set fire to several places in Matamoras.

A railroad bridge between the Mexican and American towns was set on fire.

SEES SILENT PANIC IN U. S.

Get Wells Says Prosperity Has Slipped Away.

Special Cable Despatch to The Sun. LONDON, June 3.—Ort Wells, the Chicago business man who was associated with Messrs. Gates and Deike some years ago and after whom Mr. Deike named his famous racehorse Ort Wells, takes a pessimistic view of conditions in America in the immediate future. He says that President Wilson personally is a charming man, but the commercial future of the United States needs a man experienced in affairs at the head of the Government.

"Mr. Wilson," says Mr. Wells, "is academic and not practical. He has lively dreams and beautiful thoughts, which are expressed in charming language, but they do not make for a practical government under which a great nation is to do business. Everything is in favor of unbounded prosperity, but the people are all afraid of the future and are waiting to see what will happen. Business men are drawing in their horns and investors are throwing overboard their present holdings and are afraid to take on new commitments. The whole country is in a silent panic."

"I hear," continued Mr. Wells, "much talk of bumper crops and that everything is therefore all right. I have seen mighty bad times with bumper crops. You must remember that it takes money to move these crops, and with the financiers all frightened, who is going to supply the cash for this purpose? Everybody is holding on to what he has as he cannot foresee the return of the prosperity which has slipped away."

The Coolest Suit in the World

The coat is next to nothing in weight.

It has practically no lining to speak of.

It has no padding at all.

Its lapels will accommodate you at the first button, or loiter to the second.

Its lines are sketchy rather than photographic—easy, natural, unsophisticated, inconsequential, irresponsible.

The vest is a skeleton of its former self and absolutely devoid of all feeling.

The trousers are as trim as poplars—artistic in their elimination of the superfluous.

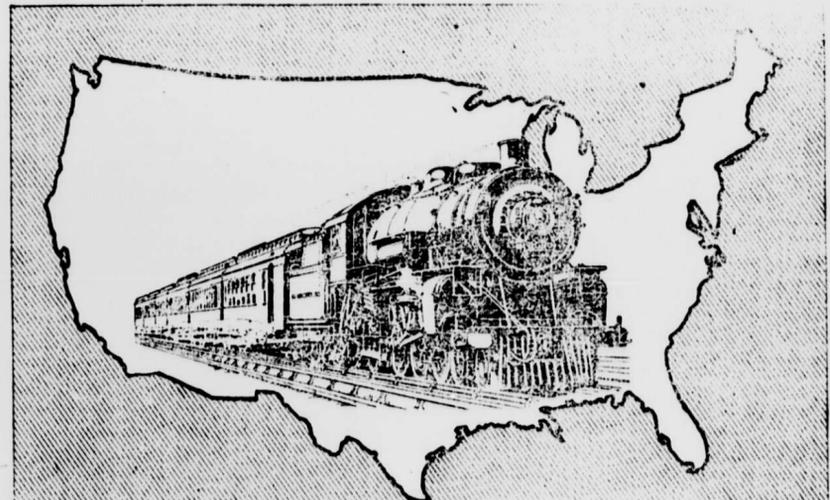

The suit entire is as cool as a suit can be without offending the niceties of propriety.

Made in checks and plaids and pencil stripes, so light they must have trembled like first kisses in the loom!
