

EVELYN THAW A LONDON SUCCESS

She Dances Tango and Turkey Trot at London Hippodrome.

RECOGNIZED ONLY BY FEW

Declares She's on the Stage Simply to Earn Her Living.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun.

LONDON, June 7.—Evelyn Nesbit Thaw slipped quietly into the east of "Come over Here" at the Hippodrome this afternoon. Her name was not even on the programme. She did one dance alone and then danced the tango and the turkey trot with Jack Clifford. Although obviously nervous she went through the performance surprisingly well. As a matter of fact not a dozen people in the theatre know her identity.

Her performance in the evening was an even greater success. She was warmly received and enthusiastically applauded purely on her merits. The attacks on her appearance here which have been made in certain London newspapers have evoked considerable sympathy among prominent people. The chaplain of the Chapel Royal, Savoy, appealed in her behalf to Ethel Levey, saying: "I hope you will be kind to her. If she is seeking a legitimate livelihood on the stage give her all the help you can."

Similar feelings have been expressed by Lady Kathurst and others. Her story is naturally familiar to Londoners and the impression is widespread that she has suffered terribly. After the performance she said to THE SUN'S correspondent: "Why, I've gone on the stage simply to earn my living. After the trial I refused several offers to go on the stage simply because I declined to make a freak of myself. Furthermore it was a matter of common sense. I have observed that those who became conspicuous through some big case and then went on the stage left it very quickly. Coming to England I felt that I could go on the stage without raising great comment. I am working hard and I am anxious to succeed. If I win success I can return to the United States and reappear on the stage as a genuine artist and be judged upon my merits as an artist."

REPUBLICAN PRAISES ALFONSO.

Senior Accurate Pass Tribute to Monarch in Chamber.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun.

MADRID, June 7.—Senior Accurate, a Republican Deputy and Vice-president of the Chamber of Deputies, paid a tribute in the Chamber today to the character of King Alfonso, but added that he saw no reason for abandoning the fight for a Spanish republic.

"I maintain," he said, "that monarchy is necessary in a democracy. I shall die a Republican even if the monarchy stands for liberty and progress. If some of my friends desire to collaborate on those grounds with the monarchy I shall vote against them, although I shall respect their decision." Senior Accurate was one of the Republicans invited by King Alfonso to have a conference with him last January on political issues. The Republican leader was astonished when the young ruler asked him what he thought of the King's consulting leaders of the anti-dynastic parties in a political crisis. Senior Accurate replied that he saw no objection and the King assured him that in that case he would do so.

SHUBERT GETS NEW FARCE.

Russ American Rights Also of Bernard Shaw Plays.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun.

LONDON, June 7.—Lee Shubert, the American theatrical manager, finally has secured some attractions for New York. He has bought the American rights of "Oh, I Say," a successful farce now being played at the Criterion Theatre. "Panthea," a burlesque which has just been produced at the new Ambassadors Theatre, and "The Doctor's Dilemma," by George Bernard Shaw, which Levey will abandon vaudeville in the fall and return to dramatic work, appearing with Gerald Du Maurier in a play by the author of "Doormats." Her role will be that of a demimondaine who helps a young waiter flit by a party girl. At a recent dinner Mrs. Campbell insisted that Miss Levey be her legitimate successor.

Cecil Chesterton Guilty.

Sentenced for Libelling Godfrey Isaacs in Marconi Scandal.

LONDON, June 7.—Cecil Chesterton, a writer and brother of Gilbert K. Chesterton, was found guilty this afternoon of libelling Godfrey Isaacs, managing director of the Marconi company, and fined $500. He was sentenced to prison until the fine is paid. Chesterton was accused of libelling Isaacs in a newspaper article on the Marconi scandal in which Sir Rufus Isaacs, Attorney-General, and a relative of Godfrey Isaacs, figured.

SAYS MORGAN WAS TO BE VATICAN'S FINANCIER

Report His Crowning Ambition Was to Reorganize the Church's Finances.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun.

LONDON, June 8.—A despatch to the Observer from its Berlin correspondent says:

"According to a well known American capitalist now in Berlin J. Pierpont Morgan's last ambition was to crown his great career as a world financier by reorganizing the finances of the Roman Catholic Church, which is said to have been the object of his visit to Rome which ended with his death."

"The stupendous resources which the Vatican has at its disposal in two hemispheres," my informant says, "appeared strongly to the imagination of Mr. Morgan, used as he was to dealing with gigantic figures. The Pope's summons to him to reorganize and consolidate the widely diversified financial interests of the Church was irresistible, and Mr. Morgan said he would look upon the work which had been entrusted to him as the crowning labor of his career."

KING WARNS BALKAN ENVOYS.

Entertains Them at Dinner and Urges Settlement of Quarrels.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun.

LONDON, June 7.—In the course of a dinner given by King George to the Balkan peace delegates today to celebrate the signing of the treaty of peace with Turkey, the King warned the representatives of the Balkan nations against the danger of quarrelling among themselves, remarking that another war at this time would be a crime against humanity. The guests at the dinner, which was given in Buckingham Palace, included Premier Asenuth, Sir Edward Grey and other statesmen.

ANGLO-GERMAN UNDERSTANDING.

One of Results of Tangled Balkan Situation, It is Said.

Berlin, June 7.—President Benjamin Ide Wheeler of the University of California, who passed Thursday evening walking in the garden of the royal palace at Potsdam with Emperor William, said today that the Kaiser is a happy man on the eve of his jubilee. He is proud of having prevented a general European war owing to the Balkan situation. "It is a source of deep satisfaction to him that he has been able to perform a world service in avoiding the European war which was threatened recently," said Dr. Wheeler, and his daughter's wedding has given him the greatest pleasure.

insulted. No, he would not accept a free ticket. "Tell the Sheriff that he can't sit upon the stage," said Big Bill over his shoulder. Big Bill being too busy at the moment to answer the telephone call personally.

Night fell and all the thousands went below stairs to eat sandwiches and bananas and things that Matthew sympathizers had supplied to the Paterson folk in quantity sufficient and then some to feed the army twice, once at 1 o'clock and again just after the thunderstorm.

SOCIALISTS MEET TO NOMINATE MAYOR

Show Their Sympathy With Paterson Strikers and May Indorse I. W. W.

ADJOURN TO THE GARDEN

Wire President Wilson Asking Investigation of Handling of Silk Strike.

Two hundred delegates of the Socialist party clubs of New York city, including men with red neckties and women with red roses on their shirt-waists, assembled yesterday afternoon in the Labor Temple, 247 East Eighty-fourth street, in their city convention to frame a platform and nominate a Mayor and other candidates for the municipal campaign. They skipped their evening session to attend the banquet of the I. W. W. in Madison Square Garden, but they will convene this morning.

Pageant Unopposedly Received.

The pageant made no pretense of "story" or sustained interest, it was merely a presentation of the various big happenings of the strike. But never was a stage presentation so unopposedly received. Up the main aisle at 8 o'clock on a February morning, as the programme had it, came the thousands to file up a runway leading to the stage. They were supposed to be going to work.

Hardly had the last lot into the wide entrance to the pointed mill when they all spilled out again. The strike had been declared and they tumbled into view again while the brasses crashed and the trumpets brayed and the audience, all on its feet now, yelled and sang the "Marseillaise" and wept, and altogether showed it was "with" the strikers. A heap of more than an audience has been "with" performers for a long, long time.

Only Score Show Up at Union Square to Hear Quinlan.

A mass meeting of the New York contingent of the striking silk workers called by the Industrial Workers of the World at Union Square for 1 P. M. yesterday was a failure for lack of attendance. About two dozen persons gathered at the Union Square plaza and several speakers, including Patrick Quinlan, who took a look at the square and went away, saying he would be back, but failed to return.
