

Young Stearns Eliminates Hilton in French Golf, Then Loses to Another English Player

YOUNG PRINCETONIAN BEATS GREAT HILTON

Stearns Disposes of England's Amateur Champion in French Tourney.

HAS TO BATTLE UPHILL Wins by 2 and 1, but Then Falls Down in Second Round and Is Beaten.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun.

LA HONTE, France, July 3.—John N. Stearns, a Princeton student, was the amateur golf champion of France today. The young Princetonian, who is a New Yorker and a member of the Nassau Country Club, surprised every one by defeating Harold H. Hilton, the amateur champion of England, in a match in which he had to show pluck and staying power, by a score of 2 up and 1 to play. Three other Americans came easily through the first round, but the performance of Stearns in putting out the British crack, who has an American championship to his credit, was the feature of the day's play.

The glory of being such a brilliant player as Hilton proved too much for the equanimity of the young Princetonian, and he fell to the victim in the second round to Lord Charles Hope by 6 up and 5 to play. A large gallery followed the match and the American was plainly rattled and was entirely off his game. His shots lacked direction and he often was badly golfer, who never failed to take advantage of his opponent's mistakes, and it was not long before Stearns was hopelessly behind.

Eight canoists, representing the best sailing men in New York and Boston, competed. The first leg of the triangle was to windward. Then came a close reach on the port tack, followed by a gybe and a broad reach home. The committee in charge was made up of Judge R. J. Wilkin, A. M. Pook, Paul Butler and former Commodore Kretzmer. At the end of the race they refused to make any statement regarding the ability of the different boats.

George Douglas of the Knickerbocker Canoe Club was the first across the line, nicely berthed to windward of the fleet. He fouled the first mark, which put him out of the race. However, he continued and was leading at the end of the first round. During the second windward leg Friede took the lead, followed by Dr. Brown of Boston. He continued to increase his lead during the third and the fourth rounds and won by 3 minutes and 30 seconds from James F. Newman of the Union Boat Club of Boston.

Seven races at Belmont. The weather was cloudy and the hard surface of the links put the American players at a disadvantage. President H. Boulie will entertain the Americans at the Cafe Madrid on the Fourth of July.

Light winds for long run. Smaller craft of Eastern Yacht Club Fleet Arrive Late.

PORTLAND, Me., July 3.—A light southeaster wafted the Eastern Yacht Club fleet across a hundred miles of the smoothest of seas to-day in the initial run from Marblehead to this port.

Many of the non-racing portion of the fleet reached Boston harbor an hour or two before sundown, but it was midnight before the small aspirants for prizes finished the day's struggle at Cape Elizabeth. Fifteen miles off shore.

At the sailing yacht regatta at Marblehead harbor this morning, as the wind was blowing an Irishman's hurricane, but the regatta committee supplied three able tugs and with the assistance of the power portion of the fleet all hands were at the start off Marblehead at 9:30 o'clock, followed five minutes later by a fleet of three division schooners, and then by a fleet of two division schooners, consisting of the Sea Fox, Constellation, Savatara and Vagrant. Capt. Harold S. Vanderbilt of the last named boat announced the start to-day that the Yacht Club cruise, but would start for Europe on July 15, outfitting at Portland.

The Flona and Bolita were started at 9:30. They were late in reaching the line, the Flona being more than a minute behind the signal, while the Bolita was 42 seconds astern of her rival. It was a long, slow, 15 miles beat to Cape Ann bay in a decreasing southeast breeze. The Flona had taken the lead in the competition, while the Sea Fox was making the pace for the special division when the buoy was reached. Owing to the late finish of to-day's run the regatta committee announced that the start for Booth Bay tomorrow morning would be delayed until a couple of hours before noon.

Extra Mrs. Palmer Beats Her Husband

MRS. EDGAR PALMER, wife of Rear Commodore Edgar Palmer of the American Yacht Club, administered a good beating to her husband yesterday—in a yacht race. Mrs. Palmer owns and sails the Sonder class yacht Joyette. In the same class is the Juanita owned by J. E. Hayes. Mr. Hayes was unable to sail his own boat and in order to make a race, Rear Commodore Palmer said he would handle the Juanita. It was husband against wife and the wife won. The Joyette won the race by 17 seconds. It is only fair to say that the Joyette was the winner of the Inter-German match in 1909 and then won the President Taft cup.

TWO FIFTY FOOTERS TO BE DISQUALIFIED

Pleione and Spartan, on Port Tack, Refuse to Give Way to Iroquois, on Starboard.

COMMITTEE ACTS QUICKLY Sees Offence at Start and Flag of Protest Is Unnecessary—Race Unusually Close.

Two of the new 50 footers will be disqualified for infringing the rules of sailing. The trouble occurred in the annual regatta of the American Yacht Club sailed yesterday on the Sound, starting off Scotch Cap. There have been several violations of rules in the regatta sailed, but the owners have not protested because they think the regatta committee should take the initiative. The regatta committee cannot see everything, but in yesterday's race the foul was under the eyes of the officials and prompt action was taken. The yachts were starting.

The first leg of the course was to windward and in maneuvering for position Ralph N. Ellis had put his yacht Iroquois II on the starboard tack while all the others were on the port tack. The fleet was closely bunched at the windward end of the line. Several were able to cross without being in the way of the Iroquois, which had right of way, but Pleione and Spartan, both on the port tack, refused to give way and there was a foul. The Iroquois set a protest flag, but the committee already had taken action. After the race ended Chairman H. de B. Parsons halted the two offending yachts and asked for explanations. Mr. Rumrill said he could not get out of the way of Iroquois and for that reason did not tack. The Spartan was to windward of the Iroquois and Mr. Randall answered that he had not interfered with the Iroquois. The owners will be allowed to answer the complaint.

Seven of the 50 footers started and had a fair race, one of the very few of the season. At the start the wind was east by north. It backed somewhat later and at the finish freshened and hauled east by north. The course laid the yacht to Matinecock Point, Woolsey's Reef and George. The first leg was to windward. George F. Baker, Jr.'s, Ventura made a splendid start, crossing the line in the lead, and in a position to tack. The Graying was next away to leeward of the Ventura and Acusha was next. Then came the Iroquois, Pleione, Spartan and Carolina. It was slack water on the start and the Iroquois let the Sound the tide was running to the east, so it was an advantage to cross the Sound as quickly as possible. Then, too, there were possibilities that the wind would haul to the south. The Iroquois and Graying held straight across the Sound before making a tack, while the others made hits before getting into the fair tide. The Iroquois was between the Ventura and Graying. It was a reach with booms to port to the Woolsey Reef mark and a run home with spinners. The Graying gradually worked by the lead and won by finishing 2 minutes 30 seconds ahead of the Ventura. Just four minutes and four seconds separated the first and last in this class.

The P class the Josephine was the line to soon and was recalled. This enabled the Joyant and Corinthian to start off with a big lead. The Josephine, however, soon overhauled the others and finished the race 45 seconds ahead of the Joyant.

In the race for the 80 footers, the Caprice got away in the lead, but Rowdy, Fred Mulholland and the other yachts, which were sailed by Stuyvesant Wainwright, was third, a little to leeward of Rowdy. These yachts had a fine battle all over the course and in the end the Rowdy won from Nepal by 1 minute 51 seconds.

The Ahmakola, the Stamford schooner owned by Howard C. Smith, was the winner in her class, with the Hopewell second. Four started and kept in close company all around the course.

Fifty-two yachts started in the regatta, which was the best sailed of the season because there were no flukes in the wind. H. de B. Parsons, chairman of the regatta committee, had as his aides Commodore Oliver Harriman, Richard T. Wainwright, William Porter Allen and Cornelius Sewell. The following are the results:
