Descendants Attend Ceremony at Pier From Which the Fathers Sailed.

LLOYD BRUCE PRESENT

U. S. Minister to Netherlands Is Principal Speaker at Southampton Lunch.

SOUTHAMPTON, Aug. 15.—The anniversary of the departure of the Pilgrims from Southampton for America was celebrated here today with the unveiling by Walter Hines Page, the American Ambassador, of a monument erected on the site of the pier from which the fathers sailed on August 15, 1620.

A luncheon in the pier pavilion at which Lloyd Bryce, United States Minister to the Netherlands, was the principal speaker, opened the ceremonies of the day. The Mayor of Southampton was the host and the guests were the consuls of all the nations represented at Southampton, several high church officers, among them the Bishop of Winchester, and many visiting Americans, some of whom wore academic robes.

After luncheon the guests formed a procession and with bands and banners sailing marched along the route taken by the Pilgrim fathers through the west gate to the pier.

A religious service of an undenominational character preceded the unveiling ceremony. It was conducted by the Bishop of Winchester and the Rev. G. G. Stubbins, vicar of the Above Bar Congregational Chapel, Southampton. The singing was led by the Free Church Choral Union.

The unveiling of the monument Ambassador Page said, "This monument is one of the pillars of hope of mankind. The sons of these men whose immortal achievement it commemorates are drawn nearer to you by this tribute to their fathers, and they give you their prayers, and today this is their message. The old impulse of our destiny which led the race to whatever new forms it may have taken with the changing years is not yet spent. The high, crisp spirit of the Pilgrim still lives."

A MAIL FROM MARIE CORELLI.

British Nation Aching With Nervous Irritation, She Says.

SPECIAL CABLE DISPATCH TO THE SUN. LONDON, Aug. 15.—Marie Corelli, the author, in a fit of the blues sends to the press a melancholic wail on the British nation's inquietude and decline. "Sated with possession, indolent through luxury, and content with the life of ease, the nation lacks of incentive to effort the nation she says, 'is growing old, not gracefully but with nervous irritation and restlessness. It shows the fidgety spirit of the age without dignity, sweetness, composure, tenderness or love. In techy humor it gloats at its former ideals, its fine faith, its poetic dreams and all the romance of its youth that it could once have died to defend and to die for.'"

SPECIAL CABLE DISPATCH TO THE SUN. LONDON, Aug. 15.—Dr. H. W. Johnstone, who was entrusted by the government a year ago with the investigation of the question of venereal diseases, has submitted a long report. He declares that compulsory notification of the existence of a person, and the regulation of vice are futile methods of dealing with the subject. "The doctor deprecates attaching special criminality or disgrace to persons suffering from these diseases and adds: 'Much of the difficulty of dealing with these diseases arises from the conception that they are a just retribution for sin.'"

EMPEROR BEHIND TIME.

Arrives at Plymouth Three Hours Late Owing to Fog.

SPECIAL CABLE DISPATCH TO THE SUN. SOUTHAMPTON, Aug. 15.—The steamship Emperor, which sailed from New York last Saturday, arrived here this afternoon, three hours later than had been expected. A fog made it necessary to run at reduced speed, and this brought the vessel in later than had been anticipated.

Frederick Courland Penfield, the new American Ambassador to Austria-Hungary, will go to London by automobile tomorrow. He refused to give his London address as he was afraid he would be bothered by interviewers. Mr. Penfield said he did not want to start work until he takes over his post in Vienna. He will spend a week in the British metropolis and then motor to Vienna.

The Ambassador was very much interested in learning the details of the impending visit of Gov. Sulzer, but declined to discuss the matter. He praised the Emperor as one of the world's wonders. The motion of the vessel at sea could not be felt, he said, and the passengers hardly knew that they were aboard.

KILLED IN PECULIAR ACCIDENT.

Mexican Crushed Against Steering Wheel of Automobile.

SPECIAL CABLE DISPATCH TO THE SUN. MEXICO CITY, Aug. 15.—Senador Cardenas, a Mexican doctor, was killed and Dr. Dewey, a wealthy American planter, and a Cuban merchant named Querretjo were injured in a peculiar automobile accident here yesterday.

Dr. Dewey took the Caban and the Mexican with him toward Matanzas to try out a new car which was being driven by a chauffeur by the name of Shumway. Cardenas repeatedly asked that he be allowed to drive the machine, and Dr. Dewey finally consented at a point near Matanzas. Cardenas was utterly unskilled in driving the machine and started off at terrific speed. The car struck a sharp curve while going down hill, skidded and then turned a somersault in the air, landing in an upright position. Everybody was thrown out of the car except Cardenas, who was dead. His foot still held the wheel, while his foot pressed the bellows of the horn, which continued blowing. The emergency brake was struck and the steering wheel smashed Cardenas's chest and blood was pouring out of his mouth and ears. Dr. Dewey's right arm was broken and he escaped unhurt, but Querretjo sustained slight injuries.

ENGLAND IS UNRUFFLED.

Amassador Wilson's Statement Passes Without Comment.

LONDON, Aug. 15.—No attention has been paid here to the comments made on England's Mexican policy by Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson. England was surprised by the news from the United States that the ambassador had been instructed to advise the British government for Mr. Wilson's remarks. Newspapers here print Ambassador Wilson's statement to-day as an explanation of the reasons for the apology. The Westminster Gazette, the Government organ, says the difficulty between President Wilson and Ambassador Wilson is "purely domestic and will not cause a ripple in the relations between the United States and the British Empire. President Wilson and Secretary of State Bryan may have good reasons of their own for not recognizing President Huerta's Government at the present moment, but they will not take offence at other governments which have taken a different course, and least of all at us, in the circumstances which now have been disclosed."

notice on the Senate that unless something definite was forthcoming in the way of information that the Administration in Washington was fording protection to Americans in Mexico he would lay before the Senate some startling information. After referring to the fact that many resolutions had been introduced in the Senate and all of them embodied in the Foreign Relations Committee Senator Penrose announced he had passed two resolutions, and he hoped the Senate would pass them. The first resolution called for information regarding the official status of William Hayward Hale. In submitting this resolution Mr. Penrose called attention to the fact that Mr. Hale was engaged in certain activities in Mexico; that he was generally understood to be President Wilson's personal envoy; that he had welcomed John Lind in Mexico and was otherwise engaged in playing an important part in Mexican affairs.

AWAITS WORD FROM LIND.

Senator Penrose said he was willing to wait a few days to hear what success had attended Mr. Lind's efforts. "I am willing to get pretty close to home when American citizens are molested and their lives and property endangered," said Senator Penrose. "I am willing to wait a few days to learn if the mysterious mission of Mr. Lind is productive of any tangible results. If it is not fruitful by early next week I will address the Senate on conditions in Mexico and will then offer a resolution which I hope will go some way toward asserting the dignity of the United States and declaring our policy and firm intention to protect lives and property of Americans in Mexico."

Bronx President Refuses to Accept Fashion Nomination.

A letter of Borough President Cyrus C. Miller of The Bronx declining the fashion nomination was made public yesterday by the fashion committee. Mr. Miller says he cannot live on a Borough President's $7,000 a year salary and continues: "In times of war, any other public well patriot demands that a man sacrifice himself or his family or anything else for the public welfare, but at other times when there are so many other men who admit that they can perform the duties of the office better than the incumbent he is relieved from the worry that there is no one to take his place by the simple expedient of stepping aside to avoid the rush. If the public thinks that he is the best man for an office, his services, by the obvious means of paying him a salary which will relieve his private necessities."
