

Kolehmainen Must Appear To-night and Answer Charges Assailing His Amateur Status

BROOKLYN DELAY IN KOLEHMAINEN CASE

A. A. U. Registration Committee Orders Finnish Runner to Appear To-night.

MUST BRING ALL TROPHIES

Quail Also Asked to Testify as to Recent Utterances on Amateur Status.

Charged or no named Hannes Kolehmainen will have to appear before the registration committee of the Metropolitan Association of the A. A. U. to-night and answer questions in regard to his status as an amateur. The application for a postponement on the ground that Terence Farley, the usual representative of the English Amateur Athletic Union in matters of this kind, is out of town was denied yesterday by the committee. The Finn will either have to get some other lawyer or depend on an interpreter, to make him acquainted with the meaning of the questions put. His knowledge of the English language is limited and his friends are afraid that he may be thoughtlessly led into a damaging admission in the star chamber proceedings of the committee.

Though the investigation is of international interest the members of the committee have decided to conduct it with their usual secrecy, and according to a statement made by one of the committee members, the Finn is not to be interviewed. The committee also maintained its right to require the Finn to produce all prizes he has since coming to this country. This he will have to do at his own expense and rather than allow a loophole for a disqualification on a technical ground Kolehmainen was advised to hire a taxi to bring all the trophies he has won from his home in further Brooklyn to the St. Bartholomew A. C. house in Forty-second street, near Third avenue, where the inquiry will take place.

From the talk among those interested the proceedings are expected to be more far reaching than was at first believed. Friends of the Finn stoutly maintain the innocence of any violation of the amateur laws, while members of the registration committee are equally positive that they are on the lookout for the longest long distance runner. One member was quoted yesterday as saying that in his opinion the Finn had gathered in $2,500 since he came to this country from no other source than competitive racing. It is pointed out that it is so he is as great a champion in collecting appearance money as he is on the other path, for this amount exceeds by far that which has been credited to any other athlete.

Before the investigation ends it is more than likely that others will be embroiled. George P. Matthews, a member of the committee, was asked yesterday why Billy Quail was not asked to explain the public statement he made recently that many of our amateurs would not compete at a set of prizes in the United States. He replied that this had been done and Quail was being asked to come from New Haven, where he is training the Yale cross-country runners to tell what he knows about the inside workings of the appearance money graft. As the trainer of the Yale men Quail is placed in a peculiar position, for it is quite on the cards that some of his cross-country pupils may in course of time be entered in the same competition with some of the men who according to Quail, are professional athletes.

The statement that the charges against Kolehmainen were instigated by jealous rivals will not do, and the Finnish colony is much excited over the proceedings against their champion. In the issue of the New York Enquirer, a direct charge is made that attempts were made to intimidate Kolehmainen in order to prevent his running in the ten mile championship. The article says that some friends of one of the most prominent runners in that race, Harry Haines, were the race and requested him to remain away from it. When he did not agree the visitors threatened him with trouble. In spite of this alleged threat Kolehmainen not only ran but broke the American record for the distance.

HORACE MANN DECLINES ISSUE.

Quits Intercollegiate Hockey League When Hovey Is Cut Out.

Horace Mann School declined to enter the Intercollegiate Hockey League yesterday when it was decided to drop Hovey from its position and confine teams to six men. The meeting was held at Berkeley School. It was agreed that all teams might carry substitute players.

Five schools entered the competition for the championship, Loyola School being a new entrant. The others to compete are Cutler, Irving, Collegiate and Berkeley schools.

No good samaritan has volunteered to donate a silver cup, but those present voted to equally share the responsibility of purchasing a $100 silver cup, which will be presented to the champion team.

A round robin series schedule of twenty games has been arranged, every team meeting each other team twice and two games being played a week. The opening contests on January 3 will bring together Cutler against Berkeley and Irving vs. Collegiate. All games will be played at the St. Nicholas rink.

Goodstart a Team in Himself.

The scholastic swimming season was opened yesterday with a dual meet between the Commercial High and St. John's Prep swimming teams at the latter's tank. Commercial High won by a score of 30 to 22. The winner of the Commercial team was largely responsible for his team's victory in the four lap relay race, swimming as anchor man. He moreover carried off the honors in the 50 yard dash, winning by ten feet. He also finished second in the plunge for distance, being beaten by Guerin of St. John's Prep.

Charley Carr's Faculty Grievs.

DETROIT, Nov. 11.—Charley Carr has signed up two more Detroit Tigers as instructors at his baseball school in San Antonio, Tex. They are Tom Dubuc, to help the pitchers, and Trainer Harry Tubbill, to show the young players a few things about getting into condition, knowing when they are overtrained and fixing up minor injuries.

Bob Wins Morningglade Tourney.

C. Bush defeated C. Johnson 25 to 19 last night in final of the three cushion billiard hand-pump tournament at the Morningglade academy.

Expert to Aid Yale On Minnesota Shift

NEW HAVEN, Nov. 11.—John McGovern, former captain and quarterback of the University of Minnesota eleven and all-American quarterback in 1909, arrived here to-night to help coach the Yale eleven in the intricacies of the famous Minnesota shift, which Tom Shevlin has taught to several Eli elevens in the past. The summoning of McGovern is regarded as a last desperate effort of the Blue to reach a stage where it can hope to defeat Princeton and Harvard. McGovern is an expert on all variations of the formation. He not only will teach Yale to use the maneuver but also will instruct the men on how to thwart it in the form that is used by Princeton.

SNODGRASS PERFORMS FOR HIS HOME CROWD

Gets Watch, but No Hits, While Matty Beats White Sox by 3-2 Score.

OXNARD, Cal., Nov. 11.—Matty beat the White Sox 3 to 2 today before a host of Fred Snodgrass's home town friends. The Giants got a fair start after Snodgrass had been presented with a watch by admiring friends and fellow citizens. Snodgrass went out, but a couple of singles came one tally.

The Sox tied the score in the second, Evans, Daly and Benz appropriating singles. The Giants came back in the next with a couple of singles and outscored the Sox 2 to 1 in the third. Matty and Benz put on steam for the Sox were then double played out on a tally. The score:

MUCH TALK BUT NO ACTION.

Storm Bound Minor Leaguers Delay Annual Business Session.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 11.—Two Governors, James M. Cox of Ohio and Benjamin Hooper of Tennessee, assisted this afternoon in the opening of the twelfth annual convention of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues. Ohio's Executive, in welcoming the delegates to the game and its integrity, while Hooper assured members of the convention that they are doing excellent service in furnishing public amusement.

Several league presidents were reported as storm bound in Cleveland and it is thought that to-morrow morning's session will find forty-three leagues represented.

President Navin of the Detroit American club and President Hilton of the St. Louis Club were major league magnates to arrive today. Manager Arthur Davlin of the Oakland Club, of the Pacific Coast League, and Second Baseman Leard of Venice of the same league and practically closed with the St. Louis Nationals for the purchase of Pitcher Geyer.

Skeeters Sign Young Hanley.

Hanley, former captain and star twirler of the Manhattan College nine, will wear Jersey City uniform next season and show his mettle in the Intercollegiate League circuit. Hanley signed with Frank Chance and the New Yorks after his position and confine teams to six men. The meeting was held at Berkeley School. It was agreed that all teams might carry substitute players.

Five schools entered the competition for the championship, Loyola School being a new entrant. The others to compete are Cutler, Irving, Collegiate and Berkeley schools.

No good samaritan has volunteered to donate a silver cup, but those present voted to equally share the responsibility of purchasing a $100 silver cup, which will be presented to the champion team.

Thoroughbreds Bring Good Prices.

LESTERON, Nov. 11.—Good prices were realized at the opening day of the annual fall sale of thoroughbreds here today. Christmas Star, a three-year-old filly by Star Shoot, brought the top price of $2,500 from Kenneth Alexander, while Matty Night, a five-year-old mare, also by Star Shoot, was knocked down to a same buyer for $2,000. Magna Stella, a nine-year-old brood mare, went to J. N. Camden for $1,200, and Expressing, a four-year-old brood mare, to Mr. Camden for $1,000. Both mares purchased by Camden were by Star Shoot.

Reds Matched With Senators.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—Two exhibition games between the Philadelphia Athletics and Senators after the team leaves its training camp in the spring. Arrangements have been completed with the Cincinnati National League team. One is for the Griffins will clash on April 4 and 5 in Cincinnati. This will be the first meeting between the two clubs since Griffith took up the reins as manager of Washington and since he formerly was leader of the Reds the games are expected to prove good drawing cards in Porkville.

Connie Mack Now a Banker.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 11.—Local baseball fans have just learned that in addition to being many other things Connie Mack is now a banker. The manager and half owner of the world's champion Athletics is a director of the Floga Trust Company, in Toga, the part of Philadelphia in which Mack resides.

DAIRYMAN-CARLISLE SEATS FOR SALE

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—A game next Saturday, Nov. 16, to be played at the Polo Grounds next Saturday.

DARTMOUTH PLAYERS WILL WEAR NUMBERS

New Yorkers Will Be Able to Tell Who's Who in Game With Carlisle Here.

COACH CAVANAUGH AGREES

Writes That His Reason Is to Afford Public Greater Interest in Game.

Coach Frank Cavanaugh and the Dartmouth College athletic council have consented to have the Dartmouth players wear numbers in the Dartmouth-Carlisle football game to be played at the Polo Grounds next Saturday.

Dartmouth is the first team to put this plan in operation and Coach Cavanaugh writes that the only reason for making the experiment is to afford the public a greater appreciation and interest in the game. The system will enable New Yorkers to know who is who in the different Dartmouth plays.

The New York Athletic club has been notified by both the Army and Navy officials that the Government institutions will exercise options on all the available seats. These will be necessary to become the New York club as to leave only approximately 4,000 seats for local sale. A staff of assistants was busy with Secretary John B. Foster yesterday returning the money applications which have received promises of accommodation conditional upon the possibility of obtaining some of the seats on which the Government institutions had options.

NUMERALS EASY TO READ.

White Cloth Plaques to Be Sewed to Back of Green Jerseys.

HANOVER, N. H., Nov. 11.—Coach Cavanaugh of the Dartmouth football team announced after today's practice that the green plaques to be sewed to the back of New York would bear numbers, following the system which was discussed for last week's Harvard-Princeton game, and which has called forth considerable public approval.

The numbers of the players will be large white cloth numerals sewed to the back of the green jerseys, and correspondingly numbered programs of the day. The size of the numbers will be sufficient to permit their being read from all points of the field, and in this way it is argued that the public will be able to tell better the plays and the game in general.

"I do not wish it to be understood," said Coach Cavanaugh to-night, "that this system is necessarily to become a fixture with Dartmouth teams, but I am very glad, in view of the apparent public request, to give the idea a fair trial. If I am to believe the innovation will result in a more intelligent football knowledge among the American public, I shall be more than satisfied and eager to continue the custom."

There was a short scrimmage for the varsity, chiefly for the purpose of showing the men further points of the Tiger attack, but the coaches finally let the varsity play the game. A series of line plunges took it over the line for a touchdown.

That was the only score of the afternoon. After this the entire attention was given to the Princeton attack and to individual work with the line. Coach Tom Shevlin, who was here, spent the afternoon with Brann and Avery, while Heflinger worked with the line as a whole, other coaches were Jack Owsley and Harry Haines.

The report that Knowles would be unable to play proved untrue today. All the injured men watched the scrimmage, including Cornish.

INDIANS HAVE SIX NEW PLAYS

Expect to Keep Green Worried—Hull Handled With Unusual Speed.

CARLETON, Pa., Nov. 11.—The Carlisle Indian football squad waded into a heavy practice this afternoon in anticipation of the Dartmouth-Indian game in New York on Saturday night. There was a small army of spectators on the field and the entire graduate advisory committee consisting of Ross McClave, Phil King, Snake Ames, Hoff Herring and Barclay Spake were on hand to watch the practice.

The men lined up for the drill as usual. Lambertson took Shea's place at right end and showed lots of life. Eddie Hovey took the place of the drill and there was the same life and vigor in the men that was so evident last week. The line was charging heavily and it was shown clearly that they still were developing.

For fifty minutes the regulars were kept on the defensive against the team that had been drilled in the Yale plays. This scrum team came on the field in blue jerseys and some even had blue stockings. There were such strong men as it is Boland, Dolton, Hogg, Tibbot and Charles. Boland ran the Yale plays from quarterback and the varsity was drilled in the same manner.

Restricting the proper method of defense, Hall as usual was in the limelight, while Doollittle, who substituted early for Carlisle, repeatedly spoiled forward passes by his own hands.

During the final ten minutes the first string men were put on the attack and with the substitute backfield, consisting of Borden, P. Trenkman and Doollittle, they carried the ball well into Yale's territory, but they lacked the final punch to carry it across. The feature of this part was the sensational run of Lambertson, who was in the pigskin on a fumble and was off for a run of forty-five yards.

Ross McClave announced to-day that, though it was utterly out of the question to think of getting Shea in the game, as his ankle was broken last Saturday, the former end would be taken along with the team to New Haven and on any trip that the team might take afterward.

Suggests Jersey Distance Events.

Platt Adams, Olympic champion at broad jumps, is one of a number of New Jersey devotees to athletics to suggest that a State cross-country championship should be held in Jersey.

The title are Fred Bellars, Louis Scott, Gaston Strohino, Joe Myers, John Kelly, Fred Seyfarth, Ed Garvey, Mike Devanney, Charles Houghton, Ed Garlock and M. Peck.

SQUASH OF HANDBALL COURT FOR NEXT

Evening and Sunday. The squash and handball courts for next year, and it shall remain in competition until one institution wins it three times.

TOPICS OF THE GRIDIRON.

Ever since Baker signalled for a fair catch in the Harvard-Princeton game and Law, right behind him, made the catch and attempted to run with the ball there has been discussion as to whether such a play was legal. One of the supposedly best versed football men in the country when asked about it that night said the play was quite proper and that Law would have divined the ball, yet here is the rule on the subject:

Rule 17, Section 5.—In case a signal for a fair catch is made by any player who has an opportunity to catch the ball and another player of his side (who has not signalled for a fair catch) catches the ball no run shall be made, nor shall the ball be given to the catcher's side for a scrimmage at the point where the catch was made.

The present Dartmouth team is the third which Frank Cavanaugh has developed, and with his work for two previous years he has placed high among the football instructors and strategists of the day. Cavanaugh has but little assistance in coaching as compared to the staffs at Harvard, Yale, Princeton and Penn. He is a stickler for scholarship among his men, and one of the first things he did after being made coach was to appeal to the Yale Athletic club for a scholarship among students who take part in athletics.

Points against the Tigers this year have been made in alternate games as follows: Yale, Princeton and Penn. The arrangement is maintained to the finish the score next Saturday will be Princeton, Yale 6, And, by the way, Rutgers and the New York Athletic club has been notified by both the Army and Navy officials that the Government institutions will exercise options on all the available seats.

To-night Dr. Corbin will give his dinner to the New York Athletic club. Among those present will be W. H. Heflinger, who made the All-American team in this year, and in those days played for the New York Athletic club. There wasn't any "all" team selected in every county of every State in the Union as Heflinger was a fair sort of a guard, occupying in football much the same sort of position that Wagner does in baseball, that Sullivan did among fighters, that Roosevelt does among Bull Moosers. In his freshman year, however, he was difficult and shirking and his fellows were not so sure of him.

Finally one of the coaches sent him a letter written in blood ink, which "This stirred the big chap up somewhat and he was not so dry and nervous as he had been. He did not need this treatment his next two years."

KETCHAM BACK AT GUARD.

Brann Returns and Goes to End - Returned by Ydie Captain.

NEW HAVEN, Nov. 11.—The final shift of Capt. Ketcham this afternoon, when he was moved from right end, where he has been playing for the last week, back to left guard, where he played the greater part of the season after starting at center. This was the result of a long conference of the coaches, who decided that Ketcham was too valuable a man for the center of the line to meet the Princeton attack and to be put out of the game.

Brann returned from his trip to New York and was put at right end, so that when the team lined up for the afternoon's scrimmage it was this way: Brann, right end; Wilson, quarterback; Hovey, left halfback; Knowles, right halfback; Lynn, fullback.

There was a short scrimmage for the varsity, chiefly for the purpose of showing the men further points of the Tiger attack, but the coaches finally let the varsity play the game. A series of line plunges took it over the line for a touchdown.

That was the only score of the afternoon. After this the entire attention was given to the Princeton attack and to individual work with the line. Coach Tom Shevlin, who was here, spent the afternoon with Brann and Avery, while Heflinger worked with the line as a whole, other coaches were Jack Owsley and Harry Haines.

The report that Knowles would be unable to play proved untrue today. All the injured men watched the scrimmage, including Cornish.

BALLIN DIAGNOSES PLAYS

Stars in Princeton Practice Against Scrubs and in Blue.

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 11.—The coaches drove the Tiger squad through a solid hour of scrimmage this afternoon following the final signal drill. There was a small army of spectators on the field and the entire graduate advisory committee consisting of Ross McClave, Phil King, Snake Ames, Hoff Herring and Barclay Spake were on hand to watch the practice.

The men lined up for the drill as usual. Lambertson took Shea's place at right end and showed lots of life. Eddie Hovey took the place of the drill and there was the same life and vigor in the men that was so evident last week. The line was charging heavily and it was shown clearly that they still were developing.

For fifty minutes the regulars were kept on the defensive against the team that had been drilled in the Yale plays. This scrum team came on the field in blue jerseys and some even had blue stockings. Ross McClave announced to-day that, though it was utterly out of the question to think of getting Shea in the game, as his ankle was broken last Saturday, the former end would be taken along with the team to New Haven and on any trip that the team might take afterward.

YALE CAN GET BIG ODDS.

Plenty of Princeton Money in Sight and Figures Are 10 to 7.

Setting on the outcome of the big football game took on the importance of the financial district yesterday and several fair sized wagers were placed. The quoted odds on the Yale-Princeton game were 10 to 7 in favor of the latter. There was plenty of Princeton money in evidence.

Even money was wagered that Yale wouldn't score and Eddie Hovey was placed on a freak bet that the total score of the game would be odd. Another bet of $100 even was made that Princeton would beat Yale by five or more.

The odds on the Yale-Yale game are quoted as 10 to 6 in favor of the former by Fred Schum, who reports that there is little betting on that game. The same odds prevail in the case of the Navy for the Army-Navy game, with lots of Navy money in sight.

Cups as Football Trophies.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 11.—Silver loving cups have been donated as trophies for the two big home games of the university of Pittsburgh football team. One is for the battle with Washington and Jefferson, and the other for the Penn State combat. The conditions of gift in each case are that the winner shall keep the cup for one year, and it shall remain in competition until one institution wins it three times.

INTERNATIONAL GOLF MATCH HILTON'S IDEA

England and Scotland. Instead of Being Opposed, Will Be Allies, Says Champion.

AMERICA ON OTHER SIDE

Statement May Prove the First Step in Movement for Regular Series.

In a discussion of the abandonment of the team match between Scotland and England, which was an annual event for many years in Great Britain, Harold H. Hilton makes a statement that is of interest to American golfers. He says: "That there will be an amateur international match played in the near future is a possibility which we should not overlook. It is well known that both England and Scotland will not meet as rivals. Their representatives will be handicapped side by side and their opponents will fall from the other side of the Atlantic."

This suggestion made by the British champion may prove to be the first step in a movement for such a match as the one he mentions. If it is well received on both sides of the Atlantic it should mean the inauguration of a great series of international contests.

Members of the Real Estate Board of New York will play to-day at the Oakland Golf Club. About seventy-five entries was on the field until dark, though morning and afternoon competitions have been arranged.

One more tribute to the popularity which golf has attained and the interest which is being taken now in the royal and ancient game was paid at New York last Saturday. In their annual frolic before the Yale-Brown football game the Whitefoots included Oummet in the list of celebrated persons whom they saw fit to burlesque.

HARDWICK MOVES TO END.

Storer Goes to Left Tackle and Hitchcock to Guard.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 11.—Coach Houghton of the Harvard team, figuring that his men are still too tender from the hard play in the Princeton game, did not kick them very hard this afternoon. The varsity was on the field until dark, though morning and afternoon competitions have been arranged.

In order to strengthen his left wing, which showed considerable weakness in the game at Princeton, Hitchcock was moved from center to guard, replacing Hovey. Storer went to left tackle, where he played for a time against the Tigers. Tack Hardwick was pulled out of the backfield and placed at right end, where he has been playing for two weeks, and Bradlee, who the coaches all along have wanted to see on the team, was put into the backfield with Mahan and Brickett. This puts five veterans on the rush line besides Trumbull, who should be able to play at center in the Yale game two weeks hence, but who probably will do little work before that.

Hardwick was used at end and a little later had his first touch with the ball when the ball was a natural all round man, and though he will need some coaching in down the field work he needs none on interference. His being at end, however, probably means that Mahan will be counted on to do most of the punting.

The second team drilled on Yale plays this afternoon, being coached by E. W. P. Brown, the Harvard man who watched the Yale-Brown game last Saturday and Thursday there will be scrimmages.

OUMMET CALLED BACKYARDER.

Hon. Allan Ravenscroft Causes Near Riot Before Unmaking.

BOSTON, Nov. 11.—There was almost a riot at the annual dinner of the Woodland Golf Club to-night when a member disguised as the Hon. Allan Ravenscroft, an Englishman, spoke disparagingly of the playing of Francis Oummet in the playoff for the national open championship.

The remarks were so derogatory that the entire graduate advisory committee consisting of Ross McClave, Phil King, Snake Ames, Hoff Herring and Barclay Spake were on hand to watch the practice.

The men lined up for the drill as usual. Lambertson took Shea's place at right end and showed lots of life. Eddie Hovey took the place of the drill and there was the same life and vigor in the men that was so evident last week. The line was charging heavily and it was shown clearly that they still were developing.

For fifty minutes the regulars were kept on the defensive against the team that had been drilled in the Yale plays. This scrum team came on the field in blue jerseys and some even had blue stockings. There were such strong men as it is Boland, Dolton, Hogg, Tibbot and Charles. Boland ran the Yale plays from quarterback and the varsity was drilled in the same manner.

The feature of this part was the sensational run of Lambertson, who was in the pigskin on a fumble and was off for a run of forty-five yards.

Ross McClave announced to-day that, though it was utterly out of the question to think of getting Shea in the game, as his ankle was broken last Saturday, the former end would be taken along with the team to New Haven and on any trip that the team might take afterward.

FOURTEEN TEAMS IN CROSS-COUNTRY.

According to an official announcement yesterday by Harry Fisher of Columbia, it is understood that this season's intercollegiate cross-country run, fourteen colleges have entered teams in the race. It will be held over the new Van Cortlandt Park grounds, November 22. Broome College, Columbia, City College, Cornell, Dartmouth, Harvard Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Michigan, Pennsylvania State, Princeton, Syracuse and Yale are the colleges which will be represented.

Green Pacer Sold for Record Price

GOSHEN, N. Y., Nov. 11.—Thistle Patcher, the fastest green pacer by Joe Patches, has been sold to R. C. Newton of Detroit, and will be trained and raced by W. L. Snow in 1914. Thistle Patcher is by Joe Patches, dam Sara Ann (dam of Star Patcher, 2:04 1/4; Sara Ann Patch, 2:06 1/4, etc.) by Thistle, 2:13. He is 5 years old and is said by horsemen to be not only one of the very fastest but the handsomest and best mannered pacer that has been seen in recent years. He was owned and trained by W. K. Dickerson of Goshen, and worked the Lexington, Ky., track this fall in 2:05 1/2, last fall in 1:51. The price paid was $7,500, the largest price for a green pacer in years.

ROADS MOSTLY GOOD GOING TO NEW HAVEN

Automobilists Will Find Fine Conditions for Trip on Saturday.

URGED TO ARRIVE EARLY

Congestion Getting Close to Field Is So Great That Warning Is Needed.

Those automobilists who want to get up to New Haven for the football game there next Saturday will find conditions on the highway good for the most part. To begin with the reconstructed Boston post road is good up to the Connecticut line. From Westport through Bridgeport, the A. C. A. Bureau of Traffic reports, the road is in fine condition. The detour going through Bridgeport no longer is necessary.

DISTINGUISHED OFFICER TO RIDE OWN JUMPERS

Col. Kenna, Decorated by Queen Victoria, Schools Horses for Coming Show.

Col. Paul Aloysius Kenna, V. C. D. S. O., was at the old riding school at West Fifty-sixth street yesterday pulling his brown mare, Harmony, and his grey "Cherie" over the jumps. The distinguished British officer, who was decorated with the Victoria Cross in 1888, will ride his own horses at the National Horse show. He said that Harmony had won $3,000 in prize money in Great Britain and he hoped to be successful with
