

SOCIETY OPENS STRENUOUS SEASON--GAYETY AT SOUTHERN RESORTS

summer in Easthampton, L. I., where she went about in society.

Miss Charles Steele's dance on Thanksgiving eve will be quite small. Such affairs go and her invitations have been limited to the young people who live in the neighborhood of Sun- dale Hall, Westbury, L. I., where the dance will be given for her youngest daughter, Miss Kathryn Steele, who is a debutante.

The announcement last week of Miss Helen Dinsmore Huntington's engage- ment to Vincent Astor was one of the great surprises of the season. Young Mr. Astor has been the subject of rumor, as far as engagements were concerned, so frequently that when some one stated in the spring that he would become engaged to Miss Hun- tington it was put down as only another rumor without foundation.

Miss Huntington is the elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Huntington and for the greater part of her life she has lived in Staatsburg, N. Y., on the Dinsmore place, which be- longed to her great-grandfather and which is close to Fernaliffe, Mr. Astor's country place in Rhinebeck, where he has passed much of his life. The Dinsmores, the Dinsmore country place, is one of the most extensive in that section and it is not out of the rail- road, as is the case with nearly all the other country places near by, but ex- tends to the banks of the Hudson. The elder Dinsmore lived for years on this place, which was left conjointly to his two sons, William B. Dinsmore, Jr., grandfather of Miss Huntington, and Clarence Gray Dinsmore, both dead, who alternated in their occupancy of the place. Later on, Mr. Huntington built a house for himself on the place, which is known as Hopeland House.

Miss Huntington is by no means a stranger to New York society, although she has lived so much in Staatsburg. When she was introduced two years ago there was no ball given, as was the case when her mother came out as a debu- tante. She sort of drifted into society, appearing at the prominent gather- ings of the last two winters and, like her contemporaries, keeping up all the requirements of social life. No plans have been made for the wedding, which in all probability will be celebrated in Staatsburg early next spring and be- yond doubt in St. Margaret's Church, where her mother was married in June of 1892, her wedding being one of the grandest of its day. It is quite likely that part of next summer will be passed by Mr. Astor and his bride at his villa, Beechwood, in Newport, which with the country place in Rhinebeck he inherited from his father, the late Col. John Jacob Astor.

An engagement recently announced was that of Miss Elizabeth Hare Powell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Hare Powell and William B. Fraser-Campbell of this city. Miss Powell, who was in- troduced to society three years ago, is prominent here and in Ardsley-on-Hud- son, where she passes a great deal of her time at her parents' country place. She was among the bridal attendants at the wedding on Wednesday last of Miss Kathryn Hone Auerbach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph S. Auerbach, and William Baylis, Jr.

Mr. Fraser-Campbell is a son of the late Evan J. Fraser-Campbell of Dunmore, Scotland, and of Mrs. Edna Arnold Fraser-Campbell of 414 West Twentieth street. He was graduated from Harvard in 1911. No date has been set for the wedding.

At the wedding of Miss Adelaide Downing, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry K. Downing, to Stuart Green of this city in Tarrytown on Wednesday last announcement was made of the engagement of Miss Marjorie Browning, sister of the bride, to George F. Dickin- son of Irvington-on-Hudson. Miss Browning was among the bridesmaids at the wedding, which was celebrated in St. Barnabas's Church. Afterward there was a reception at Gracemere, the coun- try place of Mr. and Mrs. Browning, and at a dinner given for the bridal party the engagement was made known.

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Katie Schermer- born, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. Egmont Schermerhorn, to John Mat- thews, son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Matthews of this city and Windham, N. Y. Miss Schermerhorn, who is a granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Amos Cotting, has made her home with her brothers, John Egmont Schermer- born and Amos Cotting Schermerhorn. The latter recently married Miss Georgia Williams. No date has been mentioned for the wedding.

Society is interested in the engage- ment announced recently of Mrs. Grace Fargo Chauncey to Harry Appleton Cur- tis of this city. Mrs. Chauncey is the widow of Daniel Chauncey, Jr., sev- eral years a member of the Meadow Brook and Rockaway Hunt clubs, who died in June, 1909, as a result of an accident he received while playing polo. Mrs. Chauncey makes her home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James F. Fargo, at 120 East Thirty-seventh street.

Mr. Curtis is the son of Mrs. Greely S. Curtis of Boston and is a member of one of the oldest families of that city. He was graduated from Harvard in 1906. The wedding, which will take place soon, will be celebrated very quietly.

Miss Margaret Seton Porter

Miss Hazel Carleton, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Bukk G. Carleton to Allen Tobey of this city. Miss Carleton will have Miss Kathleen Tuttle as her maid of honor and the other attendants will be the Misses Marion Shaw, Margaret Peters, Lillian Ulrich, Martha Birnie, Anna Bridgeman, Greta Woodward, Marion Stephens and Lucille Schultz.

Harold Tobey will be his brother's best man. The ushers chosen are Ed- ward Griffith, Arthur Thompson, Freder- ick Segerman, Dean Mathey, Gray Bryan, William Cartender and J. Allen Becholet. A reception will follow the wedding ceremony.

A wedding of interest to society here and in Boston will be that of Miss Susan E. G. Drake, daughter of Mrs. Benjamin Drake to Richard Sears of Boston in St. James's P. E. Church, Madison avenue and Seventy-first street at 4 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon. It will be celebrated quietly on account of mourning in the bride's family. The Rev. Dr. S. De Lanoy Townsend, rec- tor of All Angels' Church, will officiate.

The bride will have as her only at- tendant, Miss Carolina S. Boardman, daughter of Mrs. Lansdale Boardman, and Frank P. Sears will be his brother's best man. The ushers will be Lyman Tiffany Dyer, brother-in-law of the bride; Robert Payne, John Storer of Boston and Arthur, Herbert and Ron- ald Lyman, cousins of the bridegroom. There will be a small reception after the ceremony at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Lyman Tiffany Dyer, at 8 East Eighty-sixth street.

In Grace Methodist Episcopal Church in Brooklyn on Wednesday afternoon will be celebrated the wedding of Miss Grace Meurer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Meurer of that city, to Ira Rich- ards, Jr., of New York. Mrs. Marion Richards Coffin will be her sister's ma- tron of honor and the other attendants will include the Misses Mae Meurer and Anna Meurer, also sisters of the bride; Mrs. Henry A. Aiker, Mrs. J. Robinson, Duff of this city and the Misses Margaret R. Pratt and Mildred Zellhoefer of Brooklyn.

Jay Freeborn Carlisle will be the best man and the ushers will be Charles F. Sampson of this city, Alfred L. Norris of Cedarhurst, L. I., John E. Tweedy of North Attleboro, Mass., Eben B. Knowlton, William W. Fell and James F. Pines of Brooklyn. Immediately after the ceremony there will be a recep- tion at the home of the bride's par- ents, 266 Lincoln place.

The wedding of Miss Emily Anna Carlotta de Neufville, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. August de Neufville of Flushing, L. I., to Coleman Wynne of Mont- clair, N. J., will take place in the First Congregational Church in Flushing, L. I., on Saturday afternoon. The Rev. George Drew Eckert will officiate. The ceremony will be followed by a large reception at the home of the bride's parents.

Invitations have been sent out for the wedding of Miss Eleanor Hinton, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Post Hinton, to Delavan M. Baldwin in St. George's Church on the afternoon of November 25 at 4 o'clock. The cere- mony will be performed by the Rev. Karl Reland, rector of the church, and will be followed by a reception at the home of the bride's parents, 45 West Fifty-seventh street.

Plans have been completed for the wedding of Miss Effie Constance Za- briskie, daughter of Mrs. Cornelius I. Zabriskie of Hackensack, N. J., to Ray- mond W. Stephenson of this city. It will be celebrated in the Second Re- formed Church in Hackensack on Nov- ember 25.

Miss Zabriskie has chosen Miss Flo- rence St. John as her maid of honor, and the other attendants will be the Misses Margretta Homans of this city, Natalie Hector of Vicksburg, Miss; Lillian Rueckheim of Chicago and Lil- lian Dougherty of Hackensack. Miss Constance Zabriskie, a niece of the bride, will be the flower girl.

John Stephenson will be his brother's best man, and the ushers selected are Donald Bayne, Arthur Fletcher, Fred- erick C. Zabriskie and Raymond Claren- don.

Among the weddings of next month will be that of Miss Beatrice Cadwalader Jones, daughter of Mrs. Cadwalader Jones of 21 East Eleventh street, to Prof. Max Farrand of Yale University. It will take place in the chantry of Grace Church on December 17 and will be celebrated quietly on account of the serious illness of Mr. Farrand's mother.

For the benefit of St. Mary's Free Hospital for Crippled Children there will be held at the house of Mrs. J. Woodward Haven, 18 East Seventy- ninth street, on Tuesday afternoon a sale of millinery and fancy articles suitable for Christmas gifts under the auspices of St. Christopher's Guild, of which Mrs. William Warner Hopkin, Jr., is president. Mrs. Richard Irving is president of the hospital and assisting at the sale will be several women of society who are also interested in the charity. Tea will be served during the after- noon and there will be attractions for children. Among the patronesses are, Mmes. James Speyer, Lewis G. Morris, John E. Alexandre, Frederic Gallatin, Stuyvesant Fish, H. Rieman Duval, Miss Nannie Duval, the Misses Georgia and Malvina Appleton, Miss Charlotte Cram, Miss Mabel Gerry, Miss Elizabeth Keen, Mrs. Hamilton Fish Webster, Mrs. J. Hopkins Smith, Mrs. Bayard Smith, Miss Evelyn Witherbee, Miss Louise Munroe and Miss Muriel Win- throp.

Competitive dancing still continues as an attractive form of entertainment for society. This will be a feature of the dance arranged by young people prom- inent in society to be held in the ball- room at Sherry's on the night of Nov- ember 25 for the benefit of St. Am- brose's Mission, an Italian settlement for children at 236 East 111th street. Prizes will be awarded to those deemed most proficient in the modern steps by a committee of judges, and the award- ing will be done on a plan similar to that carried on at the Horse Show. Win-
