

THEFT AT UNION TRUST $60,000?

Accused Teller's Lawyer Tells of Heavier Plaza Branch Loss.

HE ADDS TO MYSTERY Says Woolsey Played "Foolish" Part in Betrayal of Company.

PUTS BLAME ON WHITE

Won't Tell Just How Teller Was Induced to Aid Pilfering Bookkeeper.

The loss to the Plaza branch of the Union Trust Company through the manipulations of the two clerks who were arrested on Saturday may amount to $60,000. That was the statement yesterday of Henry J. Goldsmith, attorney for Alonso M. Woolsey, after Woolsey and Joseph T. White, the two employees, had waived examination before Magistrate Ten Eyck in the Yorkville court on a charge of forgery in the third degree.

Goldsmith, who insists, as do the officials of the Plaza branch of the trust company, that Woolsey never received a dollar for making false entries in the books, talked rather freely about his client's part in the affair yesterday. He added somewhat to the mystery of the case by saying that Woolsey played a "foolish" part in the affair in permitting White, the general bookkeeper, to take the money.

The charges on which both men were held involves only one offence, yet Mr. Goldsmith says that the manipulations of the two employees has been going on since November, 1911.

Woolsey's Motive Not Explained.

What led Woolsey, if his assertion is true, to make the first false entry as receiving teller and then to continue to do so without getting any financial reward for his wrongdoing was not explained by any one. Mr. Goldsmith's only answer to that question was that Woolsey was "foolish."

Mr. Goldsmith's statement as to the amount of the theft does not agree with that of Joseph J. Cotton, Jr., of Spooner & Cotton, attorneys for the trust company, who said that the loss to the company amounts to only $10,000.

Goldsmith explained that the two men worked together in making false entries in the books. Judging from the explanation of the affair, it seems that Woolsey would make a wrong entry on a credit slip.

He would put down $20,000 as received and then by various bookkeeping devices the men would enter debits against that amount as cash was taken out of the bank for the use of White. The men did not take the whole amount at any one time, but carried away small sums of from $50 to $100 as the money seemed to be needed outside.

If Mr. Goldsmith received correct information from his client, the men made more than one false credit entry. Mr. Goldsmith's statement of the case may be reconciled with that of the lawyer for the trust company by a statement made on Saturday to the effect that while the men did make false entries of a large amount they did not take the money, but only part of it.

Lost $7,000 on One Race.

White is said to have been a spender and to have lost much of the money on horse races. Mr. Goldsmith explained that White wagered as high as $7,000 on a single race and lost.

When the two men were arraigned in court in the morning the affidavit of Ernest H. Cook, manager of the Plaza branch, was read.

It says that both confessed in the presence of officials of the bank that they made false entries in books of the branch. It charged Woolsey made a false entry on the receiving book and that White as bookkeeper made false entry in a book to the amount of $20,000.

Mr. Cotton was on hand to see that the men were held in what he considered a sufficient amount of bail. Both men waived examination and Magistrate Ten Eyck set the bail at $3,000 each. Mr. Goldsmith said he hoped to get that amount for his client.

Mrs. Woolsey did not appear in court with her husband. She did not return last night to her home, 1886 Morris avenue, the Bronx.

The mother of White is ill with pneumonia and a carbuncle at her home, 144 Prospect avenue, the Bronx. She is reported to be dying and nothing has been told her concerning the charge against her son. Samuel White, the father, reiterated his belief that the accusation against his son is not true, and that it will be disproved in time. White's mother has been asking repeatedly for him in the last two days.

POSTCARD SHOWER FOR GLYNN.

$50,000 Queens Residents May Back Send One This Week.

Gov. Glynn's request that residents of Queens who appeared before him last week urging him to appoint a man from Queens as Public Service Commissioner do not prepare a petition is to be reported only in part. At a meeting held yesterday in Jamaica, it was decided to ask every resident of Queens to write a postcard to the Governor.

It is estimated that there are about 100,000 persons in Queens who favor the proposition and the promoters would like to see the many postcards reach the Governor's office the next few days.

300 ON JAUNT WITH PASTOR.

The Rev. A. E. Kelgwin on Vacation With Parish Escort.

The Rev. A. Edwin Kelgwin, pastor of the West End Presbyterian Church, and 300 members of his flock are taking a short vacation in Washington. They left New York Saturday noon and will not be back until midnight Tuesday.

A few days ago Mr. Kelgwin mentioned to some of his parishioners that he thought he would get away from town for a few days and have a look at Washington. There were so many of his parishioners who wanted to go with him that Mr. Kelgwin got the surprise of the winter when a committee of his congregation called on him for permission for 300 to accompany him.

Arrangements were made for a special train both ways, and every room in the Metropolitan Hotel in Washington was engaged for their accommodation. Yesterday the tourists attended the New York Avenue Presbyterian Church in Washington at the invitation of Dr. Wallace Radcliffe, and President Wilson will receive them at the White House at 10 o'clock this morning. This afternoon they will see Mount Vernon and the evening will be spent at one of the Washington theatres.

Mr. Kelgwin was enthusiastic over the trip. There will be other church parties during the summer, and the congregation is already planning a more extended tour, which will include a visit to Bermuda. During Mr. Kelgwin's absence his place was taken by the Rev. John Hall. The church is at Amsterdam avenue and 105th street.

TOO MUCH TANGOING AT CAPITAL, SAYS KENYON

Senator Says That's the Reason Why Congress Lacks Vim.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 22.—Washington's gay social life—tango teas, dinners, receptions, theatre parties and the like—is held responsible for a flagrant lack of vim and action in Congress by United States Senator William Kenyon of Iowa, who spoke in the Fairhill Baptist Church here to-night.

"Aside from the need of more work and fewer social diversions on the part of some of our national legislators," Senator Kenyon said, "the business of the country should have more publicity. Committee meetings ought not to be held in secret."

"There should be no such thing in Washington as an executive session. The people's business has every right to be done in public. However, I am glad to say we are reaching that point very rapidly."

"Something more is required nowadays to be a Congressman than to wear a frock coat, a white tie and to send out garden seed. It takes courage and character, though some do not yet seem to realize that it does."

"If you want to test the courage of any Washington official ask him something about the liquor question. It's a dangerous question to cowardly politicians, but I can see the time not far off when it will be eliminated from politics. They talk about regulating it; why, you might just as well try to regulate burglary. It is the most corrupting influence the country has to deal with."

Senator Kenyon ended his address with an appeal for a new standard of success. To amass great wealth did not mean success. He said he would rather have in his family a bank robber than a man who would hold the wages of his girl employees to a pittance and then with sanctimonious graciousness give millions to charity.

TRINITY MAY BE EXEMPT.

Church Corporation Will Probably Escape Income Tax.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—It is probable that the income from the properties owned by Trinity Church Corporation in New York city will be exempted from the income tax.

Treasury Department officials have made no demand upon the managers of the properties for a return upon this income and at present have no intention of requiring such return.

It was learned to-night that Deputy Commissioner Speer in charge of the enforcement of the income tax act and other officials have had consultations recently upon the right of the Trinity properties to the exemption granted to religious organizations under section G of the law. The tentative decision which has been reached is that the exemption is allowable.

A final decision will not be announced, however, until an opinion has been handed down by Solicitor of Internal Revenue Johnson on the case of the Shaker religious sect, which owns extensive properties in Pennsylvania and in Maine.

BROTHER'S BLOOD SAVES MAN.

After Transfusion Giver of Life Fluid Attends Sister's Wedding.

Frank Gilmurray, 31 years old, of 555 West Fifty-third street, was taken to Bellevue Hospital on February 17 with an ulcer in his stomach. He lost so much blood on Saturday night that the physicians decided that an immediate operation was necessary, but that blood transfusion would be necessary first.

They sent for his brother John, 29 years old. John readily consented, so Dr. John Ray and T. F. Mead transfused about a quart from John's right arm into Frank's left arm. At 1:30 A. M. yesterday Dr. George Woolsey operated on Frank. He removed the ulcer in the stomach and found it necessary to remove about one-third of the stomach. Frank's condition was said to be serious yesterday, but he may pull through.

The transfusion of the blood of the two men, called up the hospital yesterday morning. She was very anxious about John's condition, for she said she was to be married last night and John was to be best man. She said she thought it was unlikely to see the happy party on the next day.

STORM DESTROYS 100 LOS ANGELES HOMES

Seven Lives Lost and Property Damage $4,500,000 in Southern California.

THE DECIES RETURN SAFE

Blizzard in Middle West Will Affect Country From Lakes to Gulf.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 22.—The storm which has been sweeping southern California for three days resulted in a loss of seven lives and property damage of $4,500,000. The rainfall was from ten to twelve inches and this flood was increased by high winds which made the water much more destructive.

City engineers estimate that Los Angeles suffered a damage loss of at least $1,500,000. One hundred and fifty thousand dollars represented the damage to city streets alone. The balance was made up of losses to railroads and to citizens whose homes were swept away with all their household effects.

Except in the vicinity of Pomona, where young groves suffered severely, orange growers reported little damage. Ranches and small farms in the lowlands were inundated.

The flood situation about Los Angeles became acute early on Friday night and conditions were greatly aggravated by a gale of from thirty-eight to fifty miles an hour.

Trolley Service Cut Off.

Weakened by the rush of waters poles and towers carrying power lines and telegraph and telephone wires went down and with railroad and suburban trolley lines already out of commission the result was that for nearly four hours there was no street car service and during the entire day the city had only brief periods of communication with the East. Surrounding towns with few exceptions remained without communication by wire, railroad or trolley.

Railroad officials said that the collapse of big bridges over the Los Angeles River in this city and the washing out of spans elsewhere made it uncertain when traffic could be resumed.

More than 100 homes were destroyed in Los Angeles by the torrents that rushed through the river and the Arroyo Seco. As the floods in these waterways subsided last night household goods and other property, including everything from stow pans to pianos and beds, were left stranded on sandbars.

After a big steel bridge over the river buckled and broke early yesterday the Southern Pacific and Santa Fe railroads sent cars loaded with scrap iron and heavy binders plunging into the flood in efforts to divert further inroads by the storm waters, which threatened railroad tracks skirting the river banks. The sweep of the floods was so strong that these barriers were turned aside.

Pigeon Farm Is Destroyed.

The Los Angeles pigeon farm on the edge of the river was swept away and hundreds of pigeons were drowned.

Pasadena suffered from a drinking water famine and the Orange Grove avenue district, populated almost exclusively by wealthy persons, had to get its supply of drinking water from two wagons sent out by the city after the big water main broke.

Three hundred railroad passengers on the Santa Fe were marooned at Summit in the San Bernardino Mountains and have been there for three days. All the provisions of the dining cars are exhausted and automobiles were sent out from San Bernardino to-night with supplies.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 22.—Throughout northern and central California rains have been heavy for three days, but most of the damage is confined to flooded ranches in the San Joaquin and Sacramento valleys. The railroads suffered severely, but they have been able to maintain regular trains.

Nearly all trains to southern California have been annulled because of washouts between Santa Barbara and Los Angeles.

Lord and Lady Decies have returned to San Francisco after being lost in the storm since last Thursday. They were on their way to Los Angeles, but had to turn back at Santa Barbara.

SNOW CONTINUES IN CHICAGO.

Trouble Expected To-day From the Blizzardlike Storm.

CHICAGO, Ill., Feb. 22.—A severe blizzardlike storm struck Chicago last night and there resulted a continual fall of snow ever since. As high winds prevailed, the streets became wind swept and snow scoured, with drifts from the three inch fall that made traffic impossible.

Because it was Sunday the street car companies were able to keep the regular Sunday traffic moving and had a force of snow sweepers cars at work all day.

During the night the mercury stood at about freezing, but morning brought a drop in temperature and to-night it registered about 10 degrees, with the wind increasing in velocity and the snowfall growing heavier.

Indications were that the fall would continue through the night and if that should be the case all kinds of transportation lines will have much trouble to-morrow.

Telegraphic communication with Los Angeles, San Diego and southern California points was still interrupted to-day, with the telegraph companies unable to promise when direct communication would be restored.

The trouble in southern California has not increased since Saturday morning, but the broken wires seem to be due to washouts and undermined poles which have been thrown down for miles at a time, taking with them all the wires of both the Postal and Western Union companies and of power companies which furnish power for telephone and telegraph circuits.

Reports to-night from the telegraph companies were that there were hazards around Omaha and Kansas City, but not severe enough to interfere greatly with telegraph service.

The storm swept the middle West, extending as far south as Arkansas and Tennessee, where there was heavy sleet, delaying trains and crippling telegraph and telephone service.

Despatches say that the storm is general in plenty of time for the wedding.

RAILROAD EARNS $12.01 GROSS.

Colorado Eastern's Report Shows That Everything Blew Down.

DENVER, Feb. 22.—The annual report of the Colorado Eastern Railroad Company for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1913, was made public to-day.

The passenger earnings for the year were only $1,500, a decrease of 63 per cent. from 1912. Freight earnings amounted to $10,215, as compared with $15,253 during the preceding year.

The company suffered heavy losses in other directions. During the year its machine shops, roundhouse, paint shops, repair departments and foundries were destroyed. A storm blew down the building which housed these departments, causing $600 loss.

The Colorado Eastern operates sixteen miles of track between Denver and Scranton. It runs one train a day, consisting of one engine and coach (its sole equipment) to protect its franchise rights, valued at $5,000,000. Its operating force consists of one man, who is engineer, fireman, conductor and trainman.

It is owned by the Havemeyers. The Rock Island system is said to be anxious to purchase it for the purpose of obtaining an entrance into Denver.

SURVIVORS FROM SHIP STARVING ON A ROCK

Eleven From Bark Mexico Marooned on Islet Off Irish Coast.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun.

LONDON, Feb. 22.—Eleven survivors of the Norwegian bark Mexico, from Mexico for Plymouth, which ran on the rocks off the coast of Wexford, Ireland, on Friday, have been on the rocky islet of Keerash since the afternoon of that day. They have been without food or water and have had no shelter except that afforded by a rough screen which they made of sails washed ashore. The wild seas which have prevailed have prevented the tugs and lifeboats in the vicinity from reaching the marooned men.

One lifeboat got within forty yards of the islet to-day and the men attempted in vain to throw a line to the islet. The lifeboat men say the survivors are all foreigners. They are unable to speak English and indicated the fact that they were hungry and thirsty by pointing to their mouths.

The lifeboat men and the tugs were compelled to withdraw from the scene at nightfall on account of the danger to their own craft, so the castaways must endure another night of suffering. It is feared that some of them will not survive the night. The rescuers will start out again at dawn.

The Mexico has been pounded to pieces and all signs of her have disappeared. There is no doubt that the entire crew (14 men) of one of the lifeboats which went to her assistance have been drowned. Another lifeboat was smashed against the side of the Mexico, but the crew clambered aboard the vessel.

It has been a terrible week all along the British coasts. Fierce westerly gales have prevailed and many wrecks are reported.

HEALS BROTHER BY PRAYER.

Girl Who Cured Himself in Same Way Starts Him Walking.

DELMAR, Del., Feb. 22.—Helen, the ten-year-old daughter of G. L. Hastings who professes to have been healed by prayer after she had been confined to her bed more than a month by an injury to her spine, offered up a prayer to-day for her afflicted brother Paul, aged 13, who was unable to walk because of hip disease.

After praying several minutes Helen told her brother to arise and walk. At that he would not try to do so, but finally he consented. The result was that he was able to get out of the bed and walk.

Physicians had said that neither Helen nor her brother would ever walk again.

BRYAN SEEKS BIRD TREATIES.

Great Britain First Approached to Protect Game Migrants.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—Secretary Bryan has instituted negotiations with Great Britain with a view to the protection of migratory game birds which pass between Canada and the United States.

He is acting under authority of a law of Congress. The proposed treaty applies also to birds that visit the British colonies in Central and South America.

It is understood that this treaty will be followed by others to be negotiated between the United States and France, Denmark and Holland, which have colonies in the Western Hemisphere, and also with the Latin American countries and possibly with still other countries of Europe or Asia.

The ultimate object is to bind the nations of the world to a plan of protecting migratory bird life. Mexico will probably be included when a government that can be recognized by this Government shall be established.

MARY'S LITTLE LAMB STEWED.

Two Bayonne Men Accused of Stealing and Cooking the Pet.

The mystery surrounding the theft and killing of a pet lamb owned by Mary Dracina, of 155 East Twenty-second street, Bayonne, was solved yesterday. William Laird of 157 West Twenty-first street and John Smith of 18 East Ninth street were charged with the theft and held in $500 bail for the Grand Jury by Recorder Mara.

Detectives Miller and Whitney were passing Laird's house when they detected the odor of cooking lamb. They arrested the Lamb and Smith, and in the rear of the Laird home, they say, they found the skin and remnants of Mary's little lamb. In the house, they reported, they found a nice lamb dinner about ready to be served. The lamb was a present to Mary from her father and was the pet of the neighborhood.

CONFESSES PERJURY AGAINST LEO FRANK

McKnight, Witness for State, Swears He Was in Plot to Hang Prisoner.

HE MAKES AN AFFIDAVIT

Accuses Attorney for Prosecution of Promising Reward for False Testimony.

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 22.—A sensational development in the case of Leo M. Frank, under sentence of death for the murder of fourteen-year-old Mary Phagan, came to-day when Albert McKnight, a negro who gave damaging evidence against Frank at the trial, made an affidavit that his evidence was false and that he had been used in "a plot to hang Frank."

Albert McKnight is the husband of Mineola McKnight, who cooked for the Frank family, and his testimony regarding Frank's conduct on the night after the murder of Mary Phagan told heavily against the defendant.

McKnight when on the stand said that he had seen Frank on the day of the murder; that Frank had come home from the factory about 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon, and had returned without eating anything; that Mineola, the witness's wife, had told of Frank's coming home drunk on the Saturday night of the crime, and of Frank's remark to Mrs. Frank that he was in trouble and that he "didn't know why he should murder a girl."

McKnight's Affidavit.

McKnight in his affidavit says that he was "induced to swear falsely by R. L. Craven, who was employed by Solicitor-General Dursey to get evidence against Frank. McKnight's affidavit is in part as follows:

"Deponent says that he did not see Mr. Frank at all on April 26 and that his evidence at the trial of Mr. Frank was the result of a plan perfected by R. L. Craven and others to collect the reward offered for the arrest and conviction of the murderer of Mary Phagan.

"Deponent says that he told R. L. Craven that he did not want to tell any lies on Mr. Frank, but Mr. Craven told him to go right ahead and do what he told him to do and that he would get the reward and he was weak enough to do as Mr. Craven told him to do.

"Deponent says that he is sorry for all the wrong he has done to Mr. Frank and that he wishes his true statement of facts placed in the hands of L. Z. Rosser to be used by him with the hope that the same can in some way undo the great wrong he was led to do by the white people he was working with at the store of Beck & Greig.

"Deponent again says that he did not see Leo M. Frank at any time or place on Saturday, April 26, 1913, and that he will so testify when called upon at any time."

Affidavit Volunteered.

McKnight furnished the affidavit to Capt. C. W. Burke, who is employed by Arnold and Rosser, attorneys for Frank. Capt. Burke says the negro came to him voluntarily and confessed that he perjured himself at the trial of Frank.

"Mr. Craven tried to make me think I would get part of the reward," McKnight said. "I didn't really believe that I would get any money, but I thought that Mr. Craven would be good to me if I said what he wanted me to say."

Mr. Craven, who procured McKnight's evidence for the State, says that McKnight is a liar. He declared that McKnight volunteered the damaging evidence against Frank.

WELLESLEY GIRLS FIGHT FIRE.

Higher Education Triumphs and Firemen Have Nothing to Do.

WELLESLEY, Mass., Feb. 22.—Much excitement was caused by a fire that started in the room of Miss Grace E. Leonard of West street and burned many of the girls' treasures before it was extinguished.

Miss Leonard was reclining before an open fire, studying a new method of making fudge, when a spark flew out and ignited her pink kimono. When the garment burst into flames Miss Leonard rushed to the bed and, rolling upon it, set the bedclothes afire, but saved her life and a part of the kimono. The two girls then seized the blazing bedclothes and hurled them from a window into the snow.

A passerby saw the fire and pulled an alarm, but the firemen had nothing to do when they arrived except to hear what had happened.

BRITISH STEAMER AGROUND.

The Schemer Is Stranded During a Southeast Gale.

NORFOLK, Va., Feb. 22.—Hard ground two miles southeast of Hog Island, the British steamer Schemer is stranded to-night by the revenue cutters Onondaga and Itasca and two tugs, I. J. Merritt and Superior. The steamer grounded about 4:30 o'clock this morning during heavy weather and a southeast gale.

The Onondaga was only forty-five miles away when the ship sent out calls for assistance and was the first to reach her. The Itasca was also near by. The tugs I. J. Merritt and Superior, en route to Norfolk from New York, also went to the scene.

The Onondaga and Itasca pulled on the stranded craft several hours, but were unable to float her. Another effort will be made at high tide to-morrow morning. The crew refused to leave the ship. The sea is moderating.

The Schemer is commanded by Capt. R. O. Evans and has a crew of thirty. She was bound to Norfolk from Boston to complete loading a general cargo for Liverpool. She is of 2,317 tons net and 5,242 tons gross.

VILLA EXPLAINS KILLING.

Cables to London Paper That Benton Tried to Shoot Him.

LONDON, Feb. 23.—The Daily Mail prints the following telegram: "CHIHUAHUA, Sunday.

"The English subject Benton was put to death because he went into my room and pulled out a revolver to kill me. When the time comes the trial will be open to give full satisfaction to the British people."

VILLA. By the word "trial" Gen. Villa apparently means the official report of the court-martial by which Benton is said to have been sentenced.

BULLETIGHT RILES AMERICANS.

Tourists in Panama Protest Against Usual Sunday Distraction.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun.

PANAMA, Feb. 22.—The brutality of a bulletight this afternoon brought out a protest from 200 Americans, mostly tourists, who were present at the second of a series of Sunday fights in the new amphitheatre built for that purpose. The bulls were tame and unwilling to fight. The toreros were Spanish.

10,000 MAY CAMP IN STREETS.

Householders of Montreal Plan Strike as Protest Against Rents.

MONTREAL, Feb. 22.—Ten thousand people will go out on strike and with their household goods camp on the streets of Montreal on May 1, 1915, unless the Legislature and the City Council do not before that date pass laws abolishing the yearly lease and moving day. This was the resolution adopted by the Tontine Benefit Society, made up of rebuts, at a meeting this afternoon to protest against the prevailing high rents. A Christian society will start soon, working on the same lines.

One of the speakers was emphatic in saying that Montreal rents were the highest on the continent of America without exception.

BRIGHT OUTLOOK IN THE WEST.

General Manager of Union Pacific Says Business Is Improving.

OMAHA, Neb., Feb. 22.—That business all over the West is improving is the opinion of General Manager Ware of the Union Pacific, who returned yesterday from a trip over the railroad system.

"Prospects for the future are fine and business is already improving all over the West. We are expecting a bigger business this spring than ever before."

"Heavy snows in the mountains have saturated the ground and provided sufficient moisture for the crops this spring. An optimistic sentiment prevails all over our system."

EARLE LANDS AT LA ROCHELLE.

Artist Who Kidnapped Son Back on French Territory.

LA ROCHELLE, Feb. 22.—Ferdinand Pinney Earle, who was sent back from Norway to France to be tried for the abduction of his son by his first wife, the Fishbacker, arrived here this afternoon aboard the Norwegian steamer Tolosa. His extradition papers were examined in the presence of the Norwegian Consul and found to be in due form.

The prisoner was transferred immediately to the local prison, where he will be kept until he is taken to Romorantin, near the scene of the kidnapping, where he will be brought before an examining magistrate.

Earle said the voyage was a rough one, but he did not suffer from seasickness. His unkempt appearance seemed to prove the contrary.

FINDS GIRL LOST A YEAR AGO.

Posse Recovers Catherine Winters, Aged 10, in Arkansas.

HUNTSVILLE, Ark., Feb. 22.—Catherine Winters, 10 years old, daughter of Dr. W. A. Winters of New Castle, Ind., who disappeared March 29 last and who has been the object of a nationwide search, has been found. The girl was found by a posse in the custody of George Stuart, aged 50, at 3 o'clock this morning, three miles northeast of Huntsville in the mountains.

Stuart admitted the identity of the girl at first, but later said that she was his daughter. He is in jail at Huntsville. Sheriff H. M. Shuster of Huntsville declares there is no doubt that the child is Catherine Winters.

The girl, according to the Sheriff, says her name is Catherine Winters and that she formerly lived in a town in Indiana, the name of which she cannot remember. She tells of a trip in an automobile and later a journey in a wagon.

SEA MYSTERY NEAR HATTERAS.
