

Motor Parkway Opens Next Saturday

L. I. MOTOR PARKWAY OPENS ON SATURDAY

Forty-five Miles of Private Roadway Through Island's Centre.

NO PHEAVAL IN CHALMERS

Factory Making No Changes in Personnel of Page Company's Employees.

The Long Island Motor Parkway has its formal opening for the season next Saturday. The road runs from Queens to Lake Ronkonkoma, a distance of forty-five miles, and at the eastern end is the Pitts Tractor Inn, which opens also at the same time. The parkway, which was the original idea of W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., was begun in 1907 and actually finished last May.

The particular feature about it is that it makes a roadway without speed traps or dust through the centre of Long Island. All grade crossings have been eliminated for the first thirty miles, including bridging of three railroad branches and two trolley lines. The curves have been banked so that they can be taken at any speed. The roadway is twenty-six feet wide and is fenced most of the way. More than 25,000 cars used the parkway in 1913. It is a testing ground for many automobile concerns. The Pitts Tractor Inn is a duplicate of the chateau of the same name near Paris, and is famous for its week end parties and private dinners and dances. The cost of the building, the construction of the building, garages and cottages was more than $100,000.

The taking over of the business of Carl M. Page Company by the Chalmers factory will mean no change in the personnel of the Page organization, as was told to the more than 150 employees of the former Chalmers distributors by Leo C. Conner, vice-president and general manager of the company, at a recent meeting. Mr. Conner expressed the idea that the Chalmers company was doing its best to make a change of ready increase and with the idea of making its position in New York more permanent and stable it had decided that a branch should be established.

Mr. Conner recognized first that New York is now the largest city in the world, said he. "There are thousands and thousands of people entering New York daily from all parts of the country. They regard New York as headquarters. They look to see all lines of goods largely exhibited and handled to best advantage in New York. They accept New York as the center of the world, and anything which is regarded as light in New York or that has a good sale in New York is good for all parts of the country and even for all parts of the world."

Mr. Conner recognized in addition that New York is the main distributing center for the entire Eastern territory. Our business in New England, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and the more southern Atlantic coast States has grown so tremendously in the past few years that we have felt the need of some central distributing point.

It is for these reasons that we decided that a Chalmers factory branch should be located in New York. We want to handle the retail and the wholesale divisions of our business and the service end directly. We believe that the New York distributing house should be in the closest proximity to the factory, a condition which is not possible except by direct factory control. While the Chalmers has always been one of the largest selling medium priced cars in New York, we have felt for some time that the opportunity was ripe to give the Chalmers car an even larger representation on the streets of our largest city. It is with the idea of handling up a larger retail business, of doing more intensive sales work, of handling distribution for the entire Eastern territory more directly, that we are establishing a factory branch.

Mr. Conner also addressed the meeting, expressing his feelings on retiring from the business. George Stone is to be manager of the Chalmers branch. He has been for some time associated with Mr. Page.

John Jordan, one of the veterans of the tire industry in New York, is retiring from the industry in New York. He was for seven years with the Diamond company and then for two years with the Century tire. For the past three months he has been working for the Firestone tire, who is manager of the Firestone New York branch.

An enclosed car of new design has been added to the regular line, making a total of twenty-one body styles for either the "23" or "24" six cylinder chassis. The new style is known as salon broadwheeler, with a wide type and carries four passengers.

PARRELL STILL LIKES TEAM

Stronger Than Cornell, He Says, Despite Saturday's Defeat.

NEW ARDEN, March 29.—That Michigan is stronger than Cornell, despite the result of last night's annual dual indoor football game, is the conviction of Trainer Steve Farrell of the latter. "We have by far the best team in the East," he said, "and we are better than for dual purposes, being composed of fairly good performers in all events, but excepting the half and mile runs has no men of exceptional caliber," he declares. Farrell, "notwithstanding several shootouts, including a 50-yard dash, has many men of championship caliber. We have by far the best team in the East, and we are better than for dual purposes, being composed of fairly good performers in all events, but excepting the half and mile runs has no men of exceptional caliber," he declares. Ralph Spotts Here of Day

LARCHMONT, March 29.—Sixteen men contested in ten matches at the Larchmont Yacht Club traps to-day and so many full scores were returned that it required several shootouts, including a 50-yard dash, to determine the winners. Ralph L. Spotts upheld his reputation by carrying off four of the prizes. His best gun score was 123 out of the possible 150. A. L. Burns being the runner up with 130. Seven men tied him in the shoot for the take home trophy, but he won it in the photo. Spotts also won the 16 and 15 bird games prizes.

GOULD AND HUHN TURN TABLES

Defeat English Pair Three Sets to One at Tennis.

TUNEDO PARK, March 29.—In an exhibition court tennis match in doubles at the Tunedo Tennis and Racquet Club today Jay Gould, champion of the world, with William T. Huhn of Philadelphia as partner won from George F. Covey, ex-champion, and the Hon. Neville S. Lytton, amateur champion of England, three sets to one. The scores were 2-6, 6-4, 6-4, 6-3.

Throughout the match Gould and Huhn outplayed the Englishmen at every stage. Gould's accuracy from all angles of the court was marvellous. He returned some seemingly impossible strokes and his shots for the grille were perfect.

The English pair won the toss and Covey and Lytton served first. The first game went to Gould and Huhn three times, but finally went to the Britishers. Gould won the second game with five shots to the corners before the Englishmen could get a point. Lytton and Covey won the next two games easily and the fifth went to the Americans. After some brilliant play on the part of the foreigners they forged ahead, taking the next three games and the set 6-2.

It was all America after the first set. The Englishmen didn't get a chance. Huhn playing some marvellous shots and Gould seeming invincible. The scores:

CREW PROSPECTS AT PRINCETON

Crew Coach Satisfied With Rowing Outlook.

PRINCETON, March 29.—Prospects for a good Princeton crew are exceedingly bright, though the backward season kept them off the water until Friday last. Six veterans from last year's eight that defeated Yale are in the boat. Of these Fyfe, who has rowed a powerful oar at No. 2 for the last two seasons, has been shifted to No. 6 to take Purdy's place. This gives the Tigers three finished and powerful sweeps in the last three places.

The most severe loss is that of Hunsel, who has had considerable experience and who pulled a finished stroke in the bow. His physical condition will not permit him to stand the strain and Dr. Spaeth has been compelled to place Winant there temporarily, though Jewett is pushing him hard for the place. Stewart has taken Fyfe's place at No. 3. McKibben, Quimby and Heffron are found in the waist of the boat, as last fall.

Dr. Spaeth gave out the following statement relative to the crew, "I am confident that we have the material this year for a crew of more than average strength. Of course, the likelihood of their equaling or surpassing the Princeton crews of the past will depend entirely upon their work after they get out on the water. Until they have had at least a few weeks on the lake I will not attempt any comparison with the crews of other colleges. They are also considering the advisability of staging a set of outdoor championships, but some of the delegates are against it owing to the difficulty of getting the men together in the present condition of the fields. Five contests will be played on Wednesday, two on Friday and ten on Saturday.

3 VETERANS LEFT IN SHELL

Butler, Garvin and Merrick of Penn Crew Remain.

PHILADELPHIA, March 29.—When the Pennsylvania varsity crew goes on the river to-morrow afternoon for the first time since its Saturday shakedown it will contain three veterans of the Penn crew at Poughkeepsie last June. Butler, No. 2; Garvin, No. 5, and Merrick, No. 6, are the trio of veterans who have not been unseated. They retain the same seats as last year.

One of the surprises of the past week's rowing at Pennsylvania was the placing of Chickering at stroke. He was bow man last year, but in the present crew he is at the stern position in the second varsity.

Coach Nickalls intends to have the varsity work hard in the new English shell all this week in order to get the men acclimated to the new conditions between varsity and the other crews will be started again next week.

Brooklyn Motorcyclist Plan

May 3 is the date set for the third annual spring run of the Inevitable Motorcyclist Club of Brooklyn. This year's run will cover a distance of 170 miles.

SCHOOLBOY ATHLETIC NOTES

The outlook is good for lacrosse at Stevens Institute of Technology this season. The early season practice on the large covered pier of the Holland-America steamship line has shown the team in excellent form and has developed some promising new material. The schedule opens with a game April 1 against the Hoboken lacrosse club at Hoboken.

The North Plainfield High School baseball schedule calls for twenty-five games. The season will open Saturday against the Hoboken club at Hoboken. The team will close against the Plainfield High School, also on its home diamond.

The annual basketball tournament is being held at the Erasmus Hall High School. On Thursday the 1A defeated the 2A by a score of 20 to 12. The 2A defeated the 3A by a score of 15 to 12. The 3A defeated the 4A by a score of 15 to 12.

Coach Pasternack is forming a splendid lacrosse team at Boys High School. One of the best players in the city is being trained by Manager Warshaw is the annual contest against Harvard. The game will be played against Harvard.

Several of the high schools held their first outdoor baseball practice last week. Eastern District varsity got out on Wednesday, while Erasmus held its first open air practice on Thursday. The boys showed up well under the circumstances.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Morris High School Athletic Association some of the vacant memberships were filled. The following were appointed: Sid Millbank, assistant manager; M. J. Wells, assistant baseball manager; J. Wells, assistant cross-country manager; H. Fleck, assistant cross-country manager.

A gym team has been organized in Boys High School. The team is being built up by practice in held every Friday in the school gymnasium. Stuyvesant is banking on a championship lacrosse team. The team is being built up by practice in held every Friday in the school gymnasium.

The loss of Francis X. Du Tremblay, who broke his collarbone while vaulting last week, has been a severe blow to the Poly Prep track team. Du Tremblay is an all around athlete and his loss is a serious one.

CROSS GETS "P" FOR FINE RECORD IN TANK

Princeton Will Continue Polley With Swimmers—Aquatic Notes and Gossip.

The athletic authorities of Princeton have awarded the variety letter to Eben Cross, captain of the swimming team, in recognition of his brilliant performance in creating a new curling record in 3 minutes 21 seconds and will hereafter bestow the valued emblem on all students who establish intercollegiate swimming standards. The swimming record of Princeton by the Tiger board marks a great leap in the history of college aquatics and indicates their growing importance. It is quite unusual to see even the most striking work in minor sports rewarded with the highest honor to which a varsity athlete aspires.

Paul Roberts of Yale, the intercollegiate 60 and 100 yard champion, will in future wear the Mercury Foot in open competition. He has joined the New York Athletic Club and it is his plan to train for the middle distances and take part in the outdoor district and national events next summer. There is promise of his doing well, too, for his quarter mile mark of 5 minutes 60 seconds, made in a 75 foot pool, stamps him a likely candidate for this title.

Perry McGillivray of the Illinois Athletic Club of Chicago is after another of C. M. Daniels's swimming records—13 minutes 50 3/4 seconds for 1,000 yards—and will attack it on April 2 in the home natatorium.

The Illinois watermen are practicing daily for the coming national championships and confidently expect to make a clean sweep of them. Nor is the confidence unwarranted. What with Perry McGillivray, Harry Heber, C. Rainhol and William Vosburg in the sprints and relay race, McGillivray and Heber in the middle distances, Heber and Max Mott in the back stroke swim, Michael McDermott and Robert Schermer in the breast stroke event, Konrad Wolfheid in the fancy dive and L. B. Reisman in the plunge the Chicago organization should win most of the contests and score heavily in all.

The Intercollegiate Swimming League will lose by graduation the pick of its watermen this year. Among those completing their terms are students Roberts, Mayer and Smith of Yale, Cross and Painter of Princeton and Querbacher of Pennsylvania. All conspicuous figures in the championship swimming of the past year, in fact, is the only title holder who will again be available next fall.

Princeton has selected the men who will go on a Western tour during the Easter vacation. The team consists of Cross, H. M. Hessebruck, R. R. Lester, A. N. Selby, J. L. D. Painter and W. H. Friessell. The first meet on the schedule is with Cincinnati University on April 11.

The officers of the Intercollegiate Swimming League have declared in favor of adding another team to the list of championship bidders and hope to secure the membership of Union College. They are also considering the advisability of staging a set of outdoor championships, but some of the delegates are against it owing to the difficulty of getting the men together in the present condition of the fields. Five contests will be played on Wednesday, two on Friday and ten on Saturday.

There will be no championship title at stake for the high school lines of the city this year. The principals voted to do away with championships in baseball, basketball and soccer early this month. The schedule for the year is as follows: The schedule for the year is as follows: The schedule for the year is as follows:

SCHOOL NINES START SEASON

Seventeen Games Will Keep Ball Tossers Busy This Week.

Scholastic baseball will start this week. Practice has been going on for several weeks past, but most of it was indoors. During the last few days, however, the candidates moved out into the open.

Seventeen games are scheduled for this week. All of the high and prep schools will not get into action, however, until next week. A few games were scheduled for last week, but were forced to be called off owing to the poor condition of the fields. Five contests will be played on Wednesday, two on Friday and ten on Saturday.

HALESITE SHOPS ARE BUSY

Several Big Tasks on Hand—Piel Having Auxiliary Ketch Built.

Walter Piel is having a twenty-five foot auxiliary ketch built by the Athlete's Wheeler company at Halesite. This firm also is building a twenty foot runabout for William Leavy of Brooklyn. These two boats are to be equipped with Scripps motors.

A thirty foot high speed runabout for Morton P. Plant, another of the shelter cabin type for August Heckscher and the rebuilding of the Restless II, are some of the tasks at this yard.

The Restless is to be changed into a high speed runabout. She will be equipped with two 40 horse power motors instead of the 32 cylinder power motor. Tom Cheungrow has tried to make work for two years. Several other small boats are being turned out at the Halesite shops.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Morris High School Athletic Association some of the vacant memberships were filled. The following were appointed: Sid Millbank, assistant manager; M. J.
