

JULIEN' SUNG AGAIN AT METROPOLITAN

Audience Large and Applause Shows Approval of Principals.

CARUSO IN TITLE ROLE

Miss Farrar in Part Suited to Her, and Mr. Gilly Good as High Priest.

The opera at the Metropolitan Opera House last evening was Gustave Charpentier's "Julien," which has been so far so good...

Mr. Caruso had already been found to praise the great artistic devotion which Mr. Caruso has brought to the interpretation of the title role.

It can therefore be no news to his admirers that he sang Julien last evening as if the opera were presented for the first time and its success were resting upon his shoulders.

NEW PLAN TO END ASH DUST.

Woman Offers Remedy by Mixing Garbage With Ashes.

Mrs. Flora Spiegelberg of 67 Riverside Drive, who is interested in the scientific handling of ashes and garbage, gave an illustrated lecture yesterday at the National Efficiency Exposition in Grand Central Palace.

She showed the danger and annoyance to the people of New York in the collection of ashes without protection from the street.

WEDDINGS.

Annals—Lyle.

HACKENBACK, N. J., April 8.—Miss Gertrude Gascoine Lyle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Lyle, and Richard Hart...

McLean—Cole.

Miss Faith Cole, daughter of Fremont Cole, a former speaker of the Assembly and at present general counsel to the American Tobacco Company, was married...

Notes of the Social World.

Mrs. George B. de Forest has returned to 14 West 57th street from a visit to her sister, Mrs. William Appleton de Forest.

Mr. and Mrs. David Wagstaff will go to Toledo the end of this month to remain for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. William E. S. Griswold will leave to-day for their country place in Westchester, Conn.

Miss Stacie will give the last of his addresses on French authors this morning in the assembly room of the Waldorf-Astoria.

Miss and Mrs. James G. Oxnard of Overbrook, Pa., will be at the Gotham for a few days.

Miss Lillian Thornton will sail for Europe to-day on the Kaiserin Augusta Victoria to remain for the summer.

Miss Clarence C. Rice gave a reception yesterday afternoon at her home, 81 Irving place, Mrs. W. Gordon Means and Miss Phyllis de Kay were at the tea table.

Miss Henry M. Johnson will give a luncheon at the Gotham on the afternoon of April 15.

Miss Robert C. Watson will give a reception at the Plaza on April 15 for Mrs. Nancy Watson, who is here from England for several weeks.

Miss W. Albert Pease, Jr., will give a luncheon at her home, 11 East Sixty-eighth street, on April 22. The guests will wear costumes and powdered wigs.

Miss Juliana Cutting will give two luncheons at the Plaza on the afternoons of April 15 and 22.

NEGROES DANCE TO AD NATIVE MUSIC

Fill Manhattan Casino and Hear Tunes by Colored Composers.

MR. AND MRS. CASTLE THERE

Applications for Boxes From More Than 100 Whites Had to Be Refused.

One can readily see why more than 2,500 persons, evening club negroes mostly, but with a good sprinkling of white men and women too, trooped to the farthest north, 14th street and Eighth avenue, to dance last night.

Mr. and Mrs. Castle, who are the proprietors of the Manhattan Casino, are the ones who are to be credited with the success of the affair.

The vaudeville programme that lasted from 8:30 o'clock until general dancing commenced at midnight brought forth Miss Abbie Mitchell, Smith and Burris, Frank and Joseph, Rhone, Leonard Jeter and Felix Wies, "Joy Jones," Laetitia, S. H. Dudley, the team of Criswell and Bailey and other negro singers, dancers and instrumentalists.

And what was of most moment to the promoters of the Tempo Club and the club's concert and dance, throughout the evening and far into the morning the National Negro Orchestra, under the leadership of Joseph T. Dabney, Joseph Jordan and Will Marion Cook were some of the better known negro composers who were active in arranging and conducting the affair.

Mr. and Mrs. Castle were among box holders that included E. J. Adams, Joseph W. Stern, Natalie Curtis, Mrs. Seaton Porter, W. Lee Gwynne, the broker; Mrs. R. W. Hawaworth, Mr. and Mrs. M. (Gumbel) Vance, E. E. Thompson, Harry Van Tassel and others.

Mr. and Mrs. Castle were greeted with cheers when they came down to the dance floor toward midnight to do their dances for the crowded casino.

The concert and dance assumed proportions so successful that the Tempo Club later on will be compelled to hold similar affairs, they say, in a hall even larger than the Manhattan Casino.

At a meeting of the committee conducting the campaign to raise $200,000 for the Lighthouse for the Blind at the home of Joseph H. Choate, 8 East Sixty-third street, yesterday afternoon Jonathan Thorne announced that one of his friends would give $25,000 anonymously if the debt on the Lighthouse in East Fifty-ninth street is wiped out.

Miss Winifred Holt, secretary of the Lighthouse Association, said the debt had been paid with funds received during the campaign, and added: "Please tell you very generous friend that he can now send us the $25,000."

Between $4,000 and $5,000 of the day's contributions were made by anonymous givers. Miss Holt has received $14,000 from persons who wanted their names withheld.

Mr. Choate proposed Dr. Lyman Abbott as a member of the fund committee. Dr. Abbott was unanimously elected, together with Seth Low, George F. Baker and Jonathan Thorne.

Plans are being matured for a "fete terchorienne" at the Hotel Astor on April 14. Several men who are to take part in the dance saw the moving pictures of the Hopi Indian snake dances at the Museum of Natural History yesterday in order to get points.

In New York Today.

National Arts Club, exhibition of work of Western painters.

National Efficiency Exposition, Grand Central Palace.

Society of Sanitary and Moral Propriety, discussion, "The Elimination of the Quack," 165 West Fortieth street, 8 P. M.

Federation of Association for Cripples, meeting, Y. W. C. A. headquarters, Lexington avenue and Fifty-second street, 8 P. M.

Medal of Honor Legion, meeting, Hotel Astor, 8 P. M.

American Surgical Association, meeting, Hotel Astor, 10 A. M.

Theatre Club, meeting, Hotel Astor, 10:30 A. M.

Swedish Chamber of Commerce, meeting, Hotel Astor, 8:15 P. M.

Fourth series of New York City Conferences on Probation, section on children, City Hall, 8 P. M.

Franklin and Marshall, dinner, Hotel McAlpin, 7:30 P. M.

Meeting of Newfoundlanders, Hotel Belmont, 8 P. M.

One of the last of his tribe.

GIVER TO ADD $25,000 TO FUND FOR BLIND

Aids Lighthouse Anonymously—$91,656 Collected—$300,000 Wanted.

SCARLET FEVER DEATH AT YALE

Student From Binghamton, N. Y., First Victim of Epidemic.

NEW HAVEN, April 8.—The first death in the scarlet fever epidemic that developed at Yale about a month ago came to the temporary isolation hospital with a member of the academic freshman class, died at the temporary isolation hospital.

The body was taken to-night to Binghamton, N. Y., where funeral services will be held at his home.

There have been about a dozen cases of scarlet fever in the university during the last six weeks, and these have been scattered through the four classes of the academic department.

Harold Pumpelly, the Yale football star, was among those sent to the temporary isolation hospital with the disease about three weeks ago, but instead of going there he left for his home in Owego, N. Y.

The disease is supposed to have been first contracted by the Yale men at the moving picture shows.

MRS. PENCE GETS DIVORCE.

Testimony That Husband Was Intoxicated With Proterose.

Supreme Court Justice Scudder in Brooklyn granted a divorce yesterday to Mrs. Catherine Pence of 314 West 140th street, following the testimony that her husband, Lafayette Pence, a lawyer, had taken a trip to Cuba and return with a young woman said to be his protegee.

It was alleged that Mr. Pence had taken Miss Duke as a young girl—she is now 26—and had educated her, later becoming infatuated.

It was decided that a payment of a lump sum of $15,000 should serve as a quitclaim to Miss Duke.

Engagements Announced.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Herbert Hayes of Covent, N. J., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Gladys Elizabeth Hayes, to Richard Mortimer Pence, formerly of Birmingham, Ala., now living in this city.

PAVLOWA IN NEW DANCE.

Will Give French Farce at Manhattan Next Week.

Pavlova's ballet novelty in her second week at the Manhattan Opera House will be "La Fille Mal Gardée," a dance drama in two acts, with music by the Frenchman Gerthel.

"The Daughter Hadly Chapman" is described as a French farce in the dance, "Paquita" is also to be done next week.

A number of novelties will be included. Monday night, "Giselle," in two acts, and divertissements.

Tuesday night, "Amarilla," preludes and divertissements.

Wednesday matinee, "La Fille Mal Gardée," in two acts and divertissements.

Wednesday night, "Oriente," invitation to the Dance, and divertissements.

Thursday night, "Paquita," "Haité de Cavalerie" and divertissements.

Friday night, "Giselle," in two acts, and divertissements.

Saturday matinee, "Amarilla," "Paquita" and divertissements.

Saturday night, special farewell request programme.

"PINAFORÉ" OPENS TO-NIGHT.

Spectacular Production Will Have First Performance at Hippodrome.

The spectacular production of Gilbert and Sullivan's "H. M. S. Pinafore" will have its initial performance at the Hippodrome to-night, owing to a severe attack of tonsillitis, Fay Tompkins will not be able to appear as Little Buttercup.

The cast for to-night will be: Sir Joseph Harrison Brodribank, Capt. Corcoran, William Hinshaw, Ralph Beckstrom, Vernon Dalhart, Dick Deadeye, Albert Hart, Roubens, Earl W. Marshall, Josephine Ruby, Cutter Savage, Buttercup Josephine Jacoby, Hebe, Elise Marryett.

The alternating cast will sing to-morrow afternoon.

CAVALIERI SAILS FOR FILM ACT.

To Travel 10,000 Miles to Get Local for "Mannon Lescaut."

Lina Cavalieri sailed yesterday by the French liner France with her husband, Lucien Muratore, and Daniel V. Arthur, managing director of the Players Film Company.

Mme. Cavalieri and her husband will make their debut as moving picture actors in Abbe Prevost's romance, "Mannon Lescaut," a playlet, "French as It Is Spoken," and Laurette Taylor and company will appear in a "one word play" there also will be Julian Eltinge, Stella Mayhew and Tom Lewis. Mae Murray and Clifton Webb, George Roban, Lew Dockstader, Barney Bernard, Howard and Howard and many others.

The stage children's fund will give a tango tea on April 18 at Ellinger Hall, 80 West 126th street, from 2 to 6 o'clock. Tickets at 25 cents each may be obtained from Mrs. J. E. Kennedy, 178 West Eighty-first street.

Edwin Wynn, who has been appearing in vaudeville in "The King's Jester," has been engaged by Flo Ziegfeld for his new "Follies."

DELANO RESIGNS AS AERO CLUB SECRETARY

Officials Say He Gave Too Much Time to Aviation Regiment.

Mortimer Delano of 164 West 129th street resigned as secretary of the Aero Club of America three weeks ago and his former stenographer, Miss M. E. Edgar, is acting secretary.

Officials of the club said last night that Mr. Delano had been giving too much of his time to the organization of the First Aviation Regiment of Volunteers, of which he is an officer.

"He would come to the club about 2 o'clock, and would work in connection with the aviation regiment until 6 o'clock. Then he would go home. The Aero Club's work was neglected. Then too, although many of us are members of the aviation regiment, we did not want to make it an official sub-organization of the club."

Mr. Delano said that as he got no salary as secretary he had decided to devote all his time to the aviation regiment after a talk with President Alan H. Hawley and Charles Jerome Edwards, a governor. He was at the Aero Club last night and denied that there is any ill feeling between the club officials and himself.

PLAN ROOF FOR AIRSHIPS.

Erectors of Societies Building Ask Aero Club's Advice.

The Societies Building, a twelve-story structure that will soon be erected on West Forty-ninth street, between 8th and 9th avenues, will probably have a landing place for aeroplanes on the roof.

Robert Estline, E. P. director of the League for Political Education and Civic Forum and secretary of the Economic Club, has asked the advice of the Aero Club of America, which hears of the errors of the Aero Club will probably recommend such a landing place at their meeting next Wednesday.

An aeronauts' exhibit will be held at the Seventy-first Regiment Armory, 23rd avenue and Thirty-fourth street, in connection with the spring festival, April 22, 23 and 24. Under the auspices of the League for Political Education, the Civic Forum and Economic Club, flights of model aeroplanes will be given daily.

The board of governors of the Aero Club awarded the American altitude record yesterday to Theodore G. Maudslayi, who reached the altitude of 12,139 feet at San Diego on February 25.

GERMAN STUDENTS AT BANQUET.

Dr. Kern Urges Recognition of Value of Teutonic Thought.

Dr. Albert J. W. Kern, president of the Society of Former German Students in America, speaking before the students in the lecture hall of the German Club, 111 East Fifty-eighth street yesterday afternoon, said that efforts should be made to secure more recognition in history books used in the schools of the influence of German thought and culture on this country.

The matter was referred to the society's executive committee, which will appoint a committee to carry out the suggestion by writing to authors of school histories of Franklin and Marshall colleges, Dr. W. E. B. DuBois, Prof. A. B. East of Cornell University and Dr. John W. Brennan, editor of the American Medical Journal.

BENTHAM, AUTHORITY ON PORCELAINS, DEAD

Once Employed by J. P. Morgan to Catalogue His Collection.

END CAME IN POVERTY

His Library of Books Printed by Morris Largest in the World.

George Bentham, artist and book collector, died at the age of 69 yesterday morning in the Fordham Home for incurables. He had been almost totally blind and partially paralyzed for several years and since July, 1911, had been an inmate of the home in The Bronx.

Mr. Bentham, who was a descendant of Jeremy Bentham, one of the great English authorities on jurisprudence, was famed for his knowledge of porcelains and for his collections of certain books. He was employed by the late J. P. Morgan to catalogue his collection of porcelains. He had a library that Mr. Morgan tried at one time to buy outright, but the artist was too devoted to it to sell it as a whole, though ill health and need of money compelled him to dispose of it bit by bit toward the end of his life.

Mr. Bentham had at one time the greatest collection of books printed in the United States. He was an authority on Edward Fitzgerald, who translated "Omar Khayyam." He bought a first edition of "Omar" for a few cents that he afterward sold for thousands of dollars.

Mr. Bentham was born in northern Ireland and after being educated as an artist came to this country. He went to Chicago where until ten years ago he devoted himself to painting, drawing for newspapers and magazine illustrating. He was an associate of many prominent writers and artists.

After he became ill he began to sell some of his books to sustain himself and pay his doctor's bills. Part of his library was sold at public auction several years ago. It did not provide enough money to take care of him and several friends contributed monthly to his support, though Mr. Bentham was kept under the impression that his books still were providing for him.

Funeral services will be held on Friday evening.

JOHN McNAMEE.

Builder of Sections of Subway in This Borough and Brooklyn.

John McNamee, formerly assistant chief engineer in the Department of Public Works in the city of Brooklyn and a member of a contracting firm which built the Centre street subway loop and the Fourth avenue subway of Brooklyn, died Tuesday night at his home, 237 Jefferson avenue, Brooklyn, of stomach trouble.

Mr. McNamee was born in the old Second ward of Brooklyn in 1842. In 1885 he formed a partnership with Edward Freed and five years later built a section of the Brooklyn water works. He also was the foundations for the elevated structures in Brooklyn. It was as a member of the firm of Cranford & McNamee, formed in 1903, that he had his first experience as a builder of subways.

Mr. McNamee was a member of the Society for Improving the Condition of the Poor and the Roman Catholic Orphan Asylum Society. For twenty-one consecutive years he has been a member of the Board of Education of the city of Brooklyn and of the greater city. He was president of the Eagle Warehouse and Storage Company and had interests in the Kings County Trust Company, the Brooklyn Trust Company, the Brovoost Savings Bank and the National Water Meter Company. He was a member of the Crescent Athletic Club.

Mr. McNamee is survived by his wife, Mary Burnett, daughter of William Burnett of Manhattan, and a daughter, Mrs. Raymond F. Sullivan.

MISS EDITH EATON.

Short Story Writer Known Under Pen Name of "Sin Sin Par."

MONTECAL, April 8.—Miss Edith Eaton, a writer of Chinese stories died here to-day. Her pen name was "Sin Sin Par." Her best known book is "Mrs. Spring Fragrance," which was formerly a typical story in a Montreal newspaper office before she started to write short stories.

Miss Eaton was a sister of Mrs. Bertam W. Hancock of New York city, who died under the name of "Otoyo Watanabe."

Elliot C. Lambert.

Elliot C. Lambert of Manchester, N. H., died yesterday morning at the home of his brother, Dr. Samuel W. Lambert of 120 East Thirty-fifth street. Mr. Lambert, who was succeeded in the mill of the American Manufacturing Company, was born in this city on May 9, 1849. He was graduated from Yale in 1871 and spent a year in the Williamsburgh Company. He entered the American mill, Mr. Lambert was a member of the New Hampshire State Legislature for the last two terms. He is survived by his wife.

Watson Whittlesley.

New Brunswick, N. J., April 8.—Watson Whittlesley, who last night in the Alder Sunatorium, San Francisco, after a stroke of apoplexy Sunday night, Mr. Whittlesley was the developer of Hyde Park on East Orange and Livingston Avenues, New Brunswick. He was born in Rochester fifty-four years ago. He was in California with his wife and his niece, Miss Irene Mason of New York, for Mrs. Whittlesley's health.

John D. Baldwin.

HACKENBACK, N. J., April 8.—John D. Baldwin, president of the Baldwin Lumber Company of Jersey City, died at his home here yesterday, aged 63. He was ex-president of the Central Field Club and was a trustee of the New Jersey State Bank. He is survived by a wife, a daughter and an son, Spencer D. Baldwin, who is a past exalted ruler of the local lodge of Elks.

Albert Sherwood Bierer.

SAY PHARMACY, April 8.—Albert Sherwood Bierer, the elder and only surviving son of the late Dr. Albert Bierer, died at his home, 231 Eastern avenue, Brooklyn, on Tuesday, April 7.

THE SEAGUERS.

Some Who Sail for England and Germany—Arrivals.

Sailing to-day by the White Star liner Baltic for Queenstown and Liverpool: J. Fred Arundel, Charles V. Gray, Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Preston, B. Atterbury, H. Brown, H. Courcy Hamilton, Fleming Crooks, J. Foster, Mr. and Mrs. S. K. M. and Mrs. J. G. Foster, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. T. Leggett, W. Galbreath, J. G. South, Mrs. J. W. and Mrs. B. G. W. and Mrs. William W. Gibson, D. R. V. West.

By the Hamburg-American liner Kaiserin Augusta Victoria for Cherbourg, Southampton and Hamburg: Mrs. A. Androva, Mrs. Richard McCreery, Mrs. J. W. and Mrs. B. G. W. and Mrs. William W. Gibson, D. R. V. West.

Arrivals by the North German Lloyd liner Kronprinz Wilhelm, from Bremen, Southampton and Cherbourg: Prof. Arthur H. Baxter, Prof. and Mrs. H. Gregory, Mrs. J. P. Howell, Walter Gow, Max Lippitt, Sir Derrick Werner, Will Page.

By the United Fruit steamship Almirante for the Caribbean: Edwin Elliot, Col. and Mrs. Shelton, Mr. William H. John, Mr. and Mrs. S. C. and Mrs. Richard, Col. and Mrs. R. D. Clark, Charles Sutton.

BENTHAM, AUTHORITY ON PORCELAINS, DEAD

Once Employed by J. P. Morgan to Catalogue His Collection.

END CAME IN POVERTY

His Library of Books Printed by Morris Largest in the World.

George Bentham, artist and book collector, died at the age of 69 yesterday morning in the Fordham Home for incurables. He had been almost totally blind and partially paralyzed for several years and since July, 1911, had been an inmate of the home in The Bronx.

Mr. Bentham, who was a descendant of Jeremy Bentham, one of the great English authorities on jurisprudence, was famed for his knowledge of porcelains and for his collections of certain books. He was employed by the late J. P. Morgan to catalogue his collection of porcelains. He had a library that Mr. Morgan tried at one time to buy outright, but the artist was too devoted to it to sell it as a whole, though ill health and need of money compelled him to dispose of it bit by bit toward the end of his life.

Mr. Bentham had at one time the greatest collection of books printed in the United States. He was an authority on Edward Fitzgerald, who translated "Omar Khayyam." He bought a first edition of "Omar" for a few cents that he afterward sold for thousands of dollars.

Mr. Bentham was born in northern Ireland and after being educated as an artist came to this country. He went to Chicago where until ten years ago he devoted himself to painting, drawing for newspapers and magazine illustrating. He was an associate of many prominent writers and artists.

After he became ill he began to sell some of his books to sustain himself and pay his doctor's bills. Part of his library was sold at public auction several years ago. It did not provide enough money to take care of him and several friends contributed monthly to his support, though Mr. Bentham was kept under the impression that his books still were providing for him.

Funeral services will be held on Friday evening.

JOHN McNAMEE.

Builder of Sections of Subway in This Borough and Brooklyn.

John McNamee, formerly assistant chief engineer in the Department of Public Works in the city of Brooklyn and a member of a contracting firm which built the Centre street subway loop and the Fourth avenue subway of Brooklyn, died Tuesday night at his home, 237 Jefferson avenue, Brooklyn, of stomach trouble.

Mr. McNamee was born in the old Second ward of Brooklyn in 1842. In 1885 he formed a partnership with Edward Freed and five years later built a section of the Brooklyn water works. He also was the foundations for the elevated structures in Brooklyn. It was as a member of the firm of Cranford & McNamee, formed in 1903, that he had his first experience as a builder of subways.

Mr. McNamee was a member of the Society for Improving the Condition of the Poor and the Roman Catholic Orphan Asylum Society. For twenty-one consecutive years he has been a member of the Board of Education of the city of Brooklyn and of the greater city. He was president of the Eagle Warehouse and Storage Company and had interests in the Kings County Trust Company, the Brooklyn Trust Company, the Brovoost Savings Bank and the National Water Meter Company. He was a member of the Crescent Athletic Club.

Mr. McNamee is survived by his wife, Mary Burnett, daughter of William Burnett of Manhattan, and a daughter, Mrs. Raymond F. Sullivan.

MISS EDITH EATON.

Short Story Writer Known Under Pen Name of "Sin Sin Par."

MONTECAL, April 8.—Miss Edith Eaton, a writer of Chinese stories died here to-day. Her pen name was "Sin Sin Par." Her best known book is "Mrs. Spring Fragrance," which was formerly a typical story in a Montreal newspaper office before she started to write short stories.

Miss Eaton was a sister of Mrs. Bertam W. Hancock of New York city, who died under the name of "Otoyo Watanabe."

Elliot C. Lambert.

Elliot C. Lambert of Manchester, N. H., died yesterday morning at the home of his brother, Dr. Samuel W. Lambert of 120 East Thirty-fifth street. Mr. Lambert, who was succeeded in the mill of the American Manufacturing Company, was born in this city on May 9, 1849. He was graduated from Yale in 1871 and spent a year in the Williamsburgh Company. He entered the American mill, Mr. Lambert was a member of the New Hampshire State Legislature for the last two terms. He is survived by his wife.

Watson Whittlesley.

New Brunswick, N. J., April 8.—Watson Whittlesley, who last night in the Alder Sunatorium, San Francisco, after a stroke of apoplexy Sunday night, Mr. Whittlesley was the developer of Hyde Park on East Orange and Livingston Avenues, New Brunswick. He was born in Rochester fifty-four years ago. He was in California with his wife and his niece, Miss Irene Mason of New York, for Mrs. Whittlesley's health.

John D. Baldwin.

HACKENBACK, N. J., April 8.—John D. Baldwin, president of the Baldwin Lumber Company of Jersey City, died at his home here yesterday, aged 63. He was ex-president of the Central Field Club and was a trustee of the New Jersey State Bank. He is survived by a wife, a daughter and an son, Spencer D. Baldwin, who is a past exalted ruler of the local lodge of Elks.

Albert Sherwood Bierer.

SAY PHARMACY, April 8.—Albert Sherwood Bierer, the elder and only surviving son of the late Dr. Albert Bierer, died at his home, 231 Eastern avenue, Brooklyn, on Tuesday, April 7.

THE SEAGUERS.

Some Who Sail for England and Germany—Arrivals.

Sailing to-day by the White Star liner Baltic for Queenstown and Liverpool: J. Fred Arundel, Charles V. Gray, Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Preston, B. Atterbury, H. Brown, H. Courcy Hamilton, Fleming Crooks, J. Foster, Mr. and Mrs. S. K. M. and Mrs. J. G. Foster, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. T. Leggett, W. Galbreath, J. G. South, Mrs. J. W. and Mrs. B. G. W. and Mrs. William W. Gibson, D. R. V. West.