

MILITANT INVADES BRITISH MUSEUM

Weeks Ten Showcases in the Asiatic Saloon With a Hatchet.

PLAN WHOLESALE ARRESTS

Wives of Leading Belfast Merchants May Be Caught in Trap.

Special Cable Despatches to The Sun. LONDON, April 9.—A militant suffragette invaded the Asiatic saloon of the British Museum this afternoon and smashed ten show cases with a hatchet.

As the crash of the first blow resounded through the hall attendants rushed to the woman, overpowered her, dragged her to the street and turned her over to a policeman.

It is said that it may be impossible to replace some of the destroyed exhibits.

The suffragette when taken to a police station refused to give her name. There are 100 cases of Oriental objects in the Asiatic saloon. They consist chiefly of Chinese and Japanese pottery and porcelain, Chinese and Japanese bronzes, carvings in jade and ivory, lacquer and tortoise shell work, and articles from Annam and Borneo.

There is also a collection from eastern Turkestan, including decorative architectural fragments, heads of statues, terra cotta statues and many documents inscribed on wood or leather.

The entrance is a very valuable Sevres vase, painted by Taxil's Donk in 1855.

BELFAST, April 9.—It is said that the Irish Attorney-General has been asked to consent to the prosecution of a number of women connected with the families of leading merchants and professional men who are actively engaged in militant suffragism.

In the event of the Attorney-General's consent being given warrants on a wholesale scale will be issued.

Olando, an old country mansion near Carrickfergus, was destroyed to-day by fire. Suffragette literature was found on the premises. Only caretakers were in the mansion at the time.

The outrage is believed to be another act of suffragette retaliation against Sir Edward Carson, the Ulster leader, who recently refused to promise that he would support women's suffrage.

KING ALFONSO IS NO WAITER

Drops Dish of Oranges While Serving the Poor of Madrid.

Special Cable Despatches to The Sun. MADRID, April 9.—In accordance with the custom of Catholic countries, King Alfonso and Queen Victoria took part to-day in the ceremony of washing the feet of twelve poor people.

The King and Queen then led two of the poor persons by the hand to a banquet, grandees of Spain leading the others. Members of the royal family acted as waiters. They all performed their duties well with the exception of King Alfonso, who dropped a dish of oranges amid a group of members of the Diplomatic Corps.

Maundy Thursday was observed yesterday in the courts of Austria, Spain and Havana and a ceremony which is a modification of the washing of the feet of the poor was performed in Westminster Abbey.

The actual ceremony of washing the feet of poor persons was followed in England before the reformation and even afterward by James II, but he was the last to perform it.

In Westminster Abbey a special service is held on Maundy Thursday, and forty-nine women—the number chosen according to the age of the King—receive dishes of money amounting to about $29 each.

TWO OF T. R.'S PARTY AT MANAOS

Braslian Gunboat Searches for Col. Roosevelt on Aripuanã River.

Special Cable Despatches to The Sun. BUENOS AYRES, April 9.—A cable message received here from Manaus to-day says that the Brazilian river gunboat Ciudad de Manaus arrived at Manaus with two members of the Roosevelt party.

The gunboat searched the Aripuanã River, but found no trace of Col. Roosevelt. The crew are all suffering from fever and their supplies were exhausted.

Leo C. Miller of the American Museum of Natural History and Capt. Amilcar de Magalhães, both members of the exploring party, were brought to Manaus. Mr. Miller said he saw Col. Roosevelt last on the Duvida River on February 27 and that he might be expected to reach Manaus at the end of the month.

Mr. Miller and Capt. Magalhães went down the Giparano River to the Madeira River, a tributary of the Amazon. One officer of the Ciudad de Manaus was left on the watch for the explorers in the region which they are expected to traverse on their way back to civilization.

There are rumors in Rio de Janeiro and here that the Roosevelt party has met with a mishap.

In view of the latest advices from Manaus regarding the exploring and hunting party of Col. Theodore Roosevelt there was a disposition here yesterday to believe that the rumors in Rio de Janeiro and Buenos Ayres are the result of incomplete information. The Colonel, it is said, expects to sail for Europe on May 12.

MAILS LEFT AT QUEENSTOWN

Olympic Kept Out by Gale 1,052 Bags Going to Liverpool.

Special Cable Despatches to The Sun. QUEENSTOWN, April 9.—The American mails were again left here to-day, when the tenders were unable, owing to the gale and high seas, to get alongside the Olympic, outside of the harbor. The liner sailed without them. The 1,052 mail bags left behind will probably be sent to Liverpool to catch the Lusitania.

POPE'S EASTER COMMUNION. Pontiff Celebrates Mass in Vatican Chapel First Time Since Illness.

Special Cable Despatches to The Sun. ROME, April 9.—For the first time since his recent illness Pope Pius, besides celebrating mass in the private chapel of the Vatican, gave Easter communion to-day to more than 100 members of the papal court.

HARUKO WIDOW OF JAPAN'S GREAT EMPEROR, DIES AT 64

Dowager Empress, Called a "Womanly Woman," Succumbs to Long Illness.

TOKYO, April 9.—The Dowager Empress Haruko died early this morning. The end came at the imperial villa at Namazu, a watering place not far from Yokohama. She was 64 years old.

Empress Yoshihito and the Empress, who with the other members of the royal family had been summoned from the capital, were with the Dowager Empress when the heart attack from which she did not rally, came. She had been a sufferer from anæmia pectoris, but the official diagnosis was that death resulted from Bright's disease.

After praying for an hour at the bedside of the dead dowager the Emperor and Empress returned to Tokio. All the theatres have been closed and all official entertainments cancelled. It is probable that the Emperor's coronation, which was to have taken place on November 10, will be postponed.

The death of the Dowager Empress has halted activities connected with the present Ministerial election, which with the Cabinet has not been formed.

Saw Modernization of Japan.

The Dowager Empress Haruko was born at Kio in 1850. She was the daughter of a nobleman, Ichijo Tadato. She married the late Emperor Mutsuhito on February 9, 1869 and was declared Empress.

During her lifetime the Dowager Empress had seen Japan pass through its great period of transformation and take its place among the great world powers. She witnessed the exciting events of the early part of Mutsuhito's reign, saw him transfer his capital from Kio, her birthplace, to Yeddo, later renamed Tokio, and watched with interest the opening of her country to foreign commerce.

The Emperor Mutsuhito died in July, 1912, so the Dowager Empress was in the imperial palace as a sharer of his throne when Japan fought first with China and then with Russia, and established its rank among the "great powers."

She has often been described as a "womanly woman." She was very simple in her tastes, but she presided over her court with great dignity. On most occasions, especially if she was to meet Americans or Europeans, she wore Western dress, but if the function was peculiarly Japanese she wore the picturesque costume of the old days.

In all things except dress she was entirely Oriental. She had her people's love of tradition and great dignity. Her deep devotion to her country.

Emperor Not Her Son.

In spite of the Emperor Mutsuhito's devotion to her position was a difficult one, since she was not the mother of his heir. The great sadness of her life was that she had no children. As soon as she knew that there was no chance of her bearing a heir to the throne she adopted as her own the child of one of the Mikado's secondary wives.

Her interest in charitable work made her greatly beloved. She was especially interested in anything that had to do with the poor.

500,000 WORDS IN BOOK BY BRITISH LABORER

"Ragged Trousered Philanthropists" Reached Publisher by Roundabout Route.

Special Cable Despatches to The Sun. LONDON, April 9.—Further details concerning "The Ragged Trousered Philanthropists" written by a builder's laborer, which is to be published shortly by Grant Richards, were given out to-day.

The author, who died recently, was Robert Tressal. He spent five years writing the book, the manuscript of which contains 500,000 words, devoted to an arraignment of capitalism. After his death the manuscript fell into the hands of his daughter, who was employed as a nurse in a private family. She showed it to her mistress, who was struck by the intense realism of the book and showed it to Miss Jessie Pope, a well known contributor to Punch, who in turn passed it on to Grant Richards.

"I confess," said Mr. Richards, "that I delayed reading the manuscript. Its length rather frightened me, but after I had tackled it I was amazed and delighted."

Tressal was a man of little education in the conventional acceptance of the word and evidently had no clearly defined intention of writing the book for publication.

A SCANDINAVIAN ALLIANCE?

It All Depends on an Anglo-German Understanding, It Is Said.

Special Cable Despatches to The Sun. LONDON, April 10.—The Daily Telegraph's Copenhagen correspondent telegraphs this morning quoting Sigurd Ibsen, son of the famous dramatist and formerly Danish Secretary of State, as saying that while an alliance between Norway and Sweden is probable, the two countries contend that an alliance of the three, including Denmark, is possible only if an understanding between Germany and England is reached.

"I know," Mr. Ibsen is reported to have added, "that there is much sympathy in Germany for this plan. The Kaiser, during his last visit to Norway, favored such an alliance in connection with an Anglo-German entente."

Aids to Replace Farrar.

Owing to the indisposition of Geraldine Farrar the title role in "Manon" will be sung to-night at the Metropolitan Opera House by Frances Alda.

An Easter Gift of New Life to a suffering man, woman or child is within your power by providing $10, which will pay for a week of free hospital treatment.

This appeal is not for one, but for 3,500 free patients daily. Decreased contributions and increased necessity for free treatment make the situation serious.

THE HOSPITAL ASSOCIATION, 100 N. 5th St., Philadelphia, Pa.

ROBERT OLIPHANT, President, CHARLES NIELSEN, Treas., Room 5, 20 Cedar St.

THE DOWAGER EMPRESS OF JAPAN.

with benefiting the children of her subjects and she practiced many small economies in order to be able to contribute more largely from her own purse to certain charities that interested her.

It is related of her that when Prince Iwakura, a fearless leader during days most critical for Japan, lay dying the Empress announced her intention of visiting him. The Prince wrote begging her not to do so as his illness would prevent him from acknowledging her visit with even a sixteenth part of the homage it demanded. In reply the Empress wrote:

"I come not as your Empress, but as the daughter of your fond well wisher and confidant and as your own anxious friend."

She remained at the bedside of the Prince until he died.

Her Cherry Blossom Parties.

The Dowager Empress was a charming hostess, and the most remembered of her entertainments are the cherry blossom garden parties which she gave every year. The invitations were sent out as soon as the trees were in bloom and on the appointed day all the great ones of the capital, with their wives and daughters, gathered in one of the imperial gardens and awaited near the entrance the arrival of their hostess.

A writer who was present at one of the fetes given ten years ago thus described the entrance of the imperial party:

"A little dark haired lady led the way. Her figure is slender and youthful, her carriage graceful, her face that of middle age. Her gown is of violet, the imperial color, brocaded with crysanthemums, the royal flower. It is the Empress in her garden among her flowers."

OPERATION ON SWEDISH KING IS SUCCESSFUL

Uleer Removed From Monarch's Stomach—Patient Is Resting Easily.

Special Cable Despatches to The Sun. STOCKHOLM, April 9.—An operation for stomach trouble was performed early to-day on King Gustav at the Sophia Hospital. It was pronounced a success, although four or five weeks will be necessary for the monarch's convalescence.

The King's physicians declare that the operation was for an ulcer of the stomach. The newspaper Afton-Bladet, however, asserts that the monarch is suffering from cancer. The contract for the report the royal physicians issued the following bulletin this afternoon:

"His Majesty submitted to an operation at 10 o'clock this morning. It lasted forty-five minutes. An ulcer of a more or less superficial nature was found near the lower outlet of the stomach, which had caused surrounding organs to become somewhat inflamed. There were no indications of a malignant growth or cell changes. A new opening was made between the stomach and intestines. The King recovered well from the influence of the anæsthetic."

A bulletin issued this evening said that King Gustav slept several hours and then experienced the usual discomforts following an operation. His temperature was 99.9 and his condition was said to be as satisfactory as possible.

Prof. Bork and Akerman performed the operation, which was what is known as gastro-enterostomy. Prof. Fleiner, who acted as anæsthetist, said the operation was undoubtedly necessary. He left for Heidelberg to-night.

GERMAN MINERS TO YORKSHIRE?

Report 4,000 Will Be Imported—National Strike Predicted.

Special Cable Despatches to The Sun. LONDON, April 10.—The Daily Sketch says that 4,000 German miners are to be imported to Yorkshire for the coming week end as strike breakers. The newspaper says this will set the British miners aflame and lead to a national strike.

The strike involving the London building and allied trades, which has been going on for the past three weeks, has spread to men employed at Government buildings.

As a consequence the customary Easter decoration of Buckingham Palace, the House of Parliament, the Government offices, the law courts and other public buildings cannot be affected.

AMMUNITION WAS SEIZED.

10,000 Rounds Taken at Kingstown Said to Have Come From U. S.

Special Cable Despatches to The Sun. DUBLIN, April 9.—The seizure of 10,000 rounds of ammunition destined for the south of Ireland on the steamer Anglia at Kingstown yesterday is confirmed.

It consisted of sporting ammunition and is alleged to have been manufactured in the United States. The names of the consignor or consignee cannot be learned. The customs officials are reticent about the affair.

Tombs Inmates May Smoke. An order prohibiting smoking in the Tombs prison was rescinded yesterday by the Commissioner of Correction, Miss Mathews. Inmates are permitted to smoke after each meal if they wish to, but it must be pipe or cigar, not cigarettes.

STYLE! WELL HERE'S WHERE THEY GET IT!

250,000 Persons on Way to New York to Peek at Easter Fashions.

JUST WATCH CANADA

20,000 From the Dominion Will Copy Our New Dance Wigs and Clothes.

By next Tuesday, at the latest, Montreal and Quebec and Ottawa and about every other Canadian city of importance will have all the latest dance styles, all the up to date styles, including the new bustle thingamajig, and will be free for a year from the suggestion that they are merely way stations in the tail grass.

Why? Because 20,000 Canadians, who are on their way to New York as fashion and fun scouts for their native land, will have returned with their spoils by Tuesday, spoils which will consist of ideas as well as trinkets of pretty things from the States. Every year there is a Canadian invasion at Easter and this year more folk are coming from the Dominion than ever before.

Fifteen special trains will arrive to-day over the New York Central from Montreal, Ottawa, Quebec, Toronto and other cities. They will bring 20,000 Canadians, who believe that New York is the finest place in the world in which to spend a holiday.

The first train will arrive at 7 A. M. from Montreal and the other specials will arrive at half hourly or hourly intervals. Five of them come from Toronto, the others from Montreal, with passengers from many cities abroad. Most of them are solid Pullman trains, for the Canadians like to travel in comfort and style and they bring considerable money to spend.

Extra Cars Put On. Besides the 3,000 on the specials thousands will arrive on the regular trains. The New York Central has added six sections to its regular train service in order to accommodate the immense Easter traffic from the north.

At the office of General Passenger Agent Vosburg, it was estimated yesterday that at least 20,000 Canadians will spend Easter here and that they will leave pretty close to the regular trains, which will take part in the Easter parade in Fifth avenue next Sunday.

Easter week is a popular holiday time in Canada and many of the specials will be coming to New York for as much of the week as they can spare. A considerable part of the visitors will be made up of dressmakers and milliners, who will take part in the Easter parade in Fifth avenue next Sunday.

Along the avenue they will get their ideas for the newest and finest styles in dresses and hats and will take them home, imperturbably taking notes of the fine points of gowns and hats as the crowds drift up and down between Twenty-third street and Fifty-ninth street.

Many of the dancing teachers are coming from all of the big Canadian cities. They will spend most of their time acquiring the latest steps in the hesitation, the swing and the shimmy, and the tango. Hundreds of the coming crowd are school teachers. They like to do their spring shopping in New York.

Road Ready for Rush.

To-day and to-morrow will be rush days at the Grand Central station, but the road is preparing to handle extra traffic without disturbing the schedule of regular trains. On Sunday night and on Monday the thousands will be going home prepared to astonish all Canada with the latest fashions in fripperies and fun.

Hotels and restaurants are preparing to welcome the throngs. At the Waldorf 400 reservations have been made by the Canadians. At the Biltmore, the Astor, the Knickerbocker, the Vanderbilt and other big hotels large reservations have been booked.

A large party of Canadians will arrive on the Lehigh Valley Railroad to-day from Toronto. Among the sightseers are school teachers and the Lehigh Valley will run special trains to accommodate 1,000 students who are coming from Cornwall, Lafayette and Lehigh.

Two specials from Wilkesbarre, Buffalo, Rochester and Atlantic City will carry 4,000 travellers. Railroad officials say that at least 250,000 persons are coming to New York to-day and that the routes of Louis and Cleveland will bring about 15,000. More thousands are on their way here from the Florida resorts.

The annual rush from this city to Atlantic City where the Boardwalk handle will begin to-morrow also will add to the railroads' traffic problem. Probably 50,000 persons will go from this city to spend Easter Sunday in Atlantic City.

JOHN BURNS TAKES A HOUSE.

As President of Board of Trade He Moves to Clapham Common.

Special Cable Despatches to The Sun. LONDON, April 9.—John Burns, who continued to occupy his house in a row in Battersea, where he has lived for many years, after he became a Cabinet minister, has now taken a large detached house in Clapham Common.

Special policemen have been engaged to keep off suffragettes pending the occupation of the house by Mr. Burns.

Mr. Burns, who is at present president of the local Government board, will take the post of president of the Board of Trade in June, the appointment having been announced several months ago.

SOLDIERS GUARDING COTTON.

Three Incendiary Suspects Arrested in Bombay—10 Fires Since March 23.

Special Cable Despatches to The Sun. BOMBAY, April 9.—In consequence of several fires in the cotton stored here—there have been sixteen since March 23—the destruction of about 300,000 bales—the Government has established a military patrol. Three men suspected of being incendiaries were arrested to-day.

RUSSIA TO JILT GERMANY.

May Minimize Industrial Orders—Irritation Increases.

Special Cable Despatches to The Sun. BERLIN, April 9.—Popular ill feeling against Russia has been strengthened by reports that Russia intends to minimize industrial orders in Germany. The decision is believed to apply mainly to naval equipment and orders for railway equipment.

St. Petersburg, April 9.—Irritation against Germany cropped out in speeches in the course of today's debate in the Duma on the second reading of the bill placing a duty on German cereals. The bill passed by 155 votes to 45.

The reporter of the bill said that Germany's neighbors are awakening to the danger, as German export bounties are enabling Germans to dump inferior cereals abroad.

The Minister of Finance drew attention to the need of circumspection in the disposal of public funds, as they might be needed for warlike purposes.

"RADIUM ONLY AIDS CANCER."

Carcinomatist Urges Physicians Not to Abandon Knife.

Special Cable Despatches to The Sun. BERLIN, April 9.—The forthcoming number of the Deutsche Revue contains the report of the famous carcinomatist, Dr. Adalbert Czerny, on the results of his treatment of 4,000 cases of cancer since 1906.

He says the results of radium and mesotherapy are practically identical. They destroy cancer cells near the surface and thus cure superficial cancer, but even the so-called Y-rays seem ineffective at a depth greater than four or five centimeters. Not only do they not cure the malady, but they actually assist in the further development of the cells. In some cases applications equivalent to using a milligram of radium or mesothorium for 150,000 hours were ineffective.

Dr. Czerny strongly deprecates abandoning the knife in favor of radium. He contends that all cancers which may be excised without special danger should be removed and radium employed as an after treatment.

DREDGE DRAWS UP BODY THROUGH 14 INCH PIPE

Disembodied Parts Show in Sand Sucked 2,000 Feet From Passaic River.

NEWARK, April 9.—Capt. Hanson, in charge of the barge May Madison, was leading against low rail in his harbor when he was towed down the Passaic River at noon to-day. As he passed under the Lehigh Valley drawbridge the wind and tide compelled the barge out of her channel and she struck against the spiles of the bridge. Capt. Hanson was thrown overboard. Others on the barge and on the tugboat tried to reach him or set his body, but could find no trace of it.

Where Capt. Hanson fell overboard is near the intake end of a huge sand dredging pipe, which is being used in deepening the Passaic as it enters Newark Bay. The pipe draws up dirt from the river bottom and discharges it through 2,000 feet of fourteen inch tubing onto the Newark meadows.

At 4 o'clock this afternoon workers stationed near the discharging end of the sand dredge saw a human arm protruding through the mass of sand that flows from the pipe and further investigation showed other parts of Hanson's disembodied body. He had been drawn in through the sand sucker. County Physician McKenzie reached the place by means of a supply boat and ordered the body taken to Newark, where efforts are being made to identify it.

One of Hanson's family, it is thought that he lived in Newark. On his right hand an anchor was tattooed and on his left hand the initials A. S. H. were tattooed. Hanson, of which he had charge, had delivered a load of brick in Belleville.

ANSWERS JEALOUS QUAKERS.

President Ren Tells Why His Road Has Spent Money in New York.

PHILADELPHIA, April 9.—In answer to recent anonymous criticisms of the Pennsylvania Railroad to the effect that it is spending millions to develop other cities at the expense of Philadelphia and trying to monopolize passenger and freight traffic between Philadelphia and New York, the Pennsylvania Railroad to-day issued a letter to the public.

"The extension of the Pennsylvania system into New York from the west bank of the Hudson was for the purpose of reaching Long Island with a population exceeding that of most of the States and giving the company its largest freight business had been ignored.

"The extension of the Pennsylvania system into New York from the west bank of the Hudson was for the purpose of reaching Long Island with a population exceeding that of most of the States and giving the company its largest freight business had been ignored.

"The extension of the Pennsylvania system into New York from the west bank of the Hudson was for the purpose of reaching Long Island with a population exceeding that of most of the States and giving the company its largest freight business had been ignored.

"The extension of the Pennsylvania system into New York from the west bank of the Hudson was for the purpose of reaching Long Island with a population exceeding that of most of the States and giving the company its largest freight business had been ignored.

"The extension of the Pennsylvania system into New York from the west bank of the Hudson was for the purpose of reaching Long Island with a population exceeding that of most of the States and giving the company its largest freight business had been ignored.

"The extension of the Pennsylvania system into New York from the west bank of the Hudson was for the purpose of reaching Long Island with a population exceeding that of most of the States and giving the company its largest freight business had been ignored.

"The extension of the Pennsylvania system into New York from the west bank of the Hudson was for the purpose of reaching Long Island with a population exceeding that of most of the States and giving the company its largest freight business had been ignored.

"The extension of the Pennsylvania system into New York from the west bank of the Hudson was for the purpose of reaching Long Island with a population exceeding that of most of the States and giving the company its largest freight business had been ignored.

"The extension of the Pennsylvania system into New York from the west bank of the Hudson was for the purpose of reaching Long Island with a population exceeding that of most of the States and giving the company its largest freight business had been ignored.

"The extension of the Pennsylvania system into New York from the west bank of the Hudson was for the purpose of reaching Long Island with a population exceeding that of most of the States and giving the company its largest freight business had been ignored.

"The extension of the Pennsylvania system into New York from the west bank of the Hudson was for the purpose of reaching Long Island with a population exceeding that of most of the States and giving the company its largest freight business had been ignored.

"The extension of the Pennsylvania system into New York from the west bank of the Hudson was for the purpose of reaching Long Island with a population exceeding that of most of the States and giving the company its largest freight business had been ignored.

"The extension of the Pennsylvania system into New York from the west bank of the Hudson was for the purpose of reaching Long Island with a population exceeding that of most of the States and giving the company its largest freight business had been ignored.

"The extension of the Pennsylvania system into New York from the west bank of the Hudson was for the purpose of reaching Long Island with a population exceeding that of most of the States and giving the company its largest freight business had been ignored.

"The extension of the Pennsylvania system into New York from the west bank of the Hudson was for the purpose of reaching Long Island with a population exceeding that of most of the States and giving the company its largest freight business had been ignored.

"The extension of the Pennsylvania system into New York from the west bank of the Hudson was for the purpose of reaching Long Island with a population exceeding that of most of the States and giving the company its largest freight business had been ignored.

"The extension of the Pennsylvania system into New York from the west bank of the Hudson was for the purpose of reaching Long Island with a population exceeding that of most of the States and giving the company its largest freight business had been ignored.

"The extension of the Pennsylvania system into New York from the west bank of the Hudson was for the purpose of reaching Long Island with a population exceeding that of most of the States and giving the company its largest freight business had been ignored.

"The extension of the Pennsylvania system into New York from the west bank of the Hudson was for the purpose of reaching Long Island with a population exceeding that of most of the States and giving the company its largest freight business had been ignored.

"The extension of the Pennsylvania system into New York from the west bank of the Hudson was for the purpose of reaching Long Island with a population exceeding that of most of the States and giving the company its largest freight business had been ignored.

"The extension of the Pennsylvania system into New York from the west bank of the Hudson was for the purpose of reaching Long Island with a population exceeding that of most of the States and giving the company its largest freight business had been ignored.

MOROSINI GARRISON WINS FIRST SORTIE

Five Bold Detectives Charge Lone Photographer and Vanquish Him.

GUNS LOADED FOR ACTION

But Only Missiles Fired Are Epithets Directed at Newspaper Men.

The good garrison at Elmhurst, the Riverside city of Mrs. Giulia Morosini Werner, after many days of watchful waiting for her husband to come for his clothes, engaged in its first battle yesterday and was victorious.

The enemy, a photographer, was coaxed past the frowning portcullis and then attacked by five of the twenty-two Burns detectives guarding the fort. He was checked, struck repeatedly and knocked to the ground before he retired in disorder.

The detectives waited for waiting for Arthur Morrison Werner, the ex-police man, and decided to give evidence of their prowess. The morning was devoted chiefly to signal practice and chasing boys who ventured too near. About 2 o'clock Jose L. Harris, a photographer, appeared. He asked permission to take a picture of the gun dotted lawn and motor defended house.

"Come right in," said one of the guards. Harris hesitated. Then he entered the yard cautiously. The guard walked by his side. When they were about fifty feet from the house the detective seized Harris by the neck. Instantly four more men appeared from vantage points. The ambush was perfect. The odds were eight to one, or 1,000 pounds of detectives against 125 pounds of an unarmed photographer. The struggle was brief. Harris went down under blows and his camera plates were confiscated.