

REDMOND DENOUNCES NEW HOME RULE PLAN

Asquith's Insistence on Introducing Amending Bill Arouses Nationalist.

PREMIER CAUSES SURPRISE

"We Shall Prepare for the Worst," Carson, Ulster Leader, Declares.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun. LONDON, May 12.—John Redmond, the leader of the Irish Nationalists, created a sensation in the House of Commons to-night by launching a serious warning to the Government.

Referring to Premier Asquith's declaration in the House earlier in the day that the Government will introduce an amending bill to the Irish home rule measure in order to pave the way for an agreement between the parties, after which the original bill and the amendment would be passed almost at the same time, Mr. Redmond said:

"If the hopes of peace are to be realized the best course would be by an amending bill, but the Premier announces that even if the efforts to bring about a peaceful settlement fail he will introduce an amending bill. That is a most serious decision and I cannot commit myself to the approval of such a course [Nationalist] nor to the announcement thereof while the peace parleys are supposed to be going on and when there is still hope of a peaceful settlement.

"I certainly hope such circumstances will never arise. I hope that if an amending bill is introduced it will be for the purpose of making effective an agreement that has been reached between the parties, but if an amending bill is introduced after the failure to reach an agreement I hold myself absolutely free to deal therewith." (Cheers by the Nationalists and extreme Radicals.)

Premier Asquith's statement came as a complete surprise. The Nationalists were greatly perturbed over his declaration and the Opposition was equally dissatisfied. They contend that the Government's promise to introduce an amending bill is an admission that the original bill was defective, but the Government at the same time refuses to disclose the nature of the amendments.

Mr. Balfour, formerly the Unionist leader, had a hot exchange with Chancellor of the Exchequer Lloyd George over this point, during which the Unionist members were ostentatiously indignant and the Speaker had to intervene to restore order. The situation has unquestionably been complicated if not profoundly changed by Mr. Asquith's announcement. Sir Edward Carson, the Ulster leader, was questioned as to what his attitude will be in view of the announcement by John Redmond. He replied:

"Mr. Redmond may repudiate the proposed amending bill as much as he likes. I am as determined as ever in my opposition to the home rule bill. I have telegraphed to Belfast to-night: 'Redouble your efforts.' We are going to keep our powder dry and prepare for the worst."

POLITICS ON FOOTBALL FIELD.

Partisanship Causes Serious Riot at Game in Belfast.

BELFAST, May 12.—There was a fierce riot during a football game here today which grew out of the political feelings of the players. It was a game of words until a goal had been scored, when the losers and their supporters rushed on the ground and their rivals and the latter supporters rushed to meet them. The police tried to clear the grounds, but were unsuccessful and a general scrimmage followed. Revolvers, stones and bottles were used as weapons by both sides. The police repeatedly clubbed both sides, who retaliated as they always do in Belfast. Numbers on both sides were injured.

SUFFRAGETTE SLASHES CANVAS.

Van Herkome's "Wellington" in Royal Academy Badly Damaged.

LONDON, May 12.—A woman describing herself as Mary Ansell, a militant suffragette, drew a small hatchet from her muff in the Royal Academy to-day and slashed a portrait of the Duke of Wellington. A number of persons near her scaped their astonishment as she made three slashes through the canvas. Then they seized her arm, confiscated the hatchet and handed her over to an attendant, who had her locked up.

The portrait was one of the best of the later works of Sir Hubert van Herkome, who died on March 31st.

Soon after her arrest Miss Ansell sent a message to the Women's Social and Political Union telling what she had done. She declared that she committed the act with deliberation and was glad that she had not failed in doing her duty.

Miss Ansell was committed to jail to await trial at the London Sessions.

LONDON, May 12.—Lillian Lennox, a militant suffragette, who was sentenced four days ago to a year's imprisonment for setting fire to the Westfield House, Doncaster, was released from jail to-day under the cat and mouse act. She went on a hunger strike immediately after she was admitted to the prison. She was in a weak state when released.

Militant suffragettes have been active in the streets of London recently. On March 20 Mary Richardson, using a hatchet, slashed Velasquez's "Roboy Venus" in the National Gallery. She was sentenced to six months' imprisonment, but was released for six weeks on April 7 to undergo an operation for appendicitis.

A woman who gave her name as Mary Wood, had her name changed to Miss Ansell when she was released from the National Gallery. She was released from the National Gallery on April 7 to undergo an operation for appendicitis.

A resolution was also adopted declaring that the members of the council will try to persuade their respective Governments to accept the principle of mediation by women in international conflicts.

PLEADS FOR DESERTED WIVES.

Council of Women at Rome Urges International Agreement.

ROME, May 12.—The International Council of Women at its session to-day adopted a resolution in favor of legislation for the protection of deserted wives and children. International agreements on this subject were urged.

Another resolution adopted by the council declared in favor of the formation of juvenile courts which shall be conducted by women.

A resolution was also adopted declaring that the members of the council will try to persuade their respective Governments to accept the principle of mediation by women in international conflicts.

T. R.'S RIVER "REAL AS HUDSON."

Roosevelt's Companions at Barbados Reveal Scepticism.

BRIDGETOWN, Barbados, May 12.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt, who arrived here today from Brazil en route to New York, is much improved in health, and he expects that the access in his leg will be thoroughly healed by the time he reaches New York. The Colonel was accompanied by G. K. Cherry and Leo M. Miller of the American Museum of Natural History of New York.

The latter expressed much annoyance in regard to the scepticism displayed in various quarters as to the discovery of a hitherto unknown river and declared that the existence of the Rhine, the Elbe or the Hudson might just as well be questioned.

The Colonel and his party arrived from Para on the South liner Dunstan. Kermitt Roosevelt left the party here and will sail for Lisbon, Portugal. Thence he will go to Madrid, where he is to be married to Maria Belle Willard, daughter of the American Ambassador to Spain, early in June.

A despatch to the American from Barbados quotes Col. Roosevelt as saying in answer to the question: "Will you be a candidate for the Presidency in 1916?" "I cannot tell if I shall run until later developments. But if I do run it must be on a Progressive platform which the Republicans must accept."

SAYS LANDOR WILL WIN.

Berlin Professor Says T. R. Would Lose in Verbal Duel.

BERLIN, May 12.—Prof. Tieszen of the Berlin High School, in commenting today on A. Henry Savage Landor's denial of Col. Roosevelt's claim to the discovery of a river in Brazil, said: "As far as my journey and subsequent advertisement thereof are concerned, Roosevelt and Landor are as like as two peas in a pod. But Roosevelt has never made claims to scientific exploration similar to those made by Landor, and for this reason it is only fair to say that Landor's discoveries and reports have been received with justifiable scepticism by learned societies of Europe. Roosevelt can only lose by a verbal duel with Landor."

SHIP STRIKE AT LIVERPOOL.

Men Working on the Aquitania Men Among Those Now Idle.

LIVERPOOL, May 12.—Three thousand ship workmen struck here to-day for shorter hours. The strikers include men, who were at work preparing the new Cunarder Aquitania for her maiden trip to New York on May 20 and others who are working on the repairs to the Mauretania and Carmania.

MT. ETNA ACTIVE AGAIN.

Several Shocks Felt in Vicinity of Recent Earthquake Disaster.

ROME, May 12.—Advices were received here to-day that several slight shocks were felt in the region of the earthquake disasters in Sicily. Flames shot skyward from Mount Etna's crater during the night and the great peak is now crowned with dense clouds of smoke. It is believed that no more bodies will be found in the ruins of the peasants' homes.

HEIST, May 12.—A number of earthquakes were registered here to-day. The seismographic instruments here to-day.

U. S. SOLDIER KILLED IN FALL.

Private Welsh Drops to Death From Roof in Vera Cruz.

WASHINGTON, May 12.—Private Maurice Welsh, stationed on a Vera Cruz roof as a guard, fell off and was instantly killed to-day. Welsh was a member of Company A, Nineteenth United States Infantry.

In a report of the accident received at the War Department to-night Gen. Funston said Welsh was killed in the line of duty and not through his own carelessness.

HUERTA'S MEDIATORS SAIL.

Delegates to A B C Conference Leave Vera Cruz.

WASHINGTON, May 12.—The delegates named by the Huerta Government to confer with representatives of the Government and the A B C mediators at Niagara Falls, Canada, next week, left Vera Cruz on board the Kronprinzessin Cecilie to-day. This information was contained in a report sent to the War Department by Gen. Funston.

When the delegates landed at Vera Cruz yesterday they were shown every courtesy by the American officials, it was announced to-day. Gen. Funston met them in person at the train and put himself entirely at their disposal.

LOBOS ISLAND SEIZURE IS CONFIRMED

O'SHAUGHNESSY'S PRAISED BY WILSON

President Thanks Diplomat for Skill Displayed in Mexican Tangle.

NO POLICY CHANGE URGED

Charge d'Affaires Will Continue to Draw Salary for Mexico City Post.

WASHINGTON, May 12.—President Wilson conferred with Nelson O'Shaughnessy, Charge d'Affaires of the American Embassy at Mexico City, for an hour to-night. It was the first time he had seen Mr. O'Shaughnessy since the latter received his passports from the Mexican Secretary of Foreign Affairs.

The interview was described as a pleasant hour's conversation and it was indicated that the President did as much of the talking as his visitor. Authoritative denial was made that Mr. O'Shaughnessy had returned from Mexico nursing dissatisfaction with the Wilson Administration, as did ex-Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson.

It was learned that the President had in the course of the interview expressed pleasure at Mr. O'Shaughnessy's unquestioned skill in conducting our diplomatic relations with the de facto government of Mexico since the recent Mexican revolution. Wilson and personally had thanked the Charge d'Affaires.

Mr. O'Shaughnessy was questioned by the President with regard to the personalities of Huerta and other dominating figures in Mexico and information was given filling in that which the President has gathered from other sources. No effort was made by the diplomatic officer to convince the President that definite changes from the present policy are necessary. Nor was there any evidence from his conversation that he regards himself as anything other than a subordinate reporter to his superior.

Mr. O'Shaughnessy it is understood, did not, however, conceal the conviction that the reports coming from Vera Cruz and Mexico City that Gen. Huerta is preparing to relinquish the provisional Presidency and flee to Europe are groundless.

His belief is that the dictator certainly will fight to the last and give in only when forced to do so. The Charge believes that the dictator's days of power are numbered and that eventually he will be displaced by the various forces now aligned against his regime.

It was learned to-night that Mr. O'Shaughnessy's principal belief is that it is altogether inadvisable for the United States to unite the various factions in Mexico under a stable government provided this Government will take the responsibility and trouble of executing the task.

Officially Mr. O'Shaughnessy will remain First Secretary and Charge d'Affaires of the Embassy at Mexico City and will continue to draw the salary for that post unless Congress withdraws the appropriation for it. It was pointed out to-day that under the law the salaries of the various diplomatic representatives of this country with which relations are broken off continue until Congress itself takes cognizance of the rupture by withdrawing the appropriation for these salaries.

BELIEVES PARKS SHOT AS SPY.

Gen. Funston Says He Thinks Firing Squad Killed Private.

VERA CRUZ, May 12.—General Funston said to-night that he believes the report that Private Parks, who disappeared on May 7, was shot by a firing squad without a trial, at Tejeria, as a spy.

The report is that after his capture he was interrogated and badly beaten up before he was put to death. He could not speak a word of Spanish and wandered within the enemy's lines, when crazed by the heat. He was leading two of Lieut.-Col. Taggart's horses at the time.

HOSPITAL SHIP HERE TO-DAY.

Solace Bringing 62 Wounded and Ill Men From Mexico.

The hospital ship Solace with sixty-two patients, two sick and wounded marines and sailors of Vera Cruz will arrive at the New York Navy Yard some time this afternoon. The sixty-two, half of them wounded in action and the rest taken sick about the coast, are to be transferred in eight ambulances waiting at the pier to the naval hospital in the yard, where Dr. Frank Berryhill, medical inspector, will receive them and take care of them. The bodies of the two men who died of their wounds after the Montana left Vera Cruz with their seventeen companions in death.

NEW BLOW FOR MEDIATION IN SEIZURE OF LOBOS BY THE U. S.

but throughout Latin America generally. The situation in regard to United States Consul John R. Silliman, who was thrown into jail at Sullito, cleared somewhat to-day. A despatch was received from the Brazilian Minister in Mexico City saying that he had received assurance from the Minister of War that Consul Silliman would be delivered immediately and given a safe escort out of the country.

There have been so many disappointments and delays, however, in the Silliman case that the United States will not ease off on its forceful demands until Silliman actually has been produced.

While the tangle in the mediation proceedings is hourly becoming more complex, the Constitutionalists continue to make progress in their campaign have taken San Blas near the mouth of the Gulf of California, and are conducting a fierce fight at Mazatlan.

Lieutenant-Commander William M. Jeffers is the naval officer who gave the certificate to the Lobos Island lighthouse keeper to come and go at his pleasure. Reports received by the mediators, the Navy Department called upon Admiral Bagder for full details. Last night the Admiral reported as follows:

"Ready to Department's message midnight Sunday the destroyer Itatia is using anchorage in lee of Lobos Island as a base for fueling, provisioning and repairs. It is to come and go at its pleasure here and one-half off Tampico. Only inhabitants of island were lighthouse keepers who abandoned island four or five days ago. They were offered provisions if anything they would remain, but declined to do so. Since then Itatia has maintained light and guarded property on shore. Lighthouse keepers were told they were to come and go at their pleasure. No occupation in military sense has occurred."

LATER REPORT RECEIVED.

That was the despatch on which the Department relied when it gave out a statement last night that the United States was merely maintaining the light after the keepers had deserted the island. Apparently, however, the mediators received information from Huerta that he has in his possession a statement in writing in support of his contentions, for the United States Government continued its efforts to obtain further details from Admiral Bagder.

Secretary of State Bryan was apparently in the dark to-day as to the real reasons that actuated Huerta in protesting to the mediators against the trial of the five South Americans at Vera Cruz who had been arrested for aiding the rebel forces. Further information has been requested and the misunderstanding will be explained to the mediators.

The City of Memphis, of the same line, and the Minnesota and the Panaman, of the Hawaiian line, recently chartered by the War Department, will take the supplies to Vera Cruz. The City of Memphis and the Panaman will carry horses and supplies, leave South Brooklyn shipyards for the same port in the next few days. The transports will take the supplies to Vera Cruz, where they will be placed aboard at Galveston.

NOT A SINGLE SAILOR DRUNK.

Bluejackets Made Sobriety Record During Stay in Vera Cruz.

WASHINGTON, May 12.—Secretary Daniels made public to-day a letter from Rear Admiral Fletcher, who commanded the landing force at Vera Cruz, containing the information that there was not a single case of drunkenness among the men under his command during the entire nine days that the bluejackets were ashore at Vera Cruz. The writer also stated the record as one of which any navy might be proud.

The general order of Secretary Daniels absolving the whole mess for officers of the United States navy is to become effective July 1. It has been pointed out that the order might be allowed to repose in some Department pigeonhole through the action of President Wilson. Secretary Daniels repeated to-day that the order would go into effect July 1 and this was generally accepted in Washington as disposing of the question of the President's attitude.

Lobos Island was that lighthouse keeper when leaving light was prevented from taking away with him certain essential parts of light machinery, and for personal protection of lighthouse keeper he was given by commanding officer of the Fanning a certificate that light was taken by force. The operation of this light is considered of great importance to all vessels on this coast.

The Navy Department made public its views on these two despatches. They clearly reflected the arguments which Secretary Bryan used when he called on the mediators this evening soon after the receipt of Bagder's second message. This is the official construction of the incident.

"From these two telegrams it is evident that there was no intention to seize the island or to occupy it in any military sense. The light was taken by force. It is essential to navigation, not only for the ships of the navy, but for the merchant vessels of all nations frequenting the coast. Apparently on his own responsibility the lighthouse keeper for his own protection, but he desired to permanently disable it by taking away essential portions of the machine. To have permitted this would have exposed not only our ships, but the merchant ships of all other nations to great peril, and it was obviously necessary to refuse to let the lighthouse keeper practically destroy this important aid to navigation."

Certificate No Proof.

"The commander of the Fanning, wishing as an act of courtesy to the lighthouse keeper and to save him possibly from serious consequences for his association with this post, gave him a certificate that he was in no wise to blame for his failure to bring the parts of the working machinery with him which he was directed to leave behind."

"The Department is not advised of the exact wording of this certificate, but its intent is perfectly obvious and it is in no way to be construed as a certificate that the rebel forces had abandoned the island, but only that the commanding officer of the Fanning had deemed it his duty to insist that the necessary machinery for operating the light was left behind by the keeper. Further information has been requested and the misunderstanding will be explained to the mediators."

VILLA SAID TO HAVE DEPOSED CARRANZA

Removal of Chao From Governorship of Chihuahua Taken as Proof of Break.

JUAREZ, May 12.—Reports continue to be circulated about a break between Villa and Carranza at Torreon recently. The removal of Gen. Chao, a Carranza man, from the governorship of Chihuahua and the appointment of Gen. Huerta as his successor, was announced in a telegram from Villa and not by Carranza.

President Mexican refugees say Villa has practically deposed Carranza and assumed the provisional Presidency himself. The revolutionary junta said that Villa and Carranza are working in accord.

The appointment of Villa as military Governor of Chihuahua was taken as an indication of the assumption of control of affairs by Villa. Gen. Chao was elected Governor, while Villa is to be military Governor. This writer also stated that the Constitutionalists had forced the rebel troops to evacuate the town.

QUIET FUNERAL AT HOME

Thousands Stand Reverently in Streets—Philadelphia Honors Its Dead.

It came to John Francis Schumacher, the battleship Florida's twenty-four-year-old coxswain who was killed at Vera Cruz, to be carried to his mother's home, 74 Suydam street, Williamsburg, Monday afternoon. And there, the city and nation having paid their homage to his heroism, he lay for the last time near his relatives awaiting burial.

The last services were held at the house. Only friends and relatives were in the rooms, but outside the street for a block in each direction was jammed with almost 15,000 men, women and children who had come to stand silently, the men bare of head, the women mute, the children awed.

Near by a Myrtle avenue elevated station was a block in each direction was jammed with almost 15,000 men, women and children who had come to stand silently, the men bare of head, the women mute, the children awed.

The body was carried from the house at 3 o'clock and immediately the funeral procession formed and began to move toward St. John's Cemetery. There were thousands of soldiers from the Spanish War camps George H. Tibby, Hubbell, Russell and Schley. Also there were detachments of the Thirteenth, the Fourteenth and the Forty-seventh regiments, National Guard, and a detachment of the Coast Artillery Corps under sergt. Harry Johnson.

This afternoon the funeral of Albin Eric Steward, a member of the Vera Cruz heroes, will be held with two services, one at his home, 227 Sixty-seventh street, Bay Ridge, and the other at the First Swedish Church, 513 Dean street, Brooklyn. A funeral will be made in Liverpool Cemetery.

PHILADELPHIA, May 12.—The families of George McKenzie Polmest and of Charles Allen Smith, the Philadelphia sailors who were killed by Mexican "snipers" in the occupation of Vera Cruz, are honoring their dead this afternoon. From this evening until the funeral, Mexican soldiers will be in charge of the city, which wishes, in a great and fitting demonstration, to show the honor in which their bravery is held.

The services for Polmest were held at his home of his parents, 5221 North Pacific street, while the funeral of Smith was held at the home of his mother, 2168 East Sergeant street. At both services were guards of honor, composed of sailors from the Philadelphia navy yard.

MAZATLAN FIGHT CONTINUES.

Big Rebel Force Attacking City, U. S. Consul Reports.

WASHINGTON, May 12.—Severe fighting between Federal and Constitutionalists was reported today by Admiral Howard, commanding the fleet on the west coast of Mexico.

The Federal troops have evacuated San Blas, which is now thought to be in the hands of the superior army. Fighting continues at Mazatlan, with no violation of the truce agreement entered into by the United States forces and the rebels under the control of the dictator.

Consul Alger, formerly at Mazatlan, reports that the rebel forces in Mazatlan are kept constantly at the front of the Constitutionalists' lines, making the Federal camp with a rain of bullets. In a battle twenty miles from Acapulco six Zapatanas are reported to have been killed.

The Federal have met another defeat at San Blas, the commander of the garrison, Amalibadi reported today. He gave no details of the battle, but said that the Constitutionalists had forced the rebel troops to evacuate the town.

AMERICAN WRITERS MISSING IN TORREON

Gregory Mason of the "Outlook" and H. Lee Clotworthy May Be in Jail.

EL PASO, May 12.—Friends of Gregory Mason of New York, magazine writer, fear he is either in jail at Torreon or has been made way with by the rebels. Since May 1, when Mason left El Paso for Torreon, nothing has been heard from him and all efforts to reach him with telegrams and letters have failed.

An article by Mason recently was published in the Outlook. In it Gen. Villa was described in an uncomplimentary manner. As a result, he has been made a prisoner of the rebels. His whereabouts has been a matter of speculation. H. Lee Clotworthy, also a magazine writer, who came here from San Antonio, has disappeared in Torreon and friends are unable to find any trace of him.

A new order was issued today by United States Consul to Americans in rebel territory to leave Mexico. An appeal was made to those who would not leave to send immediately their names and addresses to the nearest American Consul. The order was issued after being made by Consuls to get all Americans out of Mexico despite the administration of Mayor to leave the territory which is quiet.

Frank C. Hoyt, business manager of the Outlook Company, said last night: "We fear that something may have happened to Mr. Mason, but we have no information. He returned to El Paso after he made his trip into Mexico, which formed the basis of his article in the Outlook. Then we got word that he had crossed the border again. We searched for word from him since then, but we have not heard from him for some time."
