

COLOMBIAN SENATE FAVORS U. S. TREATY

Document Expressing Our $25,000,000 Regrets Passes Its Second Reading.

REPLY MADE TO ROOSEVELT

Colombian Consul Here Calls T. R.'s Abuse His Obsession.

Bogota, Colombia, May 28.—The treaty between the United States and Colombia was approved at its second reading in the Colombian Senate yesterday by a vote of 21 to 8.

The treaty, which already has been signed by the Colombian Minister of Foreign Affairs and the United States Minister at Bogota, had its first reading in the Colombian Senate on May 5.

It has not yet been presented to the United States Senate. In the treaty the United States expresses sincere regret that any dispute should have occurred to mar the relations of cordial friendship that so long existed between the two nations.

COLOMBIAN ASSAILS T. R.

Senor Escobar, Consul-General, Consigns Colonel to Annals Club.

Senor Francisco Escobar, Consul-General of Colombia in New York, made public yesterday a letter addressed to Col. Roosevelt in which Senor Escobar takes him severely to task for his criticism of the treaty indemnifying Colombia for the loss of Panama.

And now before you had time to embrace your dear ones at home, you come out against Colombia again, declaring that the amount stipulated to be paid to her in the new treaty is 'blackmail.'

And searching for an explanation of such a psychological disease I have come to the conclusion that your hatred of Colombia is born within your conscience, where, ever and anon, rises the ghost of that fateful November 3, 1903, pointing an accusing finger at the author of Colombia's greatest misfortune.

And now you try to appease your conscience by abusing the victim, without heeding our protests, with utter disregard of our feelings and keeping silent when we ask for proofs.

Senor Escobar says further that Mr. Roosevelt's message to Congress in 1904 contained so many misstatements about Colombia that he felt called upon to refute them in an article in the North American Review. In 1911, he writes, Col. Roosevelt published in the Outlook a cowardly tract against Colombia and the Colombian people, again full of misstatements.

POPE AT CONSISTORY HAS VERTIGO ATTACK

Pontiff Suffers Severely While Being Carried in Gestatorial Chair.

CARDINALS GET RED HATS

Many Americans See the Impressive Services at the Vatican.

Rome, May 28.—The Pope suffered a very severe attack of dizziness this morning at the red hat on the thirteenth new cardinals who were created last Monday.

The dizziness occurred while he was being carried shoulder high in the gestatorial chair. After the consistory he used an ordinary low sedan chair and stood the fatigue of the ceremony well. He was not tired and he will continue his audiences to-morrow.

Cardinal Gibbons of Baltimore will be received in special audience when he calls to bid the pontiff farewell.

Several thousand people, most of whom were Americans and other foreigners, attended the consistory. The cardinals who were unable to be present to-day will receive their birettas by special messenger, as was done in the case of Cardinal Gibbons of Baltimore when he was made a prince of the Church.

The papal procession and the ceremonies attending the conferring of the red hat were conducted with great pomp and followed by ecclesiastic, military and civil dignitaries, on the way to the consistorial hall and returning again made an impressive sight.

At the conclusion of the consistory the cardinals, old and new, gathered in the Sistine chapel to offer up prayers of thanksgiving. Then they met in the consistorial hall, with the Pope presiding. Here Pius X. bestowed the cardinal's rings, granted them the privileges of their position and named their titular churches.

ARREST OF BANKERS HITS PARIS SOCIETY

Imprisonment of Baron de Neufville Causes Sensation Among the Wealthy.

LOSSES NOW $2,700,000

German and English Accounts Expected to Increase This Sum.

PARIS, May 28.—The arrest yesterday of Baron Henri and Baron Robert de Neufville as a sequel to the failure of the De Neufville bank a few weeks ago, which was said, to the trouble in the pearl market, has created a sensation here, as the bank's business was mostly with the highest society people of Paris.

The bank was the oldest French private firm in the business. Both men were sent to prison to-day.

Baron Henri belonged to what is known as the Protestant group of European bankers. He succeeded his father as head of the firm at the latter's death two years ago.

Up to the present five informations have been laid against the firm. The losses up to last night were known to be 12,500,000 francs ($2,700,000), and this will be increased when the German and English accounts are known. The assets are 2,500,000 francs ($500,000).

SMASHED WINDOWS IN BUCKINGHAM PALACE

Two Suffragettes Broke Past Guards on Wednesday—Both Went Away Free.

LONDON, May 28.—The suffragettes were heard from in several quarters to-day, but their doings were not of the sensational order.

When arrested to-day that two militants evaded the sentries and dashed into the fore court of Buckingham Palace at midnight on Wednesday and smashed two windows before they were arrested. They will not be prosecuted.

One militant, who refused to give her name when she was arraigned in court, smashed the windows in the National Gallery. She created the usual scene in court, but spoke altogether in French, giving the impression that she came from across the channel, although "wild women" are known to be in the city.

She shouted hurrahs for liberty and also shrieked vivas for Christabel Pankhurst. She was remanded for a further hearing. When arrested the militant was carrying a bag filled with bricks. It was with missiles of this kind that she smashed the National Gallery windows.

Miss Annie Kenney, one of the militant suffragette leaders who was arrested at Ingham Palace, was released from Holloway jail to-day after having been on a hunger strike for several days. She seemed to be very weak and was accompanied by two nurses. When she reached Lambeth Palace, the residence of the Archbishop of Canterbury, Miss Kenney sat down on the sidewalk with the declaration that she intended to die on that spot.

The nurses picked her up and placed her in the steps, where she remained for some time. She was taken away in an ambulance to Holloway jail infirmary.

A dangerous bomb was picked up in the night car at a time at Wellington-rough to-day. The metal cylinder was filled with gunpowder, gelatine and large pieces of iron. Suffragettes are accused of having placed the bomb in the car.

CUBAN EAGER TO BE TRIED.

Representative Waives Congressional Immunity to Go Before Bar.

HAVANA, May 28.—Under the laws of Cuba a member of Congress is immune from prosecution in the courts. This law has generally been taken advantage of by members indicted for various offences, but a new turn was given to it to-day. Representative Antonio Pardo Suarez arose in the House and made a strong appeal, asking that Congressional immunity be waived in a case against him in the Correctional Court and that the court be authorized to go on with his trial.

Senor Suarez threatened to absent himself from the House until the permission was granted.

A motion made by Representative Suarez covering the permission was seconded by ex-Speaker Ferrera and was adopted. The speaker thereupon sent notice to the court to proceed with the trial.

The case grew out of a row between Representative Suarez and the sergeant at arms of the House. Senor Suarez says the question is one of honor and he wants it settled. This is the first time on record where a member has asked that Congressional immunity be waived in a case against himself. It is believed here that this indicates the beginning of a new era in Cuban politics.

SEE WOMAN'S HAND IN CANTEN GRAFT CASE

Rumor Society Leader "Tampere With" Justice to Save Lipton Employees.

MRS. FLAVELLE IMPROVING.

An Examination to Search for Bullet to Be Held To-day.

LONDON, May 28.—There is much comment on the severity of the sentence of six months imprisonment imposed on Lieut. Col. Whitaker of the Second Yorkshire Regiment in the canteen graft scandal as compared with the punishment meted out to the civilian defendants.

Col. Whitaker's six months imprisonment sentence means his utter ruin and the loss of his pension. The civilians all got off with fines. The Judge in imposing the sentence gave the idea that a less high standard of honor was naturally to be expected from commercial men than from an officer. One paper stigmatizes this as an affront to commerce.

A story is going the rounds of inner circles that a woman who is eminent in society and political quarters was mainly responsible for the leniency shown by Justice Darling to the employees of Lipton's, Ltd. It is said that she exercised an enormous influence and was very grateful for favors she had received from Lipton's.

NEW WIRELESS SIGNAL "T T T"

John Burns Urges It as a Warning Against Icebergs.

LONDON, May 28.—John Burns, president of the Board of Trade, has drawn up a merchants' shipping bill for safety at sea which will be introduced in Parliament shortly. It provides, among other things, for a new wireless danger signal, T T T, which is to be repeated ten times at full power.

This signal will warn vessels of imminent danger from icebergs, cyclones, &c. The T T T will not supersede the present S O S. Other urgent signals are provided for, such as "You are standing in danger," "I want assistance," "Remain by," "I have encountered ice" and "Your lights are out."

All British ships carrying fifty or more persons must have a wireless installation. There have been so many reports of ice in the north Atlantic recently that the transatlantic steamship companies to-day decided temporarily to modify the track of their steamers, which will for the present take a more southerly route.

LORD MERSEY UNRECOGNIZED.

He Was Showing Ex-Justice M. J. O'Brien Around the Temple.

LONDON, May 28.—There were two incidents in the hall of the Middle Temple to-day in which Americans were participants. A crowd of women, most of whom were American tourists, besieged the entrance to the hall in the morning, but were refused admission, as the janitors feared they were suffragettes.

A little later ex-Supreme Court Justice Morgan J. O'Brien of New York came up with an English friend who was not known to the janitor. The Englishman called the janitor and said: "Here is a distinguished American Judge; see what you can do for him."

The janitor did not seem to be impressed by the man who was addressing him, but said: "An American Judge; let's see what we can do." The man who had spoken pushed forward and the janitor made way for him and Justice O'Brien through the crowd.

The Englishman then introduced himself by pointing to a stained glass window and saying: "That is my portrait. It was Lord Mersey, the famous English jurist, formerly president of the Probate Divorce and Admiralty Division of the High Court of Justice. The janitor was all attention in a moment and showed the two jurists all the sights."

SUNDAY TENNIS IN NET OF BLUE LAWS

Alderman Digs Up Ancient Ordinance to Stop Racket at Rutherford Club.

FOUR PLAYERS ARRESTED

Athletes of the Court Hire Lawyer and Will Fight to Finish.

RUTHERFORD, N. J., May 28.—Sunday tennis and the New Jersey blue laws have run foul of each other. The trouble this time is between the Rutherford Lawn Tennis Club and Councilman Sheaf of 324 Montross avenue. The organization owns a plot of land next to Mr. Sheaf's and separated by the strip two feet wide which the forefathers of the town left between all pieces of property when the land was laid out, many years ago, to permit "common passage to all wells and springs."

The Tennis Club by indulging in its favorite sport on the Sabbath has incurred the enmity of Councilman Sheaf and he has dug up the enactment of 1855 which forbids everything on Sunday except eating, sleeping and going to church. Now this is a perfectly good law despite its age, and the police are obliged to enforce it.

A week ago Sunday, after Mr. Sheaf had taken the tennis matter to the Town Council and had failed to get much consideration for it there, the members of the tennis club appeared at the courts to play as usual. They had scarcely begun, however, when a squad of Chief of Police George Burnham's men appeared and arrested four of the players. A. T. House, Robert Fishel, Paul Russell and Charles Hroug.

The four were held before Recorder Lawrence and held for trial on the following Friday. On that day the hearing was postponed again and the men are out under bail. The club has employed Addison Ely, a Rutherford lawyer, and proposes to fight Mr. Sheaf, his blue laws and everything else to a finish.

The real bone of contention between the club and the town father is the possession of that two foot strip of land. Originally the property of the development company which laid out that section, the ownership of the land has never been fixed. Mr. Sheaf asserts that the deed to his property gives him the strip, whereas the tennis club says the land is common property, half to each.

At first there was a fence on the strip, right on the edge next to Sheaf's lawn. He remonstrated so vigorously this year that the fence was torn down and a slightly one put up, running exactly down the center of the strip. Still, Mr. Sheaf insists that the strip being his a fence has to be placed in any part of it.

Another complaint Mr. Sheaf makes is that the tennis players are a noisy lot who disturb his Sabbath peace. He also says they knock balls over in his property, which he has been very little complaining. The tennis club replies that some members may have been too boisterous but that those persons have been ousted from the organization. Also they say the players are all of the same class.

Anyhow both sides are pretty well aroused by the situation. Mr. Sheaf says the Sunday tennis must be dispensed with, whereas the tennis club says they are employed in Manhattan on other days, say they don't intend to be deprived of the only opportunity for recreation they have during the week.

The club was formed many years ago when that portion of Montross avenue was on the outskirts of town and nobody was bothered. It has about fifty members among them some of the leading citizens of the town. The question of tennis on Sunday has already crept into the town government. Now some of the churches threaten to take action.

LEA WINS IN TENNESSEE.

Senator Forces Nomination of T. C. Rye for Governor.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., May 28.—United States Senator Luke Lea, after having met with repeated defeats for four days in the State Democratic convention proceedings and having all outward appearances of being thoroughly whipped, snatched victory from defeat this afternoon and forced the nomination of T. C. Rye for Governor.

Rye's selection was accomplished with what is known as the "Hill-Billy" vote. Not a county voted for him that had even a direct car line within its borders or as much as a "soft drink" stand. Judge S. J. Everett, a west Tennessee neighbor of the victorious candidate, was selected to defeat Rye, but could not check the steady advance made by Rye, who was nominated on the ninth ballot.

While Rye is a regular Democrat he has strong temperance inclinations and his platform declared for continued prohibition in the State.

DIVORCE REFUSED DARLINGTON.

Wife of Engineer Alleged Deserter in Reno Court.

RENO, Nev., May 28.—Frederick William Darlington of Philadelphia and New York was denied a decree of divorce by Judge Salisbury to-day and judgment was awarded the defendant, his wife, Mabel Way Darlington, upon her cross complaint alleging desertion on November 8, 1912, without her consent or desire and upon no provocation upon her part.

He is a wealthy consulting and electrical engineer, designer of many public buildings and a son of Stephen Paxton Darlington, a wealthy metal tin manufacturer. When he married the defendant in London in June, 1899, he was the divorced husband of Nina Kelson Murphy.

BLIND AND INSANE, HER FORTUNE GROWS

Miss Folsom Has Income of $100,000 Yearly—$4,000 for Her Keep in Asylum.

A referee's report disclosing that while a blind insane woman is being kept in a public asylum in Massachusetts at a cost of $4,000 a year her estate is yielding an income of nearly $100,000 was filed in the Supreme Court yesterday by Phoenix Ingraham, who took testimony on an accounting filed by George W. Folsom, as committee of the property of his sister, Margaret W. Folsom.

The report states that when Miss Folsom was declared insane and sent to the asylum in 1869 her property was worth only $365,000, and a few years later it was increased to $468,627 through a partition suit. The present value of the estate is $1,827,457, of which $1,528,971 is the appraised value of the real estate. The thirty-six parcels comprising the estate yielded $121,963 in rents last year.

While only $4,226 was paid during the year for the maintenance of Miss Folsom at the McLean Hospital for the Insane at Waverly, Mass., her brother got an allowance of $20,000 for taking care of her property and his attorneys received $4,339 for services in the accounting.

Mr. Folsom testified before the referee that his sister is now 71 years old, and that he is her only relative, and will inherit her entire estate when she dies. When questioned as to whether Miss Folsom was receiving all the comfort and attention to which her means entitled her, Mr. Folsom said:

"The McLean Hospital is considered one of the best in the country, and is a State institution. My sister has the attention of a physician daily and is permitted to walk in the garden. There is no chance for her recovery. While she is blind, she always recognizes my voice. She never answers my questions, but always says 'God bless you' to me. She won't speak to anybody else. She seems to understand when they tell her that her brother is downstairs to see her, but it is her only glimmering sign of intelligence."

Mr. Folsom testified that he believed his services were worth $20,000 a year.

Auto Hits Man in Newark.

NEWARK, N. J., May 28.—Philip Kingler, 34 years old, of 447 South E-venth street, was struck by an automobile at Market and Adams streets to-night. The machine was driven by Christopher Baker, a chauffeur, of 2266 Eighty-fourth street, Brooklyn.

Kingler was removed to the City Hospital in a critical condition and Baker was arrested.

Out of a clear sky

The other day two men were lurching at the Waldorf when they were joined by a third, a very well-dressed man.

One of the men commented on the newcomer's clothes, and said it was the best suit he had ever seen him wear.

The newcomer looked incredulous—yes, we will give the facts, he positively looked incredulous.

He said: "On the level, is that right? Why, I've just shipped back two suits to my tailor, because they were the worst fitting clothes ever made, and they cost $85 a throw. I just bought this at Saks' at $28 because I simply had to have another suit of clothes at once. And take it from me, I'm cured of the $85 habit from now on."

Whether a man discover the truth by accident or by design, what matter, so long as he discover it?
