

HOUSE DEMOCRATS CHILLY TO KINDEL They Give Colorado Member a Frosty Reception, but Republicans Applaud. LATTER SAY HE'S PATRIOT

WASHINGTON, July 9.—Representative George J. Kindel of Colorado, who wears side whiskers and is proud of them, looked at the Republican side of the House as he stood in the chamber this morning. The Republicans applauded him as several of them shook Mr. Kindel warmly by the hand. On the other hand Democrats, kindled as Mr. Kindel made his appearance and they bowed coldly as he took his seat on the majority side of the chamber. The cause of these mixed emotions was the announcement that Mr. Kindel, who was elected as a Democrat, had jumped the party reservation, would henceforth operate as an independent in politics and would appear this year on the stump in support of Republican candidates. In making known his change of heart, Mr. Kindel declared that the Democratic party as represented by the present Administration is generally incompetent and that it would be a good thing for the country as a whole and the business community in particular if it was defeated at the polls this year. Mr. Kindel showed the courage of his convictions by announcing that it is his purpose this fall to speak in advocacy of the election of Republican members.

Fear Bolt in the South. The Democrats attempted to belittle the desertion of Mr. Kindel, but it made them as sore as a boil every time it was mentioned in their hearing. The members of the Louisiana State committee were sobered by the news of the Democratic revolt from Louisiana, some of them privately expressing the fear that the defection in the State would lead to other sections of the South where a number of industries are said to have been hard hit by the new tariff law. Progressives are very much alarmed over the Louisiana revolt. Democrats say the disaffection in Louisiana does not mean that the Progressive party is strong there. It only means that the Louisiana prominent business men, incensed over the Democratic tariff bill, found that they could no longer affiliate with the President's party and have sought a political asylum elsewhere. They joined the Progressive party, which is advertised in the South as a "white man's party" because open to all who hold certain principles impracticable owing to the race issue.

Expect Other Accessions. Progressive leaders nevertheless are encouraged by the Louisiana bolt. They expect that in the Louisiana State Democratic elements in other States of the South having large industrial interests will follow the lead of their Louisiana brethren. Leaders of the third party insist that the South is a good field for missionary work, and they intend to make the most of the best given their organization by the bolt of the Louisiana Democrats. Representative Keating of Colorado, who has been at the Louisiana State, took occasion today to make some caustic comments about his colleague. In the debate in the House on the Colorado strike situation Mr. Keating upheld the cause of the miners. Mr. Keating assailed the labor unions and took occasion one day to outsize John D. Rockefeller. "Any man who outsize John D. Rockefeller has no place in the Democratic party," said Representative Keating today, speaking directly to Mr. Kindel. Mr. Keating said: "He is an attorney for the express companies in the House and never knew for a moment what the Democratic platform contained."

Mr. Keating's excuse for mentioning Mr. Kindel's name in connection with the express companies is the fact that Kindel by Mr. Kindel in opposing extensions of the parcel post system. Representative Keating will not be expected to attend tomorrow's House caucus in the future. This is not likely to worry Mr. Kindel. He has rarely put in an appearance at a party caucus since he came to Congress.

NATURAL DRIFT, SAYS T. R. Defection of Louisiana Men to Bull Moose Pleases Him.

OSTER HAY, July 9.—Col. Roosevelt in commenting to-night on the Washington despatch to THE SUN on the defection of Louisiana, where a majority of the members of the Third Congress district have resigned to become Progressives, said: "Nothing has given me greater pleasure than the reported action in Louisiana. I have telegraphed John M. Parker, the State chairman, my congratulations and have begged him to extend my greetings to each of the gentlemen named. "The Progressive party is the natural meeting place for the men of this character from the South and the men who have taken similar action against the machine bosses of the North. As time goes on it will become more and more the inevitable rallying point for good citizens of North and South who stand for fair play, for national honor, for clean politics, for successful business and agriculture and for justice in the distribution of rewards to big men and to little men alike."

SENATE ADJOURNS TO MONDAY. Judiciary Committee Hopes to Report Clayton Bill Next Week.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—The Senate adjourned to-night until Monday. The object of the adjournment was to enable the Judiciary Committee of the Senate to complete its consideration of the Clayton bill if possible to permit of a report to the Senate early next week. The action taken is in response to the combination made by the Republican Senators yesterday to prevent a vote on the Federal Trade Commission bill until after the Clayton bill is before the Senate. Democratic members of the Judiciary committee have been busy in their consideration of the Clayton bill by repeated calls for quorums in the Senate which have interfered with deliberations. It is said that the railroad securities bill is near completion in the Committee on Interstate Commerce than the Clayton bill is in the Judiciary Committee. The Interstate Commerce Commission is expected to begin its report tomorrow and probably all of the trust bills will be before the Senate by July 15. The debate is expected to run along for six weeks.

ANTI-JAPANESE GROUP SHOWS FRESH ACTIVITY Bryan and Chinda Have Conferences to Stave Off Action on Bills.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—Proposed legislation intended to bar further immigration of Japanese and other Asiatics into the United States threatens to become an issue once more when members of the House return to the city to permit the Committee on Immigration to assemble a quorum. A meeting of the committee is desired by Pacific coast members for the consideration of exclusion bills on which they have not yet succeeded in obtaining any action. The committee is expected to get favorable committee action on one or other of several anti-Asiatic bills introduced were frustrated by the Joint efforts of the President and Secretary Bryan and Administration leaders. Renewal of these endeavors to get the committee to pass the bills is now under way. Interview With Ford Resuming. The President said that he had had a pleasant interview with Mr. Ford and that there was a general exchange of views on business. The interview had been most reassuring, the President asserted, and Mr. Ford had seemed entirely happy at the outlook. President Wilson mentioned in connection with his remarks on the business situation that the railroads are making purchases of new equipment and that necessary expansions, and are taking on their men again. The President said that his interview with the Illinois bankers was of a more businesslike character than that with Mr. Ford. The Illinois men had made it known that they did not oppose the general character of anti-trust legislation, but had come merely to suggest advisable alterations. Mr. Wilson explained that the objection to the anti-trust program all along had been mainly against attempting to make too explicit definitions of business practices. The President showed, as indicated in THE SUN this morning, that he agreed with the view that the bill should be drafted by Representative Haker of California. This bill provided for the registration of all Asiatic laborers and for the registration of all Asiatic laborers now within the limits of continental United States. BIG WHEAT CROP MAY NOT MEAN LOW PRICES Competing Grains Don't Promise More Than Average Yields.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—The Department of Agriculture has this to say today in regard to yesterday's fine crop report: "The July forecast of this year's wheat crop of the United States is 920,000,000 bushels, the largest ever produced, exceeding last year's crop, which was itself a record crop, by about 267,000,000 bushels. The third crop in size is that of 1901, when 653,000,000 bushels were the estimate. The average production of the past five years was 686,000,000 bushels. "Such a large crop would augur very low prices were it not that the world crops of wheat and competing grains do not promise more than about the average of recent years. Also that more than the usual diversion of wheat from its use as food to the use of feed for live stock may be expected, owing to the present relatively high supply of wheat in some sections where there is a promise of abundant wheat."

Business Bad, He Kills Himself. William Kreiger shot himself through the heart yesterday because his employment agency at 443 West Thirtieth street did not pay. His landlord had threatened to evict him.

Kreiger came to New York twenty years ago from Germany and had recently had bought the employment agency, where he had been employed for eighteen years. He was 41 years old and leaves his wife and two children. "There is scarcely a walk of life which is not represented in this procession of recipients for free passes, from the Federal bench to the local politician and the sheriff who summons the jury. The throngs represented by these passes are thousands of citizens to the carriers through improper relations. The lack of morality reflected by the facts are common to the institutions of a free people. These citizens who sell their influence quite as much as though they were selling their brains, are ready to be led by the nose and to be influenced quietly in the home or school or club, in the professions, in business, in city councils, in State and Federal legislative halls and at the polls."

PLANS TAX ON U. S. HEIRESSES. Bowdell Bill Aimed at Americans Who Marry Foreign Titles.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—Representative Stanley Bowdell of Cincinnati introduced a bill to-day in the House to tax the income of Americans who marry foreign titles 25 per cent in addition to the regular income tax under the Underwood-Simmons act. In a statement explaining his bill Mr. Bowdell said that the regulation is a concern merely upon the complaint from outside the commission. He pointed out that cases might arise where competition between the United States and foreign corporations might be impaired by the demand an investigation of such a corporation. He deemed this manifestly unfair.

LEGISLATORS CHIEF "GUESTS" OF ROADS Free Transportation for a Year Covers 11,711,872 Miles, Senate Hears.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—The Louisville and Nashville and the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railroads, operating principally in Tennessee and Kentucky, gave free transportation to the amount of 11,711,872 miles during the year ending June 30, 1913. The bill, introduced by the Interstate Commerce Commission, a vast majority of this free transportation was distributed to the various State Legislatures, Representatives and State legislators, mostly the last named. Whether the bill is passed or not, including Judges of State and Federal courts, sheriffs, city and county officials, received a large share of free transportation. The report, which was submitted by Chairman Harlan in partial compliance with Senator Luke Lea's resolution providing for a general investigation of the railroads, was received by the Interstate Commerce Commission today by the Interstate Commerce Commission. A vast majority of this free transportation was distributed to the various State Legislatures, Representatives and State legislators, mostly the last named. Whether the bill is passed or not, including Judges of State and Federal courts, sheriffs, city and county officials, received a large share of free transportation.

BUSINESS FOR TRUST BILLS, SAYS WILSON Not Afraid to Have Programme Carried Out, Declares the President. HIS KNOWLEDGE 'CLEARER'

WASHINGTON, July 9.—Regulation of the Executive, the necessity for which has been pointed out in THE SUN's editorial articles recently, was discussed in the Senate to-day in a way that indicated the growing discontent over President Wilson's efforts to dictate to Congress. The notes of alarm sounded to-day were the sharpest that have been heard in the Senate thus far. Senator Townsend of Michigan declared that Congress was utterly worn out, that the country was getting weary and that there was a general condition of paralysis which he attributed to the extraordinary legislative programme being forced upon Congress by the President. The President declared that his conviction of business not being hostile to a settlement of the anti-trust question had grown out of the clearer knowledge of the views of business which he has gained recently. Mr. Wilson made this statement soon after he had entertained Henry Ford of Detroit, the automobile manufacturer, as a luncheon guest. In the course of the day the President conferred with a group of Illinois bankers, and recently he discussed the anti-trust question with the Chicago Association of Commerce and with J. P. Morgan. The intimation was that the President's clearer knowledge of the attitude of business had been gained from his conversations with these men.

Mr. Townsend's Declaration. In his speech Senator Townsend said: "The people want Congress to adjourn and go home. Inasmuch as my high prerogative seems to be to assist the majority in maintaining a quorum—a record quorum, not an actual one—and for the purpose of enacting legislation proposed by the President and with which I have no sympathy but which I am powerless to prevent, I think I too shall take a rest and allow the responsibility to go with power." Thereupon Senator Townsend announced his intention to repair to the State of Michigan and forget his legislative cares. The Senator condemned the legislation that the President has placed before Congress. "We have been laboring not for legislation which we as representatives of the people have felt was demanded by them or which was required to cure evils, great growing and evident, but we have been working under the unwholesome stimulus of political parties, and the result is bound to be a weak, unstable and anemic condition in the body politic. "Much of the legislation already written and now in process of enactment is an impeachment of the intelligence and independence of Congress, for it never would have been enacted if the national legislature had followed the dictates of its own judgment as to what was best and necessary for the good of the people."

Wilson "a Theorist." Senator Townsend then paid his respects. "I will not charge that the President has been unparliamentary or unwise. I do assert, however, that he is a theorist, who, without conservative experience of the practical consequences of his legislation, has insisted in driving his doctrine Congressional adherents on to dangerous and untenable ground. In some countries industrial and commercial progress has been rewarded by monuments and declarations of honor, but unfortunately, as it seems to me, our Government has entered upon a course of such a nature that it will be regarded with suspicion and not infrequently as a thing of dishonor. "I shall not review the pitiful surrender of individual opinion and intellectual freedom."

PLEADS GUILTY TO MAIL FRAUD. Seller of Manhattan Real Estate Co. Stock Sent to Island.

James C. Gavigan pleaded guilty in the United States District Court yesterday to using the mails to defraud and was sentenced to three months in prison at Blackwells Island. The charge against him was that he helped promote a scheme by which more than $350,000 worth of the stock of the Manhattan Real Estate Company was unloaded on the public. The chief features of the selling campaign were the pamphlets and circular letters sent through the mails to prospective investors, informing them that the company owned much real estate on Long Island and was paying 12 per cent dividends on its stock. Edward Gillam, a confederate with Gavigan, who pleaded guilty several days ago, was sentenced to thirteen months, but was released on a suspended sentence because of his health. Three other of the defendants are fugitives from justice. I. Isadore, credited by the Federal authorities with being the creator of the scheme, is in Europe.

ERUPTION WOULD HATCH AND BURN Began in Little Festers. Made Him Fretful, Looked Terrible, Cuticura Soap and Ointment Healed.

Hector, N. Y.—The skin trouble on baby's head began in little festers. Then the festers would break and leave a sore and some were half a size as a cent. The eruption looked like three or four little sores all with matter in them and seemed to itch and burn and make him fretful. It seemed to be all around the hair and they looked terrible. Baby would dig his head and he felt real hot to my hand. He would cry in his sleep but he did not do any good only made it worse. One day I saw the Cuticura Soap and Ointment advertisement in the paper and I got for samples. I washed the head with warm water and Cuticura Soap then I applied the Cuticura Ointment all over the head and left it that way until the next bath. They helped me so much that I bought some more. The redness and itching left at the fourth or fifth bath and in less than three weeks the sores were all healed up and no more were left. He has had no trouble since. (Signed) Mrs. Ira Cogswell, Jan. 26, 1914.

SIGEL TRIAL TO BEGIN OCT. 19. Grand Larceny Charges Following Failure Will Be Heard in Genesee.

Final arrangements for the trial of Henry Sigel and Frank E. Vogel on charges of grand larceny have been made by Assistant District Attorney Tracy, who declared yesterday from Genesee, N. Y., where the cases will be tried. Mr. Tracy found considerable difficulty in getting quarters for his many witnesses. He succeeded in getting eighteen rooms in two local hotels. John B. Stanchfield, representing the defendants, has engaged several rooms in the town, but his witnesses will be quartered at Rochester and brought over when needed. The trial will begin October 19 next before Supreme Court Justice William W. Clark of Washington, D. C. District Attorney Whitman intends to assist, personally in the case with his assistant, Mr. Train.

SENATORS DENOUNCE WILSON AS USURPER OF CONGRESS Townsend and Clapp in Speeches Attack "Rubber Stamp" Legislation and Call for the Regulation of the Executive.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—Regulation of the Executive, the necessity for which has been pointed out in THE SUN's editorial articles recently, was discussed in the Senate to-day in a way that indicated the growing discontent over President Wilson's efforts to dictate to Congress. Executive Thralldom. "To what purpose?" inquired Senator Clapp. "In the end they had as little to show for it as the elevator boy who carried them to and from their committee rooms. Congress is working under an executive thralldom. "Here is a proposition to clothe five men with power not to construe the law, but to make the law. It is absolutely foreign to our system of government. "President Mitchell, during the course of a speech as late as 1912, in which he said: 'I do not believe in trusteeship or guardianship, but the shadow of the Executive is now over us all. "One man with three or four other men sitting at his elbow as advisers can carve out a programme and give it to Congress notwithstanding that it is contrary to the spirit and purpose of our institutions. If we could throw off this thralldom we might take up this legislation as representatives of sovereign States and deal with it in a rational spirit."

Gets Pension After 30 Years. In Engineer's Case Mayor Announces Policy for Old Employees. J. M. de Varona, chief engineer of the Department of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity, was retired by the Board of Estimate yesterday on an annuity of $3,500, or 35 per cent of his salary. The board over the question of his retirement on a pension brought forth a statement of his salary, and his determination to have all superannuated city employees receive pensions. John E. Eastmond, former Water Registrar of Brooklyn, opposed the pension. The Mayor asked: "When it comes to retiring this man, who has been in the service of this city for more than thirty years, on 35 per cent of his salary, or throwing him out, what would you do?" "I would throw him out," said Eastmond. "Well," replied the Mayor, "you won't find any man who has worked for the city for thirty years thrown out under this administration."

BILLARD'S BIG COUP LAID ON MELLEN New Haven Directors in Memorandum Say Ex-President Dominated the Road. DIDN'T KNOW OF THE DEAL

WASHINGTON, July 9.—In a memorandum filed to-day with the Interstate Commerce Commission on behalf of William S. Skinner, Charles F. Brooker and other directors of the New Haven, entire responsibility for the transaction in Boston and Maine stock, whereby John L. Billard cleared $2,700,000 in profits without investing a cent of his own money is placed upon the shoulders of Charles S. Mellen, former president of the New Haven system. The commission, in its forthcoming report on the New Haven road, is expected to make some important suggestions in reference to the transaction and possible steps that should be taken to recover the money. The memorandum just filed is dated July 9, and reviews the evidence taken during the recent investigation. Referring to the Billard transaction it is stated that "the directors, with the exception of Mr. Mellen, appear to have had no knowledge whatever regarding the actual transaction and their only information is that which was reported to them at meetings of the board or committees and acted upon by them at such meetings." The memorandum also said that Mellen and not the late J. P. Morgan dominated the board.

The understanding in Washington was that the forthcoming report will recommend a housecleaning in the New Haven. It is believed that the commission will have to shape up the road, and that from the directors and possibly the elimination of William Rockefeller and George M. Miller, the two latter on the ground that the evidence submitted during the investigation indicated that they are physically unable to discharge active duties as directors in an important railroad system, particularly one which is now in process of rehabilitation. In brief the commission, it is believed, will recommend to Howard Elliott, the chief of the Interstate Commerce Commission, that the directors and officials who were either inactive or derelict in their duties while Charles S. Mellen was president.

WOULD STOP SUBWAY WORK. Building Owners Ask Injunction—Say Structure May Be Injured.

The first attempt to restrain the Public Service Commission by injunction from building any part of the dual subway system was made yesterday. It came almost immediately after the Board of Estimate and Apportionment had approved the award of the contract for the construction of section No. 12 of route Nos. 4 and 28 of the Seventh Avenue subway in Manhattan. The section runs from the present subway in the Battery to and through State street. The petitioners for the injunction is the Chesbrough Building Company, owners of a building of that name in State street. The petitioners set forth that the building may be seriously injured by the proposed construction and asks that a permanent injunction be issued to restrain the work. The argument will be heard next Monday.
